Message From The Warren County Executive

Warren County is located in Eastern Middle Tennessee and part of Tennessee's Upper Cumberland Region. Resting along the base of the Cumberland Plateau, Warren County is a naturally diverse area ranging from fertile fields to majestic mountains located halfway between Nashville and Chattanooga along the I-24 Corridor.

Known as the "Nursery Capital of the World", agriculture is our number one economic resource, shipping a wide variety of trees and other plants all over the U.S. and other parts of the world. Thanks to our low tax base and emphasis on infrastructure, Warren County has grown at a record pace in the areas of industry and tourism. Our natural resources have made us a hotspot for outdoor recreation. Fishing, kayaking, hiking, caving, and cycling are just a few of the activities you can enjoy in Warren County.

The city of McMinnville is our County Seat, and our other municipalities include the cities of Morrison, Viola, and Centertown. Our area offers many recreational and educational opportunities. Four river systems come together at our Rock Island State Park offering camping, fishing, hiking, and kayaking. Cumberland Caverns is one of the nation's largest cave systems with twenty-seven miles of cave tours for any skill level, or enjoy a concert in the famous Volcano Room. We also have one of the southeast's most advanced robotics and mechatronics career training centers, Motlow State Community College, and Tennessee College of Applied Technology.

On behalf of all of Warren County, I'd like to invite you to visit one of Tennessee's true gems. Come experience our hometown hospitality. It's a wonderful place to visit, work, play, or even call home.

High-quality care, affordable cost

Ascension Saint Thomas offers a wide range of healthcare options.

By Amanda E. West

Ascension Saint Thomas River Park in McMinnville is a full-service hospital with 24/7 emergency care. They offer a wide range of affordable healthcare options including heart and vascular care, orthopedics, breast health, obstetrics, and maternity care. Their Family Birthing Center offers personalized birthing experiences and advanced neonatal care where babies receive the most intensive care available. Ascension also offers a wide range of minimally invasive procedures, such as imaging, lab tests, and rehabilitation services in one convenient location.

Ascension welcomes psychiatrist Dr. Aaron Hampton who accepted a full-time position with the Serenity Geriatric Psychiatry Unit. Family physician Dr. Stephen Cooper has also joined the Ascension team. "I am interested in treating the 'whole' patient," said Cooper. "I want to educate patients about the important tools for achieving and maintaining good health, including proper nutrition, exercise, sleep, stress management, supplements, and hormone replacement therapy when indicated." Dr. Cooper is located at 2413 South Chancery Street in the facility formerly used by Dr. Trey Kirby.

Placing the needs of patients over profits, Ascension has added the Dispensary of Hope community pharmacy. This program offers low-income, uninsured individuals the daily medications they depend on. With over 300 medications available to treat the most common medical conditions, products are free for patients who qualify bringing affordable prescriptions to every citizen of Warren County.

Ascension Saint Thomas Heart provides a network of heart and vascular specialists and services in one convenient location. Utilizing their brand new 128-slice CT Scanner, they now offer Cardiac CT Angiography to diagnose and monitor high blood pressure, high cholesterol, irregular heartbeats, and other risk factors for heart disease, heart attack, and stroke. The expansion of a state-of-the-art cardiac catheterization lab scheduled to open in Fall 2023 means

Ascension will provide the only lab of this type. Here, they will perform both diagnostic and therapeutic cardiac catheterization procedures on adults. This will improve the recovery and overall health of patients who would otherwise have to travel great distances for this degree of specialized cardiac care. By renovating approximately 1,092 square feet of the current hospital facility, the proposed first-floor lab will be easily accessible to patients.

In keeping with their promise to continue offering high-quality healthcare, Ascension recently welcomed new physicians, completed an extensive renovation of their main lobby, added a pharmacy for uninsured and low-income patients, and increased innovations in healthcare for every citizen of Warren County. When considering the health of your loved ones, look no further than Ascension Saint Thomas River Park. 🌿

Iron Tusk is Raising The Bar on the Tattoo Experience.

Will and Emmet Upton enhanced the tattooing experience in Warren County.

Iron Tusk Art Co. is more than a tattoo shop. It is a “local hub” for local artists within the tri-county area, providing mentorship and promotion for local artists and “artistically curious” or inspiring artists. In addition to providing body art, it triples as an art gallery and men’s retail store. Owner Emmet Upton was living in Michigan when he and his brother, Will Upton, decided to raise the bar on tattoos and the experience behind getting a tattoo and bringing this innovation to Warren County. Iron Tusk is a big, welcoming, inviting, and well-lit space where everyone who enters will leave feeling inspired to express themselves in all art forms. Will said he and his brother wanted to offer a great environment to the community and reverse the stereotypes behind tattoos. Like many other art forms, tattoos have evolved over the years, and the brothers pride themselves on staying innovative.

“You look at the very first tattoos from the 90s to now, where there are 3D tattoos.”

The name “Iron Tusk” was well-thought-out and part of a larger project to support a cause the company is passionate about.

What's exciting to me is sparking their idea into a flame. While it might not be on my body, my input is still on their arm.

Upton said, "Iron is hard and immovable, and the tusk represents anti-poaching foundations." The company's philanthropic branch donates a portion of the proceeds to the International Anti-Poaching Foundation. The Anti-poaching initiative serves to train local militias to end animal poaching. Naming the company after such an initiative is their contribution to ending the illegal ivory trade. The Engineers uniquely crafted the shop to help the Upton brothers focus on client experience and the quality of tattoos. The artists are innovative, but the quality of their art speaks for itself. The shop was open for five months before it was voted "Best of the Best Tattoo Shops" in Warren County.

Will Upton is not a tattoo artist, but he guides clients from receiving good to great tattoos; he's the bridge between artist and client.

Artist Cristopher Stephens, also known as "Critter," said art has been a unique part of his life since he was a kid.

"I wasn't too academically passionate, and that was because I knew what I wanted to do. I knew I was going to draw as a very young child."

Critter said his wife inspired him to become a tattoo artist. He said, "We challenge ourselves to look at everything through a unique perspective." Critter said breaking people out of their shells is one of the most exciting parts about being an artist. "Doing that every day puts things into a new perspective of life."

The company would like the community to know they're open to people coming, no matter their level, and displaying goods and art.

Upton said, "If someone has artistic expression, we want to hear it. We want to be a place where other artists can come in, network and build, grow, and learn just as we're doing simultaneously." ♻️

McMinnville Special Games Enrichment Center opens.

By Amanda E. West // Photos submitted by Holly McBride

McMinnville Special Games (MSG) is a nonprofit organization devoted to enriching the lives of children and adults with special needs in McMinnville and surrounding areas. “We are all different, so no one is different,” is their motto according to Holly McBride, president, and co-founder. “We will not stop until our special needs citizens have all the opportunities that neurotypical citizens have. These amazing individuals are capable of so many wonderful things, and it is our honor to provide activities and events for them to shine.”

Allison Weast, whose children participate in the program, said, “My children, who have never been a part of anything, suddenly had a place they could just be themselves. I have seen both my boys grow and learn—not just how to play a sport—but how to be successful and cheered for.”

“MSG provides a haven for our entire family. It is a local community that accepts us as we are. We fit right in no matter what is going on in life. No expectations: just acceptance,” said parent Emily Horton.

Recently, Special Games purchased a building at 225 Garfield Street that they will use as an Enrichment Center. With just over 100 participants, they offer a variety of thrilling opportunities for the special needs community, including their annual Spring Fling, olympic-type events, basketball games and tournaments, year-round sports events, parties, and scheduled get-togethers that encourage camaraderie and lasting friendships. They also offer art classes, water play days in the summer, hygiene products to their participants, and a food pantry for struggling families within the special needs community. “The incredible thing about us is that we are one big family,” said co-founder Donna Wanamaker. “We love each other, and we enjoy being together. We are blessed with an amazing team of volunteers, and without them, none of this would be possible.”

“MSG has added many opportunities for growth for my daughter, Olivia,” said Julie Sullivan. “She has met many new friends and tried new things: from being around horses, and creating art projects to running the 50 yard dash. We are so excited at the growth of community support and cannot wait for the McMinnville Enrichment Center to fully open.”

Special Games also offers an equestrian therapy program called Horsin’ Around. They meet the first Saturday of each month (weather permitting) at a beautiful 9-acre farm at 1680 Harrison Ferry Rd. Scientists have proven that equestrian therapy improves posture, balance, and mobility while calming anxiety and reducing stress in riders. This program is available to men, women, and children with special needs. Funded 100% by donations and sponsorships, this program makes a difference in the lives of all involved.

“We are always looking for volunteers, and donations are always welcome,” said McBride. “We are so blessed by the love and support of the citizens and businesses of McMinnville.” 🌱

The Many Seasons of

Rock Island State Park

Keeping the Gorge Safe and Accessible.

One of the highlights for many of Rock Island's visitors is viewing waterfalls. The gorge is only accessible when there hasn't been a Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) water release for the dam or significant rainfall. The TVA has information on their website about scheduled releases, including an app for your phone. Go to www.tva.com/environment/lake-levels/Great-Falls.

While exploring the gorge, it is critical to stay vigilant for a possible water release. Watch for rising water levels and listen for warning sirens. If you notice either rising water or hear sirens, immediately move to higher ground. The water can rise quickly and without warning.

If you're planning to go into the gorge and you are driving a long-distance, call the park office (931) 837-4770 to determine if the gorge is accessible.

The park is a popular kayaking destination. Flat water paddling from the Sandbar launch ramp is popular (during normal conditions). Whitewater kayaking in the rapids sections near the TVA powerhouse attracts professionals from all over the world. The area upstream of the Sandbar launch ramp on the lake is suited for experienced whitewater paddlers only though. Kayak fishing has also become a popular activity at the park for an up-close experience with nature.

Every season has something unique to offer the Rock Island visitors, but the park manager, Damon Graham's, favorite season is spring. The profusion of wildflowers, including some rare orchids as well as migrating birds, make Rock Island feel magical.

Have you ever seen an osprey, with its six-foot wingspan, pulling its sushi dinner out of the river right in front of you? That is a sight to behold and something to put on your bucket list. In addition to osprey, eagles call the park home year-round, and visitors can see a wide variety of songbirds, some rare, at the park. Birds are most likely to be seen during spring and fall during migration when the park has fewer visitors. The quiet surroundings make bird sightings more common.

Summer

Summer brings an influx of visitors for the variety of outdoor activities available. Weekends are often overflowing, so be sure to arrive early or plan to visit mid-week to enjoy the park. Families enjoy swimming at the sandy beach on Center Hill Lake and taking advantage of the three boat launches. Fishing is always popular at Rock Island; be sure you have your license if you are 13 years or older. Camping and picnicking help to extend the outdoor experience. Eating outdoors gives you a million-dollar view and enhances the flavor of your food.

Seasonal ranger-led activities include kayaking, nature walks, and animal presentations, among others. Check the park's website for schedule information.

Fall

The coolness of fall brings fewer visitors and a return of migrating birds. It is a wonderful time to lose yourself in the oasis of Rock Island. Enjoy the crunchy leaves as you hike or the beauty of the fall colors as you kayak around Center Hill Lake.

People who have mobility challenges love seeing an amazing waterfall from the parking lot. At Rock Island, beauty is available to people with all levels of health and fitness.

Immerse yourself at Rock Island by staying for a few days. RV hookup sites are available year-round, while tent camping can be done March 15 - October. Camping is a wonderful way to get back in touch with nature, but if a few more luxuries are your preference, there are lovely rental cabins available.

Winter

Winter at Rock Island can have a magic of its own. The leaves have fallen, so you can see the views more clearly with the fewest visitors. A vigorous walk in a beautiful place warms body and soul.

As John Burroughs said, "I go to nature to be soothed and healed, and to have my senses put in order." Rock Island State Park is nearby in every season to assist with our mental and physical health.

Spring

Spring rains make the park water levels change drastically. The roar of the water and awe-inspiring churning help one to appreciate the power and strength in all of those individual droplets merging in the rivers. While not all trails and areas are accessible with high water, it is a sight to behold.

Be aware of potential water release by the TVA. If you hear sirens or notice rising water, retreat immediately to higher ground.

The centerpiece of the 883-acre Rock Island State Park is the beautiful Center Hill Lake, along with three rivers: Caney Fork, Collins, and Rocky River. ♻️

Rock Island State Park is located at 82 Beach Road, Rock Island.

Motlow State

Offers Quality Education at Minimal Cost.

Motlow State Community College has a longstanding reputation for offering quality education at a great value. Most Motlow students qualify for free tuition scholarships that help keep the cost of attendance affordable. Through emerging technologies and sound financial practices, Motlow produces a great return on investment for students and their families.

A comprehensive audit conducted by the Tennessee Comptroller of the Treasury resulted in zero findings. While this is not unheard of, it is extremely rare.

“To achieve a zero-findings state audit is a testimonial to the degree that the business/finance unit strives for to be accountable for student tuition dollars, grants, fundraising, and state appropriations,” said Hilda

Tunstill, executive vice president for Finance and Administration at Motlow.

College is an important decision, and the cost of obtaining an education should not be a barrier to learning skills that can improve quality of life and career opportunities. Motlow helps ease that barrier with multiple tuition-free opportunities through dual enrollment, Tennessee Promise, and Tennessee Reconnect. The College develops public/private partnerships and philanthropic grants to fund makerspaces to fuel and inspire the deep learning required for high-wage, high-demand technology careers.

“I am extremely proud of the business/finance unit and realize that all our campuses helped achieve this zero-findings audit,” added Tunstill.

Student success and workforce development are central to Motlow’s mission. The needs of citizens in the community are the college’s priority. Motlow prepares students for employment, career advancement, entrepreneurship, or to be prepared to transfer to a university, all while mitigating tuition debt.

Motlow offers certification and training for non-degree seekers. Students can earn credentials and education without spending two years. There are several more ways the college saves students money, including Open Education Resources where students do not need to purchase textbooks. Nontraditional students can earn credit for prior learning for a fraction of the price of taking a course.

The Financial and Compliance Audit Report reviewed financial statements for two recent years. It involved performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including assessing the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether because of fraud or error. The areas reviewed in the audit included Business Office Functions, Financial Aid, Foundation Office, and Information Technology.

“We are being very intentional about crafting our reputation for embedding emerging technologies into every aspect of learning,” said Dr. Michael Torrence, Motlow president. “Student success is the rudder that pilots Motlow’s mission. Every vision, plan, and investment we make pivots on our ability to advance student success. Emerging technologies are a market reality in industry. That means all Motlow students must demonstrate technical acumen.”

Motlow’s McMinnville campus is located at 225 Cadillac Lane. The Automation Robotics Training Center (ARTC) is adjacent to the McMinnville campus. Motlow has a growing Sparta location in White County. The College opened in fall 1969 with 551 students. In fall 2019, Motlow set a new enrollment record with over 7,000 students.

Motlow is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Motlow awards the Level 1 associate of arts, an associate of science, an associate of science in teaching, an associate of fine arts, an associate of applied science, and certificates. Motlow continues the community college’s original mission by providing workforce development, non-credit, and personal enrichment classes to its 11-county service area residents.

Motlow has one of the highest transfer rates from a community college to universities within the state. Equally, Motlow students outperform native university students, a testament to the rigor, integrity, and sovereignty of the academic programs at Motlow. Student support is the second half of student success. Academic advising, coaching, tutoring, counseling, and workforce development are a snapshot of the many services available to students as they navigate the college experience.

Through internal scholarships, Tennessee Promise, Tennessee Reconnect, Hope, Aspire, and others, Motlow is affordable. Additional financial aid is available through Federal Pell Grant and TSAC. The financial aid staff on each campus is available to help students complete financial aid applications as needed. The cost of college should not be a barrier to becoming a college graduate.

Perhaps you are interested in attending a premier college that invests in its students, a college with purpose and direction, and a college that is a leader among colleges. # TCAT is Changing the Community.

Warren County is making education a top priority.

By Kennedee McAdams

Programs to prepare students for education, advanced placement coursework, dual enrollment with the local community college, and the Career and Technical Education program all showcase that education is important to the people of Warren County.

Warren County currently consists of 36 schools: 15 preschools, 17 elementary schools, eight middle schools, and nine high schools, all of which are consistently being adapted in order to fit the needs of the current students. This creates an environment of growth and development in the Warren County school system.

Tennessee College of Applied Technology (TCAT), in particular, has undergone impactful change within recent years in order to account for the high demand it has seen. According to Brooks Young, the coordinator for workforce development and institutional affairs, enrollment into TCAT is the highest it has been in over five years.

TCAT is a two-year school designed to prepare students for a career. TCAT McMinnville offers nine programs in the technical and skilled trade industries. These programs currently range from automotive technology to cosmetology.

Though already offering many opportunities to students, TCAT will continue to grow and change in order to meet the needs of students. Within the coming years, there is hope to expand some of the current programs to include evening course offerings. The local high schools are working to offer dual enrollment options for students who want to get a head start. In December 2021, TCAT McMinnville was awarded the GIVE 2.0 grant that will aid in achieving the goal of new dual enrollment programs. There are also plans for the funds to go toward providing career exploration opportunities to the middle schoolers in the area.

“Our ultimate goal is to provide early postsecondary opportunities in every high school within our eight-county service area,” Young said. This is just one of the many ways TCAT is extending the hand of education to the entire community.

TCAT is also playing a role in correctional education, and now offers specialized training to those in the county jail. This will help in providing jobs after their time is served. The hope of this program is that it will lower the rates of recidivism in the McMinnville area.

Education is a top priority for Warren County. This shows in the many ways that the officials push for opportunities to be available to all. The county centers its time, money, and energy on expanding and advancing the McMinnville education system. TCAT education is used to advance the community and benefits a multitude of age groups. Many people in the McMinnville area are already positively affected by the educational efforts that have been put forth. TCAT has spearheaded this growth. The program plans to continue to be a beacon of hope for education and the ways it can grow individuals.

Working Toward the Future

The Young Professionals in McMinnville are looking to build the future.

The McMinnville Young Professionals is an up-and-coming group of individuals looking toward the future for Warren County. This group fosters an environment, which aims to attract the younger generation that entices young talent, leaders, employees, and students to grow as essential members of our community. The Young Professionals group is designed to help tomorrow's leaders and community members succeed by encouraging networking, professional development events, and fundraising opportunities.

The McMinnville Young Professionals organization was created in January of 2018 to bring young community leaders together and actively shape the future of Warren County. It is a membership-driven organization aimed at creating a unique community for 22 to 45-year-old professionals to grow personally, engage professionally, and give back to the community by maximizing their individual and collective potential. The organization is in partnership with the McMinnville-Warren County Chamber of Commerce. 🌱

Building the Next Generation

Local Warren County youth benefit from the leadership program.

Warren County Youth Leadership (WCYL) is a leadership development program designed to provide local emerging and existing youth leaders with the tools to develop individual leadership skills, influence their schools, and contribute to their community. The purpose of WCYL is to train students in leadership techniques and community awareness so that they may become familiar with current issues, community resources, opportunities, and other factors influencing the direction of Warren County's future. You do not have to be the president of your class or the team captain. This is for all students who have leadership potential or have a desire to learn more about leadership and opportunities in the community.

Our Youth Leadership class is open to upcoming high school juniors who apply by the set date on the application each year. The class starts in September and concludes in April. The class spends one day a month with local businesses and learns about different program topics. The program topics in the past have included Agriculture, Communication, Tourism, Education, Business & Industry, Warren County History, Life Skills, Health & Social Services, Law, Local Government, and State Government. The class concludes in April with a unique class project to give back to our community.

So far this year, our class has traveled to the Warren County A&L Fair to learn about tourism and agriculture, and to Cedarwood Pumpkin Patch to learn about the nursery business in our county. The class also did a historical walking tour with Jimmy Haley, learned about Mainstreet McMinnville, the Tourism Development Board, and did various team-building activities. In March, the class will go to the Capital for Bologna Day (Day on the Hill) to meet with legislators, tour the capitol building, and attend a committee meeting. The class is currently working on their class project and will present it to their community partner by the end of April.

Educational Opportunities in Warren County

Warren County makes all forms of education a top priority.

By Jeriah Brumfield // Photography Summer Breeze

Warren County makes education a priority for all students by providing programs like TN Promise, and TN Achieves, and Higher Ed opportunities through the Foundation of Educational Progress. TN Promise

The Tennessee Promise is a scholarship and mentoring program that began in the fall of 2015. The scholarships they offer students cover tuition and fees not covered by the Pell Grant, the HOPE scholarship, or TSAA. For this program, removing the financial burden is key, but an important component of Tennessee Promise is the mentorship each participant will receive as they prepare for their higher education. Students must also complete 8 hours of community service per term, maintaining satisfactory academic progress (2.0 GPA).

TN ACHIEVES

tnAchieves is an organization that partners with the TN Promise Scholarship in 83 of the 95 counties in Tennessee. They aim to increase higher education opportunities for Tennessee high school students by providing mentorship and scholarships.

The organization serves about 90% of Tennessee's high school seniors each year, working with 98% of all TN Promise scholarship applicants.

The organization also provides student advising and support, increasing retention and completion. This ensures consistency in many areas.

tnAchieves guides students from high school through college and into their careers. Foundation of Educational Progress

The Foundation of Educational Progress is a non-profit that helps provide resources for students pursuing an education. It improves educational progress by enhancing academic scholarships and programs. The foundation offers educational assistance to students in the Warren

COUNTY AREA

The organization's website also provides information on organizations similar to the Foundation of Educational Progress for students who are not located in Warren County.

It is essential to ensure that our future leaders are prepared for the next step, and the Foundation of Educational Progress is a great starting point for Warren County students.

ROBOTICS

It is no surprise that Warren County makes STEM a top priority in enhancing students' quality of education. The county has an Automation Robotics Training Center (ARTC), part of the workforce group of Motlow College. They are one of two facilities within 250 miles that have three competing robot companies in the facility. The center's mechatronics program helps students learn the technical skills needed for the workforce while providing hands-on experience.

The Tennessee College of Applied Technology (TCAT), next door to the center, provides young men and women with many hands-on opportunities.

TCAT is a 2-year program designed to prepare students for their careers. There are nine programs in the technical and skilled trade industries at TCAT McMinnville. The program constantly finds new ways to expand and help students pursue their dreams.

Students earning the Mechatronics diploma will be trained in manufacturing, focusing on accuracy and productivity using various skills like pneumatics, hydraulics, robotics, computer controls, and preventive maintenance.

Viola, Tennessee

Viola was founded in the late 1700s as the settlement of Blue Springs. It was home to one of the earliest churches in Tennessee of the Separate Baptists and several members of the denomination lived there. The settlement formerly named Blue Springs was named Viola with the opening of the first post office in the area on August 23, 1858. The post office was named for Viola, the fictional character in Shakespeare's play "Twelfth Night."

McMinnville Embraces Cultural Immersion

The county finds new and innovative ways to express cultural immersion.

HISTORY MUSEUM

It is important to make learning about history a top priority, and Warren County is doing just that. The city has numerous historical attractions, museums, and other educational resources to help keep community members and tourists educated on the profound history of the charming city of McMinnville.

McMinnville continues to take strides in celebrating its rich and unique culture while embracing and immersing itself in other cultures to promote unity in the state of Tennessee.

Warren County's Heritage Center and Museum, located at 113 East Main Street, McMinnville, is home to various historical photographs and artifacts that tell the story of McMinnville's significance in history. It also contains tributes to McMinnville's own musical icons, Dottie West and Uncle Dave Macon. Heritage is not just a museum but the home of the city's most prominent historical figures. It is a place for community members and tourists to learn about the parts of history they may not otherwise know about.

Black History is American History in Warren County

Warren County continues to take strides to promote racial equity.

The Black History Museum of Warren County, Tennessee (BHMWC) is not just a museum but a haven for all cultures to learn about and embrace Warren County's history. The museum is located at 203 West Main St. The museum's initiatives promote cultural immersion and encourage unity within the community. The museum collects, preserves, and distributes images that may be used for educational, editorial, and commercial use.

Visitors can expect to see local professional athletes and coaches and their uniforms, Civic Groups like the Black Foxes, historic Bernard High School photos, and Warren County's famous and talented black musicians. The BHMWC Board focuses on empowering the community by holding monthly meetings to improve their approach and community events to keep members informed on activities.

The museum leadership and volunteers urge community members to take part in preserving black history and commemorating the strides made by the county to immerse themselves in its rich history. The community can get involved with BHMWC by volunteering their time, donating, purchasing a brick for their Walkway of Honor at Ramsey Park, or participating in activities like their art contest at local elementary schools. The museum will display the top five designs from grades K-5.

Community members can also donate items to the museum to further their mission.

Experiencing major growth and development

Bridgestone brings new job opportunities to Warren County.

STORY BY AMANDA E. WEST

Nestled near the Cumberland Plateau, Warren County not only boasts breathtaking views but commercial growth as well. With 40,000 economic developers, their spirit of teamwork is evident in the balanced growth they are experiencing. When it comes to the state of industry and development, Bridgestone is a key player with its $550 million expansion and 380 new manufacturing jobs located inside the industrial neighborhood. The added 850,000 square feet will fast-track their use of advanced technologies and work toward supporting cleaner and more efficient commercial truck and bus fleets. In 2004, Bridgestone devoted 680 acres as a certified wildlife habitat, creating the Bridgestone Environmental Education Classroom and Habitat initiative. This program serves as an educational classroom for local students and provides a location for environmental classes, a science curriculum, and nature trails.

Hilton-Hampton Inn recently built a facility in the Healthcare/Education District. Acting as a catalyst for further growth, this development created retail opportunities as well as refurbishing the Three Star Mall. With its 42-foot ceiling height and room for expansion, an additional industrial building in the area is awaiting its new owner(s).

With nearly 2,000 high school students, reaching the goal of "Drive to 55" is within their grasp. Through programs such as the Mechatronics dual enrollment, EV Installation Training through Tennessee College of Applied Technology in McMinnville, and Automation Robotic Training through Motlow Community College, Warren County is a hub for education, workforce training, planned development, and well-paying jobs.

Cumberland Caverns

Spelunk underground and discover a unique experience of a lifetime.

Where is the coolest place to see a concert in Middle Tennessee? The Cumberland Caverns! As a concert venue, it is literally the coolest place to see a concert with a year-round temperature of 56 degrees. Concerts aren't the only offerings at Cumberland Caverns. Weddings and other events happen regularly in the cave. If you like staying above ground and shopping, there is a delightful gift shop. When you've finished your browsing and purchases, sit a spell in the rocking chairs on the front porch and admire the view.

If you want an all-out intensive cave experience, you can release your inner spelunker. The Legacy Tour is the most extreme tour at Cumberland Caverns with rock climbing, crevasses, and a canyon. The trip includes areas of the cave not previously permitted to the public and will give you a true taste of adventure. 🌿

Whatever pleases you, you can find it at Cumberland Caverns. You can make reservations on their website: CumberlandCaverns.com or by calling (931) 668-4396.

Farmers' Market

Find delicious local food and more at the Warren County Farmers' Market.

In the heart of downtown, a bountiful harvest fills the beautiful and spacious McMinnville Farmers' Market Pavilion. From April through November tables overflow with crates of locally grown sweet potatoes, tomatoes, okra, apples, blackberries, and corn. Eggs from free-range hens are on display next to golden jars of local honey. Behind a chalkboard with a list of prices, coolers keep packages of grass-fed beef, chicken, and pork cold. The smell of freshly baked bread and cinnamon rolls wafts through the air, and buckets of fresh flowers await to adorn dinner tables. The sight is not only a feast for the eyes, but it's also an authentic taste of McMinnville that you won't find anywhere else.

When you come to the Warren County Farmers' Market, you also have the opportunity to talk with the growers and producers, to learn about their practices, and to hear the stories of an heirloom variety of carrots or the process of curing bacon.

The farmers' market in McMinnville is easy to find. Look for the water tower in downtown McMinnville. It's open from 6 a.m. to noon, every Wednesday and Saturday, from the beginning of April through the end of November. Also, watch for special events throughout the season.

For more information about the farmers' market visit the Warren County Farmers' Market Facebook page.
