Hoping to clean up through clean dogs

"We took a chance." That from Rob Mead, who with his wife Sara imagined, designed, and recently opened the self-service dog wash station Stella & Sawyer Self Serve Dog Wash at 4500 Red Arrow Hwy, Unit D in Stevensville.

The pair arrived at the idea of owning their own wash service after looking at the vibrant number of doggie day cares in the area, translating that into a cottage service opportunity providing dog owners a fully self-contained, walk-up, and convenient place to give Fido, Rover, Daisy, and all the other furry friends of Southwest Michigan a quick bath.

"We just thought there was a need for our dogs to have a nice place to go instead of making such a mess in our house. I came home and my bathroom was a disaster and (Sara) would be a disaster. So, it was something we thought of while these buildings were being built. I talked to Mark Williams who owns the buildings and he thought about it and said, 'Go for it.'"

Rob is also the owner and operator of Mead Plumbing, a commercial/residential plumbing service. He not only imagined the plumbing design required for the dog wash stations, but he also installed the piping and fixtures as the operation came to life.

Sara saw, firsthand, the potential pool of customers and knew there was an opportunity.

"I've taken the dogs to daycare, I know they come home a mess, so they get right in the bathtub. There's just so many dog lovers and owners in the area. People just

Business Recognition Awards Winners - Part 1

As I mentioned last week, I'll be taking the next few weeks to highlight our Business Recognition Award winners - each of which were selected with live voting during our Business Recognition Breakfast on February 16th.

Starting off with our Best New Business Award winner - Base Bowls & Company!

Base Bowls & Company was launched in May of 2023 at 731 Saint Joseph Drive in St. Joseph, with a goal to provide compassionate customer service to our customers for lunch or dinner. With an option to create your own Acai / sorbet bowl, salad, smoothie, sandwich, soup, boba lemonades, or your choice of another flavorful option. Our menu was designed to provide as many options as we can and bring something new and flavorful to our community. One of our core values centers around giving back to our community every chance we get. In summer of 2023, we expanded and opened another Base Bowls & Company at 800 Lions Park Drive, St. Joseph that operates late spring - summer months. This location is used for catering events such as weddings, baby showers, memorials, corporate events, small office lunches, birthday parties, and more! We love catering and we love providing fresh ingredients for our customers to enjoy every single day! Stop by for lunch sometime - we appreciate all your support!!

Next up, Small Business of the Year - Peat's Cider Social!

Peat's Cider is a family-owned and operated business producing hard cider, cyser, mead and more on the family farm in Paw Paw, MI. In 2020, owners Dan and Leah Peat, in partnership with Josh and Tiffany Cosner, opened a retro combination taproom and bowling alley in Stevensville, MI serving up cider and entertainment in a family-friendly atmosphere.

It's called "The Social" because our hope is that we've created a space where people will gather to try our locally-made hard cider and feel invited to stay and socialize over bowling and arcade games. You'll experience a sip of nostalgia with every pour when you visit Peat's Cider Social.

Our last one for this week is the Economic Impact Award - Lane Automotive!

Since 1964, Lane Automotive, Inc. has been a fixture of Berrien County and its racing and automotive enthusiast community. Growing from a tiny speed shop in George Lane's garage to a leader in the sale and distribution of performance aftermarket automotive parts and accessories.

Serving customers across the United States (and more than 60 countries worldwide), Lane Automotive employs more than 500 team members, was recognized in 2019 as one of Southwest Michigan's "Best Places to Work" and offers its team members competitive wages and a comprehensive benefits package.

In January 2024, Lane Automotive launched Exotec, an advanced robotic storage and retrieval system that is part of a multimillion-dollar investment by the company to remain at the forefront of technology and employee safety in the automotive aftermarket industry. This new system will accommodate growth and create new career opportunities for years to come, which reinforces its commitment to our local community.

As a leader in the racing and aftermarket community, Lane Automotive is a strong advocate of grassroots racing, and helps support over 25 regional racetracks, including Hartford Speedway, Kalamazoo Speedway, and Gingerman Raceway. Lane Automotive is also a strong supporter of our local law enforcement and first responders, along with many other community organizations, and the members of its Culture Experience Team work to give back to the community.

Very professional. I highly recommend and will continue to use Boss Services. Jerry is not your typical pushy salesman. He listened to what I wanted done. Gave me several options to choose from and was able to answer every question. The installation crew were courteous, respectful, and informative of the new furnace and a/c they had installed... Extremely happy customer.

Humorist

I think what made me most furious is that I could've used those loooooong minutes spent pacing, muttering, and hurling unseemly language at my computer to walk the 11 steps to my family room and grab my tattered but trusty Rand McNally road atlas and find Fort Atkinson, with plenty of time left over to shower, shave, and drive to Target to buy a new Rand McNally road atlas.

(Although I wouldn't throw my tattered but trusty atlas away. I'm like my dad; he never threw out any Rand McNally road atlas he ever bought. And he started buying them in 1958.)

The only reason I was curious to locate Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin is because it's where a magazine called "Mass Transit" is based. "Mass Transit," as far as I can tell, is the current name of a publication once called "Mass Transportation." And a hilariously ludicrous article from its July 1943 edition provides pretty much all of today's column. (I saw the article online, back when the Internet actually worked.)

Here are excerpts of the article, entitled "Eleven Tips on Getting More Efficiency Out of Women Employees."

- Pick young married women. They usually have more of a sense of responsibility than their unmarried sisters. They are less likely to be flirtatious. They still have the pep and interest to work hard and to deal with the public efficiently.

- When you have to use older women, get ones who have worked outside the home at some time in their lives. Older women who have never contacted the public have a hard time adapting themselves and are inclined to be cantankerous and fussy.

- General experience indicates that "husky" girls - those who are just a little on the heavy side - are more even-tempered and efficient than their underweight sisters.

- Give the female employee a definite day-long schedule of duties so that they will keep busy without bothering the management for instructions every few minutes. Numerous properties say that women make excellent workers when they have their jobs cut out for them, but that they lack initiative in finding work themselves.

- Give every girl an adequate number of rest periods during the day. A girl has more confidence and is more efficient if she can keep her hair tidied, apply fresh lipstick and wash her hands several times a day.

- Get enough size variety in operator's uniforms so that each girl can have a proper fit. This point cannot be stressed too much in keeping women happy.

So there you have it. The story that, more than any other, put "Mass Transportation," and thus Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, on the map.

Speaking of which, I waited so long for my browsers to load maps that I could've driven to Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin. And back. I didn't know what was going on; AT&T later admitted that its network was tidying its hair, applying fresh lipstick and washing its hands.

Every Faraway Place

"I will also make you a light for the Gentiles, that my salvation may reach to the ends of the earth."

Isaiah 49:6

Try this on for a fun fact. There are twice as many mobile devices in the world as there are people. And you can find mobile devices everywhere. Everywhere! You can find them in the South American jungle. You can find them in the mountain villages of Tibet. You can find them among nomadic tribes in the Sahara. You can find them in isolated huts with dirt floors.

For this reason, there are Christian volunteers who prepare memory cards for missionaries to take to these faraway places—memory cards the missionaries can easily install in people's mobile devices. The memory cards include Bible studies, songs, an audio New Testament, and a movie about Jesus—all in the language of their region. Thanks be to God.

But faraway places do not just include remote villages on the other side of the world. To anyone who's living a life without Jesus—that life is also in a faraway place—the aide who cares for your dad at the nursing home; the new friend you've made at Thursday night volleyball; the girl who cuts your hair; the mechanic who maintains your car; the couple who's moved in across the street; the co-worker in the cubicle next to yours; the old friend you've known since high school; a member of your own extended family.

In other words, people who live in faraway places include souls you and I see in our lives all the time.

When God the Son came to this earth, he had you and me in mind. When he lived a perfect life on our behalf and suffered and died for our every sin, he had you and me in mind. When he rose from the grave, he had you and me in mind. He also had in mind everyone else living in faraway places, whether that faraway place is in a primitive village on a tiny island or a lonely life someone is living right before your eyes.

And maybe, just maybe, the Lord will reach that faraway place through you.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, thank you for touching lives in faraway places. And thank you for touching mine. Amen.

 (because) once the shipping containers got to the States, they found a couple of bugs. Not in our machines, but they sent the whole shipping container back, and then we had to wait.”

That delayed the opening by about three months, but eventually, the machines arrived in good shape. Now the focus is on getting the word out and attracting potential customers.

“I think once the travelers come, business will pick up pretty good. It’s been what we’ve expected so far, but I think this is going to be considered our slow season. Starting out, we’ve had on average 10 to 12 washes a day in just the first week,” said Sara.

At the standalone machines, users can walk their pooch up the ramp, secure them in the tub, and use cash or electronic payment to shower their canine with suds and other dog-specific treatments. But it’s not just dogs that can have all the fun.

“We have had a few inquiries on if people could bring a cat in and I said, ‘if your cat enjoys a bath, you’re more than welcome to come to the wash,’ but I definitely want pictures of that.”

Why the name Stella & Sawyer? The business is named for their two beloved furry doodles (Stella is the black one). Each reflected not only in the name, but in the logo, as well. Sara said the pictures in the logo are spot on.

As for future plans, Rob and Sara are focused on making this venture successful but they’re also looking at the potential for expanding.

“We kind of thought about seeing how well this goes and maybe head to a different area. We’ll just see how this goes first.”

The location is open seven days a week, 7 am to 9 pm. Bring your towel and they supply everything else you’ll need for a clean pup.

Dave Says

A Lesson He'll Remember for the Rest of His Life

Dear Dave,

Our 21-year-old son is in college, and we've always warned him to stay away from credit cards. Despite our warnings, we recently learned he got a store-branded credit card. The good news is he has stayed under the credit limit. The bad news is he has never made any payments on the purchases he made, and now he owes about $3,800. He's a good student, and my husband and I want to look at this as a young person's one-time mistake. Do you think we should pay off the card for him just this once?

Melinda

Dear Melinda,

Believe me, I understand you wanting to help him out. It means you've got a good heart, and you love him. No parent likes seeing their child in a bad situation. There's a reality here, though, I hope you won't overlook. It's his debt, not yours. He knew what he was doing when he signed up for that credit card. He knew what it meant, what was expected, and he's the one who should make good on the repayment. There's nothing unfair about that.

Now, you're right. This is a typical young person's mistake. And like a lot of mistakes our kids make, it's one that's bad and wonderful at the same time. It's bad because if he had just listened to you and his dad, he would've avoided the whole mess. It's wonderful, though, because it gives you two the opportunity to provide him with a real world, teachable moment.

At this point, my advice is for both of you to give him a great big hug, and lovingly explain where he went wrong and why it was a bad idea. If you want, you can even go a step further, and help him find a part-time job if he doesn't have one right now, so he can pay off his debt and get out of this mess. It'll take some planning and discipline on his part, but leave the payments to him. Hopefully, by the time he finishes working his tail off—and scrimping and saving to pay this debt—he will have learned a lesson he'll remember for the rest of his life.

—Dave
