Tranquil Waters and Timeless Wonders:
Exploring the Lakes of Franklin County

By: Amanda E. West

Tims Ford Lake, located amidst the shadows of the Cumberland Plateau, is a picturesque oasis spanning 10,700 acres with its crystal-clear waters mirroring the lush greenery surrounding it, creating a haven for outdoor enthusiasts and soul-seekers alike. The lake is loved by visitors and locals for various reasons. It serves as a bass fishing paradise, where anglers, both seasoned pros and newbies, can experience the thrill of reeling in a big catch due to its abundant bass population. Additionally, Tims Ford is a recreational bliss offering a playground for water lovers with activities like boating, kayaking, paddleboarding and of course wake-boarding. Glide across the lake's surface, feel the sun on your skin, and let the gentle waves carry your worries away. The scenic beauty of the shoreline, dotted with cozy coves, sandy beaches, and hidden nooks, invites you to pack a picnic, find a quiet spot, and soak in the breathtaking views of the surrounding hills. Wildlife encounters are almost guaranteed, with opportunities to spot deer various bird species, making it a delight for birdwatchers.

Tennessee, offers an escape for nature lovers and outdoor enthusiasts alike. Owned and operated by the US Air Force and Arnold Engineering Development Center since its inception in 1952, this tranquil body of water not only boasts a rich history but also provides a serene backdrop for lots of recreational activities. With its expansive surface area stretching across Franklin County and beyond, visitors can enjoy the reservoir's full pool elevation. The availability of five public boat access sites, including the Morris Ferry, Franklin County, Coffee County, AEDC, and Dabbs Ford River Accesses, all at no cost, makes Woods Reservoir a haven for boating lovers seeking to explore its vast waters without the burden of fees.

Beyond the thrill of boating, Woods Reservoir shines as a premier destination for fishing enthusiasts. With four public fishing piers and additional bank fishing opportunities seamlessly connected by a paved greenway path at the Morris Ferry Boat and Bank Fishing Access Site, anglers of all skill levels can find their perfect spot. The reservoir is home to ten meticulously maintained fish attractor sites, courtesy of TWRA, enhancing the angling experience by attracting a variety of fish species.

V.R. Williams

Service You've Trusted For More Than A Century

By: Amanda E. West

“Since they opened for business in 1896, V. R. Williams & Company has been a staple inside the community. Founded by Victor R. Williams, he held sole ownership until 1947, when William R. Cravens joined him as a partner. In those early days of insurance, they underwrote policies for everything from cookstoves and kitchenware to farm livestock. Williams was a man ahead of the times who believed people would soon purchase policies on their farm equipment, dwellings, and barns, too. Turns out, Williams was right. This forward-thinking by their original owner has continued to propel them toward new innovations in the insurance industry for over a century.

When Williams passed in 1957, his partner assumed majority ownership except for a small portion owned by J.D. McCord, who remained active until his death in 1969. Upon Craven's retirement in 1973, the company passed from capable hand to capable hand. In 2001, Joe Hunt Jr. acquired the business. Born and raised in Charlotte, N.C., Hunt graduated with a degree from Wingate University in business management and holds a minor in economics. After working as a leader in the industry for many years, Hunt was already well-versed in all things insurance from having an uncle in the business, plus his father, Joe Sr, who served as the regional vice president for Peerless Insurance Agency, which later became Liberty Mutual.

Under Hunt's leadership, the Franklin County Chamber recently recognized them as “Large Business of the Year, proving they have continued to live out

“Our customers have always been our biggest supporters.” – Joe Hunt Jr.

Victor Williams’ original motto, “Give the customers a fair price and back it up with the best service possible.”

After 42 years in the business, Hunt announced his retirement last year, hoping to spend more time with his family and Lillian, his 6-month-old grandchild. Hunt will divide his time between Tennessee and Charleston. He plans to be the best family man and amateur fisherman and golfer he can be.

“V. R. Williams & Company will continue to offer exceptional service to Franklin County and surrounding areas, just as they’ve done for the last 130 years,” said Joe Hunt Jr. “The business has changed, ‘but the more things change, the more they remain the same.’ This agency has been entangled in the very fabric of Franklin County since the very beginning, and we will continue to do so under this new leadership.”

Although the leadership is changing hands, Hunt said, “Our customers have always been our biggest supporters. As always, we will continue to ‘keep the main thing, the main thing.’ We still want to be your consultants to insure your personal assets, such as homes, automobiles, boats, etc., and continue working with businesses, both large and small, on their coverages. With a combined total of 60 years of insurance experience, senior members of the staff, Chris Rose, Kevin Lockmiller, and Kim Mason, will now head the local management team. I know beyond any doubt these three will continue to pass the torch that Victor R. Williams lit way back in 1896.”

There's No Business Like Snow Business

By: Amanda E. West

Ashley Macon and her brother, Timothy Payne, have fond memories of growing up in North Carolina, where the sweltering heat meant a visit to the local shaved ice stand. In 2020, when the shutdowns kept them closer to home, this brother and sister duo dreamed about recreating this special spot right here in Franklin County, and Mot's Shaved Ice was born.

"Our vision was not only to bring a fun and delicious treat to our town but also to provide a place where families and friends could hang out and make memories," said Macon. "When we were trying to name our shaved ice shop, all the typical snow and ice names were already taken. So we named our business something meaningful to us. My husband Kyle, who is also a co-owner in the business, mentioned naming it Mot's, and we knew it was the perfect fit."

Martha Young Payne, or "Mot," as her family lovingly nicknamed her as a child, was Macon and Payne's paternal grandmother who lived 500 miles away in Huntsville, Alabama.

"Whenever we had the opportunity to visit, Grandma would always wait up for us. I'll never forget the feeling of relief and comfort I'd have when we'd enter her home after our long journey. The warm glow of the lamps in the living room, the sweet smells of treats in the kitchen, and her welcoming smile are memories I'll always carry with me.

"Many people have asked us if Mot loved shaved ice - I'm not sure she ever tried it! Using her name is more about the feeling we want to bring to our customers. We want people to feel at home when they visit. Hospitality is a very important part of what we do. We want to share Mot’s love with everyone.”

“We try to keep what our grandma taught us at the core of Mot’s: treat people with kindness and hospitality.” –Ashley Macon

Over the last several years, they’ve developed a menu they call “Mot’s Favorites.” These flavors consist of tried-and-true recipes that are often requested, such as Pina Colada, Firecracker, and Sunset. With over 40 individual syrup flavors, the possibilities of creating new flavors are endless, plus they’ve expanded.

“Besides shaved ice, we offer a variety of freeze-dried candy. The process of freeze drying puffs candy up, dries it out, and produces a light and crispy texture. So, candies like Skittles that are normally chewy turn out crunchy and airy. During the off-season, we never go away completely. We generally have a few weekend pop-ups a month. Our pop-up dates are usually announced in advance on social media. Seasonally, we also offer cotton candy, made-from-scratch caramel and candy apples, and other holiday treats.”

The community has been good to Mot’s, said Macon. “When people in Franklin County believe in something, they don’t hesitate in sharing it. Our hope was always for Mot’s to be successful, but we didn’t anticipate the level of support we’ve received. From the very beginning, we’ve tried to keep what our grandma taught us at the core of Mot’s: treat people with kindness and hospitality.”

Animal Harbor

A Beacon of Hope and Compassion for Companion Animals

By: Haley Potter

“Animal Harbor stands as a testament to compassion and dedication toward animal welfare. This limited-admission animal shelter, operated under the guidance of Executive Director Emily Holland and a committed board of directors, has been a pillar of hope for companion animals since its inception in 2003.

Historical Journey

Animal Harbor's journey began as the first animal shelter in Franklin County, originally located in a repurposed hog auction barn. The facility moved to its current location in 2014, marking a significant milestone in its mission to provide better care for animals. 2023 marks the 20th anniversary of Animal Harbor, celebrating two decades of unwavering commitment to saving lives.

Mission and Practices

The core mission of Animal Harbor is succinct yet powerful: Save Lives, Promote Animal Welfare, Support Community. This mission is brought to life through various practices:

Provision of Health Care and Shelter:

They offer temporary shelter and necessary health care to abandoned companion animals.

Finding Loving Homes: The shelter strives to find new, loving homes for pets in their care.

Combating Pet Overpopulation: They actively reduce pet overpopulation through spaying and neutering programs, particularly for residents in need.

Education and Outreach: Animal Harbor places a strong emphasis on educating the public about animal welfare and engaging in community outreach programs.

Animal Harbor is more than just a shelter, it's a community cornerstone.

No-Kill Policy: Maintaining a no-kill policy is at the heart of their operations, ensuring that every animal is given a chance at life.

Location and Accessibility:

Located at 56 Nor-Nan Road, Winchester. Animal Harbor is accessible to the community it serves. They operate on an appointment basis from Tuesday to Saturday, emphasizing the importance of thoughtful and dedicated care for each animal.

Leadership and Governance

The shelter benefits from the leadership of Emily Holland as the executive director and a diverse board of directors, including Susan Walton (president), Lawrence Neilsen (vice president), and Lisa Chamberlin (treasurer), among others. Their collective expertise and passion drive the organization's success.

Impact and Statistics

Animal Harbor's impact is evident in its impressive save rate of 98.34% for 2022, showcasing its effectiveness in animal rescue and rehabilitation.

Conclusion

Animal Harbor is more than just a shelter; it's a community cornerstone that embodies the spirit of kindness, care, and responsibility toward companion animals. With 20 years of service and countless lives saved, it stands as a beacon of hope, continually working to make Franklin County a better place for humans and animals.

THE ONLY COMMUNITY BANK YOU'LL EVER NEED!

A word from Franklin County Mayor CHRIS GUESS

As Mayor of Franklin County, I would like to extend a warm welcome to our community.

One of our highest priorities in Franklin County is to provide our youth with the absolute best educational opportunities to ensure the most successful future for them possible. Franklin County High School along with our two new middle schools are state of the art facilities and promote the desire for higher education. We also partner with nearby higher learning institutions to make it possible for our youth to pursue advanced education. The Tennessee College of Applied Technology, the University of the South, Motlow State Community College, and the University of Tennessee Space Institute are our neighbors and partners in education.

It is also important to recognize our diversified manufacturing base that is vibrant with employment opportunities in the automotive industry and research and testing facilities, among other trades. In addition, our progressive business community and thriving entrepreneurial development at our Franklin County Business Development Center make Franklin County a competitive and advanced county in Tennessee.

Franklin County has a rich history that can be recognized at various historic locations throughout the county including Falls Mill, the Cowan Railroad Museum and Tunnel, the Old Jail Museum, and the stunning campus of The University of the South at Sewanee. And that is just to name a few!!

Another feature of Franklin County is the exceptional Tims Ford Reservoir which is a gathering place for numerous year-round outdoor activities such as fishing tournaments, family hiking excursions, and backwoods camping trips. There is also Tims Ford State Park which includes a Jack Nicklaus golf course!

Come stay awhile in Franklin County, indulge in our wealth of opportunity, see our beautiful scenery, and discover the driving force of our economy, the vitality of our people! If you already call Franklin County home, we are proud to have you and hope you take advantage of the abundant resources right at your doorstep.

The characteristic describing Franklin County that is most attractive is the feeling of camaraderie and closeness of a small tight knit community with the feeling of togetherness that makes our county feel like home and a perfect place to raise a family and live the quintessential "American Dream."

A word from Winchester Mayor SEAN CRABTREE

The City of Winchester has undergone an extraordinary transformation, emerging as a vibrant and revitalized destination that seamlessly blends rich heritage with modern amenities and attractions. With its new renovations and rejuvenated spirit, Winchester offers a fresh and captivating experience for visitors and residents alike.

The City's revitalization efforts have breathed new life into its historic downtown, where charming boutiques, cozy eateries, and quaint shops now line the streets. Visitors can explore the beautifully restored architecture and immerse themselves in the city's storied past, while also enjoying the conveniences of contemporary urban living. Stroll the streets downtown with a walkabout historic tour to learn the history of the buildings that tell the beginning of the town or enjoy a driving tour of 90 historic homes including Dinah Shore's childhood home. Dinah was singer, actress, television personality, and the top-charting female vocalist of the 1940's.

Harvey's Gardens encompass more than 35 acres of blossoms abound seasonally just four blocks from downtown Winchester. Stroll the professionally designed garden and admire the blooms of over 5,000 daffodils, 1,500 knock-out roses, 1,700 daylilies, 1,000 peonies, plus irises, butterfly bushes, ginkgo trees, river birches, DD Blanchard Magnolias, dogwood trees, and hollies.

Surrounding the city on three sides with more than 245 miles of shoreline, Tims Ford Lake offers a host of amenities for outdoor enthusiasts and leisure seekers. Five islands, accessible only by boat, can be reserved at Tims Ford State Park for primitive camping. Tims Ford Blueway is an extensive water trail known for its' biologically significant habitats designed so you kayak or canoe different routes for an entire week. Exhilarating water sports, superb fishing, numerous parks and recreational facilities and lakeside dining at several marinas with some of the best live music in Tennessee all await you on these tranquil waters.

Twin Creeks Resort & Marina is the newest marina on Tims Ford Lake and less than five minutes from downtown Winchester. Amenities include full-service restaurant, live music, boat rentals, cottage rentals, waterfront RV park, ship store, fuel, marina slip rentals, and a floating water park, the Jungle Boat.

Located a little over an hour from Nashville and less than 45 minutes from Huntsville, Winchester is the perfect city to lose the world and find yourself. Priorities here are preserving small-town character and natural beauty while balancing thoughtful growth.

The newly renovated Winchester is no longer a sleepy secret and in fact, it's a testament to the city's commitment to preserving its history while embracing progress and innovation. Smiling faces and warm hospitality are waiting to greet you for a visit or welcome you as a new resident or business. Either way you'll discover more by the lake shore.

A word from Estill Springs Mayor JAMES DAVID KELLEY

Incorporated in 1948, Estill Springs is the second largest town in Franklin County. Before 1840, the Estill family had acquired property in the area that bears their name today. Frank Estill offered the railroad company a right-of-way for the construction of a railroad through his land. After the railroad was completed in about 1850, there was much attraction to the area.

Mineral springs were probably first discovered by the Cherokee Indians who inhabited the area. Originally, the springs contained sulfur, chalybeate, limestone, and freestone water. The remaining springs are still the source of the town's water supply. Thus the name Estill Springs.

Spas and resorts soon arrived near the springs and became popular with summer vacationers in pursuit of the reputed curative qualities of the water. Mr. Estill had deeded the springs to the town, therefore making this an ideal location for a summer resort. One of the regular summer visitors was the wife of General Douglas McArthur.

Estill Springs' residents take great pride in their churches. Ten churches cover most major denominations. Estill Springs' first public school was a frame building. When this school burned, a new brick building containing six rooms and an auditorium was created and later expanded to accommodate the growing population. Since 1977, elementary students in grades K-6 attend Rock Creek Elementary School. Only the remodeled gym of the old school building remains as the Young and Moore Community Center. Motlow Community College is 10 miles away, and University of TN Space Institute is six miles away, and we have a new Franklin County High School.

Active civic organizations include Boy Scouts of America, Lions Club, Masonic Lodge #651, and Homemakers clubs. Other active community groups are the Saddle Club, Little League, girls softball, Coon Hunters Club, and the Estill Springer's Square Dance Club. Recently completed is the Estill Springs Memory Lane, a fully lit walking trail with benches, water fountains, bird houses, and a sign dedicated to former citizens of Estill Springs. Greenway Walking Trail is 1.2 miles along the shoreline of Tims Ford Lake with historical markers.

Estill Springs Fire Department has all the latest equipment and strives to certify all volunteer firemen. The police department has a dedicated group of officers who provide 24-hour service. We also have two ambulance stations and two excellent hospitals six miles away.

The Mayor and Board of Alderman past and present maintain the lowest tax and water rates in Franklin County, also drawing new residents.

If you're looking for small town atmosphere with a touch of business district, surrounded by a beautiful lake (Tims Ford Lake), opportunities for great outdoor enjoyment, friendly people, pure clean air with accessibility to industry, let me take this opportunity to invite you to drive through, come for a visit or, better yet, make our hometown yours!

A word from Cowan Mayor RICHARD HUNT

Cowan, nestled in the foothills of the Cumberlands, was developed in the mid-19th Century as a railroad and manufacturing industrial base. The famous Mountain Goat, a railroad branch line serving Sewanee and the coal mining towns of Grundy County, connected with the mainline at Cowan and made the Cowan Depot a famous landmark. Today, the Cowan Depot is home to Cowan Railroad Museum, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The Cumberland Mountain Tunnel, another historic landmark, was once the longest railroad tunnel in the world. The downtown depot district is home to restaurants and specialty shops while also serving as host to several cultural events. The Fall Heritage Festival and the Cowan Christmas Parade are among Franklin County's oldest and largest outdoor events. The nearby Monterey Station hosts large indoor events during the year as well. Cowan Center for the Arts is home to a number of music events, and Franklin County Arts Guild operates a gallery with classes, exhibits and lectures. Be sure to visit Cowan and enjoy what our historic hometown has to offer. For a list of area business, events, and attractions, log on to www.visitcowan.com.

A word from Decherd Mayor MARY NELL HESS

Decherd was founded in 1853. Decherd owes its beginning to the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad which was completed in 1851 through what was to become the town of Decherd. The town is named for Peter S. Decherd, who along with his business partner Ezekiel D. Sanford in 1852, purchased the land and in 1853 developed it into a town complete with blocks and streets.

The town was originally incorporated in 1856, then again after the Civil War in 1868. The Civil War dominated life in Decherd during the war years. No major battles were fought in the area, but several skirmishes were fought over control of the railroad.

From 1885 to 1901 the town, along with many towns in Franklin County, was officially unincorporated due to the “Four Mile Law,” which allowed for the selling of liquor within four miles of schools in incorporated communities only. The town was re-chartered by the General Assembly on April 22, 1901. Governor Benton McMillin signed the private act creating the town. J.F. McGill became mayor in June of that year. R. Ross Powell was the first city recorder. The town also had one Town Marshall. The population in 1900 was about 1000.

In 1890, James Terrill built and established Terrill College on the site where Decherd Elementary School now stands. Decherd is proud of its three largest employers, Nissan Power Train Assembly, Kroger, and Henley Supply & Millworks. We have two schools; North Middle School and the aforementioned Decherd Elementary. Decherd’s Lions Club has been active since 1957 providing glasses and eye screenings to our citizens. Our two city parks, Hank Weddington Park and John L. Sanders Park, provide picnic areas, walking trails, softball, and playgrounds for all to enjoy.

Decherd is definitely a town on the move into the 21st Century. We have housing available, eateries galore, places to work and play. When you are in Decherd, you can get to anywhere in the world.

We are very proud of our history and this wonderful place to work and live.

A word from SEWANEE VICE-CHANCELLOR ROBERT W. PEARIGAN

Sewanee is home to one of the nation’s top liberal arts colleges and a seminary of the Episcopal Church. Since its founding, the University of the South has graduated 27 Rhodes Scholars, 53 Watson Fellows, dozens of Fulbright Scholars, and 35 NCAA Postgraduate Scholars, while the institution’s School of Theology has added to its alumni ranks countless bishops, including three of the last five presiding bishops of the Episcopal Church.

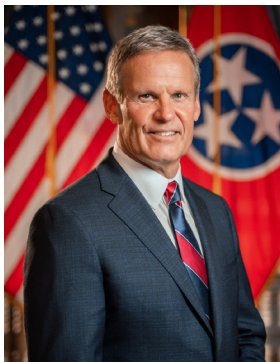

Sewanee, as the University is familiarly known, is located atop the Cumberland Plateau between Nashville and Chattanooga, Tennessee. Sewanee’s physical environment, which includes a 13,000-acre campus, provides an unparalleled place in which to study and reflect, and has, over its history, become a meeting place for some of America’s most respected literary figures. In addition to its traditionally strong curriculum in the arts and humanities, Sewanee is also known for its science programs, including the unique interdisciplinary Sewanee integrated program in the Environment. Whether a student is interested in arts or sciences, Sewanee provides a challenging and nurturing environment that helps each achieve their very best.

Downtown Sewanee has amenities to complement everything available at the University. A short five-minute bike ride from main campus, the village is home to a bank, a post office, an art gallery, a gas station, a park, a bicycle shop, gift shops, a convenience store, a florist, a weekly farmers market, and five restaurants (soon to be six)—quite a lot for a town of over 2,600.

Industry CEOs and representatives meet every month at noon at various locations throughout the county to discuss topics to improve operations and build relationships with other manufacturing leaders in the area.

WORLD RENOWNED MANUFACTURING

Franklin County's manufacturing base is broad and known worldwide, producing some of the world's best products. Chamber Executive Director Kayla Doney and other community leaders and economic development officials have a broad vision for growth that includes creating more quality jobs and bringing greater diversity to its current economic base.

Franklin County is home to more than 52 industries producing goods ranging from rugs and hi-pile synthetic fabric to fabricated metal products, rubber weather stripping, and power train engines. Doney says, "The county's attractiveness to these employers and a host of other businesses is largely the result of its abundance of natural resources, readily available utilities, reasonable tax rate and strong community support."

ARNOLD AIR FORCE BASE

The nearly 40,000-acre Arnold Air Force Base (AFB) is home to the Arnold Engineering Development Complex (AEDC). The Complex is a United States Air Force wing-level organization. The workforce of AEDC and tenant units, comprised of 42 uniformed service members, 506 Department of Defense civilians, and 2,416 contractor employees, at Arnold AFB tests and evaluates systems to meet the demands of the National Defense Strategy.

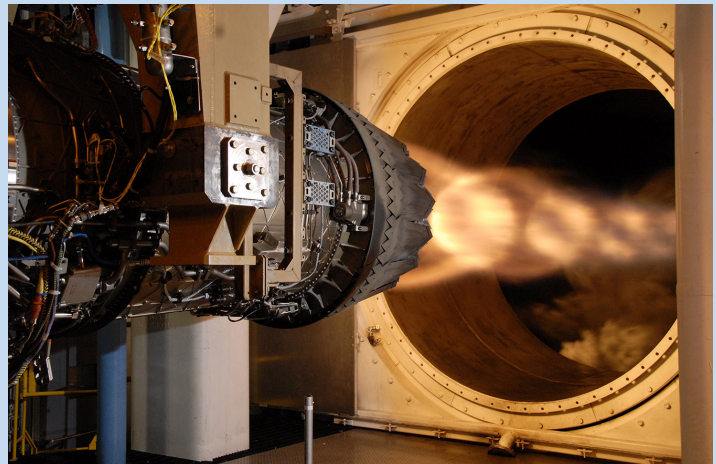

AEDC team operates at 9 sites in seven states and provides 95 distinct, developmental test capabilities ranging from aerodynamic and propulsion wind tunnels to rocket and turbine engine test cells, space environmental chambers, arc heaters, ballistic ranges, sled tracks, and other specialized units.

The base and Complex were dedicated in the memory of Gen. Henry "Hap" Arnold, the father of the United States Air Force, in 1951 by then President Harry S. Truman. Today, the vision of AEDC is to maintain Arnold's goal of an Air Force Second to None.

NATIONAL AEROSPACE SOLUTIONS

NAS is the Test Operations and Sustainment contractor at Arnold Engineering Development Complex at Arnold Air Force Base in Tennessee with remote operating locations in Maryland and California. Whether you're an engineer, an electrician, a pipefitter, or someone trained in business operations, there are many opportunities available with NAS. It takes everyone to make the mission successful. Our employees provide test and evaluation for some of the world's premier aerospace systems. Our work with the U.S. Air Force keeps the warfighter safe by testing systems before they are used in actual flight.

NAS is a Bechtel-led joint venture with Sierra Lobo, and teaming partners nLogic and Chugach. Find out more information at www.nas-llc.us

HI-TECH MOLD & ENGINEERING, S.E. INC. BAXTER ENTERPRISES • TA-TECH

Hi-Tech Mold & Engineering Inc. opened in 1998 offering the Southern states a mold builder and a premier change and repair facility. They put a premium on utilizing the latest CAD software and techniques. From concept to final design, they and the engineers who apply them, pride themselves on innovative ideas.

Baxter Enterprises began as a tool tryout, support, and test facility to Hi-Tech Mold & Engineering in Southern Middle Tennessee in 2001. Baxter Enterprises has grown into a full-service Tier 1 and Tier 2 supplier to the plastics industry, with facilities covering over 400,000 square feet and employing over 300 people. It houses 25 injection molding machines with a range from 85 to 3,500 tons. In 2016, Baxter Enterprises expanded to a third location in Westminster, SC.

Headquarters for Hi-Tech Mold & Engineering Inc. and Baxter Enterprises are located in Rochester Hills, Michigan. The companies are owned by the Schulte family and managed by Robert Schulte.

NISSAN NORTH AMERICA, DECHERD

For 27 years, Decherd has been home to Nissan's U.S. powertrain operations, and it's a community full of heart.

In the midst of farm fields that go on for miles, Decherd became Nissan's U.S. center for advanced engines and eMotors, powering more than a dozen Nissan and INFINITI vehicles, including the best-selling Nissan Rogue, all-electric LEAF and luxurious INFINITI QX60.

Decherd's powertrains are the heart of Nissan products across America, but the operations are powered by the people of Middle Tennessee – more than 2,000 team members who proudly produce up to 1.4 million engines and eMotors annually. Since the start of production in 1997, Decherd team members have produced nearly 19 million powertrains.

While job opportunities may be what brings team members to Nissan Decherd, it's the people, product, and purpose that create careers and earned Nissan's certification as a Great Place to Work in 2023. What has set it apart for the last 25 years (and counting) is the power from the inside.

ZANINI TENNESSEE, INC.

Rooted in Franklin County: Dr. Cary Holman

By: Amanda E. West

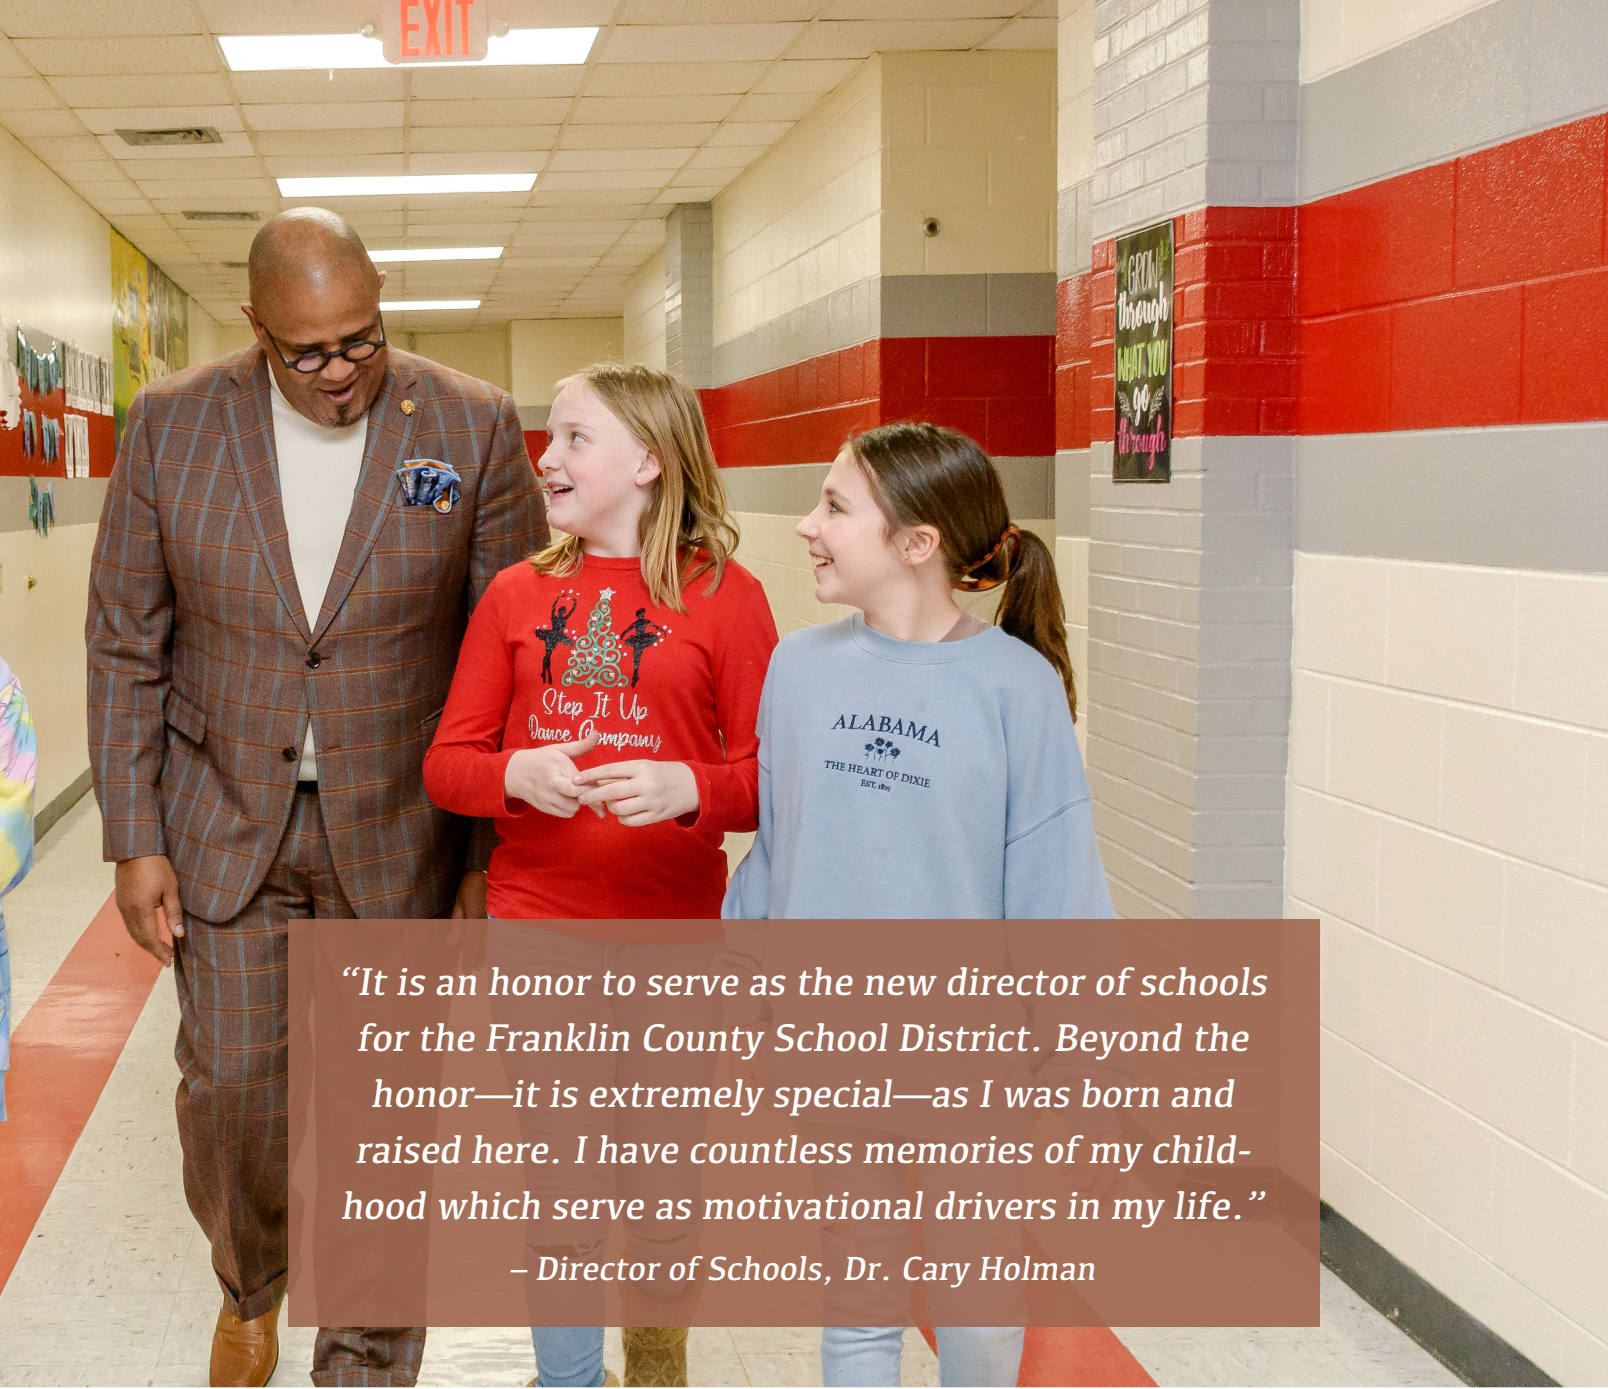

“It is an honor to serve as the new director of schools for the Franklin County School District (FCSD),” said Dr. Cary Holman. “Beyond the honor—it is extremely special—as I was born and raised here. I have countless memories of my childhood which serve as motivational drivers in my life.”

After attending the Franklin County Head Start program as a young child, Holman was then enrolled at Decherd Elementary School from 1st to 6th grade.

“My elementary memories are dear to me, as I remember all of my teachers well. Each made an impact on my life,” Holman said. “My last stop was Franklin County High School. Each school prepared me for what life would bring in some form or fashion. Whether appreciated or not, such things as attendance, projects, organization, presentations, and participation in clubs were foundational pillars for my educational journey. Upon entry to Motlow State Community College, I knew I would become an educator. My 4th grade teacher, Ms. Charlene Simmons, is the very reason for my decision. Though I had many great teachers, Ms. Simmons was someone extremely special to me. She made it her business to invest in my life.”

After receiving an associate degree from Motlow, Holman obtained his bachelor’s degree at the University of Tennessee Chattanooga, then earned a master’s degree from Tennessee State University. Growing up in a family where educational opportunities were highly valued, Holman continued to make countless sacrifices and stayed devoted to his calling as he worked toward an educational specialist degree from Middle Tennessee State University. In 2020, he completed

“It is an honor to serve as the new director of schools for the Franklin County School District. Beyond the honor—it is extremely special—as I was born and raised here. I have countless memories of my childhood which serve as motivational drivers in my life.”

– Director of Schools, Dr. Cary Holman

his doctorate degree from the highly acclaimed American College of Education.

“Attaining all degrees and appropriate certifications allowed me to become a classroom teacher, assistant principal, elementary principal, middle school principal, college adjunct teacher, and ultimately the director of schools. The mission of FCSD is to provide students with the opportunities to achieve their potential in an environment conducive to optimal learning. Our mission is embedded in the daily instructional and social structures of our schools. As director of schools, it is my desire to ‘Encourage, Empower, and Enhance’ knowledge, support, and growth. Intentional efforts are being made to visit schools often, conduct Town Hall meetings, showcase exceptional schools and staff, develop deeper relationships with community partners, and highlight departments in an effort to keep the community well informed. Additional efforts are being made to maintain active partnerships with local industries to capitalize on the power of collaborative supports.”

Franklin County is proud to have one of our own leading and guiding public school students, teachers, and staff.

“Being back in Franklin County is a joy,” said Holman. “The transition has been smooth, the support has been great, and the collaboration has been enlightening and uplifting. I am so appreciative of our County Commission and their support of education and our amazing Franklin County School Board. Our students and community deserve an exceptional educational experience.”

MOTLOW STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Motlow State Community College is a public multi-campus college in southern Middle Tennessee offering associate degrees, certificates, associate of applied science degrees, and flexible learning pathways. For over 45 years, Motlow has proved to be a student-centered institution that promotes academic excellence as well as personal and professional growth.

The original campus opened its facilities in 1969 on 187 acres of land donated by the late Senator Reagor Motlow and his family. Motlow College also has campuses in Fayetteville, McMinnville, and Smyrna, a teaching site in Sparta, and a partnership in Shelbyville at the Middle Tennessee Education Center. The College serves more than 540,000 citizens in Motlow's 11-county service area.

Motlow is a part of the Tennessee Promise Program—a statewide initiative that allows graduating seniors in Tennessee the opportunity to attend Motlow for two years tuition-free regardless of financial status.

Many Tennessee Transfer Pathway degrees may be completed at Motlow. If followed exactly, the pathways guarantee admission to most public universities in Tennessee. Students can save at least 25% on the total cost of tuition by attending Motlow College their first two years.

In addition to offering over 40 Tennessee Pathway degrees, Motlow offers AAS degrees in nursing, early childhood education, information systems technology, mechatronics, business, and paramedic. Technical certificates can be earned in early childhood education, emergency medical services, and mechatronics.

Motlow's nursing program earned a best-in-the-state 100% pass rate. The mechatronics program has multiple partnerships with area industry and high schools and has received national recognition.

Through Dual and Joint Enrollment program, high school juniors and seniors take courses while attending high school. Also, Motlow offers the Adult College Express (ACE) cohort program for busy adult learners.

The quality, flexibility and variety of programs offered at Motlow meet the needs of students, whether they are still in high school, recent high school graduates, returning to complete a degree, or seeking higher education for the first time as an adult.

TENNESSEE COLLEGE OF APPLIED TECHNOLOGY - FRANKLIN COUNTY CAMPUS

This Shelbyville school was the first of 26 such centers across the state and made possible by legislation enacted by the 1963 General Assembly of Tennessee. It is governed by the Tennessee Board of Regents and is staffed with highly qualified individuals who are specialists in their fields. Each occupational program is equipped with modern tools, machinery, and materials necessary to provide high quality instruction, which is both realistic and practical. The Center is accredited by the Commission of the Council on Occupational Education.

The primary mission is to meet the occupational and technical educational needs of the citizens and industry in a seven-county area in southern Middle Tennessee.

The Center fulfills this mission by providing instructional programs designed to prepare persons for employment. Programs are also designed to add to skills and knowledge of workers already employed.

Full-time preparatory classes meet six hours daily between the hours of 7:45 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. Part-time preparatory classes meet Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings from 5:45 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. Supplemental offerings and schedules are available in some cases.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

Sewanee is home to one of the nation's top liberal arts colleges, a seminary of the Episcopal Church, and an innovative graduate program offering an MFA in creative writing. Since its founding, the University of the South has graduated 27 Rhodes Scholars, 53 Watson Fellows, dozens of Fulbright Scholars, and 35 NCAA Postgraduate Scholars, while the School of Theology counts numerous bishops among its alumni ranks.

Sewanee, as the University is familiarly known, is located atop the Cumberland Plateau between Nashville and Chattanooga, Tennessee. Sewanee's physical environment, which includes a 13,000-acre campus, provides an unparalleled place in which to study and reflect, and has, over its history, become a meeting place for some of America's most respected literary figures. In addition to its traditionally strong curriculum in the arts and humanities, Sewanee is also known for its science programs, including the unique interdisciplinary Sewanee integrated program in the Environment. The College of Arts and Sciences offers 37 majors and 42 minors.

An Honor Code and the Order of the Gown are cherished traditions among students and faculty. There are chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa at the University, among other honor and service societies.

UNIVERSITY OF TENN. SPACE INSTITUTE

The University of Tennessee Space Institute (UTSI) is a graduate education and research institution located in Middle Tennessee adjacent to the USAF Arnold Engineering Development Complex in Tullahoma. UTSI has been internationally recognized for graduate study and research, currently offering degrees in mechanical, aerospace, and biomedical engineering. We also offer short courses on specialty topics and a distance education-based engineering management program.

Many students earn their degrees through funding provided by Graduate Research Assistantships made possible through research contracts, providing students with the opportunity for hands-on experience in the institute's laboratory research facilities. UTSI also offers a nine-week summer internship to undergraduate students who would like to pursue a graduate degree at UTSI. During the internship, students work along-side GRAs on real projects, gaining priceless experience working in the laboratories.

UTSI has rental facilities for meetings, workshop, conferences, weddings, parties, and more. Conference rooms are equipped with video conferencing audiovisual equipment, digital projector systems, and other features to accommodate your needs. UTSI also has a dining hall that offers a hot line, made to order sandwiches, and a salad bar that is open to the public, Monday – Fridays, 11:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. To rent a room, take a tour or contact Tim Johnson at tjohnson@utsi.edu or 931 393 7419.

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System:

A year of excellence and innovation in healthcare.

By: Amanda E. West

From the CEO:

“Southern Tennessee Regional Health System (STRHS) Winchester/Sewanee is committed to providing high-quality care close to home, further enhancing and expanding our services, and making the right investments to promote and protect the health of our region. We take seriously our responsibility to advance our mission of making communities healthier and supporting our community as a vital economic engine. Our dedicated team is committed to going above and beyond to meet the needs of those we serve—both inside and outside our hospital walls,” Adam Martin, CEO.

Last Year in Review:

- As a leader in the region, STRHS paid close to $8 million in property and other taxes last year.
- They completed more than $1.3 million in capital improvements, which included purchasing new IV pumps, anesthesia machines, and installing a new HVAC system at STRHS Sewanee.
- In keeping with their foundational mission to provide care to everyone, regardless of their ability to pay, STRHS donated over $30 million to those in need.

- With an annual payroll of over $56 million, they hired 53 new employees/independent providers, bringing the total they employ to 810. New providers include those specializing in family and internal medicine, orthopedics-sports medicine, procedural pain care and pediatrics.

- Sponsorships and donations from STRHS included: Blue Monarch, Franklin County (FC) United Soccer, FC Chamber of Commerce, FC Education Foundation, FC Schools, Isaiah 117 House, Life Choices Pregnancy Support Center, Motlow College Foundation, Multi-County Cancer Support Network, Time to Shine Prom, United Way of FC, Winchester Downtown Program, and the Winchester Rotary Club.

Cardiac Rehab Certification: STRHS is proud to announce their most recent certification awarded by the American Association of Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation (AACVPR). This prestigious accreditation was earned after an extensive application process and honors STRHS for adhering to the highest standards and guidelines set forth by leaders in the field of cardiovascular rehab. STRHS offers the most advanced practices available and has a proven track record for high-quality patient care.

MRI Software Update: STRHS is eager to announce the integration of innovative MRI software that will revolutionize the diagnostic process for patients. “This state-of-the-art technology ensures accurate and consistent diagnosis, setting a new standard in healthcare experience,” said Martin. “For our patients, this means faster MRIs and quicker results, providing a more streamlined and efficient healthcare journey. At STRHS, we are committed to advancing medical technology to enhance the overall patient experience and deliver the highest quality care.”

Inpatient Acute Withdrawal Management Program: Evergreen Healthcare Partners and STRHS formed a partnership to offer care to patients struggling with opioid and/or alcohol addiction. This 24-hour hospital-based care will assist patients who require medical intervention because of withdrawal symptoms. “Our dedicated clinical care team, specially trained for the task, accompanies patients throughout their journey, from admission to discharge. Once we attend to the medical requirements of a withdrawal patient, they can shift their attention towards the subsequent stages of recovery.”

INPATIENT REHABILITATION

We offer a 12-bed Inpatient Rehab Unit benefiting patients recovering from stroke, fractures, arthritis, invasive surgery, joint replacement, or multiple traumas. The Inpatient Rehab Unit implements a team approach offering physical, occupational, and speech therapies; social workers; and 24-hour rehabilitation nursing care under the guidance of a Medical Director who specializes in physical medicine and rehab. Our goal is to help patients get back to life, family, and friends as quickly as possible. Working with each patient and their family, our care team designs a highly individualized treatment plan focused on potential, not on limitations. For more information, call 931.967.8390.

THE CHILDBIRTH CENTER

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System has been providing services for the unique physical, social and spiritual needs of women for over 50 years. Our Childbirth Centers provide a complete program of medical, surgical and educational services to accommodate the unique needs of female patients. We take pride in providing exceptional women's care, close to home. To learn more please call our Childbirth Center at 931-967-8251.

SKILLED NURSING FACILITY

Skilled nursing care is a high level of medical care that is provided by trained individuals, such as registered nurses (RNs) and physical, speech, and occupational therapists. These services can be necessary over the short term for rehabilitation from an illness or injury. Our main goal for our patients entering our skilled care facilities at Southern Tennessee Regional Health System Winchester and Sewanee is to get them back to their home. The Skilled Nursing Facility at Southern Tennessee has been awarded a Five-Star Quality Rating from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS). CMS created the Five-Star Quality Rating System to help consumers, their families, and caregivers compare skilled care facilities more easily and to help families and patients identify areas where they may have questions. For more information, call 931.967.8249.

CARDIOLOGY

The Southern Tennessee Regional Health System team in Winchester has earned the distinction of being Chest Pain Accredited and offers high-quality cardiology services. We offer cardiac rehabilitation, cardiac stress testing, and cardiac ultrasound. Our cardiac rehabilitation services include personal wellness and dietary consultation.

The cardiology services that we offer are as follows:

- Cardiac Stress Testing
- Cardiac Cath Lab
- Cardiac Rehabilitation

- Interventional Cardiology
- 24-Hour Holter Set and Scan
- EKG / EEG

Taking care of your heart is one of the most important things you can do to extend the quality of your life. We welcome the opportunity to help you live the best life that you can imagine.

ADVANCED WOUND CARE CENTER

There's no longer any reason to live with a non-healing wound. With our caring staff and specialized treatment plans, we have what you need to get back on your feet again. Our center is staffed with a unique team of doctors, nurses, and therapists all dedicated to healing chronic wounds. The causes of wounds are complex, and our group represents expertise in all of the major areas necessary to handle your varied circumstances and challenges. Whatever it takes for healing to occur, we're equipped and staffed to make it happen. For more information, call 931.967.8190.

MEDICAL DETOX

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System has partnered with StepOne Service to provide an inpatient, three-to-five-day hospital-based medical detox to safely manage opioid and alcohol withdrawals. This service is available to adults requiring medical management of withdrawal symptoms.

Detox is provided to individuals who are in impending or early stages of acute withdrawal at the time of hospital admission. The goal is to safely and medically assist the individual through the withdrawal process and help them navigate the transition to an appropriate level of community-based addiction treatment that can address the underlying causes of their substance use disorder. For information on how to be admitted, call the StepOne Service coordinator at 931.201.9868

SEWANEE: The UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

Sewanee: The University of the South, commonly known as Sewanee, is a private Episcopal liberal arts college in Sewanee, Tennessee. Sewanee offers 38 majors, 44 minors, three certificates, and pre-professional programs in business, health/medicine, engineering, and law. The area is a must-see campus. The landscape and architecture solidifies the University as a beacon in the county.

Montana Drive-In

There are only 13 drive-in movie theaters still operating in the state of Tennessee and Estill Springs is home to one of the finest. The Montana Drive-In, opened in 2004, shows a variety of new movies all year long and offers a full restaurant menu—trade in your popcorn for a cheeseburger and deep-fried oreos! The three-screen theater is open seven days a week during the summer and Thursday-Sunday during winter. Admission is $8 for adults and $7 for kids age 11 and under.

Oldham Theatre

Winchester’s historic Oldham Theatre will take you back to a simpler time—a time when seeing a movie was an exciting opportunity to dress up and celebrate cinema, not the unglamorous task of choosing between Netflix® new movie releases from your couch. The Oldham opened in 1950 and has held onto its original grandeur for over 70 years. Grab some popcorn and catch a new movie at this iconic, old theatre.

Small Town, Big Fun - The Downtown Square

The city of Winchester is bursting with life, and the downtown area is proof. The area recently underwent a few renovations, all of which are aiding in preserving the history and exciting the surrounding community. There are a wide variety of activities that can be found within the city’s square. While walking around, you will bear witness to beautifully painted murals, unique shops, locally-owned restaurants—and if you’re lucky, you may even get to attend one of the many community events hosted annually. The downtown area centers around the Franklin County courthouse built in the Art Deco style of the early 1900s. The downtown area is full of interesting things, whether it is watching the newest movie at the theatre, eating a meal at one of the many amazing restaurants, or shopping for a unique item, you are guaranteed to have an amazing time.

Branchwater Distillery

Branchwater Distillery was founded years ago by Dave Johnson. It is believed you need three things in order to be a successful moonshiner: ingenuity, patience, and luck. Dave had all three, so he launched a business. The characteristic of ingenuity was put into action when the threat of law officials finding out his operations seemed nearby. Dave devised a plan where he would use a strong branch and pulley system to keep the equipment suspended high above everyone else. This is how the name Branchwater was born. Since then, the business has been passed down and is currently owned and operated by Bud Kelly. The tradition of the past is still alive and well. At Branchwater, all of the cooking is done in the old copper still which is now fittingly named Dave after his grandfather. The goal of Branchwater is to not only create a good product, but to also create an experience along with it. They hope that with every sip, the feeling of the past flutters back in.

THE CROSS AT SEWANEE

On your way to visit this eye-opening cross at Sewanee, you’ll see it appear right in front of you as you approach. Either day or night, and in every season of the year, the area is beautiful and provides a once-in-a-lifetime experience right here in Franklin County. The loop around the cross lets you drive all the way around the memorial.

Falls Mill

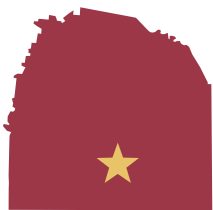

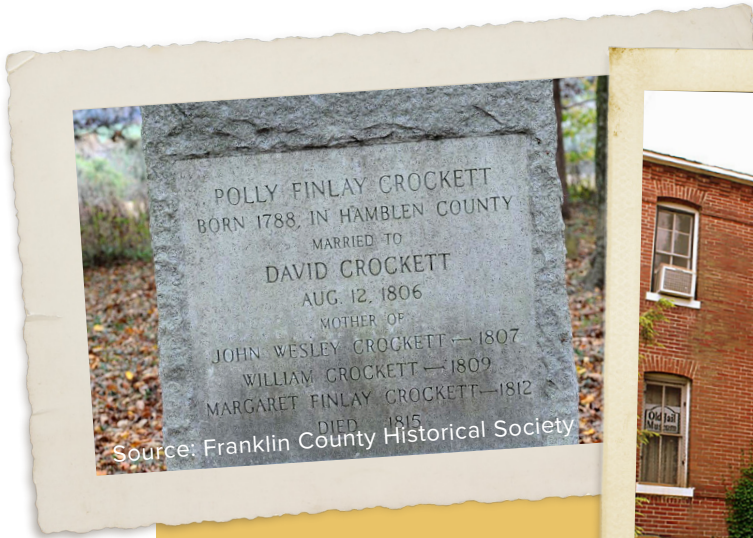

Falls Mill

A towering sentinel of the past, powered by the rushing waters of Factory Creek, Falls Mill is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. It's home to a museum as well as a country store. Falls Mill began serving its community in 1873, and has been a thread, cotton, woolen, and grist mill. A printing press and a variety of weaving looms, spinning wheels, and wool carding machines are exhibited in the Museum of Power and Industry. Visitors may want to consider an overnight stay to enjoy bed and breakfast accommodation in the 1895 log cabin on the grounds. Falls Mill is located in Belvidere.

Cowan Railroad Museum

Cowan's railroad history started in the mid-1800s and proudly prevails in this museum, which is housed in a 1904 depot building and surrounded by a landscaped park area. Outside exhibits include a caboose, a 1920 steam locomotive, and a General Electric Diesel switch engine. Around 1,000 artifacts are on display, many of which have been donated or loaned from individual collections. Visitors can glean intriguing information about Cowan's railroad history, and can view scale model trains (a number of which are richly detailed and created by hand); maps; tools; photographs; and even hear modern freight trains rumbling close by. A gift shop offers railroad-related items for sale.

Polly Crockett's Grave Site

Born in Hamblen County in 1788, Polly Finlay wed David “Davy” Crockett in August 1806 at her parents’ home. They lived in that area while their two sons were born. The Crockett family then moved to Middle Tennessee to “Kentuck,” a homestead they established near Belvidere around 1813, where they had a daughter, Margaret. After Davy returned from the Creek War, Polly died in 1815. She was laid to rest in a small cemetery overlooking Beans Creek. Davy later became known as a legendary frontiersman and remarried. The Tennessee Historical Commission erected a historical marker along U.S. 64 in Belvidere and placed a large stone monument at Polly’s grave.

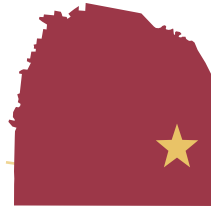

Old Jail Museum

Winchester is home to the Franklin County Old Jail Museum, which is one of the Tennessee Civil War Trails sites, as well as being listed on the National Register of Historic Places. This brick jail dates back to 1897 and was in use until the early 1970s. There are eight rooms in the jail, which include a restored jail cell, and displays including handcuffs; leg irons; Civil War and Native American artifacts; weapons; and farming implements. Other exhibits portray information regarding World War I and II, and about the famous singer and actress Dinah Shore, who was born in Winchester in 1917.

Hundred Oaks Castle

One of very few American castles, Hundred Oaks in Winchester is imbued with a rich and romantic history. Its construction as a plantation-style farmhouse began in 1830 for railroad tycoon Benjamin Decherd. Then it was acquired in 1860 by Albert Marks, who later became the 21st governor of Tennessee. For more than half a century, the castle was a monastery for Paulist Fathers, and in more recent times, the castle served as an Adult Activity Center. Lovingly restored by the Kent Bramlett Foundation, Inc. after a horrendous fire in 1990, Hundred Oaks Castle's splendor is reflected by elegant furnishings and paintings, and neatly-manicured gardens.

Natural Bridge

In the midst of lush hardwoods and moss-covered boulders, a 25-foot tall and 50-foot wide sandstone arch is the namesake of the three-acre Natural Bridge area. Located within the larger South Cumberland Recreation Area south of Sewanee, the bridge was owned at one time by the University of the South, which donated it to the Tennessee Conservation Department. This amazing formation, shaped by Mother Nature's tireless elemental forces, is operated by Tennessee Parks. It's a short hike from the parking area to the Natural Bridge, and those inclined to venture across the top of the bridge can see Lost Cove.

Local Parks

Tims Ford State Park

Sprawling over more than 3,500 acres in the midst of the nearly 11,000-acre Tims Ford Reservoir, those who thrive in the great outdoors can enjoy a wide variety of activities available at this park, including: fishing, boating, biking and hiking, camping, and swimming. The marina has boat rentals and supplies; there are cabins for rent; a conference center; and those who enjoy a picnic outing will find more than 40 tables and grills available. Daily family activities are offered during the summer season, and the 18-hole Bear Trace Golf Course is a popular venue. The vast lake was formed when the Tims Ford Dam was built on the Elk River.

BlueCross Healthy Place at Huntland City Park Huntland City's town center boasts a community park which features a basketball court and bleachers, fitness equipment and a walking track, and a playground with seating. Of special note is the fact that the playground equipment (such as the merry-go-round and see-saws) may accommodate children of all needs and abilities. Picnic tables, grills, and water fountains are in the park as well as a pavilion. This thoughtfully-designed and well-equipped park is primarily funded by a $936,000 grant from BlueCross and BlueShield of Tennessee Foundation. Popular among local residents, this welcoming outdoor area has served as a community gathering place since 2019.

Winchester City Park

Occupying 100 acres and adjacent to Tims Ford Lake, this park offers a variety of recreational opportunities. Winchester residents may enjoy a nearly 2-mile trail that loops through a woodland setting; playing disc golf on a dedicated course; utilizing an indoor/outdoor swimming complex; baseball facilities and little league fields; softball fields; and tennis courts. Public pavilions are available, and a boat launch ramp and fishing piers facilitate access to the lake. Additionally, Independence Day activities and outdoor performances such as live music are held at the park; as well as an annual Kansas City Bar-B-Q cook off; and fishing tournaments.

Taylor Creek Greenway

This interesting recreational property near Estill Springs encompasses 54 rambling acres which include a variety of natural environments. Hiking/walking paths with bridges lead visitors through an open area bordering Tims Ford Lake; a wetlands area ecosystem; a woodland area through which two spring-fed creeks run, and a hilly area which is accessible by more primitive trails. Along the way, covered swings and benches provide places to rest and reflect upon natural beautiful surroundings. An historical marker placed within the forested creekside portion highlights native Tennessean Miss Will Allen Dromgoole, whose appreciation of this peaceful area was memorialized in her poetry.

Harvey's Garden

This floral garden near Winchester offers a soothing and relaxing environment for all to enjoy a colorful, blossoming respite from the hectic pace of life. Named for Harvey Templeton, who wanted to establish and share a flourishing garden with the public, it was his son and daughter-in-law, Handy and Becky Templeton, who began creating the garden in 2003 as a memorial to Harvey. Work is ongoing, and more than 30 acres feature meandering grassy pathways bordered by stones. While strolling along, visitors are treated to the delightful sights and scents of a wide variety of blooming perennials, bushes, and trees.

Dennis Parm Panter Park

This small town park in Estill Springs has picnic pavilions with benches, tables, and grills, which are available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Some playground equipment is in the park, as well as baseball fields, which are used at times by the local little league. Occasionally, events such as horse shows may be held at the small track. Flanked by a railroad track on one side and Tims Ford Lake on the other side, visitors may fish from the shoreline. A few primitive camp sites exist. The park was named as a memorial tribute to teenager Dennis Parm Panter.

Sewanee Perimeter Trail

The Sewanee Perimeter Trail is a private mixed-use mountain top trail of 20 miles owned and maintained by the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee. Open year-round, the trail difficulty is easy to moderate and includes Thumping Dick Cove, Sewanee War Memorial Cross, Green's View, and Morgan's Steep.

The trail follows the perimeter of the Cumberland Plateau bluff line and encircles the campus of the University and will take you to scenic overlooks, waterfalls, and bluffs. Open for use by students, faculty, and alumni of the University as well as local Sewanee residents, the trail includes mixed-use sections suited to hiking, running, horseback riding, and mountain biking.

There are 10 designated trails, and access points are found at the Memorial Cross, Lake Cheston, Green's View, and the University Gates, with signs noting hiking and camping policies of the property at the access points.

Tims Ford State Park

The 3,546-acre Tims Ford State Park sits in the shadows of the Cumberland Plateau in south central Tennessee. Its lake is considered one of the most picturesque in the state and regarded as one of the top bass fishing and recreational lakes in the Southeast.

Cabins; boat rentals; campgrounds; The Bear Trace at Tims Ford, a Jack Nicklaus-designed golf course; marinas; dining; birding; hiking trails; biking; picnic pavilions; and playgrounds invite visitors to experience nature and the beauty of the seasons. Hunting is allowed by permit on Tims Ford's huntable lands.

The multiple lodging opportunities include completely equipped cabins, two campgrounds for tent or RV campers, and tent campers may camp on any of the six islands on the lake or at Turkey Creek area.

Tims Ford State Park Fairview Camp Store or the State Park's Visitors' Center Gift Shop offer gear, snacks, accessories, and something special to remember your trip to the park.

Walls of Jericho

The Walls of Jericho Trailhead is a 7.5-mile out-and-back trail located near Belvidere, Tennessee, on the border of Tennessee and Alabama.

"Walls of Jericho" refers to narrow canyons, about a half-mile long, with 200-foot-high vertical limestone bluffs on each side. The hike culminates in the impressive geological feature that forms a large bowl-shaped amphitheater with unique water features from which water drips and spouts. Turkey Creek drains through the Walls and has been an active geological force in creating the amphitheater.

An itinerant preacher performing baptisms there gave the Walls their biblical name in the late 1800s.

There are two trailheads hikers can take to the Walls: from Alabama Highway 79/Tennessee Highway 16, one on each side of the state line and about 2.25 miles apart. The hike from the Tennessee trailhead is less steep than the Alabama Trail. Either way involves an approximately 1,000-foot descent in and climb out.

The Bear Trace at Tims Ford

Located on a peninsula in Tims Ford State Park, you won't find a more tranquil or beautiful golf course than The Bear Trace. Play 18-holes designed by legendary golfer Jack Nicklaus on Champion Bermuda greens and 419 Bermuda fairways. After that, visit the driving range or hit up the snack bar at the clubhouse. If you want to stay awhile (you will), rent one of their cabins, equipped with appliances and all of the essentials, a gas fireplace and an outdoor balcony to overlook the park's wooded hills and waterways.

The Course at Sewanee

When famed architect Gil Hanse, named Golf Magazine's 2009 Architect of the Year, redesigned The Course at Sewanee in 2013, he gave golfers a unique opportunity to enjoy the beauty of the Cumberland Plateau while playing a complex and challenging course. The Sewanee Inn sits at the edge of the course and offers a beautiful golf lodge and bar; southern comfort food at its in-house restaurants; gorgeous views; and luxury amenities—so, you can stay and play! Both the inn and golf course are located on the sprawling campus of The University of the South.

Franklin County Country Club

For those looking for a resort-caliber golf course with family-friendly amenities, the Franklin County Country Club is the place to be. Golfers navigate well-maintained, tree-lined Zoysia fairways; water hazards; earth berms; and bunkers on the 18-hole, 6,600-yard course. And the rest of the family can enjoy the facility's pro shop; swimming pool (equipped with umbrellas and lounge chairs); clubhouse; restaurant; and banquet space for events and gatherings. Opened over 100 years ago, the Franklin County Country Club has become a community staple.

Scenic View Golf Course

Family-owned and operated in Winchester, Scenic View Golf Course offers a great golfing experience for all skill levels. After spending some time practicing at putting and chipping, you'll be able to take on Scenic View's Bermuda fairways and Bent Grass greens. Get your clubs repaired or take golf lessons with a PGA professional on-site. And if you've got a competitive streak, the Scenic View Golf Course hosts a variety of scrambles and events for all ages. It is open to the public for open play seven days a week, weather permitting. But membership options are available.

Los Amigos

Los Amigos

Two Locations to Serve You

Sizzling steak, chicken, and shrimp fajitas smothered in gooey white cheese sauce, and topped with grilled onions and peppers. Paired with an ice cold Coca-Cola, salted tortilla chips, and homemade salsa. Why wait for “Taco Tuesday” when you can indulge at Los Amigos in Cowan, or their newest location in Decherd, every day of the week?

Hermes Jaramillo hails from a town near Mexico City called Toluca, so he and his wife, Heather, pride themselves on providing authentic flavors that have withstood the test of time.

“We have brought the experience of Mexico to Franklin County. You don’t have to book tickets to Cancun so your family can enjoy salsa, queso, guacamole, fajitas, and tacos—you’ve got your getaway right here! It’s not just trains and farms in our town, it’s a bunch of families who love God and love this country.”

After living in Rutherford County for 28 years, the Jaramillos fell in love with Franklin County and opened their Cowan location. After commuting for over a year, they have happily settled into the community that warmly welcomed them, and recently had a ribbon-cutting for the grand opening of their second location in Decherd. They whole-heartedly believe in following Galatians 5:13, which says, “by love serve one another.”

“We are excited each day knowing we are working closer to our goals. To us, our guests are not just ‘customers.’ We have made countless wonderful friends that feel so much like our own family.”

The Jaramillos are all about family. In fact, they’ve been married for close to thirty years and have five children and four grandchildren. Their oldest son also followed the path of entrepreneurship and owns two restaurants in Grundy County.

“Our biggest supporter in this business has been each other,” said Heather. “We very much enjoy owning our own business.”

Because building a stronger community is also important, the Jaramillos frequently support local sports teams, community events, and give to local charities daily.

“I think what makes Los Amigos unique is that we love to give back to our community in every way we can. Nothing is more important than doing what you can to support those building God’s Kingdom. When you check out, let us know which church you attend and we’ll donate 10% of that amount back to your church, or to a non-profit of your choice.”

CJ's Coffee Barn

Brewing Connections, One Sip at a Time

By Haley Potter // Photography by James Jordan

CJ's Coffee Barn in Franklin County, Tennessee, embodies passion, community, and serendipity. Kimberly Griggers, its founder, shared her journey from Washington State to Winchester, Tennessee, driven by love and a vision to recreate a rich coffee culture. "I moved here from Washington state," she said. "I thought, 'Okay, I'm gonna open a latte stand. We definitely need them out here,'" recalling her previous home's coffee-rich environment.

Griggers' dream materialized when she discovered a dormant coffee stand and connected with its owner through Facebook. "I reached out to Candice Hayden, and she said they were praying on what to do with the latte stand," she recounted. Her enthusiasm was clear: "I remember jumping up and down. I don't even care what it costs. I want it."

CJ's Coffee Barn, which celebrated its first anniversary in May 2022, quickly integrated into Winchester's community fabric. Griggers expressed her gratitude: "It has gone wonderfully. I have been so blessed within this community." Unique in its lack of competitiveness, Griggers noted, "I have not experienced any jealousy or competitiveness in this town... There are other businesses that are in the same line that I am, that actually are customers of mine, and I'm customers of theirs as well."

The coffee barn, using Seattle-roasted coffee, stands out with its online ordering system, Joe, and a rewards program. Additionally, it collaborates with local businesses like M. Sweets for homemade treats. "We just started doing that," said Griggers. "It's been wonderful."

CJ's Coffee Barn has become a symbol of community and passion in Winchester, offering more than just coffee. Griggers' dedication to community support has made the coffee barn a beloved local hub, exemplifying the power of connection and shared passion.

North High Nutrition

A Testament to Faith, Fitness and Community Bonds

North High Nutrition is more than just a nutrition store; it is a testament to the unwavering faith and commitment of its owner, Clayton Knight. Hailing from Mississippi, Knight's journey took an unexpected turn when, amidst the height of the pandemic in 2020, he opened the doors to North High Nutrition on June 25, 2020.

Reflecting on the establishment of his business, Knight shared, "We got started, and our first day open was during the height of the pandemic in 2020. We just stepped out in faith, and sure enough, God showed us the direction and the plans that he had for me all my life."

In a town known for its strong sense of community, Knight found not only a place to sell nutrition products but also a platform to help people achieve their health goals.

"Here in Winchester, it has given me a platform not only to help people lose weight, gain weight, with gut health, immune support—whatever their health goal might be," Knight said. "It also gives me a platform to be able to run my own business, which is really cool because fitness and a healthy lifestyle were already such a huge part of my life."

The transition to Winchester was met with warmth and welcoming. Knight, who initially felt like an outsider, was pleasantly surprised by the community's embrace.

Knight fits right in with the local community and has become a neighborhood friend. "I mean, there's people; they got my personal cell phone number now," Knight shared. "They come to pick me up if I get a flat tire or if I need to borrow a truck or whatever it is. I've just got those kinds of families here that I feel like got my back."

As for North High Nutrition's specialty items, Knight highlighted the promotion of meal replacement protein shakes and Loaded Teas.

"Our protein shakes are where people see the most results, as far as weight loss or getting fit," he said. "Feeling better, just feeling overall healthy and alive."

The Loaded Teas, with their vibrant colors and quick energy boost, have become a community favorite as well. "We promote our meal replacement protein shakes, Loaded Teas, and specialty teas," Knight said. "The specialty teas have protein collagen, not all the caffeine that Loaded Teas have, but a little bit of caffeine as well. The protein shakes have zero caffeine and are a full meal replacement."

Sunrise Cafe

You don't have to wake up early to savor a Sunrise.

When you open the door at Sunrise, you'll think you've stepped back into your beloved Maw Maw's kitchen and, as it should be, everything is right with the world. Light and flaky biscuits are rising in the oven, pancakes are being flipped on the griddle, and hickory smoked bacon and scrambled eggs are sizzling in the frying pan. Life really couldn't get any better than this.

Located in Decherd at 42 East Heikens Drive, Sunrise, also known as "The Breakfast Place," will not only fill your senses with nostalgia, but they will also fill your belly. Open Tuesday–Sunday from 6:00 AM–1:00 PM, their menu also includes specialty sandwiches, gourmet omelets, tenderloin and chicken platters, and Belgium waffles.

"We can't pick a favorite menu item, as everything is the best quality. If you love omelets, our 4-egg veggie uses the freshest organic ingredients. Our sausage is whole hog organic with no fillers. We hand cut our ham, fresh daily. Our pancakes are sweet cream and taste almost like cake batter. The cinnamon roll pancakes with cream cheese icing are one of our most popular. We even had someone from the Food Show Network try to get our recipe. Each and every ingredient is of the highest quality available in the marketplace," said co-owner Demi Summers.

Born in Toronto, Canada, Summers moved to Nashville at the age of 3. Her father worked all over Europe and Canada and trained under top chefs, but once he glimpsed the beautifully green rolling hills of Franklin County, and met members of the community, his eyes never wandered far. In fact, her parents have owned and operated the Western Sirloin Steak House since 1978, so you could say her love of cooking is woven into the fabric of her family. Her husband and co-owner, Ricky, was born and raised in nearby Sewanee.

"We love coming to work every day because we truly love what we do. We have a wonderful staff and the best customers. Everyone feels like they are part of our extended family."

The Summers pride themselves on working together as a team and always have the wants and needs of their customers on their minds. "We are always looking for new ways to present breakfast options that are delicious as well as exciting and innovative. When we get home, we watch the Food Show Network nonstop to look for new recipes and ideas."
