CLC Videography alumni team to premier release in festivals

www.newshopper.net

Mitchell McCallson, (left) a 2015 Videography graduate and co-director and co-writer, being filmed by Josh Hammer, Director of Photography and 2016 CLC Videography graduate.

A short film created by a handful of Central Lakes College Videography Program alumni, along with their team, will be screened in several upcoming film festivals.

The short film is called "P@ ssword Pr0blems" and it will be screened at the following festivals:

- The Iowa Independent Film Festival on September 9 in Mason City, Iowa
- The South Dakota Film Festival on September 16 in Aberdeen, South Dakota
- The Sioux City International Film Festival between October 5 and 8 at Sioux City, Iowa

"This whole experience of filming with former classmates and a current student at the place I graduated from really makes this a full circle moment," said Mitchell Mc-Callson, a 2015 Videography graduate, who co-directed and co-wrote the film. "The fact that it got selected to film festivals and will be seen on the big screen is a testament to how special CLC is to all of us, and the impact it made on us as filmmakers."

"P@ssword Pr0blems" was inspired by McCallson's own experiences with some of the absurdity that comes with multi-factor authentication. He pulled together some of his former classmates from the Videography program and some friends from his hometown of Royalton, and the by having knowledge and group started collaborating to make folks laugh. After about eight hours of shooting at the college and 24 hours of editing, the 6-minute masterpiece was ready for screening.

Brent Balmer, Sound Engineer, a 2015 CLC Videography graduate, and current CLC Audio Visual Education Specialist, said he enjoyed being able to work with former classmates, industry partners, and a current student.

"The CLC Videography program has impacted me personally and professionally," he said. "Personally it has made me more confident in my abilities as a videographer, and professionally experience in the industry that I can educate current and future students on, to be the best videographers they can be."

Josh Hammer, Director of Photography and 2016 CLC Videography graduate, said "Coming together and making short films with friends and amazing talent is enough on its own. Making great short films with peers is the bonus."

CONSERVATION TIP OF THE WEEK SEPTEMBER 11-17, 2023

'S SAVE WATER AND MONEY

If you have old toilets, you might be flushing money down the drain. New, efficient low flow toilets save as much as five gallons per flush! To conserve more water and money, flush only when necessary, don't let water run continuously while brushing teeth or shaving, take showers instead of baths and re-use water when you can

Nature Notes:

- Look for the first of the common milkweed pods to split open and send their seeds floating in the wind.
- By mid-September most of the ruby-throated hummingbirds leave for their winter homes. The majority of them migrate to southern Mexico southward across Central America to Panama
- White-tailed deer bucks are shedding their velvet. This velvet is key to the hardening process of the antlers ensuring they are in top condition for rutting season

READER RIBBETS Donate school supplies for students

Just a thought. School teachers need student supplies every year that our taxes do not pay for. Every year in July and August there are numerous parades that shower kids with tons of candy many times that go unused. Why not have each with their schools and acquire a list of items they need and hand those out instead? More than one fire truck, police car, ambulance, business float could divide up the items (say pencils, back packs, crayons etc) so that more than one en-
