55th Annual Ice Cream Social Is Major Fund Raiser for Women's Shelter

One of the area's 'quietest' major charities steps up next weekend for a big fundraiser in conjunction with the Krasl Art Fair on The Bluff in downtown St. Joseph. The Avenue Family Network has a 'vague' name but funds some very specific and important activities that impact the lives of troubled families and special needs adults in Southwest Michigan. Notably, the group is one of the major funders of the facility often referred to as 'The Women's Shelter' in Benton Harbor, which provides a haven for Moms and kids who find themselves without a safe, stable roof over their heads due to a myriad of family and relationship issues.

You'll be able to support the cause while enjoying a scrumptious variety of Summer desserts at the Avenue Family Network Ice Cream Social on the Veranda at The Whitcomb on Sunday, July 9. A perfect 'time out' from your excursion through the Krasl Art Fair!

Here are more details in a statement from The Avenue Network:

The Avenue Family Network Auxiliary is thankful for the community's support for our annual Ice Cream Social in past years. Since 1968 it has been our major fundraiser. The Auxiliary is grateful for Honor Credit Union's sponsorship to help offer the Ice Cream Social to the community.

Our 55th Ice Cream Social is Sunday, July 9 from 10:30 AM to 4:30 PM. We are happy to continue our tradition of selling slices of homemade cakes and pies, served with ice cream, on the shady veranda of the Whitcomb Senior Living Community. This provides a relaxed setting while visiting the Krasl Art Fair.

Tickets are available on that day for $5, or from any Avenue Auxiliary member.

The Avenue Network helps many individuals and their families in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties through the following agencies:

The Importance of Restarting Palisades

This past Monday, I had the privilege of participating in a Repowering Roundtable with other regional stakeholders to discuss the importance of repowering Palisades Nuclear Power Plant. Prior to the roundtable, a press conference was held in which myself, and others remarked on the incredible significance this would have on our region, our state, and our country should it come to fruition.

The event, organized by State Representative Joey Andrews (D-St. Joseph), included key leaders from Holtec - the company that owns the facility - as well as representatives from Allegan, Berrien, and Van Buren counties; Covert and South Haven townships; the City of South Haven; Lake Michigan

Practice Like You Play

I've touched upon the importance of practicing with a purpose and eliminating long sessions of aimlessly pounding balls. Let's take it a step further as I know practicing with a purpose can sometimes be daunting, or, for some of us, practicing gets boring after 15 minutes. One of the many challenges is hitting the same club over and over; last time I checked, we never hit the same club repeatedly in a round of golf.

Next time you hit the range, try playing a round of golf! I know what you're thinking, "is Josh on the sauce again?" Please allow me to explain. Most of us know a course we've played numerous times by heart. Enhance your practice session by hitting shots on the range that coincide with your favorite golf course. After you get loose, start by teeing it up on #1. Create a "fairway" based on boundaries on the range. This could be a couple sets of flagsticks, bunkers, etc. Hit your first shot and if you hit the fairway, take your typical yardage and fire at a flag. If you don't hit the fairway, add 20 yards to your approach.

What about the putting? If you hit a good shot close to your target, give yourself a one putt. If you don't, but still would be on the green, give yourself a two putt. If you miss the target completely, hit a pitch or chip shot and score accordingly. Yes, this will take a bit of imagination, but the purpose is to keep ourselves captivated while practicing.

In addition to being invested in your practice time, this allows you to go through similar motions you would on course and switch clubs on every shot. I would also encourage you to treat it like a real round of golf. This means going through your pre-shot routine, step by step, and executing the shot. Make sure you change targets and directions; this will help your alignment. How many times have you played a hole and the tee markers are pointing you in a bad direction? I often hear someone say, "I hit it in the water because the tees were pointed there!" FALSE! They hit it there because they allowed the tee markers to direct their alignment. When you change directions on the range, your brain is sending signals to your body for correct alignment, this is a great thing.

At the end of the day, we all want the same thing...to play just a little better! Being engaged in our practice and creating more on course experiences can help us get there. The next time you head out to practice, make it a point to be very specific and intentional; you won't regret it!

College; Market Van Buren; workforce development organization Kinexus Group; the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber of Commerce; the South Haven Area Chamber of Commerce; and organized labor, including representatives of the Utility Workers Union of America (national and Local 150), Michigan State Utility Workers Council, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 131, Operating Engineers 324, Carpenters Local 525, Iron Workers Local 25, and Michigan AFL-CIO.

Located in Van Buren County's Covert Township, Palisades employed 600 workers with an average salary of $117,000 and another 1,000+ supplemental workers during the plant's regularly scheduled refueling and maintenance outages during its time in operation. It also supported over 1,100 additional local jobs, generated $363 million in regional economic development annually, and produced more than 800 megawatts of reliable, clean power—enough to power more than 800,000 homes and small businesses. The plant was shut down on May 20, 2022, when its current fuel supply ran out and the 15-year power purchase agreement between the plant's prior owner Entergy and Consumers Energy expired. The plant was sold to Holtec Decommissioning International in June 2022, which has been working to bring the plant back online ever since. If successful, it would be the first nuclear power plant to be recommissioned in our nation's history.

As we face the challenges posed by an evolving energy landscape, it is imperative that we maintain a diversity of energy sources to ensure a stable and secure supply for the residents and businesses that call our state home. Nuclear energy remains the cleanest, most reliable option to building this resiliency, while also reducing our carbon footprint. It also provides significantly more energy than contemporary green alternatives, and Palisades alone accounted for more energy than every solar panel and windmill in our state combined. With this important perspective in mind, it is clear we will not achieve our Michigan-made clean energy goals unless nuclear - and Palisades Power Plant - are part of the strategy moving forward.

In terms of opportunity, restarting Palisades also offers exciting prospects for the future. The nuclear industry is undergoing advancements and innovations, such as the development of small modular reactors and advanced fuel technologies. By bringing Palisades back online, we position ourselves at the forefront of these emerging technologies, attracting research and development investments, and opening doors to new business opportunities. This forward-looking approach ensures that our region remains competitive, resilient, and adaptable in an ever-evolving global energy landscape.

The economic impact of the plant also extends far beyond the energy sector. It provides employment opportunities for hundreds of skilled workers, fostering a stable and prosperous workforce. These high-paying jobs support families, drive consumer spending, and generate tax revenues that fund essential public services. The presence of a thriving nuclear power plant in our region also stimulates the growth of numerous ancillary industries, such as manufacturing, construction, and hospitality, creating a ripple effect that boosts local businesses and spurs economic development. Most importantly, it safeguards the uninterrupted functioning of our economy.

A safe restart of Palisades would not only help secure our energy future, it would lay the foundation for sustained economic growth and prosperity for our region. As the Voice for Business in the region, we were proud to stand with Rep. Andrews, Holtec, labor leaders, and other community stakeholders to advocate for this shared priority, and we strongly encourage our state and federal partners to rally behind the effort to bring Palisades back online.

6 AC Tips to Stay Cool and Save Money This Summer

by Boss Services
June-July 2023

1. Don't set your thermostat too low

The U.S. Dept. of Energy specifies 78 degrees as the ideal thermostat setting in the summer. Every degree you go up from 72 saves you 3-5% percent on your air conditioning energy costs.

2. Raise the temperature whenever you leave home

Whenever nobody will be home for more than 2 hours, you can save energy by raising the temperature by 7-10 degrees. The Department of Energy says doing this consistently will save you as much as 10% on cooling costs.

3. Save money at night

When you sleep, your body temperature lowers. So you may be able to raise the temperature a bit at night, especially if you use lighter sleepwear and lighter bedding.

4. Switch to a smart thermostat

You can program a smart thermostat to raise the temperature 10 degrees during the day when you're at work and then lower it 30 minutes before you return home. A smart thermostat allows you to optimize the temperature setting at certain times of day to save you the most money.

5. Seal leaks in your ductwork

The average home leaks 25-40% of conditioned air through holes in ductwork, resulting in high energy bills. We are currently offering a $25 duct inspection using advanced technology to determine if you have any leaks in your ducts.

6. Call an HVAC company for an AC Tune-Up

Regular inspection and maintenance is vital to prolong the life of your air conditioner. If you suspect that it's not cooling properly, a professional HVAC technician will be able to determine if there is an issue affecting its efficiency.

Keep your eyes on the ball!

If you have ever been to a little league baseball game, I am sure you have heard that sentence coming from an encouraging coach or parent. The problem is this. How does one know if they are keeping their eyes on the ball or not??

This is where Sports Vision, or a good Vision Evaluation can help.

If one considers that we, as humans, use Vision to guide our movements one can realize just how important it is to keep your eyes on the ball!

The eyes make two kinds of movements. A 'jumping' movement, called a 'saccade', is where the eyes shift from one object to another. Examples of this type of movement are seen while reading, or looking back and forth between two people or objects.

The second type of movement eyes make are called 'Pursuits'. This is when you try to 'track' or follow an object as it is moving. Examples of these are when you watch a plane fly overhead, or try to follow a ball coming towards you.

Accurate, and efficient eye movements are just a part of the puzzle for successful athletic AND academic performance.

Another key component is how the eyes work together as a team. Both eyes need to successfully look at the object of regard AT

THE SAME TIME! Failure to do this can impact one's depth perception. Depth perception is vital when trying to accurately catch a ball, pick up a cup, throw a crumbled up ball of paper into a trash basket, etc. The eyes lead the hand. It is eye-hand coordination, not hand-eye coordination! If the eyes are giving the brain 'bad' information, then the brain is going to give bad directions to the body. If we go back to the original sentence, and think about trying to hit, or catch a ball, it can be thought of like this. The eyes send information to the brain about the direction (where) and speed (when) the ball is going. The brain uses this information to direct the body as to where and when to swing the bat, or move the glove.

Thus, when you are witnessing a person struggle to play, or read well, you are more than likely observing someone who's visual system is interfering rather than helping.

It should be noted that all this can happen even if the person sees '20/20'. 20/20 does NOT mean the person has perfect vision. It means the person has clear sight!

The best part of all of this? Even if you know of someone that struggles. There is help! Vision is learned and thus can be taught so that the person can perform at a higher level.

We think these two are the cat's meow! Jackie and Angie spend countless hours in the early mornings, evenings and weekends doing their part caring for feral cat colonies in the county. How do they do this? They work alongside groups like Animal Lovers, Inc. out of Three Oaks; Spay Neuter Assistance Program in Niles; and Animal Aid of Benton Harbor. They capture the felines, transport them to veterinarians and then return them to their homes after they've been neutered. Though they're newer volunteers, so far this year they've helped more than 200 cats!

An Artist's Journey: Molly Range

By Betsy Gill

One of the incredible stories that came out this year's Michiana Annual Art Competition (MAAC) is from artist, Molly

Molly Range as an elementary artist

Range. Molly entered two fiber art pieces "Jellyfish" and "Koi Pond," and to her delight, they both made the show. But this wasn't the first time Molly's art has been on display at the Box Factory for the Arts. Oh no, her gallery exhibits go way back.

Molly Range is from Stevensville, Michigan. When she attended elementary school at Roosevelt (Lakeshore), she had not one but two different times her artwork was proudly displayed on the walls of the Box Factory during the Community Art Exhibition for the local schools. For Molly, art was something she liked as a child from coloring, experimenting with different colors; she even started crocheting in elementary school. She found she liked the process of making something. Art was a necessity to relax and to allow her mind and hands to do something other than school work. Even now as an adult, with a very technical job at Whirlpool, she loves having a creative outlet in her life.

Her current medium may have started from her early interest in crocheting and then knitting as an older teen. When she realized she could 'draw' with fiber, she was intrigued. She looked up online tutorials and tried it-wet felting, needle felting; it's all still new to her but she's excited to keep exploring.

"Putting artwork into a show can be intimidating", says Molly. "I've been coming to the Box Factory my whole life, seeing amazing art, and hearing stories from the artists. As I was setting goals for my next few years, I realized that I needed to keep allowing myself opportunities to grow in my art, as I do in my career. Wet felting and needle felting were a fun challenge, and this past year, I created Koi Pond and Jellyfish, among others. I started with roving (fiber material) and realized that the vibrant colors made me think of Koi in water. That's how Koi Pond came to be. For Jellyfish, I wanted to test my needle felting ability. I love blues and purples in art, and wanted to try to create movement in the piece."

So, what's next for Molly Range, the artist? She's interested in adding beading into the fiber pieces as well as aging with different textures. We're excited to see what she comes up with next and hopefully she will enter next year's MAAC.

All along, Molly credits her journey with the support from friends at the Box Factory and her knitting group, for encouraging her to keep making art!

Our Confidence in Christ

I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength, that he considered me trustworthy, appointing me to his service. Even though I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and a violent man, I was shown mercy because I acted in ignorance and unbelief. The grace of our Lord was poured out on me abundantly, along with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus.
1 Timothy 1:12-14

Do you ever wonder why God would want you to be a member of his family of believers? We would like to think that there was something in us God liked. But are we really being honest? Would you buy a soft and spoiling melon from the melon box? Think of my question that way. Why would the Maker of this universe choose sinning creatures like us to know him as "Father"?

John Newton wrote, "Amazing grace—how sweet the sound—that saved a wretch like me." He had lived a shameful life, but God had delivered him. "Amazing grace." When God commissioned Saul of Tarsus to preach the gospel, saying in effect, "Not by angels and seraphim but by your speaking shall the world hear of the glory of God," the apostle marveled at God's amazing grace.

Take a turn up and down the memory lane of your sins. Can we honestly not begin to shake with disgust at our blasphemies, persecutions, and ignorance? Then remember that God doesn't turn away from us in disgust. He took all those sins, even those we don't remember, and placed them on Jesus. He turned away from Jesus in disgust and now looks at us in love. God says, "I remember your sins no more."

God wraps his righteousness around us, covers us by his grace, and clothes us with his salvation. Remember the staggering promises God has given us in place of our deserved punishment. How can that grace not sweep us into a refreshed gratitude and deeper active appreciation?

May we always be amazed and grateful.
Prayer: Heavenly Father, I know there is nothing in me that would cause you to want me to be part of your family. And so I am eternally grateful for your love that caused you to rescue me from my sins so that I could be adopted as your child. Thank you. Amen.

Delta Resumes Detroit Connection at SBN Airport
South Bend International Airport users are smiling today after an announcement from Delta Airlines and SBN Airport officials. Delta will resume direct daily flights to and from Detroit (DTW) in September, greatly simplifying air travel planning when heading to East Coast business destinations.

Delta had cancelled South Bend-Detroit service last November after serving the busy route for decades. Business travelers were left scratching their heads as to why a route that frequently flew at near capacity would be cancelled. It appears the reasoning related to changes in the makeup of Delta's fleet of aircraft and South Bend ended up an 'odd man out.' That was never confirmed by officials.

The new Delta service starting in September will employ 76-seat CRJ-900 aircraft featuring two-class service, according to an announcement from the airport. Only one roundtrip a day is being added-back, however the scheduling is fairly well-timed for business travelers.

The SBN-DTW schedule will operate as follows:

The morning flight to Detroit will depart South Bend at 8:05am, arriving in Detroit at 9:20 am.

The return flight from Detroit to South Bend will depart DTW at 7:45 pm, arriving in South Bend at 8:45 pm.

Tickets are on-sale now at www.delta.com.

The first arrival from DTW resumes on September 10, with the Detroit departure the following morning., September 11.

South Bend International has many daily flights to other major US airport hubs, including Chicago, Minneapolis, Atlanta, Charlotte, Dallas, Phoenix and Las Vegas, in addition to several Florida vacation destinations. However, the Detroit hub is particularly important to business travelers and those connecting to Delta international flights to Europe.

Independence Day Fireworks in Berrien County

Most of the fireworks shows are on Monday, July 3, and that includes in St. Joseph. The St. Joseph Department of Public Safety says the fireworks will be launched from the South Pier at dusk, or around 10 p.m. Portions of Silver Beach and Tiscornia Beach, as well as the North and South Piers, will be closed to provide a safety zone. Also, the Blossomland Bridge and Bicentennial Bridge will not open for boats until 1 a.m. Everyone's reminded there will be limited parking below the bluff.

Also on the 3rd, there will be fireworks shows in Baroda, Niles, and New Buffalo.

Baroda's are fired off in a field behind the American Legion, the New Buffalo fireworks will be shot off into the harbor, and the Niles fireworks will be at the Apple Festival grounds.

July 4 will bring the fireworks show in Berrien Springs. They're shot off at the Berrien County Youth Fairgrounds, although the fairgrounds won't be open. You can see the show from locations all over town, including the school parking lots.

Dave Says
A Corporate Con Game

Dear Dave,
I know you recommend using cash or debit cards instead of credit cards. But can you explain why my husband and I shouldn't take advantage of credit card points for travel expenses that are required for work but will be reimbursed by the employer?

Cathy
Dear Cathy,
So, your employer is so poor they require you to advance them for your travel? You do understand if your employer decides not to pay you one month—for whatever reason—that it's your credit card and your debt, right? Even if this hasn't happened yet, you're exposed to the risk. All for a couple of airline miles that are virtually impossible to use? No, thanks.

I understand this is standard procedure for some companies, but then a big chunk of corporate America has conned its employee base into taking out a loan on their behalf—with a promise of repayment—and the employee taking on all the risk. On top of that, these companies act as if operating this way is no big deal. Well, it is a big deal. And it's not a good way to run a business or treat your employees.

Cathy, I once counseled a guy who walked into my office with $11,000 on his

www.MailMaxOnline.com
American Express card that was "supposed" to be reimbursed. Guess what happened? When he went into work earlier that day, he found a padlock on the door. The company he worked for had filed Chapter 11 bankruptcy, and he got nothing. At that point, he had $11,000 on his American Express card, and the credit card company didn't care one bit about his company going broke. They wanted their money.

When you use a credit card, you spend more than when using a debit card or cash. Tons of research has proven this to be true. Using someone else's money just doesn't produce the same friction in your brain as paying for something with your own money. You don't feel the sting of it leaving your personal account. Do you want to know something else? I've never met a single millionaire who pointed to credit cards and airline miles as the reasons for their financial success.

But I do know a lot of broke, middle-class people strutting around, bragging that they gamed the system. They'll tell you they beat a multi-billion-dollar company, one that spends tens of millions of dollars every year on studying consumer behavior in depth, at their own game. No, they really didn't. I'm telling you all this, Cathy, because I want you and your husband to protect your number-one wealth-building tool: your income.

Long story short: If you play with snakes, sooner or later you'll get bitten.
— Dave

Compliments (And What They Meant)

No. 5 son's past school year is now in the rear-view mirror. In fact, ALL his school years are – he's graduated from cawldidge!!

He is now poised to become ... well, he's working to figure that out. It may be a thing he's hated being since he was in kindergarten – a student. As in, pursuing a Master's Degree.

I recently asked him what he remembers most from all his schooling, and it took him about 2 nanoseconds to reply "My summer vacations!"

I was kinda hoping he'd mention when he and his classmates concluded third grade by getting – and giving – a batch of "Compliment Cards."

No. 5 hated the whole exercise. Some kids really got into it, gussying up their compliments with special extras. Matthew Schwertfeger emphasized the most important part of his compliment by drawing a circle around it. It was his own name, but still.

Assessing the compliments in their entirety, it's hard to figure out the predominant impression No. 5 made on his classmates back then: Audrey Pryll wrote "You have very funny jokes that are funny." So was No. 5 the class wit? Gary Zhou wrote "To a boy who gets 100% on almost every test." Does this mean No. 5 was an Einstein-ian brainiac? Melissa Slye said "You where (spelling is correct!) very good at football this year." Maybe No. 5 was a "jock"?

I quickly realized I was being wrong-headed; kids shouldn't be pigeon-holed, not in 3rd grade or ever. One generalization these 3rd-graders were fond of was "You're good at math." Turns out this was the default praise to employ when one 3rd grader didn't know what to say to another. No. 5 got five "good at math" kudos, all from girls, whom he thought were icky. And my wife recalls that No. 5 doled out an equal number of "You're good at math" messages. All to girls. Who probably thought he was icky.

Judging from her compliment to No. 5, Ella Costich (who must not be too icky) might today be embarking on a career as a 3rd grade teacher. The handwriting was unbelievably legible and precise, and while she perhaps should've broken her sentiment up with a period, there's a strong sense of teacher-ly encouragement in her note: "You are a really smart person good job!"

There was one kid in the class who was a little begrudging of praise for No. 5. Then again, maybe he wasn't. At first glance, the compliment appears to read "he rj wire nand hay nlat handruaiting." After reading it under a magnifying glass several more times, No. 5 thought he'd figured it out; he deciphered it as follows, with revisions to the above in capital letters: "he IS wire nand hay nlat handruaiting."

Suffice to say, this kid – and No. 5 still can't read the name – was no Ella Costich when it comes to handruaiting.

Lastly, my two very favorite compliment cards from No. 5's collection:

- "good jogging." This was from Ronald Plesh. No. 5 thinks Ronald meant "jogging" but confesses that doesn't clarify what the heck Ronald meant.

- "You have an awesome name." This makes perfect sense when you see who wrote it – a kid with a special similarity to my son: No. 5 Collins.
