Can Orchards Mall Interests Get On Same Page for Redevelopment?

An interesting contrast has been laid out between major stakeholders focused on the future of the troubled Orchards Mall in Benton Township.

Last week, the Mall's owner and management company surprised virtually everyone by paying three years' worth of property taxes on the nearly empty former retail mecca.

Orchards Mall property management spokesperson Mantu Bedi said financial liquidity and encouragement from Berrien County Commissioner Chokwe Pitchford led to the sizable property tax payment. Bedi said despite some resistance, ownership still has a vision for redevelopment that could include mixed-use commercial/residential, if Benton Township leaders agree that rezoning the area is on the table.

Commissioner Pitchford has been working with the mall's owner to redevelop the property. Pitchford says getting current on the taxes was a required first step.

"An understanding that what needed to be done first before any other plans could be submitted to the township, (before) anything could move forward, was that those taxes needed to be taken care of. As commissioner, as somebody that has taken this issue of the Orchards Mall kind of under my wing and something that I want to see done, we needed those taxes to be paid in full in the county, and they came through on their promise."

Pitchford adds that next, he expects to work with mall owners and Benton Township officials to negotiate a plan for redeveloping the mall location.

Mall owners want a mix of residential and commercial, but the Township has been reluctant to rezone the area. Pitchford says today's action demonstrates the Mall owner is serious about moving forward.

"If they didn't have plans to develop that property, they would have just paid the smallest amount possible and kept it from going into foreclosure. To pay the entirety of all the

New Year - New Goal - Move More!

Leading up to and after the New Year, we've received multiple calls and requests for information on gyms and fitness centers that both long term and new residents to Berrien County could join and kickstart their 2024 with. Not a huge surprise as fitness is one of the top resolutions that people make and one that is quickly broken, as in on average 43% drop it by the end of January. I am one of those many people!

The good news is, if you're wanting to move more but haven't made the decision on what gym or fitness center is the right fit for you, there are a ton of options for you to choose from all over Southwest Michigan. Here are a few of our members that you might be interested in checking out, and a few that you may see your Chamber team at:

Dave Ramsey
Financial Expert
The Ramsey Show

Dave Says
For Starters, Have A Plan

Dear Dave,
My mom and dad always told me to live within my means. As an adult, I've made some mistakes with money, including falling right back into debt after paying off everything. I'm tired of this rollercoaster, and I want to get control of my finances for good. Can you give me some advice on where to start?

Melissa,
Dear Melissa,
It's frustrating, isn't it? But making mistakes with money means just one thing. It means you're human. We've all done it. Think about this, though. We're approaching a traditional time of the year for changes. On top of that, you're smart enough to have realized what you've done in the past hasn't worked.

Believe it or not, I was once in the exact same spot you are now. When it happened to me, there were three pieces to the puzzle that helped me break the cycle. One was fear. Specifically, I was scared to death that I wouldn't be able to take care of my family, and that I'd retire broke. Now, don't misunderstand me. No one should live their lives in fear. But a healthy, reasonable level of fear can provide needed motivation.

Another was disgust. I realized what I was doing was stupid. I was tired of living that way, and I made a conscious, purposeful decision that things were going to be different.

The third piece, and maybe the most important because it's connected to our spiritual walk, was contentment. We live in a society that's constantly having the idea that we'll be happier, or more successful, or more admired, if we'll only buy this or that product. We're constantly marketed to, and when we have this stuff in our faces day after day, we can become unsatisfied with just about every aspect of our lives. Don't let it drag you down. It's all just an illusion.

One of the things I did to combat this, was to start living on a strict, written, monthly budget. Also, I stopped going places where I was tempted to spend money. You shouldn't give a drunk a drink, right? So, don't put yourself in a bad situation when it comes to your behavior with money. If you go wandering through the mall without a specific plan, you'll lose every single time.

When you go to the store make a list of only the things you need. On top of that, take only enough cash with you to buy what you need. If you can walk in and back out without buying a bunch of stuff that wasn't on your list, it's a win. Every time you do this, it's another win and another step away from your old habits and in the right direction.

You can do this, Melissa. God bless you.

—Dave

Adopted

*See what great love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are!
1 John 3:1*

Twenty-four-year-old Jaime Cone had long known that she was an adopted child. Because the adoption had taken place so early in her life, she had no recollection of the world she'd left behind. She took her present life for granted. Her adoptive parents had given her a stable home. She did well in school. She had lots of friends. Hers was a secure, middle-class lifestyle with the usual little dramas of growing up. This world was normal to her because this was the only world she had ever known.

Her presumptions began to change when her adoptive parents decided it was time to give Jaime access to the files pertaining to her adoption. Much of what she read was sobering, chilling. The conditions in which she lived as a baby were dangerous and dark. The one steady light through all the files was her adoptive parents' relentless determination to pursue her adoption, soldier through the many legal setbacks and disappointments, and to do whatever had to be done to make Jaime their own.

After digesting the files, Jaime came to realize how drastically different her life might have been. She also began to understand how much her adoptive parents loved her.

The apostle John wrote, "See what great love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are!"

The conditions of your former life and mine were deadly and dark. We were toxic, you and I—toxic through and through. We were addicted to sin, lost, adrift, angry, afraid, and determined not to have anything to do with God.

But he came for us anyway. God the Son came here in the person of Jesus. He did what had to be done to wash us clean at the cross, blanket us in his perfection, bring us to faith, and take us home.

All this makes us realize how drastically different our lives might have been. We also begin to understand how much our adoptive Father loves us.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, through faith in Jesus I am your child. Your love for me is beyond words. Thank you. Amen.

Amster Dam Dam
Dam Good Times

“Amster Amster Dam Dam Dam!”

Every once in a while over the years, something spurs my wife to rock this phrase, from a song she sang when she was a Girl Scout. She doesn't remember any other lyrics, but she remembers that line because grown-ups wouldn't scold you when you hollered “Dam Dam Dam!”

I tried but failed to get her to belt it out a few times while touring Amsterdam, The Netherlands, which we visited after disembarking -- for good -- from the Holland America Rotterdam. Dam Dam.

We tried to pack a lot into our day in Amsterdam. There are notable landmarks aplenty to see, such as:

The Anne Frank House. A must-see if you ever go to Amsterdam. You don't need me to flail around with my paltry words to tell you why.

The Rembrandt House Museum: Nice museum; two comments about it. First, Rembrandt was the artist's first name. Everything you hear and read about him only uses that forename. I wonder, when my house becomes a museum to exhibit my works, will it be called The Don House Museum?

Secondly, one display is devoted to Rembrandt's “Still Life with Peacocks.” The peacocks in this still life are definitely still. Because they're not alive. Yet, the museum card about the painting calls it “decorative,” a “work of art meant to enliven an interior.” “Enliven”? Ohhhh-k.

Genever: Genever is a special adult beverage produced in The Netherlands and Belgium. In fact, like Champagne or Cognac, Genever is protected by laws mandating that it can only be produced in certain regions.

There are two types of the beverage: Oude, which is somewhat whiskey-like in character, and, which means “old”; and Jonge, which has a neutral taste, like Vodka, with hints of juniper, and means, well, you can guess what “Jonge” means, can't you? I knew that you could.

In our final night in Europe, we treated ourselves to some Genever. I got the Oude, telling my wife I wanted to see if it really tasted like whiskey. She said, “Well, you should get that anyway, since you're so much Oude-er than I am.” I teased her back by saying that drinking Jonge makes her a jonkie, which sort of means “young'un” in Dutch. But she didn't know that and thought I was calling her a junkie. This kind of chilled the vibe until the drinks came.

Our Genevers were served in the traditional manner: In a dainty tulip-shaped glass filled utterly to the brim. In fact, the liquid was slightly above the rim – this phenomenon having to do with surface tension and also the fun the servers have watching you drink it in the traditional manner, which is thusly: There's no point in even trying to tilt such a full vessel, so tradition calls for you to hunch over and get your first slurp while the glass remains on the table. It's a bit awkward, but I managed it. My wife praised me for learning something new. Even though I'm so Oude.

There's a nickname for drinking beer as a chaser to Genever: “Kopstoot”, which means “headbutt.” We didn't drink ours that way, but we liked the word, so after every slug, we shouted “Kopstoot Kopstoot Butt Butt Butt!” And no grownups scolded us!

Gotcha Doin' Good

Dawn Riethmeier

Over the last four years, Dawn has given so much to make sure children have had presents under the Christmas tree. She co-leads Our House of the Way's Christmas project that pairs 100+ children to sponsoring families. This year, Dawn went above and beyond when they learned at the last minute there were more families needing presents — she went to the store to pick up more toys with donations and was there in the days leading up to Christmas!

Thanks for being AWESOME!

taxes up till current shows me a willingness on behalf of the ownership to get something done here. And I have gotten commitments from them even today after those taxes were paid that they are all in and they're ready to move forward."

However, Benton Township officials led by Supervisor Cathy Yates have been adamant that they do not want a redevelopment that involves 'mixed use'—residential interspersed with commercial, retail, or light industrial. It's unclear why the township officials are so negative on residential when several 'mall resurrections' around the country have been based on mixed use of the large former retail sites. Stay tuned!

'The Inn' Marks Ten Years with Major Guestroom Re-make

Who would think it's been almost ten years since The Inn at Harbor Shores opened for business as one of the centerpieces of the transformational Harbor Shores Resort development.

It was 2014, just in time for the second visit to Southwest Michigan by the KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship. Ever since, The Inn has been establishing itself as one of the foremost venues in the region, hosting events of every size as well as both business travelers and visitors to Michigan's Great Southwest.

Having noticed construction and redecoration going on during a recent visit to The Inn, MoodyOnTheMarket.com sat down with General Managing Partner Brady Cohen and Sales Director ElisaBeth Hacker for an update on their plans for 2024 and beyond.

Scratch-made Meatloaf

Brady Cohen told us it's an exciting time at The Inn:

"It's hard to believe that we have been here serving the community of St. Joe and Benton Harbor for nearly 10 years. After 10 years of guests from all over the world enjoying our property, it is time for a facelift! The Inn is planning a full room remodel of our 92 guest rooms. We collaborated with Fuller Design, a leading West Michigan hospitality design firm, to create interiors that will transform the guest rooms and corridors to exceed today's luxury standards."

Cohen explained that the work began earlier this year:

"Phase 1 began in the Spring updating our hallway carpet and walls as well as an art installation including a large mural as you step off the elevators. Each floor has a specific theme: Golf, Lake Michigan, Boating and Local Landmarks.

Phase 2 began November 15th with gutting the interior of each room, removing the furniture, vanities, and wardrobes. We will have two floors complete by April 1st and start on our last two floors in November of 2024 for a full guest room renovation."

This 'total refresh' will enhance The Inn's overall guest experience and cater to higher end leisure guests, business travel, and locals. Cohen concluded, "We are committed to a hotel experience that will create lasting memories, while also creating more jobs for our local community."

The Inn at Harbor Shores has been an increasingly popular spot for group events in recent years. We asked Sales Director ElisaBeth Hacker for an update on that phase:

"The Inn at Harbor Shores offers state of the art banquet facilities for weddings and receptions, rehearsal dinners, birthday parties, corporate retreats, small and large meetings.

For our 10-year anniversary in May we will have a full line up of fun events centered around our anniversary and concluding with the return of the KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship."

Hacker pointed out the hotel's in-house amenities such as the on-site restaurant Plank's Tavern, a full-service spa, and on-site coffee shop/wine bar, Rise & Vine are available to all guests as well as the local community of customers.

Hacker said The Inn is bringing back its popular Sunday Brunch buffet for 2024. The adult buffet price will be $25 and include a variety of breakfast and lunch offerings as well as Good Boy Vodka Bloody Mary's and Mimosa Specials, including the Mimosa Tower!

Hacker reminded locals to watch social media and the web site for information on special in-house events such as Couple's Sushi Rolling Night, Give Back nights, and special packages.

Help Rosie Get a Wheelchair Accessible Van

Rosemary, or Rosie for short, is a 5-year-old living in the Stevensville area. Her parents describe her as perfect in every way but limited due to her medical conditions. Rosie has been diagnosed with severe hypoxic ischemic encephalopathy (HIE), spastic quadriplegic cerebral palsy, seizures, hypertonicity of multiple joints and is g-tube dependent. She cannot hold herself upright, has difficulty controlling her limbs, and even holding her head up is difficult at times. What she can do is laugh and smile! She is an expert at smiling!

Rosie LOVES road trips and her parents want to take her everywhere they can. Right now Rosie's family have her in a standard car seat and they store her wheelchair in the trunk, which is heavy and awkward to do. As a stay at home mom, Rosie's mother is responsible for Rosie's daily needs. As she continues to grow her mom has found it near impossible transport Rosie on her own. She relies on medical transportation services (weekly to physical therapy and speech) and her Dad to take time off of work for all out of town doctors appointments (this is where the majority of his vacation time goes).

Over the last year Rosie's family was able to upgrade from a falling apart minivan to a 2012 Honda Odyssey which they had hoped to convert into a handicap accessible vehicle. They have since learned that a mini van for conversion needs to be almost brand new for programs to work with the conversion.

"We have been encouraged to begin fundraising to start the journey to being able to buy a used already converted van" says Rosie's mother.

Lori's Voice has committed to funding their van with 30% of the cost of the vehicle up to $5000.

Future purchase will be made through Superior Van and Mobility of South Bend. The family has been in touch with them and feel quite confident that if they reach their goal that they will have a safe wheelchair accessible van for Rosie.

Rosemary has chosen to fundraise for Help Hope Live in part because Help Hope Live assures fiscal accountability of funds raised and tax deductibility for contributors. Contributors can be sure donations will be used to pay or reimburse medical and related expenses. There are a couple of ways to make a tax-deductible donation to this fundraising campaign:
