Michael Tower, It is with heavy hearts and profound sadness that we announce the passing of Michael H. Tower, a beloved husband, father, brother, and friend. Michael departed this world on September 27, 2023, at the age of 42, leaving behind a legacy of kindness, generosity, and unwavering devotion. Michael was born on August 28th, 1981, in Rochester NY to Beverly J Salisbury and Michael Tower. He grew up in Albion NY, where he quickly became known for his infectious smile, boundless curiosity, and his fun-loving spirit. Michael met the love of his life, Sarah Laubacher, in 1998, and their union was a testament to the enduring power of love and partnership. Together, they had four children, Tristan Tower, Mackenzie Tower, Caiden Tower and Parker Tower instilling in them the values of compassion, integrity and imagination that Michael held dear. Whether it was drawing, repurposing found materials, or building art pieces from scratch, he approached each endeavor with a zest for life that inspired those around him. His love for these activities not only brought him joy but also served as a source of connection and camaraderie with friends and loved ones. Michael had a keen sense of humor, a warm

LIGHT A CANDLE OF LOVE.

Since Christmas is a time for remembering, we are lighting a candle in our funeral home for all the families we have served this past year.

Staying Happy and Healthy during the Holidays!

By Michelle Okonieczny, DNP, Oak Orchard Health in Medina. We also have health centers in Albion, Alexander, Batavia, Brockport, Hornell, Pembroke, and Warsaw, New York.

Not everyone looks forward to the holidays with a HoHoHo! In fact, many people find it difficult time of year. It's my hope that this article gives you some advice on finding some happiness during the holidays and beyond, and knowing when to call your medical provider for help. If you don't have a medical provider or behavioral health therapist, you should call the Oak Orchard Health location nearest you. Having a medical provider that you can confide in is important to staying healthy and happy all year round.

Are you depressed or have the holiday blues?

This time of year is when many of my patients come in feeling depressed. Is it really depression or the holiday blues? We have so many expectations for the holidays that it can certainly make us feel blue. There is a definite difference between depression and the holiday blues.

Depression during the fall and winter is often referred to as Seasonal Affective Disorder or SAD. It is thought that shorter days and less daylight may trigger a chemical change in the brain leading to symptoms of depression. Light therapy and antidepressants can help treat SAD. So be sure to get help. If you think you may be depressed, see a healthcare provider as soon as possible. Medications and/or therapy can help you see improvements but expect your mood to get better slowly.

Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD) is a functional disability meaning you find it hard to function - examples include getting out of bed each morning, inability to go to work, loss of appetite, and you may not feel like taking care of yourself. This type of functional decline is the difference between it and the holiday blues.

What are the holiday blues?

With the holiday blues you may be functioning, but you feel like you're on autopilot and you're very unhappy. The holidays can be a gloomy time of year for many people. My advice is to do something for yourself, something that you enjoy. It may be as simple as getting out of the house or visiting a friend or family member you haven't seen in a while. Think of what would make you happy and put the date on your calendar to go. Remember you're not the only one feeling the holiday blues. Even if others have family and friends around, they may be feeling lonely. Don't be afraid to reach out during this time of year.

How do I celebrate the holidays without family and friends around?

You're not the only one in this situation! So many families are spread across the state or country that you may find yourself on your own for the holidays. How do you get through it without being down? Have a plan! Think about what you'd like to do that day. Are you going to cook for yourself? Enjoy a delicious meal. If appropriate, go to a religious service where you'll see many smiling faces.

Plan on doing what you like that day. Love movies? Make a list of the movies that you can watch that day at home or go to the movie theater. Love football? Watch a game or two on Christmas Day. When will you take your walk? If the weather permits, get bundled up and enjoy the beauty of the winter. When will you call family or friends to wish them a happy holiday? Whatever you decide, have a plan, write it down, and enjoy yourself.

Get started on your New Year's resolutions early.

While you're planning for the holidays, think about your nutrition during the holidays and what you may want to do differently in 2024 to improve your health. Though the holidays represent only a few days during the month of December, people often find themselves overeating for more than that. If you're the cook, have a plan for the leftovers. Give them to your guests or friends. It's not realistic to think you won't eat a piece of pie but keeping that pie around will be a very tempting sweet treat.

Knowing that you'll be eating differently this month should inspire you to increase your exercise. A walk around the block or inside a department store during the cold weather are both great ways to jumpstart a new healthy exercise routine.

If you have any questions, please contact Oak Orchard Health. We are accepting new patients and now is a great time of year to begin a relationship with a medical provider. Call (585) 589-5613 or visit our website at www.OakOrchardHealth.org.

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Medina Junior/Senior High School Honor Four Alumni

Medina Junior/Senior High School recognized four distinguished alumni on November 17th for their outstanding contributions to their community and/or their chosen career.

The award is given annually to honor alumni, promote school spirit, foster pride in the school and community and to serve as an incentive for the current student body.

This year's recipients are Mr. Horace Clark Bird (Class of 1956), Mr. Colin Huwyler (Class of 2002), Dr. Daniel Terryberry (Class of 1980) and Mr. Toby Williams (Class of 1991).

"Having worked in Medina for many years, I can definitely say that it is a blessing to be part of a community like ours," said Michael Cavanagh, the school principal. "The people that we honor today are proof that we are all capable of achieving greatness and truly making a difference in society."

Horace "Butch" Clark Bird graduated in 1956. After high school he attended Cornell University, playing saxophone in the Big Red Marching Band. After graduating with a B.S. and Master's degree in Electrical Engineering in 1961, he joined the US Air Force and piloted C-130 cargo aircraft. He flew over 178 combat missions in Southeast Asia and accumulated over 4,000 flying hours out of combat areas. He was awarded seven Air Medals and earned the rank of Captain.

He and his wife Dayle met in Tachikawa, Japan and moved to Rochester, New York where they raised their three children. Butch worked as an engineer at Eastman Kodak Company. He and his colleagues held patents for the first instant camera.

After retiring in 1995, Butch started teaching English while working at Minolta in Osaka, Japan. After earning an English as a Second Language teaching certificate, he taught English and Japanese in Bangkok, Thailand. Sadly, Butch passed away January 4, 2023.

Colin Huwyler is a member of the Class of 2002. After graduating, he went on to pursue a Bachelor's Degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Pittsburgh and also earned a certificate in Entrepreneurial Leadership from Carnegie Mellon University's Tepper School of Business.

While a freshman in college, Colin experimented with biofuels on his Volkswagen Jetta. These experiments led him to create a biofuel system for passenger vehicles, and over the years, this drew interest from a number of private fleets who wanted to utilize the technology to reduce the emissions of the heavy-duty trucks. This led Colin to be a veteran of the renewable fuels industry and becoming the CEO of Optimus Technologies. He also founded Fossil Free Fuel and was the Director of Research and Technology at Steel City Biofuels. He is the co-inventor on several Optimus Technologies patents.

In 2019, Colin was announced as the winner of NYSERDA's (New York State Energy Research and Development Authority) 76west Clean Energy Competition. With his prize money, he plans to establish a company in the Binghamton/Ithaca areas.

Colin has consulted and given lectures on biofuels, product development, the low-carbon economy, and a variety of other topics for non-profits, government agencies, corporations and universities.

Dr. Daniel Terryberry was a member of the Class of 1980. During his time at Medina High School, he participated in JV and Varsity Football, as well as Varsity Tennis. He was also selected as the Boys' State representative his junior and senior years, representing the school for football in All League. He went on to Houghton College and then studied medicine at the University at Buffalo. After receiving a country-wide scholarship to encourage physicians to practice medicine in small, rural towns, he established roots in Elizabeth City, North Carolina. In a nod to his alma mater, the name of his practice is Mustang Medical!

Dr. Terryberry began his medical practice in the fields of gynecology and obstetrics and then later switched his practice to family medicine. He has been voted "Best Doctor" many years and has served as Chief of Staff, Chief Medical Officer, Medical Review Officer and Occupational Health Director throughout his career. He also managed the response to the COVID-19 crisis for the entire Vidant Hospital System.

1st row (LtoR) Dr. Daniel Terryberry, Bobbie Huwyler (Accepting for her son Colin Huwyler), and Jeff Bird (Accepting for his dad Horace Clark Bird). 2nd row (LtoR) Medina CSD Athletic Director Eric Valley (Accepting for his friend Toby Williams) and Medina Junior/Senior High School Principal Michael Cavanagh.

During his career, he has completed two mission trips with Doctors Without Borders to assist patients in Belize and most recently supported a family from the Ukraine as they were fleeing their native country. Mustang Medical has also had a presence in Kabul and Mazur in Afghanistan and the embassy in Baghdad. His practice continues to support American defense contractors in Qatar, Israel and Burkina Faso.

He and his wife raised four daughters in Elizabeth City and remain a pillar of the community. He serves on several boards and his committed to youth development as he funds multiple sports camps and development programs. He is active in his church and gives back every chance he can. Dr. Terryberry supports local Mustang athletes every year by generously donating to the Boice-Ossont Scholar Athlete Scholarship, which is awarded annually at the Medina Junior/Senior High School Block M Banquet.

Toby Williams is a member of the Class of 1991. During his time at Medina High School, Toby was a member of the National Honor Society and Ski Club. He also participated in Varsity Soccer and Baseball throughout high school. Both of Toby's parents were members of the faculty at Medina Central School District. He gives credit for his solid education foundation to his parents, along with many supportive teachers he had while at the district. He especially remembers the encouragement and support from Mr. O'Dea, who was his soccer coach.

Toby earned his Bachelor's Degree from Houghton College, where he majored in Political Science. Afterwards, he went on to pursue a Master's in Business Administration and a Juris Doctor Degree from Ohio State University. He started his career as securities and mergers and acquisition lawyer in Washington, DC and New York.

Toby later went on to become an investment banker at Citigroup, Inc. He later became the Director of Corporate Development at Paychex, Inc where from 2006-2011 he led all mergers, acquisitions and corporate development efforts. In 2017, he joined Paylocity as Chief Financial Officer and was promoted to President. In 2022 he was named Co-CEO. Paylocity is a leading provider of cloud-based human resources and payroll software and is recognized as one of the best places to work. It has been named one of Chicago's 101 Best and Brightest, along with being one of the best places to work in Illinois. Toby resides in Washington, D.C.

Neva's Album

Part 1

The things we create sometimes say a great deal about us. Neva Murray (1904-1983) lived in Childs most of her life. A photo album she put together tells us a good deal about her, and of social life in Gaines and Albion from the mid-1940's to the 1960's. Neva must have loved weddings. The album contains nothing but photos of brides, grooms, wedding parties and receptions, beginning with the wedding of her daughter Beverly to Eugene Leigh, as well as weddings of relatives and friends. With so many nuptials documented in her album, it is fair to conclude she was an outgoing and social person. And with every row, Neva came equipped with a camera.

John and Neva Murray, 1925

Luckily for us, Neva took many candid shots, and often identified people in the photos. Some of the folks captured on film passed away years ago, while others still live nearby. Landmarks lurk in some of the backgrounds, making the venue easy to identify. Today, some of the churches look about the same as they did in these photos, while others have changed.

Of course, all these photos lead us to contemplate the similarities and differences compared to weddings today. The bridal gowns, bridesmaid dresses, and tuxes all seem quite familiar, though a few brides chose something other than the standard white gown. While varying in size, the wedding cakes, too, look familiar. What really stands out in these photos are the receptions. Most were held at people's homes -- outdoors, if the weather was warm, or in church basements. The D.A.R. house was also popular for such gatherings.

Mothers of the bride and groom. Peg Clark and Neva Murray at the reception of Jack and Judy Murray, 195

In upcoming articles, I will share photos from Neva's album, highlighting people and places as they were sixty or seventy years ago. Of course, with this series, it only seems fitting to include Neva's own wedding photo.
