BRET'S ECLIPSE PARTY

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

Bret Cali has the general store at Bend, a small place near the Colorado River south of San Saba. It has beer and music and the flavor of Luckenbach. "Some people say it's the new Luckenbach," says Bret. "It's kind of hard to find, like Luckenbach. Hondo Crouch, who owned Luckenbach, said if you can't find it you're not supposed to be there."

Bret's entrepreneurial talents have taken him all over the world in several different types of endeavors, including a landscaping company in England. This time it's throwing a big eclipse party the first weekend in April at Lometa, not far from Bend. "I'm calling it The Sun Festival," says Bret. "It's at the Lometa Fair Grounds, about 80 to 100 acres. I have plenty of clean portapotties, a big sound crew and quite a few awesome artists who will be performing Friday, Saturday and Sunday before the total eclipse on Monday the 8th of April. Ray Wylie Hubbard will appear at 8 PM Sunday night. I'm trying to mix up the music a little bit because these people are from all over the world so I've got reggae, world music and of course some Texas country. There won't be any music during the eclipse."

The center of Texas is considered prime viewing for the eclipse and tons of activities are planned for the millions of visitors who are expected to come to the area. "[I'm making sure the people who come to my event have everything they need on site so they won't have to leave. That includes a variety of food and plenty of ice. We'll have all sorts of vendors. Goods and services in all of these areas are going to be wiped out. Cars are going to be backed up on all the roads. Getting to places will be very difficult. Security is going to be tight with two helicopter staging areas. We're right next to Lampasas, one of the epicenters for viewing. NASA has named it one of the prime areas. All hotel rooms in Lampasas were booked two years ago. I was real lucky to get the festival grounds. I'm not expecting a wild crowd. I want to keep it relaxed and not overcrowded. We'll probably have some people sitting around a fire playing guitars in the evening. The park itself is beautiful."

Bret has staged musical events most of his adult life, so he knows what's involved. He's planning on at least a thousand people showing up. "I'm charging half or less than half of what other people are charging. For one person, camping for two nights, seeing all the shows and everything it's $250. I'm giving the city half of that."

The stage is at the bottom of a hill so the viewpoint to watch the bands is ideal. Musical groups scheduled to appear in Lometa are Two Tons of Steel, The Paul Logan Band and Gus Clark on Friday; The Bode Barker Band, Thomas Michael Riley, Ryan Glenn and The Honky Tonk Heat plus The Lampasas All Stars on Saturday; Ray Wylie Hubbard, Watusi World Music and Round The Roots Riddim on Sunday. Joe King Carrasco and Rochelle and the Sidewinders will perform after the eclipse on Monday. In addition there will be open jams daily and nightly. Visitors are encouraged to bring their own instruments. The Lometa Regional Park is on US Highway 183 in Lometa.

WEST OAKS FUNERAL HOME

500 Hillcrest Dr., Sulphur Springs, Tx. 75482

<http://www.westoaksfuneralhome.com>

Mary Bonham February 15, 1928 - March 27, 2024

Mary Bonham, age 96, of Sulphur Springs passed away peacefully at her home on March 27, 2024 surrounded by her family. A memorial service was held Monday April 1st at 2:00pm at West Oaks Funeral Home, 500 Hillcrest Dr., Sulphur Springs, Texas. Visitation was held one hour prior to the service starting at 1:00pm.

Mary Louise Spencer Bonham was born February 15, 1928 in Hopkins County to Johnny and Annie Kitts Spencer. The 3rd of 5 children, Mary grew up and stayed in her community always working, starting as a beauty operator on Oak Avenue. She had three children with her first husband Bill Adair, the first being stillborn, Rhonda, and then Billy Ray. Tragedy struck when they lost their youngest child, Billy Ray, at the age of 7 in 1968. Mary later married Sam Bonham joining him in business in the Sulphur Springs Parts Company and later Sam and Mary expanded the J-B Weld Company across the United States. Sam passed away in 1989, but Mary never slowed down, bringing her daughter Rhonda into the business as they expanded the company worldwide. Mary remained active in the business until it was sold in 2009. Mary excelled in anything she did, whether it was business, horse racing, cracking and selling pecans or philanthropy, and in later years quilting. The namesake of the local Kid's Kingdom playground, Mary's donation and foresight has provided tens of thousands of kids a safe and fun place to play at the local Buford Park. Although Mary worked at an early age instead of continuing her own education, she was adamant that higher education was imperative to success. She established several scholarship funds for Hopkins County students as well as endowments at Texas A&M University-Commerce (TAMU-C) to help students pursue their dreams. Her philanthropy at TAMU-C earned her an honorary doctorate degree with the university. Mary was named Citizen of the Year, a Hopkins County Healthcare Foundation Gala chair, as well as Gala honoree, a recipient of the local MLK award, and honored with the TAMU-C Equine Pavillion being named after her as well as numerous other awards. Mary impacted many lives in the Hopkins County community. Mary was of the Baptist faith and a long time member of Lake Highlands Baptist Church.

Mary is survived by her daughter Rhonda Young and husband Chad, grandchildren; Keith Shing and husband Bobby, Kristin Potts and husband Kerry. Great-grandchildren; Kennedy Potts (Braxton Curliss), Kate Potts (Ty Lopez) and Max Calhoun-Shing, as well as step-granddaughter; Sara Young. Spencer Jr.

A private graveside service will be held at New Hope Cemetery with Ben Worsham, Dusty Worsham, David Gideon, Ray Glenn Jordan, Lee Pogue, and Logan Pogue serving as pallbearers. Honorary pallbearers are Carl Bryan, Ronnie Charles, Tom Johnson, and Heath Hyde.

The family requests in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the New Hope Cemetery, 2155 County Road 4708, Sulphur Springs, TX 75482. Arrangements were under the direction of West Oaks Funeral Home in Sulphur Springs. www.westoaksfuneralhome.com
