Chicken Marsala

Ingredients

- 4 skinless, boneless, chicken breasts (about 1 1/2 pounds)
- All-purpose flour, for dredging
- Kosher salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 4 ounces prosciutto, thinly sliced
- 8 ounces crimini or porcini mushrooms, stemmed and halved
- 1/2 cup sweet Marsala wine
- 1/2 cup chicken stock
- 2 tablespoon unsalted butter
- 1/4 cup chopped flat-leaf parsley

Directions

Put the chicken breasts side by side on a cutting board and lay a piece of plastic wrap over them; pound with a flat meat mallet, until they are about 1/4-inch thick. Put some flour in a shallow platter and season with a fair amount of salt and pepper; mix with a fork to distribute evenly.

Heat the oil over medium-high flame in a large skillet. When the oil is nice and hot, dredge both sides of the chicken cutlets in the seasoned flour, shaking off the excess. Slip the cutlets into the pan and fry for 5 minutes on each side until golden, turning once – do this in batches if the pieces don't fit comfortably in the pan. Remove the chicken to a large platter in a single layer to keep warm.

Lower the heat to medium and add the prosciutto to the drippings in the pan, saute for 1 minute to render out some of the fat. Now, add the mushrooms and saute until they are nicely browned and their moisture has evaporated, about 5 minutes; season with salt and pepper. Pour the Marsala in the pan and boil down for a few seconds to reduce the alcohol. Add the chicken stock and simmer for a minute to cook the sauce slightly. Stir in the butter and return the chicken to the pan; simmer gently for 1 minute to heat the chicken through. Season with salt and pepper and garnish with chopped parsley before serving.

Cultural Leaders Say $5 million Investment in NYSCA is Good for Local Economies, Regional Impact and Economics across New York State. The Bronx Council on the Arts (BCA), a not-for-profit arts council and the Bronx's only borough-wide arts funding agency, joins with leaders from across New York State to express their support and relief for Governor Andrew M. Cuomo's 2015 budget which included a $5 million increase for the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA). BCA executive director, Deirdre Scott also praised the efforts of NYSCA Chairman Aby Rosen, NYSCA Executive Director, Lisa Rabb, and NYSCA staff, who advocated for the increase. We all know by now that the arts improve quality of life and adds value to our economy and we are pleased the Governor increased funding for the arts, and will continue working with the NYS Legislature to advance access to arts and culture.

Message From James Vacca NYC Councilman 13th District

STOP SIGN APPROVED

Parishioners at St. Benedict's church and parents of students attending the parish school will be pleased to know that an all-way stop sign has been approved at Otis and Edison Avenues. I fought to have traffic controls installed at this intersection for many years. Our success proves that not giving up can bring about needed safety improvements for our community. So much of my work involves keeping our city streets safer for pedestrians and motorists by working with the Department of Transportation to install stop signs, speed bumps and other traffic controls that will slow traffic down. Going forward, we will continue those efforts.

BUHRE AVE TRAIN STATION

We expect the MTA to live up to its promises. For several months, construction has taken place at the Buhre Avenue train station as part of a station rehabilitation project. The MTA promised that construction would be finished near the end of February. However, we were recently informed that the construction would be delayed until May. I told the MTA that the delay was totally unacceptable to our community. Residents who walk to the Middletown Road or Pelham Bay stations have braved a terrible winter. Merchants have also suffered from customers opting to shop elsewhere due to the limited parking. I will continue to do everything I can to speed up this construction!
