GET YOUR AIR DUCTS CLEANED

Air Duct Cleaning by Ron Cochran of Stanley Steemer

Furnace cleaning is invaluable to the way your home breathes and performs. NADCA recommends you should clean your air ducts every 3-5 years. Depending on the situation of your home, that number can change. With up to 40 pounds of dust and dirt accumulating in your vents every year, duct cleaning helps to reduce allergens and improve indoor air quality. Check out our blog below to learn how it can help purify your home.

Air ducts are the lungs of your home - whatever they breathe in, you breathe in too. An air duct system not only circulates air but also particles like dust mites, dirt and mold. Being out of sight, it may not be top of mind to have them professionally cleaned, but we're here to tell you why regular air duct cleaning should be top of mind and top of your priority list. If you're not convinced air duct cleaning is necessary, check out these 5 reasons why the investment is worth it.

1. It also gets rid of dirt, dust mites and allergens.
2. Reduces air pollution in your home.
3. Helps increase the efficiency of your HVAC system.
4. Refreshes a home you may be buying, selling or renovating.
5. Helps save money on repairs and utility expenses.

Winter is a great time for tree care

Northwest Indiana-I spent a lot of time this past spring and summer watching one of the regions top residential tree service at work. Day in and day out they were booked with many customers to service sometimes even taking 3 to 4 weeks to get them to the top of the schedule. While its a good thing to be in high demand and very busy, but it can have its draw backs too. I thought to myself, why do so many people fail to consider trimming and removing trees in the wintertime when the prices are lower and the trees are dormant. At least when you go to the doctor and have a procedure done they give you some sort of "anesthetic" to numb the pain. This makes me think of trimming and cutting the trees in the spring and summer when the tree has no kind of "anesthetic" and its wounds just sit open prone to insects and infections. This is why I am a firm believer in wintertime is the best time. When you trim the trees while they are dormant you have a much better result in the spring when it's growth is in full swing. Not to mention the costs will be less in the winter as opposed to the other 3 seasons. Equipment can do a significant less amount of damage to the yard when the ground is frozen and the clean up can be easier too. It makes much more sense to have your trees removed and trimmed in the winter.

Priced-Rite Tree Service is Northwest Indiana's highest rated tree service according to the many sites on the web. They provide complete and professional tree care services in the winter and offer free estimates 6 days a week.

"It makes much more sense to have your trees removed and trimmed in the winter."

A Few Techniques for Trimming Trees in the Winter

Crown Thinning-by removing branches within the crown this will provide a better shape and increase the trees overall health by providing more light and air movement. Dead and weak branches will be removed. Younger trees respond to this technique very well in the winter when it is dormant.

Crown Raising-by removing low branches of the tree this allows more height clearance under the tree.

Crown Cleaning-by carefully selecting and removing of the dead, dying and diseased branches from the trees crown you will have a healthier, stronger, safer and all around better looking tree.

Outdoor Observations

The Spotted Sandpiper

There are plenty of shorebirds in North America, but one of the most widespread and interesting ones is the Spotted Sandpiper. These attractive birds are the size of an American Robin, but the spotted sandpiper has a brown back and a white breast with lots of dark brown spots on it (during breeding season, anyway.) Adults have an orange beak with a black tip, and they have a dark brown eye-stripe.

This bird is easily confused with other shorebirds like the Solitary Sandpiper and Lesser Yellowlegs, but its unusual behavior often helps observers identify it. Spotted sandpipers walk along watery shorelines with a strange staggering or teetering motion. Some people even call them teeter-peeps. They bob their tails up and down as they walk, too, looking almost comical as they wade the shallows in search of food.

Since spotted sandpipers are shorebirds, they are almost always found along the shores of lakes, ponds, marshes and rivers. They love searching for food along muddy shorelines, but they are also often seen walking along floating logs and timber, picking off snails, aquatic nymphs and small insects. They especially like hunting among the stones and pebbles of rocky shorelines.

An interesting fact about spotted sandpipers is that the females arrive at the breeding grounds before the males, and the females defend the territory from other birds. Once the female lays her eggs, the male incubates them and after the chicks hatch he takes care of them. Meanwhile, the female often goes off and mates with another male, and lays another clutch of eggs for him to incubate. Surprisingly, one female may lay eggs for three or four different males during one breeding season!

Here's what's Cookin'

By Phyllis Hays, #11

Totally Excellent Chili

Serves 6

- 1 1/2 pounds lean ground beef
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced or pressed
- 1 28-ounce can diced tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon Mexican chili powder
- 2 teaspoons ground cumin

- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper (or one small fresh jalapeño pepper, minced, or both)
- 2 19-ounce cans red kidney or pinto beans, drained and rinsed

In a large saucepan or Dutch oven, combine the ground beef with the onions and garlic, and cook, stirring to break up the clumps, until the meat is no longer pink and the onions are softened — about 10 minutes. Add the tomatoes, chili powder, cumin, salt, curry powder, and cayenne or jalapeño, cover, and simmer for about 30 minutes. Add the beans and cook for another 30 minutes, stirring often.

Serve this chili sprinkled with shredded cheese and accompanied by plain rice or freshly baked corn bread. If the chili is too spicy for you, a spoonful of plain yogurt or sour cream will help cool things down.

Gardening Tips

by Jackie Kubiak #12

Tips for Healthy Houseplants

Match plants with light conditions

Houseplants vary in their light requirements. Some prefer the strong light found next to a south-facing window. Others thrive in the soft morning light of an east-facing window.

Choose the right container

It is important to consider size, material and even color.

Use good-quality potting soil

Good potting soil (never use regular garden soil in containers) promotes healthy roots by providing a balance of proper aeration, nutrition and moisture-holding capability. Nurseries and garden centers carry an excellent selection of packaged potting soils.

Water properly

Like all containerized plants, houseplants need frequent, thorough watering. Wet the entire root ball, and let excess water run out the bottom of the pot. Don't leave standing water in the catch-tray for more than a day or two. Doing so can promote root diseases.

Fertilize

The frequent watering required by most houseplants leaches nutrients out of the soil. These must be replaced by regular fertilization.

Increase humidity and prevent drafts

Indoor conditions can be dry and drafty. Keep plants away from heater vents, doorways and drafty windows. Increase humidity by setting plants on trays layered with small pebbles and filled with water.

Keep foliage clean

Dust that accumulates on the leaves of houseplants will block light and harbor insects. Clean leaves by wiping them with a moist towel or, in mild-winter areas, take plants outdoors and hose them off.

Love Your Water!

"The Aisle Seat"

by Tim Fealy

In the film, "Leave the World Behind," which is now streaming on Netflix, a family living in New York City escape their busy lives by renting a vacation home on Long Island for a few days. All seems right as they relax on the beach until a cargo ship, barely visible on the horizon, appears to be getting closer. It seems odd and then terrifying as the ship keeps coming and coming until it finally runs aground. More odd incidents happen. Wi-Fi signals completely shut down. Deer congregate in the backyard. And, in the middle of the night, the homeowners they are renting the house from return. Or are they? And does the family want to share the house they are renting with these new strangers? All of these odd occurrences culminate into a scenario that could happen in real life. The film is slow in parts but holds your interest and keeps you guessing until the end. While the film does provide answers, it will also leave you wondering who you would trust in a comparable situation? What steps would you take to protect your family? And how far would you go to help others? On my scale of what I would pay to see this film, "Leave the World Behind" gets $8.

The movie that completely surprised me was "Leo," also streaming on Netflix. This film was co-written and stars the voice of Adam Sandler as Leo, a lizard who has spent his life as a class pet in a fifth-grade classroom. Fearing that he may be coming to the end of his life, Leo longs to be a free lizard. The students take turns taking Leo home for the weekends, But, instead of escaping, Leo bonds with each student and offers advice to improve their lives. This film is a musical, and like the rest of the dialog, the songs are very smart and well-written. I was so entertained as an adult, I had to keep reminding myself that it is a kid's film. Everyone of all ages will love this film. Although not a Pixar film, I would rank "Leo" with the best of Pixar. This film will leave you smiling long after seeing the film. On my scale, "Leo" gets $9.

Health Challenges to Start Your Year in 2024!

For many people, January is the time of year when they turn over the proverbial new leaf and pledge to work on their health and fitness. If this sounds familiar, you might be wondering about the best ways to get started to set yourself up for a successful and healthy year.

Dry January

The rules of this challenge are simple: abstain from drinking alcohol during the month of January. Just some of the benefits of reducing your alcohol consumption include lowering your risk of various serious illnesses (including liver damage and several cancers), weight loss, better sleep, more energy, and clearer skin. You'll also save money and you may find that your mental health improves. Why not swap out your usual cocktail or glass of wine for a fruit juice, mocktail, alcohol-free beer, or flavored sparkling water?

RED (Run Every Day) January

RED originally stood for "Run Every Day", but RED January is now a broader movement that encourages participants simply to move their bodies every day during the month of January. You will notice the positive impact that physical activity can have from some individuals with severe depression. Being physically active is one of the absolute best things you can do for your body and mind. Keeping fit can keep your brain healthy, help you to manage your weight, keep your bones and muscles strong, fend off many common illnesses, improve your sleep, and boost your mood.

Introducing Plant-Based foods only

But however you usually eat, almost everyone could benefit from introducing more plant-based foods into their diet. Plant-based foods help to keep your heart healthy, contribute towards maintaining a healthy body weight, and even lower your risk of some cancers.

Yoga

Practices range goal for 2024 - from 17 to 35 minutes in length. All you need is comfortable clothing, a little space and time, and a yoga mat if you have one.

Yoga offers numerous amazing health benefits. It strengthens and tones muscles, increases flexibility, and contributes to better cardiovascular health. It can relieve stress, improve your mental health, and even help you to lose weight.
