City's Plan

MUSCLE SHOALS — City residents in Muscle Shoals have their first opportunity to learn more about the city's comprehensive plan during a community meeting at 6pm Tuesday, June 13, at Muscle Shoals High School.

City officials have scheduled the meeting which will also offer the opportunity to provide feedback to the consulting firm creating the plan.

The city council approved a $175,000 contract with the Birmingham engineering firm Goodwyn Mills Cawood (GMC) in August to create the city's first comprehensive master plan.

The meeting will include an update on the plan's progress from the GMC consultant team, and will offer some interactive activities that will help provide the team with community comments and feedback. Initial planning reflects a four-phase process that is supposed to last about 12 months.

Residents are also encouraged to fill out a survey at muscleshoals2040.com, a website created to provide the

Treatment is a Lift at NASH

MUSCLE SHOALS -- Officials at North Alabama Shoals Hospital have announced the addition of the UroLift treatment for benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH). The procedure is the only one of its kind in north Alabama and the surrounding areas. It utilizes tiny implants to lift and hold the enlarged prostate tissue out of the way so it no longer blocks the urethra. There is no cutting, heating, or removal of prostate tissue.

"As far as non-invasive urological procedures go, this is a game-changer," said urologist Mark Smith, who currently performs the procedure at North Alabama Shoals Hospital.

UroLift helps reduce the prostate swelling that inhibits the flow of urine from the urethra. During the procedure which takes less than an hour, the patient is given mild sedation. The procedure can be performed on an outpatient basis under local anesthetic block. A small suture connected to an anchor is implanted under endoscopic guidance with the aim of retracting the prostatic urethra toward the prostatic capsule to open the prostatic urethral space.

It is constructed from two tabs, a stainless steel urethral tab and a nitinol capsular tab. A needle is deployed transurethrally beyond the prostatic capsule and delivers suture-based implants that are placed under tension. This mechanically retracts the prostatic lobes to open the prostatic urethral space. Patients

Through in-depth, one-on-one interviews with the honorees, those attending gain a better understanding of how musicians made careers for themselves by backing hit artists in the recording studio or on concert tours. Vintage recordings, photos, and film clips supplement the interviews, and in some cases, the honorees demonstrate their techniques and recreate their famous musical contributions.

As bassist for the famous Muscle Shoals Rhythm Section (The Swampers), Hood became one of the most respected and consistent studio bassists in the business. He has created an unforgettable body of recorded work during his sixty-year career. His first sessions included the 1960s R&B hits "I'm Your Puppet" by James & Bobby Purify and "I Never Loved a Man (The Way I Love You)" by Aretha Franklin. Hood supplied the classic bass line and catchy solo spot on the Staple Singers' "I'll Take You There" and lent his groove to classic albums by Willie Nelson (Phases and Stages), Paul Simon (There Goes Rhymin' Simon), and Traffic (Shoot Out at the Fantasy Factory). While based in Muscle Shoals, Hood also worked in Memphis and Nashville. His long list of credits includes Etta James's "Tell Mama," R.B. Greaves's "Take a Letter Maria," the Staple Singers' "Respect Yourself," Bob Seger's "Old Time Rock and Roll," and recordings by Solomon Burke, J.J. Cale, Clarence Carter, Glenn Frey, Levon Helm, John Hiatt, Jason Isbell, Delbert McClinton, the Oak Ridge Boys, Boz Scaggs, Percy Sledge, and Tony Joe White. Additionally, the legendary bassist has collaborated with the Southern rock band Drive-By Truckers, fronted by his son, Patterson Hood.

Hood's program is free with museum admission. However, a program ticket is required, so visitors are encouraged to purchase tickets in advance. The July 8 program will include a brief performance, vintage photos, audio, and film clips. After the program, Hood will sign commemorative Hatch Show Print posters.

For more information or to reserve, visit: www.countrymusichalloffame.org/calendar.

The Museum uses a timed ticketing system to help ensure a positive visitor experience. Please plan to arrive on time.

Speaking The Truth

Ephesians 4:15

In Love

Peace Be Still

What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him? Mark 4:41. What a profound statement we find from the disciples of Jesus. Jesus' chosen twelve (Mark 3:14) disciples, who had set at his feet, hearing his many parables, yet are now awestruck that even the wind and the waves obeyed him. A great storm of wind had beat upon their ship (boat) that is now full of water, they feared of perishing in the deep, found calling upon their Master, fast asleep within the boat; Mark 4:35-41. They had just witnessed the power of Jesus calming the very sea of Galilee, "Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm;" Mark 4:39.

Peace is a wonderful thing, a feeling of calmness and tranquility. Jesus disciples, out of fear for their very lives in a moment of desperation an inability to save self, called out to their Master.

Friend, what about you and me?

What can we glean and take away from this most astounding truth, concerning Jesus Christ and his limitless power, even subduing the raging storm upon them? Man will often turn to inadequate, insufficient, and temporal means to calm the storms of life, grasping for peace, in the form of leisure, vacations, and the list goes on.

Friend, the apostle Paul admonished and warned the church at Galatia, "Am I therefore your enemy, because I tell you the truth, Galatians 4:16?" It is our plea to speak the truth from God's word, never alienating anyone, keeping our Lords' command to take the gospel to the world, loving the souls of men. The very Jesus who spoke the stormy sea of Galilee into a state of peace is the very Jesus who all men, down through the ages will stand before on judgment day, II Corinthians 5:10.

Friend, to the unprepared soul, there will be no eternal peace, only an eternity of regrets and suffering, 2 Thessalonians 1:8. "May we consider the words of Jesus from our original text as found in Mark 4:35, "Let us pass over unto the other side." We will all pass over to the other side at death, less the Lord return first. Jesus supplied peace to His disciples, arriving safely on the other side of Galilee, Mark 5:1. Only Jesus will provide salvation and peace to all the faithful obedient, he / she passing safely over to their eternal reward, Acts 4:12, Revelation 2:10. Can you say, "it is well with my soul," if the trump of God sounded and the Lord descended from heaven today 1 Thessalonians 4:16?"

Nancy Vance, president of the Cherokee club, said the honor bestowed upon Bishop was fitting because he has given so much of himself and his resources to the community and the whole Shoals area.

"It's not just an honor for him, but also for our club because he's meant so very much to us through the years," said Vance.

In his nomination letter, Vance listed Bishop's honors and contributions to the Shoals area. These date back to 1967 when he received the Alabama Farm Bureau Outstanding Young Farm Family award.

He was the Colbert County Alabama Farm Federation president for 48 years and served on the Alfa Board of Directors for 14 years, Compass Bank Board for 40 years, and Northwest-Shoals Community College Foundation Board for 40 years.

In addition, Bishop was named to the Alabama Agriculture Wall of Honor in 2017, he was chosen Shoals Chamber of Commerce's Citizen of the Year in 1989, and is a member of the University of North Alabama Business Council.

Bishop, 88, wasn't expecting the Lions Club honor. In fact, he didn't know there was such thing as the organization's hall of fame.

"I don't consider anything I do as extraordinary because it's other people who give life meaning," he said. "I've always been concerned with the well-being of others. It's a matter of your attitude and it motivates you to help when you can. I guess that's what has driven me all these years."

Unappreciated 6 Decades Later

Logically, the May 23 announcement by South Carolina Senator, Tim Scott, that he was entering the 2024 Presidential race would be met with celebration by many of those in the black community.

His tone was resolute, his message positive, and his vision uplifting. This marks the second black candidate for the office in this election cycle, Larry Elder being the other. Both are Republicans. Two Indian-Americans are also in the early field. Yet, America is 'hopelessly racist.'

If white supremacy and systemic racism are such problems, there should be parades in the streets and donations piling up by the tens of $millions. That is not the case, because courtesy of the left and the alphabet media, any Republican of color is lampooned as a token, desperate for white approval - a parody of Supreme Court Justice, Clarence Thomas.

Scott was the first elected black senator from the south since reconstruction.

His mix of Southern rock, country, Americana, and blues makes him a favorite for those who have had the pleasure to see him in concert. However, those faithful followers will be the first to tell you it's the lyrical content that keeps them coming

Seek Race Amity

Dear Sir,

The second Sunday in June is widely known and celebrated as Race Amity Day in the United States. The National Race Amity Organization began in 1921 with an overall mission of the cultivation of friendship (amity) among all people regardless of race. This will be the 103rd year of the organization's history. This is the third year that we have had it proclaimed by the city councils of Florence and Russellville, and will be joined this year by Sheffield, Huntsville, Birmingham, and Montgomery.

We will have a program at the Florence library at 2 pm on Sunday

The last thing Alabama needs is the dilution and politicization of our weak education system...

June 11 to which the public is invited highlighting activities in Huntsville, Montgomery, Florence, and Russellville that have promoted interracial understanding. We will also be giving awards to local programs that have worked to cultivate friendship and cooperation among our citizens.

Officially Don't Care

Editor;

The Alabama Public Service Commission does not care about the elderly, the poor, and especially the elderly poor. They have allowed AT&T to raise their rates on RESIDENTIAL LAND LINES four times in the past two years. Why?

There has not been a significant technology change to grandma's phone since the 1980's and "Touch Tone" technology goes back to the 1970's. The investment for running lines and connecting customers has been recovered many times over since the 1970's, and the last upgrade recover from the procedure quickly, and return to their normal routines with minimal downtime.

"Shoals Hospital is excited to offer this unique procedure that gives many men a non-invasive treatment option for BPH," said North Alabama Shoals Hospital Chief Operating Officer Doug Holzbog. "We also appreciate Dr. Smith allowing us the opportunity to be a partner in providing this service to the Shoals area."

Urolift has been found to have significantly lower morbidity than other surgical treatments for BPH-associated LUTS. The safe minimally invasive and highly effective procedure has been used across the country since 2015.

Library Hosts Amity Day

FLORENCE—the second Sunday in June is widely known and celebrated as Race Amity Day in the U.S. The National Race Amity Day Organization has an overall mission of the cultivation of friendship (amity) among all people regardless of race. That is its key tool as well as its end goal in advancing access, equity, social justice and unity. The national cooperative effort began in 1921 with the NAACP, Unitarian Fellowship and the Baha'i Faith. This will be the 102nd year of the organization's history.

Race Amity Day will be observed at the Florence Public Library at 2 pm on Sunday, June 11.

The objective will be to unite people around the state who are working on various programs to promote the idea that we as a state can come together and improve our friendships across racial divisions.

We are moving towards E Pluribus Unum, our national motto, which means "From Many One". Active participants believe this is an activity worthy of recognition by the entire community, particularly communities of faith.

ASK THE ATTORNEY

Thomas McCutcheon

Ask the Attorney is sponsored by local attorneys, McCutcheon & Hamner, P.C., as a service to the residents of NW Alabama.

What Is An FCE?

FCE stands for Functional Capacity Evaluation. They are physical tests that measure a person's functional capacity in a way that is used and understood by people who do vocational analysis.

The Social Security Administrations uses vocational experts to determine what jobs in the national economy a person could do if they have certain physical limitations due to an accident, injury or illness.

All jobs have some mental and physical requirements. Jobs are classified into four main categories of physical demands beginning with sedentary, which is 10 pounds or less; light, 20 pounds; medium, 50 pounds; and heavy which requires lifting 100 pounds or more.

This does not address the skill level or educational requirements of a job.

In workers compensation, if a worker through injury can not perform the physical demands of their job or if there is a question about that, a doctor will order an FCE. An FCE will measure the ability to lift, carry, bend, squat, stoop, and kneel. The FCE will address reaching overhead. It will address pushing and pulling with the arms as well as balance. The FCE is the measure a person's physical functional capacity over an 8-hour work-day and 40-hour week.

Because FCEs are almost always ordered by the employer, the examiner who tests the injured worker is almost always conservative and the person administering the test looks for inconsistent effort. There are a number of tests that look for symptom exaggeration. There are scales that provide a reliability profile. They check the heart rate and the grip strength from hand to hand. At least half of the test is dedicated to proving that the injured worker did not give their best effort.

I always tell my clients to give good effort but not so much that they could not come back and repeat the test the next day. A lot of people could pull a loved one out of a burning building, but few people could do the work of being a fireman. This test is looking for consistency over a 40-hour week.

A vocational specialist will take into consideration the age, education, training and experience of an injured worker and use their functional capacity evaluation to determine the amount of loss they have sustained. This loss is often stated in terms of reduced wages and a loss of the number of jobs available to a worker with impaired physical function.

Buckle up, drive safely, and as always, your referrals are appreciated! 256-764-0112

THIS IS A REFRESHED VERSION OF AN ARTICLE I FIRST WROTE YEARS AGO. I've recently seen a version of this shared by a few Facebook friends. I'd love to know what happened to cause the uptick in this scam, but this is a great excuse to refresh the memory of both my readers.

I received an email that threatened to send salacious pictures of me to both my friends unless I paid a ransom. Such an email is terrifying the first time you receive one, but I've since received hundreds of them since I wrote the original article. This is funnier if you read it in an evil Russian spy accent:

Jim Fisher

I'VE BEEN SEXTORTED!

by "The Computer Skeptic"

"FordF150 is your passphrase. Lets get straight to purpose. I actually installed a software on the a pornographic website you visited to experience fun (you know what I mean). When you were viewing videos, your web browser began working as a Remote Desktop that has a keylogger which provided me access to your display and web camera. Immediately after that, my software gathered every one of your contacts from your Messenger, FB, and emailaccount. After that I made a double video. First part shows the video you were watching (you have a fine taste :)), and second part displays the recording of your web camera, yea it is u."

The email goes on to threaten to send the salacious video to both my friends unless I send them a $7,000 ransom within 24 hours. Is that scary or what? Well, since I have not subscribed to any website like that, I'm gonna say, "Only a little scary."

But there is something a bit unsettling about this that certainly got my attention. The password "FordF150" actually is a "throwaway" password I used long ago when I actually owned a Ford F150. I used it for one-time logins for websites such as newspapers that require an account to view an article. So how did they know my password?

These scammers know that most of us use the same password across many websites. Email and passwords have been stolen from legitimate websites such as Netflix over the years. These leaked email addresses and passwords are shared on the Dark Web. They also know that many of us have signed up for naughty websites. Mix these facts together and you get a recipe for extortion. The scammers simply copied my stolen email address and password into their form letter and sent it to me hoping that I had signed up for some naughty website sometime in the past.

There is a website you can use to see if your email address and password have been hacked called haveibeenpwned.com. I plugged my email address in there and it does show that a trial account I used for Netflix was hacked back in 2014.

So what should you do if you receive one of these? First, calm down. You didn't do anything wrong. Next, give your cardiologist the good news that you passed a stress test.

Medicare Minute "Part B & Preventive Services"

When you go onto Medicare, the preventive services you receive will be filed under Medicare Part B. You will find that Medicare encourages you to have your preventive screenings completed. You can go to Medicare.gov to see a list of the screenings that are considered preventive services or feel free to contact our office and we can get you that list. Some of the most common preventive screenings are: bone density, mammograms, colonoscopy, diabetes screening, and flu shots.

The obvious question is "how much will these screenings cost me?" Your Medicare and You Handbook states, "You pay nothing for most preventive services if you get the service from a doctor or other qualified health care provider that accepts Medicare assignment." If you have employer insurance or a Medicare Advantage Plan your costs may be different so contact your benefit coordinator or plan for your cost.

If you have had Part B for less than 12 months you qualify for a "Welcome to Medicare" preventive visit or if you have had Part B for more than 12 months you qualify for a yearly "Wellness" visit. Both of these visits are designed to help you develop and follow a personalized plan to aid you in preventing illness and disability. If these visits are to a doctor or health care provider that accepts Medicare assignment there is no cost to you. One important fact to remember about your "Welcome to Medicare" or "Wellness" visit is, you only get one per year and from only one provider.

Preventive screenings are very important to your overall health. Medicare encourages you, our company encourages you and our family encourages you to GET THOSE PREVENTIVE SCREENINGS DONE. It may save your life!!!

If you have questions regarding any aspect of Medicare or Medicare health plans feel free call us at Alabama Health Guidance (256-648-5710), stop by our office at 885 Florence Blvd (Four Lane Shopping Center) or email me at ikey@alabamahealthguidance.com. Alabama Health Guidance is an independent insurance agency and is not affiliated with Medicare or any other government agency.

DAVE Says

by DAVE RAMSEY

IT'S NOT A JOINT VENTURE, IT'S A MARRIAGE

*Dear Dave,
When my wife and I got married, she had about $70,000 in savings and I had a lot of debt. We bought some property from her parents to build a home on, and she made a 20% down payment on the land from her savings. We've paid off some debt, and she has more in savings now. But I feel guilty, and it seems unfair to ask her to pay on our debt with her savings since most of it is debt I brought into the marriage. How do you feel about this?*

Sonny

Dear Sonny,
This question tells me you're a good guy with a good heart. But let me ask you a thing or two. When your wife gets sick, is it unfair for you to take care of her? You didn't cause it. It's not your fault. Of course, it's not unfair. I'm not mad at you, buddy. I'm just throwing your own logic right back at you.

Maybe these next lines will sound familiar: for richer or for poorer, in sickness and in health. The old "Book of Common Prayer" continues the vows and says, "Unto thee, all my worldly goods I pledge." This is called oneness. It's called unity. And it's what a good marriage should be about.

Do you get what I'm saying, Sonny? The two of you are in this together. This is not a business partnership or joint venture. It's a man and a woman pledging themselves, and all they have and are, to each other. I understand your feelings, but if you're not careful, that kind of guilt will stand in the way of you two creating a successful marriage—both financially and emotionally.

When you got married, the "me" and "mine" became "we" and "ours." You got all her stuff, the good and bad, and she got all of yours. Now it's time for you to work as a team to make the bad stuff go away and the good things even better. What's fair (and what's right) is to combine all of your assets and all of your liabilities.

I know it's uncomfortable, but you've got to choose courage. Ask her to go all in on this with you and attack your debt together. Work toward making your dreams come true together as one.

That's what's fair, and that's what's best when you're married.

Officially Don't Care

to switching stations specifically for land lines was in the 1990's.

I find it odd that at the same time AT&T is receiving tens-of-millions in tax dollars (politicians call them grant dollars, but I prefer the truth) to close the "digital divide", offer new customers high speed internet at ZERO investment, gain a 5500% per month return from each new customer, and make a profit from each existing land line customer, that AT&T can convince the Alabama Public Service Commission that it needs to raise rates on a product that is used mainly by the poor and elderly.

How many zeros on a check does it take to make a star "twinkle"?

HB 430 Bars Our Freedom

Editor:

The Times Daily recently reported on Alabama House Bill 430 that mandates the "Literacy Task Force" ensure elementary school curriculum content "reflects the core values of the state." It is not clear what the task force has been doing. That is a good thing.

The Republican Bill reflects authoritarian regimes such as China, Russia - and Florida where officials decide the meaning of core values, ban books, and control what is taught - under the guise of parental rights.

Groups such as Moms for Liberty and Taking Back Our Schools oppose topics that they regard as divisive or outside the confines of Christian nationalism, including even steps to prevent the spread of COVID.

As a result, teachers and school board members face a confusing situation where even one parent can throw a wrench in the system. Teachers are quitting and school boards operate in an environment where definitions are vague and political activists can make their job hell.

It is ironic that those who want to suppress the First Amendment are champions of expanding the Second. They want to ban books and censure education to "protect innocent children" while promoting access to guns that are now the leading cause of death of children.

Inconvenient truths and history make for better informed citizens and protect our democracy. The last thing Alabama needs is the dilution and politicization of our weak education system that trails most states and hinders our economic progress.

Protect our freedom and oppose HB 430.

When Will We Wake Up?

Editor:

The Public Health Emergency has now ended, and these psychopathic globalists are "gathering their stones" for the next attack.

Globalists Bill Gates, Joe Biden, and the United Nations are saying there will be another pandemic.

They want the power to declare when a pandemic (pandemic) begins and when it ends.

When the next virus or fabricated illness is announced to the public, they will remind everyone of their accomplishments and that they were responsible for ending the last one.

Among their accomplishments were the many who died in hospitals who were given the drug "REMEDSIVIR" which can destroy the kidneys and then put on respirators and never came off.

The lockdowns caused depression and suicides, thousands of small businesses were destroyed, many schools and churches were closed, many lost their jobs who refused to take the so-called Covid Vaccine, and families were separated from their loved ones in nursing homes and hospitals.

All this was based on the results of a PCR test which the inventor Kary Mullis said couldn't tell you that you're sick.

And where did the flu go for two years?

When will people wake up and realize this is a WAR AGAINST HUMANITY?

Rent-To-Own Agreements and Bankruptcy In Alabama and Mississippi

At first glance, it may seem like a good plan to use a Rent-to-Own service to get the items you need. For example, Furniture and Appliances are popular, rent-to-own items. Why not, it is very attractive, for a small monthly payment you can outfit your home with everything you want, but hidden in the details are traps and pitfalls.

What Is A Rent-To-Own Agreement?

First, let's define a Rent-to-Own agreement. This type of agreement allows a renter to make payments on a particular item, such as furniture or electronics, with the option to purchase the item at the end of the agreement. Rent-to-Own agreements are typically used by individuals who may not have the cash to purchase the item outright or who have poor credit and cannot obtain financing through traditional means.

What Happens If I Cannot Pay The Monthly Payment?

If you cannot make a payment, it's best to contact your rent-to-own company and explain your situation. They may be able to work out a payment plan or other arrangement with you. It's important to remember that if you don't make payments and don't return the item, you could face criminal charges.

In Alabama, if you fail to make a payment and don't promptly return the item, you can be charged with a rental theft crime. The crime is a misdemeanor if the item's value is $500 or less. But, if the value exceeds $500, the charge is a Class C felony. That means a possible prison sentence of up to 10 years and a fine of up to $15,000 for failing to return that overpriced refrigerator within 48 hours.

In Mississippi, the crime is a misdemeanor when the value of the personal property is less than $1,000 but can become a felony when the value of the property is $1,000 or more and punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and or jail time of up to 5 years.

Will Filing Bankruptcy Stop Criminal Charges And Prosecution?

While filing for bankruptcy will not necessarily stop criminal charges for failing to make payments and not returning the item, it will at least temporarily stop the rent-to-own creditor from trying to collect the debt. When you file for bankruptcy, an "automatic stay" prevents all creditors, including rent-to-own companies, from pursuing repayment of debt. However, it's important to note that filing for bankruptcy does not mean that you will be able to keep the item you rented. You may be able to keep it but, you may be required to return it if they insist.

If You Are In A Rent-To-Own Agreement And Cannot Pay Act Now To Protect Yourself.

If you have a Rent-to-Own agreement and are considering filing for bankruptcy, it's important to understand how bankruptcy may impact your agreement and what options you have moving forward. Speaking with an experienced bankruptcy attorney can help you navigate this process and ensure the best possible outcome for your specific situation.

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

back to see him every chance they get.

Thorn has a history of weaving lyrics that register with his audience no matter their background. He has created an innovative and impressive career, pleasing crowds and speaking universal truths.

The Tupelo, MS native values originality, inspiration, eccentricity, and character. With talent that hovers somewhere on the outskirts of genius, the story of Paul Thorn is already familiar to many.

He has rambled down back roads, jumped out of airplanes, worked for years in a furniture factory, and had an impressive career as a boxer. His 14-4 record includes 10 rounds on national television with 4-time world boxing champion, Roberto Duran.

His musical career took off in the late 1990's, and he has opened for such notable acts as Sting, Huey Lewis, Marianne Faithful, Mark Knopfler, Robert Cray, Bonnie Raitt, Toby Keith and Jeff Beck to name a few.

Paul's latest release, "Never Too Late To Call," is seven years in the making and features all original material. The CD was recorded at Sam Phillips Studio in Memphis.

Tickets are available online at theshoalstheatre.org or by calling the box office at 256-764-1700. The Shoals Theatre is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization and all proceeds will benefit the theater.

The Reason For Religion

A front for self-righteousness. Men since Cain and Abel have tried to avoid God's plan for redemption. The Jews had a religion and it failed. See Romans 10:1-4. Christ established salvation, not a religion! Religion is man's attempt to justify himself, and using some verses, names, claiming origination to justify their building.

1 Corinthians 14:33 "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints."

Hebrews 5:9 "And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;"

Hebrews 12:2 "Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God." Over 4000 sects, cults, schisms and isms today all claiming some share on the market to salvation! If the Maker of heaven doesn't honour what your following, get out of it. There are countless fakers out there, claiming miracle gifts and all power, but when asked to deploy these things in graveyards, on wars, in storms and hospitals, they get woefully silent! Why?

I don't know anyone anywhere that God has given all His authority and power to, (except Christ) whether it's in salvation or miracles or prophecy! Matthew 28:18 "And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." Imagine a sinner who Christ died for having God's power to do the impossible. Get real! Historically since my birth, I have seen all that religion has been able to do is make this world more like a living hell, and get rich doing it! See Galatians 1:14. You have power? Really, stop sickness and death and hunger. Put forth your best shot on just these three! God fixes it all in: Revelation 21:4 & Revelation 7:16. God doesn't need anyone. We need Him, all day, every day. God said: Jeremiah 33:3 "Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not." Is your cult guilty of replacing God with religion? God, is the author of salvation, not your cult! ONLY CHRIST SAVES!

If the Democrats are the supposed leaders in diversity, why were they second at the table with Raphael Warnock? They had many decades to remedy that oversight.

Democrat rule over the black vote in recent years has dwindled despite $billions being invested in racial animosity campaigns by rich financiers, names we all know with a heavy Marxist lean.

Rest assured that Tim Scott will also be mocked by a variety of media clowns for his Christian position on sexual abstinence before marriage.

It's okay for them to joke about his possible virginity in a belittling manner even though he long ago mentioned, "that ship has sailed?"

Then, is it equally okay to ask abortion advocate Kamela Harris how many abortions she has had or how many affairs she had while sleeping her way up California's political ladder?

Some will say, "No."

I'm still not sure why the NAACP sides with Democrats or how that even got started. Most independently minded and upwardly-mobile minorities were fully behind Martin Luther King's work towards racial equality. King was a Republican, as was Florence native, Congressman, James T. Rapier, many decades before him, and the trailblazing Harriett Tubman, one of America's unsung heroes whom we have featured in this space twice before.

MLK knew which group supported equal rights for blacks and which group donned the white robes. The two were not synonymous.

President Johnson's great society had little to do with justice and even less to do with equality.

There's no question that Johnson, despite supporting Civil Rights Act of 1964 and signing it into law, was also a racist for his entire adult life. Some of his derogatory comments were inexcusable, including one used when appointing judge Thurgood Marshall to the Supreme Court.

"Son, when I appoint a ni... to the court, I want everyone to know he's a ni...."

The democratic track record of advancing equality over the last three generations since LBJ's utopian Great Society was established is woeful. In fact, prospects for minorities have declined as quickly as entitlements have skyrocketed.

The black family unit is disintegrating. Out of wedlock births are approaching 80%. Education quality and graduation rates, especially for inner city youth, are spiraling even with record dollars/student investment, all while Democrats tout loyalty to the party and promise greater justice for the underserved.

We need to determine how the United States, the world's most successful story of racial integration, is systemically racist and a supposed melting pot of rage, while thousands of people still risk their lives daily to get here.

The NAACP was a courageous leader during the civil rights turmoil of the '50's and '60's. Today they would be far from Dr. King's pride.

King called for a national boycott of Alabama in the '60's because Democratic Gov. George Wallace's hostile racial policies created a reign of terror.

It's the Republicans who voted largely in favor of the Civil Rights Act in much higher percentages than the Democrats. Democrats are the ones who filibustered the legislation in hopes of derailing it. Had it been left to the friends of the robed, the 1964 measure would have failed.

By contrast, Florida is currently an oasis of freedom, which is why vast numbers of Black people are moving there. That flies in the face of the NAACP's new Florida boycott for supposedly suppressing black freedoms and the teaching of black history.

The Democrat tendency to shortchange minorities is profound and ongoing, starting with the founding the KKK and authoring Jim Crow laws before the tumultuous 50's and 60's.

Back in 2010, Joe Biden gave a glowing eulogy for Democratic Senator Robert Byrd, an exalted supporter of the KKK.

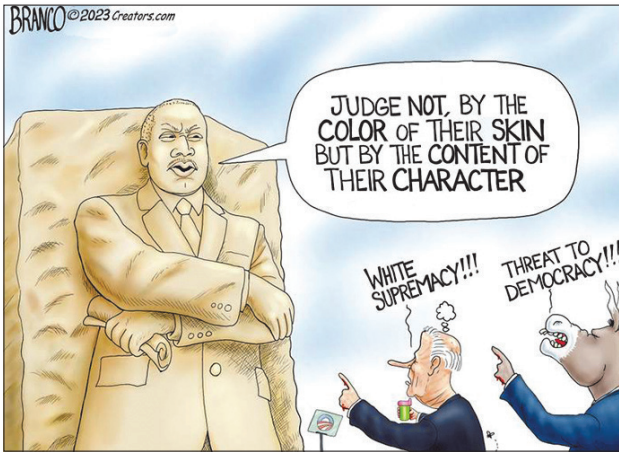

Today, Democrats side with teachers unions in failing schools instead of voting to give parents of Black children the option of school choice.

The Democratic party advocates for the trend of abolishing the police, one of the few barriers to total chaos in some communities.

They push their followers to teach children to distrust authority and law enforcement with blatant statistical falsehoods about unarmed deaths.

Democrats were in favor of DC schools throwing 40% of Black kids out because of the of the Covid vax mandate.

The Republican Party was founded to oppose slavery. The last administration produced the lowest African-American unemployment figure ever, and the lowest recent African-American poverty levels.

The revisionist history driven by a Democrat- apologist media would have us believe that sudden party switches took place right after the Civil Rights Act, with racist Democrats turning Republican.

That is pure fairy dust for anyone who will sniff it, and it is totally unsubstantiated by historic record. Of the 21 Democrat senators who opposed the 1964 Civil rights act, only one would ever change parties. The other 20 racists stayed put and eventually their voting constituents replaced them with other Democrats. Many have now died and have been replaced by others with a D. Joe Biden is one who is still stumbling around up there weaving tales of hate and animosity like only he can.

The first signs of any Democrat shift was actually in the early 1990's and has gained momentum since. It is all based on national security concerns, economic opportunities, and the Democratic party's race to the far left.

The same holds true of state legislatures in the south, many of which remained firmly in Democratic control and with Democratic governors at the helm until the mid-1990's/early 2000's. The Shoals area is a prime example.

Would Democrats of the 1960's have considered voting for Tim Scott as President?

Not a chance. Would Democrats consider voting for him now? Some Black voters... Maybe. They are slowly seeing the light, and he has the character that many admire.

White Democrats? Not a chance. Some things never change.

Savvy SENIOR

Can I Collect Social Security from My Ex-Spouse?

Dear Savvy Senior,
Is it possible to collect Social Security benefits from my ex-spouse? We were married for 12 years but have been divorced for almost 20 years now.
Never Remarried

Dear Never,
Yes, depending on your specific circumstances, you may very well be eligible for divorced spouses Social Security benefits. Here's what you should know.

Who's Eligible?

A divorced spouse can collect a Social Security retirement benefit on the earnings record of their ex-husband (or ex-wife) if you are at least age 62, were married for at least 10 years, are unmarried, and are not eligible for a higher benefit based on your own earnings record.

In order to collect, your former spouse must also be at least 62 and eligible for Social Security benefits. But he doesn't have to be receiving them in order for you to collect divorced spouse's benefits, as long as you've been divorced for at least two years.

Even if your ex is remarried, it won't affect your right to divorcee benefits, nor will it affect your ex's retirement benefits or his current spouse's benefits.

Benefit Amount

A divorced spouse can receive up to 50 percent of their ex's full Social Security benefit, or less if they take benefits before their full retirement age, which is 66 for people born in 1945-1954 but is gradually increased to age 67 for people born in 1960 or later. To find out your full retirement age and see how much your benefits will be reduced by taking them early see SSA.gov/benefits/retirement/planner/agereduction.html.

Keep in mind though, that if you qualify for benefits based on your own work history, you'll receive the larger of the two benefits. You cannot receive benefits on both your record, and your ex's work record too.

To find out how much your retirement benefits will be, see your Social Security statement at SSA.gov/myaccount. And to get an estimate of your ex's benefits, call Social Security at 800-772-1213. You'll need to show your marriage certificate and divorce decree to prove your marriage lasted at least 10 years along with his Social Security number to get it.

Other Factors to Know

You also need to be aware that working can affect your divorced spouse's benefits. If you start taking benefits while working, and are under full retirement age, your benefits will be reduced $1 for every $2 you earn above the annual limit, which is $21,240 in 2023. In the year you reach full retirement age, however, the annual limit increases to $56,520 and the reduction lowers to $1 for every $3 above that limit. See SSA.gov/pubs/EN-05-10069.pdf for more details.

Another factor that can reduce your divorced spouse's benefits is receiving a pension from an employer that did not withhold Social Security taxes (like a government). This is a rule known as Government Pension Offset (see SSA.gov/benefits/retirement/planner/gpo-calc.html) which can reduce your benefits by two-thirds of the amount of your pension.

Divorced Survivor's Benefits

You also need to know that when your ex-spouse dies (and if you were married for 10 or more years), you become eligible for divorced survivor benefits, which is worth up to 100 percent of what your ex-spouse was due.

Survivor benefits are available to divorced spouses as early as age 60 (50 if you're disabled). But if you remarry before 60, you become ineligible unless the marriage ends. Remarrying after age 60 will not affect your eligibility.

Also note that if you are receiving divorced spouses benefits when your ex-spouse dies, you will automatically be switched over to the higher paying survivor benefit.

For more information visit SSA.gov/benefits/retirement/planner/applying7.html and click on "Benefits for Your Divorced Spouse."
