American Cancer Society honors South Mississippi volunteers with recognition dinner

Submitted

The American Cancer Society honored its South Mississippi volunteers with an annual awards dinner at Main Street Cafe in Downtown Collins on Tuesday, December 1. Dedicated volunteers were recognized for their support of their local Relay For Life events, dedication to the local American Cancer Society Cancer Resource Centers, and also their devotion to the many patient support programs of the organization. Many of the awards were given to events and volunteers based on their volunteerism work in South Mississippi. Some recognition awards were given based on criteria for the great State of Mississippi but some even won national recognition for the amazing success of their event or their specific patient support program.

In 2015, more than 1 million people will receive the news that they have cancer. The money raised through Relay allows the American Cancer Society to fight cancer through lifesaving research, education, advocacy and patient support programs. These volunteers have given of their time and talents to make a difference in the fight against cancer!

Local American Cancer Society Jones County volunteers receiving awards were, Cynthia Graves, "Excellence in Helping to Prevent Cancer Award." Graves was recognized for her amazing contribution to the Relay For Life of Jones County as a Relay For Life Team Captain for her employer, Jefferson Medical Associates. Graves also works directly with the American Cancer Society Staff and Volunteers in the area of Patient Referral and Support. Graves, who was also a Caregiver to her father who lost his battle with cancer, knows the importance of the American Cancer Society and all the good work that the organization does for cancer patients and their families.

"Excellence in Caring for Those with Cancer Award" was given to David Wolgamott, Cancer Survivor and Member of the local Jones County Prostate Cancer Support Group. The group, which serves as an outlet for men newly diagnosed with prostate cancer or men who are longtime survivors, is the only one of its kind in the entire state of Mississippi and has been in existence for 8 years.

Wolgamott not only helps to facilitate the group but also serves as a "buddy" for men who may not have made their treatment decision or who need a guide in their upcoming cancer journey.

This one of a kind Support Group meets on the first Wednesday of each month at 7:30 a.m. at Lee's Coffee and Tea in Downtown Laurel. The "Excellence in Helping to Seek Cures Award" was given to no stranger to the American Cancer Society, Ryan Griffin. He spends countless hours working on the community promotion print media piece for the American Cancer Society Relay For Life. He not only promotes local fundraising events but uses his talent to encourage others to join in the fight and also proclaims the great research work of the organization. His devotion for Relay not only comes in advertisements but also in the feature stories and monthly awareness and education campaign of the ACS. Ryan is a true volunteer and has been the Team Captain for his local media outlet, The Impact, for the past 3 years.

Mallory Hill, American Cancer Society; David Wolgamott, Jones County Prostate Cancer Support Group; Paige McCordle, Staff Partner for Jones County.

The "Excellence in Advocating and Fighting Back Award" was given to Lisa Wimpigler, Team Captain for the Laurel City School District and member of the Jones County Leadership Team for Relay For Life. Wimpigler has been a longtime volunteer with the American Cancer Society and is responsible for the overwhelming support and dedication from the entire district. She helps to coordinate monthly District Relay Meetings, serves as the District Liaison for Relay For Life of Jones County, and also leads the Maddox Elementary Relay For Life Team. Wimpigler also serves on the Leadership Team and works with "new" teams to foster them and guide them in their Relay efforts, she serves as Event Day Chair working with the stage crew and logistics team to set up for Relay For Life Jones County and she is current Opening and Closing Chair for the Relay For Life of Jones County.

The South Mississippi Top Team of Excellence Award is one that is very special for our teams in the area. These teams not only raise a tremendous amount of funds for the organization, but also are active in the efforts of Early Detection and Education for church, school, business, or organization. The teams receiving Top Team of Excellence Awards for Jones County were as follows: DIXIE ELECTRIC POWER ASSOCIATION – Pollyanna Magee, Team Captain; ELLISVILLE FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH – Sandra Clay and Paul Cotton, Co - Team Captains; JONES COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT – Brenda Moss, Team Captain and Team Coordinator; LAUREL SCHOOL DISTRICT – Lacey Slay and Lisa Wimpigler, Team Captains and Team Coordinators; SANDERSON FARMS, INC – Jennifer Vice and Christy Holifield, Co – Team Captains; SOUTH CENTRAL REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER – Justin Walters and Wyth Collins, Co – Team Captains.

Jones County also took home one of the most prestigious awards given to any Relay For Life community, "Top 20 Per Capita for the State of Mississippi." Also, for the second year in a row, Jones County took home a NATIONAL PER CAPITA AWARD, coming in at #10 IN THE 60-74.9K population bucket for the entire nation.

One award that everyone looks forward to every year is the "State of Mississippi Outstanding School District of the Year." Teachers from districts throughout our state give of their time and talents to develop the most creative and of course the most successful ways to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Lots of children empty their piggy banks and give their allowances to their schools Relay Events and the teachers use these efforts as life teaching tools showing the students that it is always best to help those in need.

The winner for 2014-2015 Relay For Life season was the Jones County School District, raising over $51,000 for 2014-2015. Thanks to Mr. Tommy Parker, Mr. James Walters and Mrs. Brenda Moss for their endless support and encouragement to the 11 different RFL teams that represent the district. Also, the Team Captains from each of the schools in the Jones County School District not only fundraise but they do monthly Awareness and Education Campaigns for their teachers and staff to make sure they are taking care of themselves and their families.

The media outlets in South Mississippi area happen to be some of the best in the state. They give their support to Relay for Life and the American Cancer Society wholeheartedly. Taking home the American Cancer Society Mid South Division Lighthouse Media Award for outstanding media support was WDAM, News Channel 7. Next to be awarded was the Mid South Division Guiding Light Media Awards. These recognize the media sponsors who lead the way in their community involvement with the American Cancer Society and also set the standard for others in their medium. These awards recognize both print and electronic media that exhibit the mission of the American Cancer Society by working with volunteers and survivors in support of events, programs and services. B95 – Pinebelt Country, Blakeney Communications, The IMPACT and The CHRONICLE

To end a wonderful evening of celebrating the amazing volunteers of South Mississippi, the 2014-2015 Relay For Life Event Chairs were recognized for their dedication and support of the Jones County event. Lauren Robinson, Event Chair and Susan Ainsworth and Josh Nichols, Event Co-Chairs.

Also, the new year for Relay For Life Jones County is underway and the 2015-2016 Event Leadership Team is in full swing. The new Event Leads were announced and recognized for their willingness to lead our county's efforts in the fight against cancer. Susan Ainsworth, Event Lead and Carmen Rowzee and Natalie Wedgeworth, Event Co-Leads.

The night ended with a special thanks to Steve Sanford and his staff at Main Street Café for a wonderful dinner and also for his amazing support of the American Cancer Society.

For more information on participating in the 2014 Relay For Life of Jones County, contact Susan Ainsworth, Event Lead, 601.433.0963 or thomasand-susan@bell-south.net

PENNY was dropped off in July 2011 and is one of many long term residents of the ARL. We call Penny our little fox; she loves to play with her buddies Belle and Lonnie in the yard and can be quite sneaky, insisting on being treated as a Princess. Penny can be a little standoffish until she gets to know two-legged friends better but loves visitors who bring treats and chew toys. As Penny is almost 6 years old, she would enjoy a family without little children; they tend to make her nervous. Penny deserves a good home for Christmas where she will be allowed to sit on a doggy throne and be pampered for the rest of her life. Penny is spayed and up to date on vaccinations and ready for her Christmas home.

JCJC selects New Century Scholars/All-State American Team representatives

By Teresa McCreery, JCJC Media & Public Relations Director

Six Jones County Junior College sophomores were recently nominated for Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society's New Century Scholars/All-State American Team honors. These students were nominated by faculty members and then selected by the JCJC Scholarship Committee. Some of the requirements to earn a spot in this prestigious group include maintaining a 3.5 to 4.0 GPA, taking challenging academic courses, completing a minimum of 36 hours, volunteering their service in their communities and college, and doing well in an interview with the Scholarship Committee.

The nominees were Ethan Davis, an English major from Laurel; Natalie Seales, an English major from Hattiesburg; Kiana McFadden, a physics and environmental law major from Waynesboro; Aubrey Parker, majoring in nursing from Laurel; Adam Wigley, majoring in nursing from New Augusta and Brianna Woodward, a biochemistry major from Ovet. McFadden and Seales were chosen from the six to go on to compete for state titles and national honors.

"All of these students are excellent candidates, making it very difficult for the Scholarship Committee to choose a small group from the nearly 5,000 JCJC students, and then narrow it down to just two students. All of you have very positive attributes," said Julie Atwood, one of the JCJC PTK sponsors.

The six students were treated to a special luncheon held in their honor with PTK sponsors and administrators. JCJC president, Dr. Jesse Smith offered some advice for all of the nominees as they focus on their future academic endeavors.

"Some students have great ability, minds and opportunity but some students don't have the drive to succeed. Think about what you want and what you want to give back. Be deliberate about living a life of blessings and make a difference."

For Waynesboro native, Kiana McFadden giving back is what has driven her to excel. She manages her tough academic schedule which includes being a part of the Charles Pickering Honors Institute, PTK VP of Leadership, a member of the marching band and saxophone quartet, along with volunteering as a Sunday school teacher, choir member, chemistry tutor, and helping at numerous events like the campus Voter Registration Drive and the Student Council Workshop at JCJC. Her goal is to become an environmental lawyer for government agencies like NOAA or NASA. Being selected as a PTK All-State representative was very special for McFadden.

"I'm very honored to be chosen and to witness how God continues to bless me," said McFadden. "It's almost like I'm dreaming or something. I'm really shocked because I didn't expect to get it with the level of students competing. To have this opportunity is really unbelievable and I hope to make Jones proud as I go through the process."

Laurel's Howard scores big in All-Star game

Mississippi broke Alabama's seven game winning streak Saturday in the Mississippi vs. Alabama All Star game held on the campus of Southern Miss this year. The Mississippi All Stars came away with a 28-21 victory. In the contest Laurel Tornado and Memphis commit, quarterback Keon Howard (top left), was 17-27 for 304 yards 4 touchdowns and 3 interceptions. Ole Miss commit and Laurel wide receiver, Octavius Cooley (bottom left), reeled in one catch for 16 yards. Photos/Zach Buckely

Dixie EPA raises money for Batson Children's Hospital

By Linda Cranford

Children flocked to the offices of Dixie Electric Power Association in Jones County, Waynesboro, and Petal to have their pictures made with Santa.

The proceeds from the event will go to the Batson Children's Hospital at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, which approves all fundraising projects for the hospital.

According to Dixie EPA Community Relations Coordinator, Pollyanna Magee, a confirmation letter for the project stated, "The Batson Hospital averaged 9,000 admissions last year, and more than 150,000 youngsters were treated in its clinics and emergency rooms. Patients come from all over Mississippi's 82 counties as the victims of serious trauma or with life threatening or chronic illnesses such as cancer, cystic fibrosis, sickle cell anemia, hemophilia, congenital heart defects and many others."

YWCO 17th Annual "Victorian Christmas Tea"

By Linda Cranford

The hum of voices in conversation, and the occasional outbreak of laughter could be heard coming from the subtly lit Parlor and Tea Room of the YWCO Thursday afternoon, December 3, as over 60 ladies from all over the Laurel and Jones County area gathered for the 17th annual "Victorian Christmas Tea," hosted by the board members of the YWCO.

The graceful Victorian Christmas Tea is reminiscent of an event which began in England around 1830, when one of Queen Victoria's ladies-in-waiting, Anna Marie Stanhope, known as the Duchess of Bedford, created the afternoon teatime. As the noon meal became skimpier, the Duchess would experience a "sinking feeling" by afternoon, and would have the servants sneak a pot of tea, a few breadstuffs, and cake to her room. Soon she began to invite friends to join her for an additional afternoon meal in her room at Belvoir Castle, and adopted the European tea service format. The menu centered around small cakes, bread and butter sandwiches, assorted sweets, and, of course, tea.

Seventeen years ago, a group of Y Board members visited Windsor Court in New Orleans to learn how to properly serve a traditional English tea. Since then, the board members of the YWCO have invited ladies of Laurel and Jones County to join them for an afternoon "Victorian Christmas Tea," which has become one of the most popular activities during the Christmas season.

Led by President Mary Allred and Event Chair Mary Kay Rogers, the YWCO staff and board members prepared and served the traditional meal for the afternoon tea, which began at 3:30 p.m.

In accordance with the traditional tea service format, the guests were served a choice of teas, Mandarin Orange Spice or Earl Grey, followed by a light three course meal. The first course included three types of sandwiches: pimento cheese, tomato, and chicken salad. The second course consisted of raspberry scones, cheddar cheese cookies, and artichoke cheese squares. The third and final course included white chocolate covered strawberries, brownies, and coconut cake.
