OHS Debate Team is Arguably Great

The Okoboji High School Debate team is near the end of another great season under Coaches Troy Greiner and Cheri Satto. Debate Highlights:

- Johnston Tournament on December 2nd: Anna Quanbeck and Aliviah Bibler earned speaker awards in Novice LD while Declan Donovan earned a speaker award in Novice PF.
- At a Tournament on December 9th: Declan Donovan and Owen Riphagen earned a 2nd place finish in Novice PF. Congress saw a sweep as Sam Hoggard finished 1st, Hailey Schneider finished 2nd, Zoe Drost finished 3rd, and Anna Quanbeck finished 4th.

Special congratulations this season goes to senior Sam Hoggard. Sam finished 9th in the IHSSA Debate Tournament on January 5-6. This was only his fourth tournament competing in Congressional Debate. The Queen will represent the Fair at area parades and selected celebrations during the summer, represent Clay County during the Iowa State Fair Queen Contest, and participate in the Clay County Fair in September.

Dear Motor Medics,

Hi guys, I drive a 2010 GMC van with a 5.3 engine. The van is a custom AWD 2500 with a snowplow on the front and I've just reached 150k miles. This van ran perfectly, and I have been careful on the maintenance of changing engine oil every 3k miles and servicing the transmission and the differentials and transfer case several times already. I know this vehicle very well and know for a fact that it has used no oil in the past so when it suddenly started using a quart a week I was concerned. It smokes from the exhaust also but only after I drive on the highway for several miles then shut it off and restart. A mechanic says I need an engine. What are your thoughts.

Lynn in Thayer Missouri

Dear Lynn,

Without a hands-on check it would have us leaning towards a much cheaper repair. These engines are not known to be oil burners and have an inherent problem with the drivers side PCV valve cover. The cover clogs with oil sludge and will suddenly develop these symptoms. There is an updated cover available to fix this and a replacement engine should also get one before installation. In our own shop, if we found oil in the PCV hose we would replace the cover first and see if the issue goes away. Highway speeds cause extra oil to build up in the cover which can be sucked in.

Take care, the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,

I have a 2018 Toyota Prius that we have driven for over 250k miles. I bought the car new and drove it for work making deliveries on the highway with an average of 100 miles a day. When it reached 250k we decided that we should replace it for reliability issues. We handed it down to our son to drive to high school and he had it for two months and it started knocking. Upon taking it to a shop they told us the engine needed to be replaced. It is full of clean oil and coolant and was working perfectly until the day before when the check engine light started flashing during a rainstorm. He stopped driving it immediately. The shop didn't bring it in, they just started it and said it was bad. What are your thoughts?

Thank you, Jeff in Oklahoma City

Dear Jeff.

We have listened to cars before and declared them as having one kind of failure or another, but this is a car that can give a false impression to a mechanic. A flashing check engine light means stop immediately due to a engine misfire. If it occurs in the rain, we lean towards a coil issue caused by wear and water. When this happens on a Prius, they knock loudly at takeoff due to the stator in the electric drive. If it is quiet but missing down the road, we would check this first.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

The Iowa Soil and Water Conservation Week is celebrated in conjunction with Stewardship Week, sponsored by the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD). Every year, SWCDs across the country celebrate Stewardship Week as a way to promote natural resource conservation. The DICKINSON COUNTY SWCD joins Iowa's 100 Soil and Water Conservation Districts, the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship, the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service and others who provide leadership in soil health, soil conservation, water quality and the protection and enhancement of Iowa's natural resources.

"The week is an opportunity to recognize conservation practices underway, helping sustain and restore Iowa's rich soil and water resources," states Jeri Thornsberry, President of Conservation Districts of Iowa, the statewide organization that supports Iowa's elected Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners who work within our local communities to provide resources that assist landowners in caring for the land. "The week focuses attention on the progress and commitment by farmers, landowners and urban residents to protect those resources."

To learn more about opportunities for conservation practices through your local Soil and Water Conservation District, contact the Dickinson Soil and Water Conservation District at the USDA Service Center at 3302 18th Street, Spirit Lake, Iowa or by calling 712-336-3782, Ext. 3.

Family Nature Night

Happy Arbor Day! The Dickinson County Conservation Board is celebrating as we host Family Nature Night: Tree Hugging. We are heading outdoors for a scavenger hunt on Friday, April 26th, at 5:00 p.m. You better be-leaf that attendees will also use their creativity to make a craft to take home. Families will also learn about the resources that trees provide for wildlife and humans.

Environmental Education Coordinator Danika Cox is excited to bring new light to the subject of trees. "My hope is that trees, which for many is a boring topic, become something fun and interesting!" Cox said that she is looking forward to the scavenger hunt, stating, "It's a great opportunity to be out in nature together while looking at trees in a new way. It also gives people a chance to explore parts of nature that are often overlooked."

To sign up for this free program, please visit www.dickinsoncountynaturecenter.com or call 712-336-6352. Like and follow our Facebook and Instagram pages for the latest news and updates about the Nature Center.

NBA Playoff Action

I'm not a huge NBA fan but do root for the Timberwolves and have enjoyed following their successful season this year, especially with former Iowa State star Monte Morris being traded to Minnesota during the season. This past Saturday, Michelle, Tyler and I headed up to Minneapolis for the first playoff game of Round One vs the Phoenix Suns. While the Timberwolves are the #3 seed in the West and almost were the #1 seed, they have struggled vs Phoenix this year, losing all three games while going just 3-12 against them in their last 15 games. This is a tough matchup with Phoenix, which is loaded with offensive firepower with Kevin Durant, Devin Booker and Bradley Beal, and the Timberwolves were just a 1.5-point favorite in Game One.

If you are a basketball fan and have never been to an NBA Playoff game, I would add that to your bucket list. The atmosphere is 100% different than a regular season game, and reminds you of a college rivalry game, with the fans on their feet nearly the entire game chanting and cheering. On Saturday, the T-Wolves had a White Out game and gave everyone in the stands a white t-shirt to wear, they even shamed those (myself included) on the jumbotron into wearing the t-shirt if you didn't have white on. As you can see from the game photo, they pretty much got everyone to comply! The game started out close as expected, with Kevin Durant scoring 12 first quarter points as the Suns took a 28-27 lead into the second frame. Minnesota responded with a big second quarter to take a 61-51 lead into halftime. Phoenix quickly cut the lead to five to start the third quarter, which is when Timberwolves'starAnthony Edwards took the game over, scoring 18 of his 33 points in the quarter, helping push the T-Wolves' lead to 20 heading into the fourth quarter. Minnesota was able to cruise from there to a 120-95 victory. It was so much fun watching Edwards take control of the game, he is such an electric player and the neat thing was he did most of his damage in the third quarter being guarded by his favorite NBA player growing up, Kevin Durant.

The day was awesome with the energy and outcome of the game, and Tyler being interviewed by KARE-11 before the game, making it on the 10:00 news and having the title quote on their online story. Another highlight of our day was very unexpected and happened before the game as a group of guys came in our row and they just kept coming, totaling 10 by the time they were all there. This group ended up being Minnesota Wild players, and while I don't watch a lot of hockey, Tyler knew right away who their best player was, Kirill Kaprizov as he sat two people down from me with long-time NHL veteran Mats Zuccarello sitting next to me. The group was incredibly nice, and Zuccarello was very gracious with his time and engaged in conversation with us throughout the game. The last highlight of the game came at the end when former Cyclone Monte Morris connected with former Hawkeye start Luka Garza on a pick and roll for a dunk to put the exclamation point on the victory. With college basketball and the Masters now behind us, if you're looking for something to watch I would highly recommend catching some NBA playoff action, and if you're looking for a team to root for, the Timberwolves are a perfect team, being a local team that also has a former Cyclone and Hawkeye on the team; finally something that ISU and Iowa fans can agree on!

Humane Society Recognized

by Sara Gifford

Our local Humane Society has been providing necessary assistance and shelter for animals in need since it was founded by Andrea Waitt-Carlton in the mid 1980s. They are always looking for donations and volunteers.

"We wouldn't be able to run without the donations and volunteers," states Shawntel Schwidder, one of the employees.

"The public has been incredible. We thank the community for their support, and we look forward to that continuing in the future.

"It's something that's very needed," says Schwidder.

"I am an animal lover, and it's nice to be surrounded by animals all day. It's very important, the work that we do. We Daffy the cat has been highly encourage adoption; there are there since she arrived hundreds of animals around the world in 2020 as a kitten. She in need of homes. We will keep serving is looking for a loving the community and the animals in it, and home. we plan to keep working, until every animal has a home.'

If you are interested in assisting, volunteers are in high demand. It is a lot of work, such as: cleaning up, laundry, medical care, vaccination, and making sure the animals are fed. The Humane Society is a non-profit organization.

6-on-6 Basketball Items Needed

Iowa basketball fever is reaching back in time. A new documentary film is in the works celebrating 6-on-6 girls basketball in the 1970s. The film shines a spotlight on Northwest Iowa through the story of Ruthven Ramettes star forward Jane Cristoffer Rubel, and her successful fight to change the rules allowing mothers to keep playing ball.

The film team is led by Los Angeles-based director Emily Lobsenz — herself a competitive athlete — and Iowa producer Andrew Sherburne. They're asking Iowans to help them find the photographs, old home movies, scrapbooks, and radio broadcasts that were taken during this time.

'We know that people held onto these memories and we want to bring them to life on the screen. We're asking people to dig through their attics and basements to find the photographs, home film reels, and whatever else they held onto," said Sherburne, who previously produced the Iowa documentary Saving Brinton.

In particular, the filmmakers are asking for original film reels and/or digitized film, audio reels of radio broadcasts, photographs or photo negatives, as well as uniforms, yearbooks, or other memorabilia.

Their primary interest is in the 1969-1972 seasons for the Cornbelt Conference and northwest Iowa communities with particular focus on the 6-on-6 games between Ruthven and Everly. They are hoping to find any visual record of the games played between these two rival teams, specifically the 1972 district finals between Everly and Ruthven at Spencer Fieldhouse.

Additional interest is in town and rural life of the same period. They are looking for film and photos of community celebrations and daily life in hometown Iowa and on family farms to help expand their story.

The team is already working with the Iowa Women's Archive, the State Historical Society, IGHSAU, and other official institutions. They have access to footage used in previous television productions on the subject and are familiar with public postings on YouTube. They know there must be more and want to see what you have!

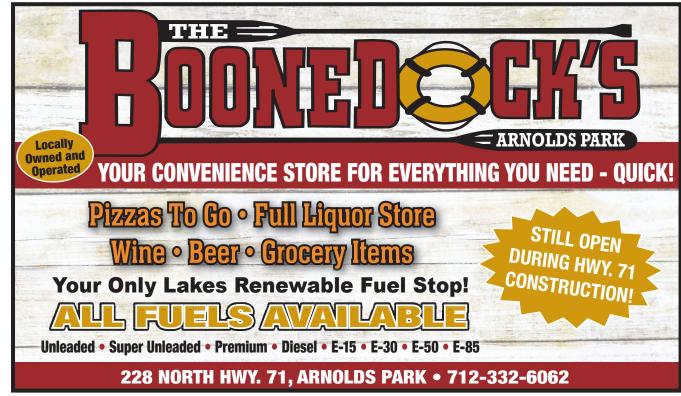

The team encourages anyone with film, photos, or other memorabilia to reach out directly via email at 6v6film@gmail. com to start a conversation.

"From the moment I learned about six-on-six basketball I had to know more!" said director Lobsenz, who played basketball among many other sports. "While making this film I have come to adore, admire, and be inspired by this rich history, the women who played, and the communities who supported them."

NAUTIQUE G25

When asked if she would like to live there if she were was an animal, Schiwdder replied, "Yeah, we treat every animal like our own. It's so much better than life on the street."

If you feel you are the right person for the job, please volunteer, or adopt!

You can learn more at their website: www.humanesocietyofnwia.com.

Food Pantry Support During National Volunteer Appreciation Month

As National Volunteer Appreciation Month unfolds, Northwest Iowa RSVP seeks to illuminate the primary focus areas emphasized by the program's grant allocation strategy. "Food Pantry Support" is a cornerstone in the organization's mission to support community welfare and combat food insecurity locally.

Food insecurity continues to be a growing concern nationwide. To alleviate this concern, RSVP volunteers age 55+ in our 5-county area of Clay, Dickinson, Emmet, Kossuth, and Palo Alto, give generously of their time to help ensure food reaches those in need through volunteer opportunities with food deliveries, in food pantries, and with hot meals programs.

Food pantries in the region include Upper Des Moines Opportunity locations, food box pickup locations, multiple mobile food pantries, and pantries operated by various non-profit entities. Volunteering at a local food pantry can involve picking up and delivering food from local grocery stores to the food pantry, sorting and stocking shelves, or assisting with distributing food to individuals and families who visit the area food pantries or food box pickup spots. The time involved can be as little as one hour per month or as much time as the volunteer wants to share.

Volunteers support the mission with hot meal programs at area senior centers and entities like Grand Avenue Community Outreach (GACO) in Spencer. Volunteers help with set-up, serving, and clean-up for meals served Monday through Friday at area senior centers, including Lakes Area Activity Center in Spirit Lake, Occasions in Spencer, Algona Senior Center, or Estherville Senior Center Dinner Date. At GACO, volunteers help shop, prepare, serve, and clean up after bi-weekly meals. Flexibility for these opportunities means volunteers can select the number of days they wish to volunteer per month.

Meals on Wheels and other food delivery programs are another way RSVP volunteers get involved with providing food to those in need. Often, the volunteer who delivers a hot meal to area seniors is the only human contact that person might have during the week. One of the many rewards of volunteering to home-deliver meals is knowing the recipient will have a hot meal and someone to check on them.

Volunteers also provide food support by participating in a children's backpack food distribution program, helping ensure that area students have nutritious food and snacks when they are home on the weekends. Other volunteers assist with area Hunger Coalition groups and Community Gardens or provide grocery shopping services for homebound seniors.

Ensuring food security for community members brings volunteers a sense of fulfillment, as they know they've contributed to supporting others during challenging times in a genuinely meaningful way.

For more information about volunteering in one of our food pantry support locations, please contact your Northwest Iowa RSVPCoordinator or visit www.iowalakes.edu/RSVP to complete an online registration form.

The Perfect Storm

The last two Sundays I have sat at my desk searching my mind and my heart for a spark of inspiration for an article. Typically, the articles that you read each week come from a place that I cannot explain. I sit down and after a few minutes, I start typing. By the time I am finished, I need to read it to see what I've said. If I am being completely honest with you, I think that the struggle I have been having is that every topic that I start to write about seems so depressing. Sometimes things in life are sad or heavy. Sometimes the people we love the most disappoint us. Sometimes we grow weary, and we need to rest. And sometimes, all those things are true at the same time. The perfect storm, or maybe it is God's way of telling us to slow down and to find refuge in Him.

Working with individuals who are addicted to substances, whatever that may be, is not easy. I love what I do, and I have always believed that I found my place when I stepped foot inside Discovery House the very first time. I do not see "addicts," I see people. I see sons, daughters, moms, and dads. I see someone who felt so much pain or experienced so much trauma, that the only solution they could find came in the form of drugs or alcohol. Or it came in food, work, money, sex, or gaming, anything to free their minds from the thoughts and feelings that cause them pain. It is human nature to want to stop experiencing pain. We are born with the instinct to pull away from something that hurts. Yet, we struggle to understand someone who is doing just that. Pulling away from the pain in whatever way possible. The most difficult part of it all for me is being reminded that the person that I see is not always the person living inside the bodies and minds of our residents. They are humans who make mistakes, need time and patience to heal, and need grace and mercy along the way. Because believe me, they sure know how to mess things up sometimes.

Every day is not rainbows and butterflies. It is more like a combination of tornadoes and floods. There is never a dull moment, every day is different than the last, sometimes you get blown away, and sometimes you feel like you are drowning. Regardless of the good, the bad, or the ugly, each day ends with a gratefulness that I can hardly express. Today, I rest my spirit from the storms of life by "pouring my heart out to God, for He is my refuge." ~ Psalms 62:8.

Attention Dickinson County Property Owners!

On Tuesday, April 30th, 2024, The Dickinson County Board of Supervisors will meet and receive public comments concerning the FYE 2025 County Budget at their regularly scheduled meeting. The meeting starts at 9 a.m. at the Dickinson County Courthouse in Spirit Lake. You have an opportunity to influence your elected officials.

The Dickinson County Board of Supervisors is seriously considering what will likely become a permanent extension of a near maximum property tax levy for county property owners. In a year of record property valuation increases, they are considering this move in spite of their previous assurances to us, the taxpayers, that the maximum rate would be temporary and reduced to the previous lower rate. A promise potentially broken because they believe no one is paying attention. This means your property taxes will increase once again! Please help us remind the Dickinson County Board of Supervisors of their commitment to the taxpayers of Dickinson County.

Founded in 2019, Hope Rolls - Dickinson County provides adaptive tricycles to children who are unable to ride traditional bikes. The DCTB collaborates with the nonprofit during our summer fundraiser and recently we were delighted to be a part of presenting new wheels to Bennett at Spirit Lake Elementary School.

Over the last few years, Hope Rolls has gifted 13 adaptive tricycles and an adaptive bike trailer to fourteen amazing kids and their families in Dickinson County. Founding member Maria Mellmann said, "We've had overwhelming support from our community and we could not change these kids' lives without that. Many volunteers in all forms have helped us over the last four years and we cannot thank them enough!"

The DCTB is honored to help raise awareness and be a part of this fun adventure. The gift of outdoor recreation not only brings joy to the children that receive an adaptive tricycle but their family and friends as well. We cannot wait to see them out on the trails! # Join Collin's Journey Back to Health

Collin Kats, son of Kory and Erica Kats, was in a bad traffic accident recently. Please consider helping this amazing 14 year old and his family fight for Collins life back by donating to the "Join Collin's Journey Back to Health" GoFundMe.com page.

On Sunday, April 7, Collin was involved in an accident on highway 71 while driving a Polaris Ranger. While attempting to take a left turn from the outside lane, he was struck by a car.

Collin received several severe fractures to his skull on the front and back and remains in the ICU at the Sanford Childrens "Castle". He is being kept in deep sedation (what we would call a medically induced coma) due to swelling in his brain causing very high Inter Cranial Pressure. The Doctors and nurses have worked very hard to keep pressures within a safe range medically. So, no surgery has been needed yet.

Collins biggest passion is of course his family. He has two younger sisters and one younger brother that he loves very much. They have been here to visit him often.

Collin Loves being outside. Especially being around Okoboji in the summer. He can be found fishing almost every day no matter what the weather is. In the winter he is also getting more into hunting and shot his first deer in the last season. He loves playing all sports for Okoboji Pioneers, but his favorite is by far football.

He spent his 14th birthday asleep in the hospital on April 10th. He was really looking forward to getting his permit to drive.

In the future, assuming professional fishing doesn't take off, Collin has been talking a lot about wanting to become a pilot. Please consider helping this amazing 14 year old and his family fight for Collin's life back.

CO2 Pipeline

Big Spirit, Orleans, East Lake and Terril residents: are vou aware?

• The proposed CO2 pipeline is 8-9 blocks away from Big Spirit water at 270th Ave.

• Terril Elementary School and local Main Street are 2-4 blocks away from the CO2 pipeline.

If the 12-36" (3-foot diameter) pipeline leaks or explodes and produces 30,000 ppm within a 10-minute period exposure it will cause respiratory arrest. If it produces 40,000 ppm, it is considered immediately dangerous to life and the health of humans, animals, fish, as well as damaging to the ecosystem. How long would it take to turn off the pipeline gases in rural lowa in the event of a leak or explosion?

This pipeline placement is too close to water, residents, wildlife, and children. I would vote No as the proposed industrial growth does not promote health and safety, but may in fact jeopardize it. Dickinson County's current District 3 Supervisor, Jeff Thee, has voted in support of the pipeline.

Wind Turbines

Okoboji Beach, East Oaks, Arthur Heights, Royale Oaks, Acorn Ridge and Francis Site developments: are you aware?

 To the east side of Hwy M56 you can see wind turbines within 1000-2000 feet of the roadway or dwelling on adjacent property. What will that do for your residence's value and the potential risk to the environment with a turbine failure?

• The current setbacks are not adequate for the size of the new current tower (600 foot) and the near size of the current blades (600+ feet) with 3.5 megawatts.

• We currently have 147 wind turbines in Dickinson County, do we need another 150+ or more wind turbines being proposed?

 What will happen in the future when we have no land available for housing or economic development? Do we have to say no as we have no available land?

I would vote No as the proposed industrial growth does not promote the health and safety for the citizens. How will Jeff Thee vote on this serious issue for you, your neighbors, and your family?

She tried her hardest to make it to every event and was very proud of her family. She prayed for a big family when she was younger and that is just what she got. #### Flowers And Vegetables And Gardens, Oh My! by Jill Jennings

It's time to garden! Hopefully you've been doing your plotting and planning while the earth has been sleeping this winter. But even if you are just starting to think about digging in the soil, it's not too late! The Spirit Lake Public Library has a diverse selection of gardening books for you to check out.

We have nearly four dozen titles covering topics such as container gardening, raised beds, deer-proofing, and water gardens. There are specific books dedicated to growing tomatoes, peonies, orchids, roses, and bulbs.

If a "free spirit" or "no dig" garden is more your speed, we have books covering those subjects as well. Would you like to plant a garden for the bees and the butterflies? We have books that can help you with those projects, too.

Remember to include the kids. Along with the gardening books in the adult non-fiction section, there are a handful of titles on the juvenile non-fiction shelves, too.

In our periodicals section, we have a few magazines that can spark inspiration in the garden: Birds and Blooms, Better Homes & Gardens, and Mother Earth News. Even the most current issues of these magazines are available for checkout.

If you are one who prefers a digital format, there are many titles of gardening eBooks, audiobooks, and magazines available on Libby and Hoopla. For more information on downloading, please chat with one of the SLPL staff.

You don't have to be a Master Gardener to enjoy gardening. Louise Beebe Wilder said, "In his garden, every man may be his own artist without apology or explanation."

Upcoming activities at the SLPL:

- Monday, April 29, 1:00-3:00 p.m., Mah-Jong
- Tuesday, April 30, 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m., Quilters

Iowa Lakes Community College Launches The Fitness Court® Prioritizing Community Health And Wellness In Iowa

(Emmetsburg, Iowa) Iowa Lakes Community College announces the debut of an innovative addition to the Emmetsburg Campus: an outdoor Fitness Court® situated next to the Arthur and Audrey Smith Wellness Center. This exciting enhancement promises to elevate the well-being of residents by offering accessible fitness opportunities. Iowa Lakes invites everyone to attend a Ribbon Cutting and Open House on Wednesday, April 24, 2024, at 9:30 a.m., to discover the healthy benefits firsthand.

Funding for the project was made possible through partnerships with a $30,000 grant from the National Fitness Campaign (NFC) and local community partners, including the Palo Alto County Gaming Development Corporation, the City of Emmetsburg, the Emmetsburg Community Development Corporation, Ag Processing Incorporated (AGP), Palo Alto County Health System (PACHS), Dan Cooper Builders, Hallet Materials, Iowa Lakes Construction Technology Department, and Great Lakes Concrete.

'We are deeply appreciative of the joint efforts of the Healthy Infrastructure Initiative with the City of Emmetsburg and the generous sponsorships from numerous local partners that have made the Fitness Court® a reality. This free outdoor fitness center, available 24 hours a day, offers a new opportunity to socialize and exercise, encouraging healthier lifestyles and enhancing the quality of life for our community members and students. We couldn't have done it without you," said Kyle Norris, Executive Dean.

The new Fitness Court® is designed to be inclusive, catering to adults aged 14 and older of all fitness levels. Considered the world's best outdoor gym, the Fitness Court® allows users to leverage their body weight to complete a workout using seven stations. To further enhance the experience, users can download the free Fitness Court App-a coach-inyour-pocket-style platform that transforms the world's best outdoor gym into a digitally supported wellness experience. The Fitness Court App is available for iOS and Android.

"We are excited to have Iowa Lakes Community College join us in the journey to health and wellness as we make a positive impact building Healthy Infrastructure across America," said Mitch Menaged, Founder of the National Fitness Campaign. "The addition of the Fitness Court®, along with ongoing engagement in healthy lifestyles, demonstrates a tremendous commitment to the campus and greater community."

Founded in San Francisco in 1979, National Fitness Campaign is a wellness consulting firm that provides programs and services to cities, schools, and sponsors. Our mission is to build healthy communities nationwide. The campaign delivers an integrated wellness initiative, centered around the Fitness Court®- the world's best outdoor gym. National Fitness Campaign welcomed its 500th healthy community in 2023, as it continues to grow the country's largest public-private partnership in support of wellness with the goal of building a Fitness Court® within a 10-minute bike ride of every American.
