SJ Today 'Love Local Weekend' Features Mike Yore Memorial Car Show

St. Joe Today is inviting the community to celebrate all things Southwest Michigan during the Love Local Weekend July 14-16. The weekend kicks off with the Mike Yore Memorial Car Show on Friday, July 14 from 4:00p-8:00p in downtown St. Joe. Step back in time and enjoy over 150 vintage cars lined up along Lake Boulevard as DJ Mark Durocher spins classic hits.

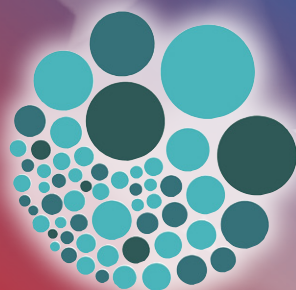

Cars can start parking in the event zone along Lake Boulevard at 1:00p on Friday. Participating cars need to be in place no later than 4:00p. Please enter at Lake Boulevard and Park Street. After parking, all participants are asked to register the day of the event between 4:00p-6:00p at the Honor Credit Union tent located on the corner of Lake Boulevard and Broad Street.

The Car Show honors the memory of Mike Yore, a downtown St. Joseph businessman and enthusiastic booster of Summer events in the city. Yore owned an antique store downtown and was one of the founders of the 'Venetian Festival on the St. Joseph River' more than 40 years ago. Yore enjoyed restoring and showing vintage vehicles and chaired the Car Show in its early years as part of the Venetian Festival.

For more information or to sign up for participant reminders, visit stjoetoday.com/mikeyore. The Mike Yore Memorial Car Show is sponsored by Honor Credit Union, Pier 33 and Edward J. Todd. Special thanks to the SWMI Car Collectors.

That is just the beginning of this celebratory weekend, as visitors and residents alike can enjoy extended shopping hours, featured menu items, and other area specials throughout Michigan's Great Southwest.

You Gonna Eat That?
Yes...and No

As if I don't waste enough time with my devices playing games like FreeCell, Rummikub, Yatzy, Sporcle, Wordle, Quordle and Wingspan, my wife coaxed me to play a CNN quiz called "50 States, 50 Plates." The goal was to match 50 particular foodstuffs with "the states that love them."

The opening sentence teeing up the quiz - "Americans can fry just about anything" - got me salivating. Though I tried tempering my excitement when a couple of my arteries twitched in fear of a greasy onslaught.

Thankfully, it turns out the foods are not all fried, but they are supposed to represent "comfort food classics." Here are a few tidbits I learned while taking the quiz (and ace-ing it, I might add!)

Bagel and Lox was CNN's choice for New York state. CNN's explanatory blurb caught my eye by saying the bagel has "murky origins," that "go back to 1600s Poland and even further to Italy and China." After reading a bit about the bagel's "birth" in China, or as a celebratory goodie after a Polish military victory, or to circumvent a weirdo law preventing Jewish bakers from baking (!), I conclude - I'm sure you'll agree - that the next innovative new bagel flavor should be called "Murky Origins."

Wisconsin's "fave" comfort food = Cheese curds. I've had these, thanks to No. 1 son and his wife No. 2 daughter-in-law, who is from Minnesota and grew up enjoying them. I decided I didn't need to explore their origins too deeply once I learned they're fatty and salty, and can be deep fried. When they're super fresh, they're said to make a squeaky noise, which I imagine is exactly the sound the wheels on the gurney will make when I go in for the octuple bypass necessitated by eating too many cheese curds.

The Slopper, beloved in Colorado. Invented in Pueblo, CO, the slopper consists of a sandwich or hamburger "swimming in a pool" of green chile sauce. I'm not sure how CNN decided that ALL of Colorado loves this dish - I quickly found a couple Denver-area articles about sloppers saying things like "unless you're from Pueblo, 'slopper' is probably not in your culinary vocabulary," and "Sloppers can be hard to find" in the Denver area. Nevertheless, one of these sites boldly claimed the BEST sloppers are MADE in Denver! At first, I was ready to believe them, because there were fingerprint stains the color of Pueblo chiles on the webpage. Then I realized that was my mess, made from swiping the screen with fingers covered in dust from those yummy pea-based treats, Harvest Snaps.

Boiled peanuts, Georgia. With all due respect to CNN, bwahahahaha and yuuuuuckkkkk. Boiled peanuts are made by boiling

Dave Says

Be Smart About Paying Off Debt

Dear Dave,
Should I cash in my 401(k) to pay off my car? I have just enough in the account to pay off the car and free up money in my budget.

Marina
Dear Marina,
If I were in your shoes, and I could pay off the car in 18 months or less, I'd live on rice and beans—plus a very strict monthly budget—and just push through until that car payment was out of my life. If that wasn't realistic, then I'd take out ads online and in the local paper, and sell the car as fast as possible.

Cashing out your retirement plan to make this happen isn't a good idea. I love that you want to get rid of your car payment, but if you use your 401(k) they'll charge you a 10% penalty, plus your tax rate. That means you'll lose anywhere from 30 to 50 percent of it to the government.

I don't know about you, Marina, but I think those guys get way too much of our money already!

No Second Mortgage!

Dear Dave,
My husband was recently told layoffs are about to happen at his company, and that it might be a good idea for him to start looking for another job. He has found a couple of good possibilities, but the jobs are located about 100 miles away. In preparation for a possible move, we spoke with a real estate agent who told us we'd have to remodel our kitchen to sell the house. We've got about $4,000 in savings, but the agent said remodeling would take between $2,500 and $3,000. Should we get a second mortgage to pay for the work?

Natalie
Dear Natalie,
For starters, I'd suggest cutting expenses any way you can, living on a strict budget and saving as much cash as possible. But taking out a second mortgage? No! You don't want that hanging over your heads.

You might want to get another opinion on the kitchen remodel, too. Sure, a new kitchen would be nice, but would it be a make or break kind of thing if you decide to sell your home? Probably not, unless it's in really terrible shape right now. Regardless, there's no way I'd go into debt to make this happen. I mean, your house isn't even on the market yet. There's no reason to fix up a house that's not for sale, especially when you've got just $4,000 to your names.

My advice is to wait and see how the whole job situation plays out before you make any big decisions. Then if you end up selling the house and moving, you might take $500 or so from savings to freshen up the kitchen a little bit.

Give Us Skilled Preachers

Preach the word; be prepared in season and out of season; correct, rebuke and encourage—with great patience and careful instruction. ~ 2 Timothy 4:2

Imagine a skilled blacksmith working in his shop. He meticulously prepares the metal, heats it in the fire, and hammers it into shape. He takes great care and attention to detail, ensuring the final product is strong, durable, and fit for its purpose.

Preachers of the Word of God act similarly to that blacksmith. They are entrusted with the task of using the gospel to transform hearts. They need to prepare themselves, just as the blacksmith prepares the metal. This involves immersing themselves in God's Word, spending time in prayer, and asking the Holy Spirit to guide their work.

The blacksmith's work is not confined to a single season. He is ready to work, whether it's a scorching summer day or a bitterly cold winter night. Similarly, preachers of the Word must be prepared to preach the Word in season and out of season. There will be times when the message is well-received, and other times when it may be met with resistance or indifference. But just as the blacksmith doesn't stop working because of unfavorable conditions, they must remain faithful and continue proclaiming God's truth.

The blacksmith not only shapes the metal but also corrects and refines it. He may need to remove impurities, apply pressure, or make adjustments to ensure the final product is perfect. Preachers are called to correct and rebuke when necessary. This requires love and patience. But it is important to have someone in your life who is not afraid of these hard conversations. Someone who loves you enough that they are willing to be disliked if it means correction according to God's Word.

Just as important as rebuking and correcting is encouragement, similar to how a blacksmith polishes and brings out the beauty of the finished piece.

The blacksmith's work demands patience and careful instruction. He doesn't rush the process but takes his time to ensure every strike is precise. Similarly, patience is important in spiritual instruction. Spiritual growth takes time, and preachers must be patient, guiding people with care and offering them the nourishment of God's Word.

Prayer: Dear Jesus, provide preachers who love you and love your people, who faithfully share the good news of sins forgiven in you. Amen.

Next Gen TV Comes to Michiana

South Bend television stations have taken the next step in digital upgrades. Six of them worked together to add so-called 'Next Gen TV' channels: crisper, brighter, more vivid digital images than those already available on your 720p or 1080i HDTV screens. The new technology (1080p or 2160p) is only available via Free Over The Air antenna broadcasts. It's NOT on cable or satellite and isn't planned to be in the future. So, the Cord Cutters with antennas are a step ahead. However, a newer TV with a Next Gen TV capable tuner is required to receive the new signals that started broadcasting last week. You can learn more in our MOTM in depth feature at www.MoodyOnTheMarket.com or do your own research at www.WatchNextGenTV.com .

peanuts. In their shells. In salty water. For hours. This is said by CNN to give them “a soft, bean-like texture.” It is also said to make a perfectly good helping of peanuts horrible. This is said by me.

There’s a backstory here: My good friend Charlie and I accompanied our sons’ youth soccer team to a tournament in Columbia, SC, several years back. Part of the experience was a University of South Carolina soccer match. About halfway through the game, Charlie got the munchies, and enthusiastically decided to try “something different” – boiled peanuts. He was so enthusiastic he bought two bags. He immediately regretted his over-enthusiasm. He tried to share them among the other dads. No one would take him up on the offer. He tried to get the kids on the soccer team to eat some. No dice. He finally figured out how to get rid of them: He paid a kid on another youth soccer team to take them. The kid gleefully pocketed the money. And then threw the boiled peanuts in the trash.

You knew it was coming, right? Wyomingites, uhhh, Wyomingites, uhhh, Wyomingites. . . anyway, they supposedly consider Rocky Mountain oysters a comfort food. I suppose everyone knows they are actually the testicles of bulls. And that they’re almost always served deep fried. What confused me a bit was that some people call them “cowboy caviar.” Caviar is sturgeon eggs, right, and Rocky Mountain Oysters are bull testicles, so my concern would be if you ate them together, could someone become pregnant? Wait, what I mean is, pregnant with a genius idea for a ludicrous screenplay about a mutant Bull Sturgeon superhero, sure to be a smash hit and garner the screenwriter a gojillion dollars! Oh, baby – I think I’m starting to show!!!

LMC Alumni Association seeks nominations, names service award after late Dr. Gladys Peeples-Burks

The Lake Michigan College Alumni Association Board of Directors is seeking nominations for its 2023 Alumni Awards, including the newly christened Dr. Gladys Peeples-Burks Alumni Service Award in honor of the long-time college advocate who died in February at age 94.

"Dr. Gladys Peeples-Burks was the matriarch of the LMC Alumni Association," LMC's Director of Career Services and Alumni Engagement Barbara Craig said. "She served for more than 20 years on the alumni board and was a member of the first graduating class of LMC. Gladys was just remarkable. She embodied what it means to serve your community with dignity, grace, and resilience. That is why the LMC Alumni Board has renamed the Alumni Service Award in her honor."

Nominations for the Gladys Peeples-Burks Alumni Service Award, Clarence Beckwith Distinguished Alumni Award, and Alumni Achievement Award must be received by July 6 for consideration. Recipients will be announced in September.

To be eligible, alumni must have graduated from LMC or its predecessor, Benton Harbor Community College, or taken at least 30 semester hours. LMC first presented its Alumni Awards in 1986. Since then, more than 80 individuals have been honored.

"We know our alumni make a difference every day, and we want to share their stories," Craig said. "The Lake Michigan College Alumni Awards program allows us to do just that by recognizing alumni who have distinguished themselves in their career, service to their community, and Lake Michigan College – people like Gladys."

Dr. Burks was a member of the first graduating class of Benton Harbor Junior College, now Lake Michigan College, receiving her associate degree in 1948. After retiring from Michigan Bell Telephone Co., she earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Michigan University and eventually education specialist and doctorate degrees from Michigan State University.

A strong advocate for public education, Dr. Burks worked in Benton Harbor Area Schools as a teacher, elementary school principal, and director of state and federal programs. She served three terms on the Benton Harbor Area School Board, including four years as its president.

A tireless community advocate, she was a member of the American Association of University Women (AAUW), the League of Women Voters, the Twin City Arts Council, Southwest Michigan Women's Political Coalition, past president of Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, and the Berrien County Extension Service Council of Michigan State University. In addition to the LMC Alumni Board, Dr. Burks served on the board of Chemical Bank, Region Four Area Agency on Aging, Berrien Community Foundation, Berrien County Association of Retired School Personnel, Southwest Michigan Race Relations Council, and Calling All Colors.

She was a member of the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., a charter member of the Benton Harbor Chapter of Charms, and a lifetime member of the NAACP serving through the Twin City Area Branch.

"Gladys set the standard for serving your community," LMC Alumni Board President Kevin Miller said. "She was a tireless advocate for the community. Her work and love for Lake Michigan College were inspirational. She set the standard, and I can't think of a better way to honor her legacy of giving than by naming this award after her."

To nominate an individual for the 2023 LMC Alumni Awards, please email Barbara Craig at craig@lakemichigancollege.edu or complete and submit the Alumni Award Program Nomination Form at lakemichigancollege.edu/alumni-awards.

The three alumni award categories are:

Gladys Peeples-Burks Alumni Service Award

This award is given to an alumnus who has offered significant personal or professional contributions to LMC or the community. The community is broadly interpreted as local, the state of Michigan, or the nation.

Clarence Beckwith Distinguished Alumni Award

Named in honor of the first President of Lake Michigan College, this award is given to an LMC alumnus who has accomplished significant success in their personal or professional endeavors.

Alumni Achievement Award

This award is presented to a recent alumnus who attended LMC within the past 15 years, demonstrated significant achievement, and distinguished themselves in their career, education, or community.

For more information or to suggest a nominee, email Barbara Craig at craig@lakemichigancollege.edu or call 269-927-8147.

Arthur
Havlicek

President,
SMR Chamber

Thankfully, legislators left roughly $400 million remaining on the state's balance sheet between school and general funds, which can be used to offset an economic downturn, additional needs through the remainder of the year, or carried over to the next fiscal year.

As the Voice for Business in Southwest Michigan, we remained active throughout the budgetary process to safeguard business interests and secure meaningful resources for area priorities. I've included the outcome for several of those priorities below:

Going PRO Talent Fund: $54.75 million

This extremely popular program offers direct reimbursement grants to employers to assist with training, developing, and retaining current and newly hired employees. The Governor included an additional $35 million in ARPA funding, but that investment is not included in the final budget.

Tri-Share: $3.4 million

An increase of $900,000 for this collaborative childcare program encouraging private-public partnership with employers, employees, and the state to deliver childcare access to working parents. Our Chamber is advocating for Tri-Share to be expanded to Southwest Michigan.

Michigan Reconnect: $65.2 million

An increase of $10.2 million from the current year to expand this program to 21-year-olds. This is a last dollar scholarship that currently covers in-district community college tuition free for Michiganders 25 and older - a big win for our partners at Lake Michigan College.

Digital Workforce Development: $4.9 million

This is a new program to connect prospective employees with employers, targeting intermediate schools and local business partners. A portion of this appropriation will support a digital platform and expansion of the existing program.

Renewable Ready Communities: $30 million

The Governor created this new program to provide grants to local communities for the creation of renewable energy facilities on a regional scale.

Revitalization and Placemaking Program: $50.0 million

Establishes a grant program for rehabilitation of vacant, underused, and blighted structures and to help develop traditional downtown infrastructure.

Housing and Community Development Program: $50.0 million

A program to expand access to affordable housing and support revitalization of downtown areas.

Targeted Energy Investment: $150 million

This new fund is intended to support the re-powering of the Palisades Nuclear Power Plant, which I and other local leaders made a final push for just last week. Funds will be made available contingent on federal commitments of support to restart the facility. A sincere "thank you" to freshman state Rep. Joey Andrews (D-St. Joseph) who fought hard to get funding for Palisades - and other area initiatives - across the finish line.

While that was an extensive list, it was by no means exhaustive. We have already begun advocating for our remaining priorities to be included in the upcoming supplemental budget that will follow later this year. In the meantime, if you have questions about any of the above, please do not hesitate to contact our office at 269-932-4042.

What Businesses needs to know about the State Budget

Michigan's new democratic leaders have produced their first state budget since taking control of the Legislature last Fall. The budget process began last February with the Governor's budget presentation and was statutorily required to conclude prior to July 1 in order to coincide with the school and local government fiscal year calendars.

The final product for Fiscal Year 24 totals a whopping $81.7 billion, a difference of $5.7 billion from our current year budget and $1 billion more than the Governor's original budget. This represents a significant increase in state spending, even when considering the budget includes a mix of both state funds and American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) federal relief dollars. For perspective, the FY19 state budget totaled just $59.6 billion when I left my position in the Legislature, making this a $22.1 billion increase in just over four years.
