Product Regulatory EHS Specialist I

Diamond Vogel has an immediate opening for a Product Regulatory EHS Specialist I. This entry level position is responsible for supporting our paint and coatings product compliance and regulatory needs along with our EHS record keeping and reporting. The right candidate will serve as a critical member of our new product development team, working as a liaison between our EHS group and our Product Management, Sales, and Customer Care teams. If you are looking for an opportunity to advance and grow your career, this position may be a great fit for you!

Accountabilities:
Product Regulatory Affairs:

- Accurately produce Safety Data Sheets (SDS) for our finished good products; review product labels and safety documentation
- Answer customer regulatory questions related to our products

Environmental Health & Safety:

- Maintain records and prepare periodic regulatory reports; participate in safety audits
- Coordinate hazardous waste activities to include record keeping and pickup at factory, warehouse, and service center locations

Skills and Qualifications:

- Ability to work collaboratively with cross-functional teams
- Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, preferably in safety, environmental science, chemistry, math, engineering, or another related field
- Product regulatory or quality assurance experience is desired but not required

We offer competitive wages and a complete benefit package, including health care, dental, and vision; 401k; life & disability insurance; HSA (health savings account); PTO (paid time off); and more.

Please apply at the Corporate Support Center, or email to:

Research & Development Chemist

Diamond Vogel is seeking a chemist to join the Architectural Coatings Research and Development Team. If you are looking for a professional work environment and have a strong work ethic, consider joining us in developing top-quality products for the architectural marketplace. The right candidate will be responsible for the development of new products and serve as technical support for sales, manufacturing, and purchasing departments.

Requirements:

- A bachelor's degree in the sciences is required (with coursework in chemistry)
- Previous lab experience preferred, but not required
- Ability to work well both individually and as part of a team
- Demonstrates excellent communication skills and attention to detail
- Displays an inquisitive attitude; shows self-starter capabilities

The position will be given on-the-job training to achieve the following:

- Hands-On Skills: prepare liquid coating samples, perform physical and analytical tests with minimum supervision
- Computer Skills: maintain accurate records of test results and observations
- Communication skills: communicate observations and related data both verbally and in written form

We offer competitive wages and a complete benefit package, including health care, dental, and vision; 401k; life & disability insurance; HSA (health savings account); PTO (paid time off); and more.
