She always had one or more projects in progress, but her family and care for them always came first. After graduating from Holley High School in 1964 she attended Harper College in Binghamton, NY. She received a bachelor's degree in anthropology. Jeanne lived in Rochester for about a year and worked at Strong hospital in the psychiatric ward before leaving for Florida to join the Teacher Corps, a program to bring education to the children of migrant workers. This is where she met and married her first husband, Frank Gomez. In 1970 her daughter, Rosa Gomez, was born. After Teacher Corps she and Frank moved to Denver, Colorado. Jeanne worked almost 35 years for the U.S. Postal Service as a clerk, letter carrier, and at the GMFs in both Colorado and New York. Jeanne had many interests and always wanted to stay busy. She was a wonderful artist specializing in portraits. She was proud to be a part-time realtor. While at Rochester GMF group of postal coworkers started a self-run investment club, where she served as president. After retiring from the post office she especially delighted in spending time with her nieces Teagan and Clare that lived right down the road. Also she came full circle and went back to substitute teaching. Her former students often greeted her fondly wherever she went. Her other great love was traveling with her partner of 31 years, Donald Seyerle. Remembrance services will be held privately at a later time. Anyone wishing may donate to the American Cancer Society in her name.

Later this week many will be gathering together for a tryptophan fueled feast and nothing says Thanksgiving dinner like turkey, stuffing, and a myriad of homemade pies. To that end I took a trip up to the Abundant Harvest Pie & Gift Shop (located within the Knowlesville Fellowship Hall at 3619 Knowlesville Rd.) to meet up with Nate Johnidas, who has been volunteering there every Friday for years, as well as to purchase some pies and learn a little about their process.

For many years people would gather in the Fellowship Hall of The Church of The Abundant Harvest, previously known as Knowlesville UMC, to enjoy a delicious Fish Fry every Friday evening throughout Lent. One of the highlights of those dinners, and I can speak from personal experience here, became the large variety of homemade pies. About 9 years ago, after a number of people had asked if there was a way that they could purchase a pie outside of the dinners, a decision was made to start the shop. Since that time the dinners have unfortunately stopped but the demand for delicious homemade pies is still going.

I spoke with Ruth H., Linda B., Linda S., and Sylvia A., who are the primary pie makers, and learned that they make and sell more than 2,000 pies annually and will sell around 200 pies alone over Thanksgiving week. In fact, if you would like to order pies for this year, you can still put in an order this weekend. The cutoff date is Sunday, November 19th and you can pick your pies up any time the following Monday-Wednesday between 9am-4pm. They offer 18 different types of pie that average $4.00 for a 6" pie or $10.00 for a 9" pie. Beyond their highest selling varieties of Apple, Pumpkin, and Cherry, they also offer Peach, Pecan, Mincemeat, Chocolate Peanut Butter, and more. To hear a full listing or to order please contact Ruth Higgins (585) 798-4483 or Linda Baker (585) 798-3667.

You can also purchase pies at The Downtown Browsersy in Medina or simply stop in at The Pie & Gift Shop between 9am-4pm any Friday or Saturday. Frozen pies can be purchased anytime but if you would prefer to eat it there with a cup of coffee just call The Fellowship Hall 2 hrs. in advance (585) 798-3173 and they will be happy to bake it for you. Since I had not called ahead, and didn't feel like baking, I chose a few 6" pies that only needed to be thawed. I had tried the Peanut Butter and Pumpkin previously, so I already knew that they would be good, but I was intrigued by the one I was not familiar with—Pineapple Cream. Truth be told it became my new favorite as it was light and the flavor reminded me of ambrosia salad. My buddy Dave Good agreed.

Beyond the homemade pies the shop also has a large variety of gifts, of which many are also handmade, and they do other events such as their Mystery Box Sale on December 2nd where you can purchase a Mystery Box for either $1.00 or $5.00 and a light lunch of soup and sandwich for $5.00 of which the proceeds will go to benefit The Church of The Abundant Harvest.

They also offer Free Alzheimer's Respite Care. Knowing how hard it can be to care for a loved one suffering from Alzheimer's Disease the volunteers offer families a chance to take a much-needed break and bring their loved one by every 2nd Wednesday of the month from 10am-Noon. While there the volunteers will care for your loved one by doing activities with them and feeding them lunch. There are some requirements which you can call the Fellowship Hall to inquire about in advance.

And now, before I say goodbye, I would like to take this opportunity to say that I am truly thankful for so many things this year including you dear readers. It warms my heart when I get greeted as Refill with Randy out in the community and I do appreciate the positive feedback that I have received. I don't know how much longer I will continue this column, but I will always be glad to share a cup of coffee with a friend whether old or new.

Have a Happy Thanksgiving and I will see you again in 2 weeks!

Thanksgiving Sustainability Tips from Green Orleans

We are fast approaching the celebration of Thanksgiving. Are we truly grateful for the earth and all that it gives to us? If we are, we should reflect this in what we do. The following are some ways that we can show gratitude toward the earth:

- Avoid unnecessary purchases. Buy only what you need. Plan out your meal before you go shopping.
- Instead of of taking multiple trips back and forth to the grocery store, try to make just one or two trips.
- If you are serving turkey, buy a turkey that is range-free and raised without antibiotics if it fits within your budget.
- Eating less meat is one of the most impactful choices that you can make to help reduce climate change and conserve natural resources, so, if you are so inclined, you can forgo, or reduce the amount of, turkey or other meat that you serve and fill-in with veggie side dishes.
- Buy local.
- Freeze what you can't eat of your Thanksgiving meal within a few days. Repurpose your leftovers. Try creative recipes (many can be found online) to use and spice-up your leftovers.
- Use reusable containers for all leftovers.
- If you're decorating for Thanksgiving, use sustainable décor.
- Use water responsibly.

Green Orleans is a small grassroots organization open to Orleans County citizens who are committed to encouraging community members to incorporate actions that will help preserve the environment. If you are interested in becoming part of Green Orleans ,or, would like to just help-out on a project occasionally, contact Sr. Delores O'Dowd at 589-1405.

HOW TO TIME HOLIDAY SHOPPING RIGHT

The holiday season begins at the end of November and stretches into the first week of January. But this five-week stretch may not necessarily be the best time for everyone to shop.

Harvard Business Review says that the retail industry has been turned on its head in recent years, and shoppers and retailers may want to rethink their approaches to the holiday shopping season. Consumers are no longer interested in retailers dictating their shopping schedules, and some people have grown accustomed to buying products when they want them — especially when price is of no concern.

Even budget-conscious shoppers have changed their habits, says the shopping advisor RetailNext. Many holiday shoppers are delaying their shopping until January to take advantage of post-season sales.

Holiday shopping need not wait until after the holiday season, either. A 2017 RetailMeNot survey found that 45 percent of U.S. consumers said they planned to start shopping before Nov. 1. One-quarter of the survey respondents said they planned to start shopping before October, and 12 percent started shopping for the holidays in the summer.

So when should consumers do their holiday shopping? It all depends on what fits a person's individual needs.

- Shop sales, not schedules. If budget is a big concern, shoppers should grab items that are on sale whenever they are available. That can mean shopping at any time of the year. People can try making a master shopping list early in the year and saving it on their mobile phones. While shopping throughout the year, items from the list can be purchased and stored until the holidays.

- Shop your strengths. Those who get a thrill from tackling their entire shopping list in one haul can still do that. Shopping in this manner can help shoppers focus price-comparison and on the task at hand and online shopping, with the reduce the likelihood of physical enjoyment of going to the store to complete their purchases. In-store pickup often enables shoppers to avoid hefty shipping fees, as in-store pickup is free. Plus, scoping out items online — and ensuring they're in stock — saves the hassle of making a trip in vain.

- Embrace in-store pickup. Shoppers can look beyond their online and brick-and-mortar operations. Shoppers have the convenience of shopping needs.

GIFT-WRAPPING TIPS AND TRICKS

Much of the focus of each holiday season is on gift-giving, but all those gifts will eventually need to be wrapped. Stacks of presents just waiting to be covered with paper and ribbon can overwhelm gift givers, prompting them to put off wrapping gifts until the last minute.

Stewart suggests getting a rotary cutter to cut long straight or decorative edges on wrapping paper. Rotary cutters may be easier to use than scissors, especially when paired with a ruler.

puncturing it when working on carpeting or bedding.

COLOR-OR PATTERN-CODE GIFTS

It's easy to visualize who gets what gift when each recipient has his or her own special wrapping paper. This is also a handy idea when wrapping gifts from Santa, as it will differentiate the Santa gifts from the ones being given by Mom and Dad. ■

WRAP ON A FIRM SURFACE

Devote a table or counter to wrapping gifts. This will keep the paper taut and neat and make it easier to cut and position. You risk tearing the paper or

HANDLE ODDLY-SHAPED ITEMS

Wrapping rectangular boxes can be a snap, but what about something that's round or full of angles? Think about placing oddly-shaped items inside another item to make the shape more uniform. Shoe boxes, coffee cans and even paper towel rolls can hold items. Then place the wrapping on these containers.

COVER PRICES

To enable easy exchanges or returns, do not cut off the price tags of gifts. Instead, place a festive sticker over the dollar amount, but leave the scan bar visible. This way the gift recipient can return the gift with ease if necessary.

KEEP SUPPLIES AT THE READY

Devote a bin or bins to wrapping supplies and tools. Having scissors, paper, tape, ribbon, and more in a designated spot will cut down on having to hunt and peck when it comes time to wrap. Martha

DSS worker who assists growing homeless population named county 'employee of the year'

By Tom Rivers, Orleans Hub Editor

ALBION – A Department of Social Services worker who has helped homeless residents find temporary shelter has been named the Orleans County Employee of the Year.

Jennifer Szalay, a principal social welfare examiner, was recognized during the Orleans County Legislature meeting on Tuesday as the employee of the year. She was commended for her work in assisting the local homeless population, which has soared in the past year to the current level of 90 placements.

Many of the local motels are full so Szalay and the DSS have had to secure rooms in out-of-county motels.

Szalay and the DSS have been short-staffed for much of the year, and Szalay has often come in early and stayed late to get the work done and support her co-workers, said Katie Harvey, director of personnel and self insurance for the county.

"This employee has grown as a leader and become such a valued asset to the Department of Social Services and Orleans County," Harvey said. "Due to multiple vacancies within the unit, (Szalay) has shown her dedication continuing to manage vacant caseloads, train newer staff and support her entire team through a very difficult year."

Szalay of Medina said she shows empathy to people in crisis and tries to connect them to services to help them long-term to be self-sufficient.

She often tries to assist people facing eviction of utility shut-offs so they can not be forced out of their residence and become homeless.

"We're trying to help people through some of these hard problems," she said. "These are difficult challenges. I try to be empathetic to their circumstances."

Some of the people who are homeless have mental health issues, disabilities and drug and alcohol addictions that can make it harder to be self sufficient, she said.

Szalay started with DSS in 2009 as a keyboard specialist. At the time, she was "shy and quiet," Harvey said.

But Szalay's confidence and skills grew and she has been promoted several times, to social welfare examiner, then to senior social welfare examiner overseeing public assistance and HEAP programs before being promoted last year to principal social welfare examiner.

The county's Employee Assistance Program recognizes an employee of the month in the county government, taking nominations from employees and department heads.

The employees of the month for the past year include:

- October 2022: James White from Sheriff's Office
- November 2022: Jennifer Gonzalez from DSS
- December 2022: Martin Stirk from Sheriff's Office
- January 2023: Justin Niederhofer from Emergency Management
- February 2023: David Foeller from Sheriff's Office
- March 2023: Tisha Dought, Taylor Tinkous and Patricia Urquhart from Mental Health
- April 2023: Cory Martindale from Sheriff's Office
- May 2023: Ariel Ambrose from Sheriff's Office
- June 2023: Jennifer Leverenz from District Attorney's Office
- July 2023: Mark Tucker from Mental Health
- August 2023: Jennifer Szalay from DSS
- September 2023: Devon Pahuta, Brian Marsceill and Kevin Colonna from Sheriff's Office

From this pool of candidates, a department head makes a recommendation to a separate committee which then considers the service the employee has performed,
