READER'S Recipe

RADISH TOP SOUP

4 cups radish greens (from 3 to 4 bunches of red radishes)	1/2 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. butter	1/3 cup whipping cream
1 cup chopped onion	Red, purple, and/or watermelon radish slices
2 russet potatoes, coarsely chopped (2 cups)	Fresh parsley leaves
4 cups low-sodium chicken broth	Cracked black pepper

Rinse radish greens thoroughly to remove any grit. Drain. Melt butter in a 4 to 6 qt. saucepan over medium heat. Add onion; cook until tender, about 3 minutes. Stir in greens and potatoes to coat with butter. Add broth and salt, then bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, until potatoes are very tender, about 30 minutes. Allow mixture to cool slightly, then purée with an immersion blender (or in a blender, half a batch at a time, and return mixture to saucepan). Stir in whipping cream. Cook over medium heat, stirring, until heated through, about 2 minutes. Garnish with radish slices, parsley, and pepper.

A Refresher Course In School Bus Safety

The dawn of a new school year is a time marked by change and fresh opportunities. For many children, school marks the first time they are away from their parents for an extended period of time. It also may be the first time they ride in a vehicle other than their parents' cars. Each school day, 25 million children ride a bus to school in the United States. A school bus is among the safest modes of transport and one of the most regulated vehicles on the road, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Riding a school bus can be a novel experience no matter a student's age or grade. Kindergarteners may be introduced to the school bus on their first day of school, while older students are no doubt familiar with life inside a school bus. But all students and families can benefit from a refresher course on school bus procedures to ensure this school year begins on safe footing.

- Be a smart pedestrian. Riding the school bus is very safe, but injuries can occur walking to and from the bus stop. Watch for cars backing out of driveways and always look both ways multiple times before crossing streets.
- Remember school bus laws. Most areas of the country have specific school bus laws that include stopping when red lights are flashing on the school bus. Cars must stop whether they're behind the school bus, next to it or on the opposite side of the street facing the bus. Stopping allows passengers to enter or exit the bus safely.
- Stand away from the curb. The National Safety Council advises keeping six feet, or three giant steps, away from the curb while waiting for the bus. Young children should be carefully supervised.
- Be visible. Always cross in front of the bus, making eye contact with the driver so that he or she knows your intentions before crossing. If you drop something, do not bend down to pick it up. Tell the driver instead.

- Remain seated. Find a seat promptly and remain seated for the duration of the ride. Do not stand up and proceed down the center aisle until the bus has stopped.
- Minimize distractions. Always speak softly and behave so that you do not distract the driver. School buses are very safe vehicles, but passengers need to do their part to avoid injury.
