As an avid nature lover, Ray spent many summers at the family cabin in Inlet, NY on Limekiln Lake. He would often wake with the sun and take the kayak, loaded up with a camera and his beloved cocker spaniel, Heidi, out on the lake for a morning paddle. Aside from his love of the outdoors, Ray also enjoyed watching Nascar races and learning about computers. Truly a lifelong learner, he was always learning new things. A handy man at heart, Ray worked for the Brockport central school district as the head of maintenance for 38 year. Between his childhood, growing up as one of 9 kids in rural New Hampshire and working on the neighbors farm, and his time working in maintenance, there was nothing Ray couldn't fix or learn to fix. Ray was a veteran of the United States Marine Corps and served overseas in the Korean war. Upon returning to the states he met his wife Marilyn in California where they lived before returning to Marilyn's hometown of Brockport. After retiring, Ray and Marilyn moved to Port Orange, FL. where they lived for 17 years before returning to New York to be closer to family. Patricia Ann "Grandma Pat" Schad Wright, 78, of Batavia, New York, entered eternal paradise peacefully with the love of her family on April 7, 2024 after a valiant battle with a prolonged illness. Born on March 27, 1946, in the same town, she was a woman of great spirit, joy and most of all spunk, who brought laughter, warmth and sarcasm to all who knew her. She leaves behind her cherished daughter, Shell Lynn Duff, her "Bean": her beloved grandchildren, Kameron Stuart McGhee, William Aaron Duff, Jr. (Jake), Karsen Olivia Duff, and her "sweet baby girl" Kannen Jayde Gardner; great grandchildren Kinslee, Levi and Raegan, all of whom reside in Virginia. She is also survived by her special loving and devoted niece, Rebecca Valentine and loving nieces Kristin (Jeremy) Jedrewski, Kelley (Felix) Ortiz, and numerous other nieces, nephews, and cousins. Pat was predeceased by her grandparents Levi and Mary (Coffey) Kelley; her parents, Charles and Emma (Kelley) Schad; her siblings, Gertrude Schad, Charles Schad, Jr. Paul Schad, Catherine Schad, June Schad Busch, and John Schad. Pat was a devoted mother, grandmother, and friend, known for her love of card games, yard sailing, excellent culinary skills, her collection of books and reading, and being an avid sports fan and her unwavering support for Cubs baseball and UVA basketball. Having spent the majority of her adult life in Virginia, Pat's absence will be deeply felt by her family, friends, and all who had the pleasure of knowing her. Her competitive nature at the card table was matched only by her generosity in sharing her love for games with others. Grandma Pat shared countless hours with Kam and Jake on her lap cheering on the Cubs and reveling in Jake doing the "Sammy Sosa slide" any and everywhere he could. She loved being in the kitchen and whipping up something yummy and having Karsen as her taste tester. She especially loved teaming up with Kannen to give Shelly a hard time and was ready for the "dap" followed by laughs. Bask in the glory and beauty of endless bouquets of purple iris's, Grandma Pat. The family kindly requests that in lieu of flowers, in honor of Pat's love for animals donations be made to the local SPCA. A private funeral service to commemorate Pat's life will be held at a later date. The HE Turner Funeral Home in Batavia, NY, is providing to support to Pat's family during this time.

Christopher Mitchell, Cooper Funeral Home join forces

Photos by Tom Rivers: Josh Mitchell, left, and Jake Hebdon, said a new partnership with Cooper Home Funeral and Christopher Mitchell Cremation & Funerals assures local ownership of their funeral homes for many years to come.

By Tom Rivers, Orleans Hub editor

The owner of Cooper Funeral Home and the owners of Mitchell Family Cremation & Funerals announce they have joined forces in a new partnership that will ensure local ownership of five sites for many years to come.

David and Joshua Mitchell, owners of Mitchell Family Cremation & Funerals, and Jacob Hebdon, owner of Cooper Funeral Home in Medina, said the agreement, effective April 1, will merge staff and resources, working together to better serve families with compassionate service in their time of need.

Hebdon, 39, has been owner of Cooper Funeral Home for about six years. He started working at the site for the previous owner, Tim Cooper, in 2007. Hebdon will remain in charge of the Medina site.

"I am very excited to be working alongside the Mitchells," Hebdon said. "I have always had tremendous respect for David and Josh. They have been supportive colleagues of mine for many years. The Mitchells' reputation in their community and their work ethic supersede them. I cannot think of a more competent, reliable, positive team to partner with."

David Mitchell has been working in the funeral business for 40 years. He has no plans to retire anytime soon. His son Josh, 34, joined the business in 2012 and became co-owner in 2020.

Hebdon will be the first person outside of the Mitchell family to have ownership in the company since Michael Christopher in 1971, when he merged with Rho Mitchell, forming Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home.

"Our family business was started in 1957 in Albion and we're extremely proud to be our third generation of ownership," Josh Mitchell said. "Since our inception, we provided compassionate and professional care to over 6,000 families."

"Working with Jake in the communities he serves only makes sense to help each other as professionals," Mitchell said. "In turn, it will help each and every family that is served and provide that same care for generations to come."

Starting on April 1, Hebdon became a co-owner of the Mitchell Family Cremations and Funerals and Cooper Funeral Home will operate under the new partnership which also operates Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home in Albion and Holley; Bates, Wallace & Heath Funeral Home in Middleport; and Sherrie Bream & Kenneth H. Sherrie Funeral Home in Gasport.

The new partnership brings together five licensed funeral directors and other employees. They will share resources.

Hebdon and Josh Mitchell said there is a shortage of funeral directors in the country, and that is expected to get worse with fewer people going into the funeral service.

Mitchell reached out to Hebdon about a year ago, to discuss the future of the local funeral care. They began discussing a partnership that would keep their sites under local ownership, while also giving the owners support and shared resources.

"The workforce in the funeral business is aging and unfortunately there are not enough young people interested in the profession to replace them," Hebdon said. "Josh and I, both being in our 30s agree that the time is right to work together and support one another into the future to best serve families for generations to come. Our partnership helps solidify that our funeral homes will remain locally owned and operated by us, the same people that families here have come to trust."

The Mitchells say they are getting a dynamic partner with Hebdon.

"Cooper Funeral Home has always been a well-respected business in our area," David Mitchell said. "With bringing Jake on board, we look forward to adding his expertise, professionalism and caring touch, which will bring tremendous value to our family of funeral homes."

Josh said the funeral partners value traditional funeral services, and also embrace modern technology to serve families, including video tributes, live-streaming services, and jewelry or other mementos with fingerprints of loved ones.

"Josh and I are thinking about who will be serving the community in 20 years and into the future," Hebdon said. "I can't think of a better person to partner with. We see death care as an important and vital service in any community and we are overwhelmingly proud to provide it to our community."

Josh said Hebdon is "someone I can trust and work with. We've always got along on a personal level."

Josh Mitchell and Hebdon both said they want a work-life balance, and joining forces will allow 24-7 coverage for local families, while giving the owners and funeral directors some time off.

"We are looking to the future," Josh said. "We want to maintain the professionalism and care that each family needs."

Josh and David are both active members of the Holley Rotary Club, with Josh chairing the annual golf tournament in memory of Gary Ahl.

Hebdon is active with Medina's Municipal Tree Board and the Boxwood Cemetery Commission.

David Mitchell, Josh Mitchell and Jake Hebdon are shown outside the Cooper Funeral Home in Medina. Hebdon will continue to lead that site, which he has owned for about 6 years.
