Gardening Tips

by Jackie Kubiak #12

5 tips to choosing the perfect Valentine's Flowers

1. Make sure they're fresh...

You wouldn't give them chocolates that are past their sell-by date so don't do the same with your blooms. If you're buying them in person, check they're super-fresh by gently feeling the part of the petal that meets the stem. The firmer this part, the fresher the flower.

2. ... and long lasting

If the flowers are a symbol of your love, what 's your date going to think if they've drooped by February 15th? To help them stay true and long lasting, make sure the stems are trimmed with a sharp knife (not blunt scissors!) and plunged into fresh, clean water in a squeaky clean vase.

3. Dare to be different

They might be the flower synonymous with Valentine's Day, but grabbing a bunch of red roses doesn't exactly show much thought or imagination. Try to find out their favorite flowers beforehand.

4. Make her smile... not sneeze

If your significant other is an allergy sufferer, steer clear of heady blooms, such as hyacinths, chrysanthemums and sunflowers that could have them sneezing and streaming. Instead opt for flowers such as hydrangea, hosta, tulips, iris and lilies.

5. Make it personal

If you're busy with work, it could be tempting to just whip out your credit card and order something online from a major online retailer. But you won't know exactly what you're getting or how the flowers have been affected in transit. If you can, choose your flowers in person from an independent florist where you can handpick a bouquet that you know will reflect the unique style and personality of your date.

Outdoor Observations

by Tom Berg

The Beautiful White Admiral Butterfly

One of the common butterflies of the northern United States and Canada is the White Admiral. This stately-looking butterfly is very dark – almost black all over, with a very bright white stripe running through its forewings and hind wings. The white stripe is actually made up of many individual, somewhat rectangular-shaped spots, all in a meandering line. The hind wings also have small orange and blue spots, with additional blue spots along the outer edge of the wings.

The white admiral is a butterfly of wooded areas and forest edges, and they are often seen resting in sunny forest clearings. These butterflies differ from many other butterfly species in that they usually do not feed on flower nectar or pollen. Instead, they get the food and nutrients they need from animal dung (yuck). Scat from mammals like raccoons, bears and deer attract white admirals. When they can't find fresh animal dung, they will settle for rotting fruit as an acceptable alternative.

Believe it or not, the white stripe against the black background on this butterfly is no accident. White admirals have evolved to use this stripe as camouflage to help them hide from predators. The white stripe resembles dappled sunlight hitting the forest floor, so a white admiral resting or feeding on the forest floor would be pretty well-hidden if the sunlight was illuminating the leaf litter around it.

You won't see them here in Indiana, but they are very common in Canada and northern states like Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and New York, just to name a few. So next summer if you make a trip "up north," keep an eye out for the beautiful white admiral butterfly!

GET YOUR AIR DUCTS CLEANED

Air Duct Cleaning by Ron Cochran of Stanley Steemer

Furnace cleaning is invaluable to the way your home breathes and performs. NADCA recommends you should clean your air ducts every 3-5 years. Depending on the situation of your home, that number can change. With up to 40 pounds of dust and dirt accumulating in your vents every year, duct cleaning helps to reduce allergens and improve indoor air quality. Check out our blog below to learn how it can help purify your home.

Air ducts are the lungs of your home - whatever they breathe in, you breathe in too. An air duct system not only circulates air but also particles like dust mites, dirt and mold. Being out of sight, it may not be top of mind to have them professionally cleaned, but we're here to tell you why regular air duct cleaning should be top of mind and top of your priority list. If you're not convinced air duct cleaning is necessary, check out these 5 reasons why the investment is worth it.

1. It also gets rid of dirt, dust mites and allergens.
2. Reduces air pollution in your home.
3. Helps increase the efficiency of your HVAC system.
4. Refreshes a home you may be buying, selling or renovating.
5. Helps save money on repairs and utility expenses.

To learn more check out our blog at: <https://www.stanleysteemer.com/blog>

For more information and to have your air ducts cleaned contact 1-800-783-3637.

We Take Pride In Promoting Family Business for 24 Years!

We have been direct mailing The Family Flyer to your home since February of 2000. We strive to bring our Advertiser Results and because of you "our readers" we are celebrating our 24th Anniversary. To work with Family (sisters) each and every day is invaluable and wonderful.

We strive to design our magazine so you will keep it in your home all month. Our features like local high school sports schedules, "What's Goin' On" section listing local events and club meetings, puzzles and contests are every reason to keep the flyer in your home. Plus you just never know when you will need to use the Advertisers you know as your neighbors.

Our family owned business understands the challenges that face small businesses. We have designed advertising packages to fit every need, from the smallest home based business to the most successful entrepreneurial business with multiple locations.

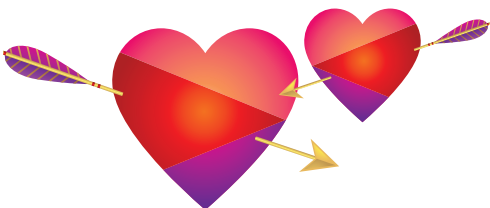

Be sure to watch for our mid month Family Flyer. These can be picked up at all the Strack N' Van Til Stores in Lake and Porter County. You can also find these at various pick up points throughout your community or go on line to read the Lake and Porter page flipping edition, it is there each month at FamilyFlyer.com.

Thanks to you our readers and advertisers you make the Family Flyer happen. We look forward to direct mailing you another year of useful information and advertising! Thanks for allowing us into your home.

We have been advertising with The Family Flyer for many years. The results with them have been outstanding. Our phone starts ringing every month when The Flyer is Direct Mailed. As the area grows, so does The Family Flyer. They are always updating routes each month which gives us new customers. Their graphics department is very easy to work with, we email copy they send us a proof, and then we approve our advertising before it goes to press. We have always had great service working together with the Family Flyer Sisters.

Fit & Healthy Family Guide

Eating disorders are serious health conditions that affect both your physical and mental health. These conditions include problems in how you think about food, eating, weight and shape, and in your eating behaviors. These symptoms can affect your health, your emotions and your ability to function in important areas of life.

If not treated effectively, eating disorders can become long-term problems and, in some cases, can cause death. The most common eating disorders are anorexia, bulimia and binge-eating disorder.

Most eating disorders involve focusing too much on weight, body shape and food. This can lead to dangerous eating behaviors. These behaviors can seriously affect the ability to get the nutrition your body needs. Eating disorders can harm the heart, digestive system, bones, teeth and mouth. They can lead to other diseases. They're also linked with depression, anxiety, self-harm, and suicidal thoughts and behaviors.

recovery. Sometimes people can have problem eating behaviors that are similar to some symptoms of an eating disorder, but the symptoms don't meet the guidelines for a diagnosis of an eating disorder. But these problem eating behaviors can still seriously affect health and well-being. If you have problem eating behaviors that cause you distress or affect your life or health, or if you think you have an eating disorder, seek medical help.

Urging a loved one to seek treatment

Many people with eating disorders may not think they need treatment. One of the main features of many eating disorders is not realizing how severe the symptoms are. Also, guilt and shame often prevent people from getting help.

If you're worried about a friend or family member, urge the person to talk to a health care provider. Even if that person isn't ready to admit to having an issue with food, you can start the discussion by expressing concern and a desire to listen.

Red flags that may suggest an eating disorder include:

- Skipping meals or snacks or making excuses for not eating.
- Having a very limited diet that hasn't been prescribed by a trained medical professional.
- Too much focus on food or healthy eating, especially if it means not participating in usual events, such as sports banquets, eating birthday cake or dining out.
- Making own meals rather than eating what the family eats.
- Withdrawing from usual social activities.
- Frequent and ongoing worry or complaints about being unhealthy or overweight and talk of losing weight.
- Frequent checking in the mirror for what are thought to be flaws.
- Repeatedly eating large amounts of foods.
- Using dietary supplements, laxatives or herbal products for weight loss.
- Exercising much more than the average person. This includes not taking rest days or days off for injury or illness or refusing to attend social events or other life events because of wanting to exercise.
- Calluses on the knuckles from reaching fingers into the mouth to cause vomiting.
- Problems with loss of tooth enamel that may be a sign of repeated vomiting.
- Leaving during meals or right after a meal to use the toilet.
- Talk of depression, disgust, shame or guilt about eating habits.
- Eating in secret.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Here's what's Cookin'

By Phyllis Hays, #11 with Trixie Louise

Cherry Pie Bars

One 9-by-13-inch pan

- | | |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 2 cups sugar | 1 teaspoon baking powder |
| 1 cup butter, softened | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 4 eggs | 1 21-ounce can cherry pie filling |
| 2 cups all-purpose flour | Preheat oven to 350 F. |

Line a 9-by-13-inch pan with parchment paper. In a stand mixer, or with a hand mixer, cream sugar and butter on low. Add the eggs one at a time. Beat until just combined.

Add the flour, baking powder and salt. Spread a little over half the cake batter into the pan. Evenly spread the pie filling over the top, and spoon the rest of the cake batter over the pie filling. It's fine if the cherries show through. Bake 35 minutes or until the top has turned slightly golden. Do not overbake. Allow to cool and slice into squares. Enjoy!

Chocolate Covered Strawberries
6 ounces semisweet chocolate, chopped
3 ounces white chocolate, chopped
1 pound strawberries with stems
(about 20), washed and dried very well

Put the semisweet and white chocolates into 2 separate heatproof medium bowls. Fill 2 medium saucepans with a couple inches of water and bring to a simmer over medium heat. Turn off the heat; set the bowls of chocolate over the water to melt. Stir until smooth. (Alternatively, melt the chocolates in a microwave at half power, for 1 minute, stir and then heat for another minute or until melted.)

Once the chocolates are melted and smooth, remove from the heat. Line a sheet pan with parchment or waxed paper. Holding the strawberry by the stem, dip the fruit into the dark chocolate, lift and twist slightly, letting any excess chocolate fall back into the bowl. Set strawberries on the parchment paper. Repeat with the rest of the strawberries.

Dip a fork in the white chocolate and drizzle the white chocolate over the dipped strawberries.

Set the strawberries aside until the chocolate sets, about 30 minutes.

Ceres Solutions Cooperative Redeems $44.5M in Patronage & Equity to Farmer-Owners

Crawfordsville, IN - Indiana-based agriculture and energy cooperative Ceres Solutions is ringing in the New Year by redeeming $33 million in patronage from the 2023 fiscal year earnings. Ceres will also be redeeming $11.5 million of equity that was earned in years 2008-2013.

“It is a cornerstone of the cooperative model to provide returns to farmer-owners whose membership and purchases help the cooperative prosper,” said Ceres Solutions CEO Jeff Troike. “Patronage and equity provide added value to our members for their support and bolster rural economies across Indiana and Michigan where our farmer-owners live, work, and conduct business.”

Farmers become members of the cooperative by completing a membership application and running an active farm operation. The amount of patronage paid back to each member is based upon the volume of business they completed with the cooperative in the fiscal year. For 2023, approximately 5.5% of member business is being paid back.

Redeeming $44.5 million to farmer-owners across Indiana and Michigan will continue to support the vitality of rural communities through local spending, investments and charitable contributions. This give-back represents nearly 65% of the company’s annual earnings.

The cooperative model is much different than a publicly traded or privately owned business. Because Ceres Solutions is farmer-owned and directed, company leadership is empowered to make local decisions with a long-term view, supporting rural communities and providing top-notch service to farmer-owners and customers along the way.

“We look forward to another year of growth and continued dedication to providing a competitive, farmer-owned solution in the marketplace,” Troike said. “The successes of our cooperative are the successes of our farmer-owners and the communities we all call home.”

Farmer-owners of Ceres Solutions Cooperative, Inc. can expect to receive their patronage and equity payments in January 2024.
