Moody on The Market

Pat Moody

Under Contract: Mary's Fireproof Hotel in Benton Harbor

"We finally got the ink on the paper and we're moving forward full speed ahead."

That's Chris Siriano, announcing a buy/sell agreement was signed this week for the property known as Mary's Fireproof Hotel (or the House of David Hotel) in Benton Harbor.

"Everything's signed and sealed and the buyers are a powerful family of hotel owners. It feels wonderful for me, the seller, and the area. (The buyer) is very accustomed to taking on big projects like this. It's been on the market for a long time, and it's a daunting proposition to take on this kind of project, but they're all about it."

The property at 93 West Wall Street in Benton Harbor was built in 1921 and its four stories encompass more than 44,000 square feet of space. Listed for $554,000, Siriano said there's plenty of opportunity for improvements.

"They're paying full price, which is wonderful. The seller has been trying to sell it for a long time. We had the thing under contract back in the beginning with a buyer out of Spain that was going to make a luxury hotel for the PGA guests way back. But that fell through when he found out that Cornerstone Alliance partnered with Jack Nicklaus to build the Harbor (Shores) Inn. He walked away."

"It's basically a fallout shelter from the Cold War at this point. It's completely empty of everything except the concrete shell that was created. Everything else is stripped out and gone. So, they've got to do everything. They've got to do all the abatements, all the mechanicals, all brand-new windows, new entrances, all new cosmetics, all new bathrooms, everything."

United Way of Southwest Michigan Unveils Bold Agenda for Change

At United Way of Southwest Michigan, we've always been committed to making our communities stronger, more resilient, and better for everyone. Today, I'm thrilled to share with you our 2025-2028 Agenda for Change—a plan that's not just a continuation of what we've done before, but a fresh approach tailored to meet the evolving needs of Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties.

This new agenda is a call to action. We're doubling down on our focus on equity because we know not everyone in our community starts from the same place. Our strategy is built around making sure we're directing resources where they're needed most. It's about giving everyone a fair shot at a better life.

Central to our efforts is the ALICE population—those who are Asset Limited, Income Constrained and Employed. These are our neighbors who work hard but still struggle to make ends meet. Over the next three years, we're determined to significantly reduce the number of households living below the ALICE threshold. We believe that by focusing on this vulnerable group, we can create lasting change that lifts our entire community.

Here's how we plan to do it:

• Healthy Community: We're committed to improving health and well-being for everyone. That means supporting initiatives that prioritize physical and mental health, tackle food insecurity, and help vulnerable households. When we have healthier communities, we all benefit—lower healthcare costs, higher productivity, and a better quality of life.

• Financial Security: Building financial stability is crucial, especially for those living paycheck to paycheck. We're investing in workforce development, financial education, affordable housing, and emergency assistance to create pathways out of poverty. Our goal is to help more families achieve the financial stability they deserve.

• Youth Opportunity: Our future depends on the success of our young people. We're focused on making sure more children are reading at grade level by third grade, graduating from high school, and preparing for successful futures. By investing in education, particularly for those below the ALICE threshold, we're setting the stage for a brighter future for all of us.

• Community Resiliency: Life throws challenges our way, but we're committed to ensuring our communities can bounce back. By supporting crisis response services, disaster relief, and recovery projects, we're helping to prepare for and recover from unexpected challenges.

Nonprofits in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties can apply for funding through two main streams: "Change Lives" for programs that directly impact individuals, and "Build Stronger Communities" for initiatives focused on broader, systemic change. All the details and timelines are available on our website at uwsm.org/agenda-process.

We can't do this alone. Our work with impact partners across the region is only possible with your support. Whether you're a resident who cares about your community, a donor who wants to make a difference, or a business leader looking to give back, your contributions are essential. Every donation, no matter the size, helps us create lasting change. Together, we can build a future where everyone in Southwest Michigan can thrive.

For more information, and to see how you can get involved, visit uwsm.org/agenda. Let's make a difference together.

Ribbon Cuttings Galore!

September is coming in hot with 5 different ribbon cutting celebrations on the calendar so far! While two of those took place earlier this week, we'll still recap them later in this column so you can stay in the know!

Those looking to channel their inner Chuck Norris, or simply to enhance your overall fitness will want to join us on Monday, September 16th from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. at The Lab, Martial Arts and Fitness at 4410 N. Roosevelt Dr. Unit C in Stevensville! Offering Jiu-Jitsu, kickboxing, wrestling techniques, and full body functional workouts, they'll help you build your confidence to take on even the most mundane of daily tasks. With over 24 years of martial arts expertise, owner Johnathon Scott created The Lab, (FKA Legion Fighting Alliance), for adults and kids of any and all athletic and fitness levels alike.

Stop in for an open mat for training, a chance to explore the new gym, along with refreshments, including Pizza Hut! They'll be giving away a one-year membership, free shirts, and hosting fun training classes throughout the day. Everyone is welcome—no matter your affiliation or gym.

September's Business After Hours on Thursday the 19th from 5:00 - 7:00 p.m. takes us to Hungerford CPAs + Advisors in St. Joseph, with a special ribbon cutting ceremony included! This locally owned and independent CPA firm provides a full service of accounting, business advisory, tax return prep and planning, auditing, financial planning, wealth management, business valuations, and IT advisory services. It's the same great company you've come to know, with a new name and look!

With over 80 years in the West Michigan community, Hungerford has withstood the challenges of many economic cycles and the ever-changing regulatory environment. Hungerford has been a driving force, contributing to the successes of their clients and thriving on delivering exceptional solutions with support from their dynamic and talented team.

Next up, we're heading to The Aesthetics Lounge and Spa in St. Joe on Thursday, September 26th at 4:30 p.m. This is extra special because it's also their 2nd anniversary celebration! When they originally opened as The Aesthetics Lounge & Spa, they didn't have the opportunity to do a proper ribbon cutting, so after joining the Chamber earlier this year, we knew we wanted to celebrate them properly!

Everyone there is incredibly excited to commemorate this milestone with their cherished community and invite you to take part in the festivities, reflect on their journey, and anticipate a bright future ahead! Bring along your friends and family to relish the vibrant atmosphere, mingle with new acquaintances, and create lasting memories. You'll find all the fun at 431 Upton Drive, St. Joseph!

Earlier this week we celebrated with D'Agostino's Navajo Bar & Grille, which is a staple in Bridgman and Lake Township's longstanding history. They recently completed a chic renovation that pays tribute to that history while adding modern and fresh aspects. The ribbon cutting was hosted by the Greater Bridgman Chamber & Growth Alliance, in partnership with the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber on Thursday the 5th and was a great celebration of the time and effort Dana, Joan, and Toni D'Agostino have put into this local legend. What remains the same is their promise to provide a great experience to all guests, whether they are locals, travelers, long time customers, families, or those enjoying the restaurant or lounge for the first time. You MUST see for yourself; you won't be disappointed!

On Friday the 6th we welcomed Southwest Michigan Dermatology to St. Joseph with their newest location at 2570 Niles Rd. This marks their first in Berrien County, adding to their outlying clinics in Paw Paw, Allegan, Three Rivers. They also have their own Laser & Skin Care Center located next door to their primary medical practice in Portage.

In 1998 Dr. David Semler and Dr. Craig Mohney opened Southwest Michigan Dermatology in Portage. Since then, they have been joined by Dr. Jessica Liggett, Dr. Ryan Jones, Dr. Jeffrey Globerson, Dr. Stephanie Freels, and multiple physician assistants and their staff. You're welcome to connect directly with them, learn more about services offered at the St. Joseph location including medical and cosmetic dermatology, and hear what makes Southwest Michigan Dermatology different.

Interested in learning more about upcoming events or how you can get involved and help business thrive, talent reside, and create a quality of life is second to none? Visit our website at smrchamber.com or reach out to me directly: sspoonholtz@smrchamber.com or 269-932-4040.

Family Ties, a Game for the Guys, & a Spanish Wise(acre)

My entire family clan just enjoyed a wonnnderfulllllll gathering!: 13 people; nine adults (if you include me); five sons (the full quotient!); two daughters-in-law; four grandkids. Each of which I dandled on my knee! Well, grandkids got dandled, not the others.

We gathered in Chicago, chosen for a couple key reasons. One was that Nos. 1+2 sons were "in the area," from Carmel, Indiana, and Cape Cod, visiting No. 1+2's mom in Bridgman, Michigan.

This fortuitously coincided with a Chicago Cubs homestand, which has been slowly, steadily, patiently tractor-beaming me and my boys for a couple years now. See, in recent years the sidewalks outside Wrigley Field were prettified with commemorative bricks, and a couple Christmases ago, my boys got one! So getting all of us to a Cubs to find it was - to paraphrase Cubs radio announcer Pat Hughes - a hefty, Hefty, HEFTY priority on this trip.

The journey from home to Wrigley was filled with delightful moments: A one-night stay with No. 1 son, where No. 3 son joined us, from Nashville; a visit with one of my brothers in Muncie, Indiana; an overnight at my older sister's - wait! Not "older," strike that! Uhhh, let's say my "born-before-me sister." She lives in Valparaiso, Indiana, which everyone calls Valpo, though honestly, isn't slightly more a propos to say "Valpa"?

Our Muncie interlude included lunch at a place called Cammack Station. It's a converted garage/auto-repair joint crammed with old gas station signage and memorabilia. I had a pork tenderloin sandwich, because my born-before-me sister had texted "Have the pork tenderloin" followed by three exclamation points. And my oldest--- uhhh, born-before-me-and-my-Muncie-brother brother had texted "If you don't have the pork tenderloin, you'll lose all claim to Hoosierdom!" Oy! I couldn't bear that!

Leaving Cammack Station, I suggested to my wife and No.3 son a tiny detour to see the gravesite of James Dean, in Fairmount, Indiana, where he spent most of his youth. Slowly, steadily, patiently, the idea tractor-beamed them into its orbit and they said "Yes."

At the cemetery, her interest piqued, my wife rapidly, immediately and impatiently tractor-beamed me and No. 3 into visiting the James Dean Museum in Fairmount. I may write seven or eight future columns about this.

We eventually made it to Valpa, and treated my sister to supper at a treasured Valpa eatery, Don Quijote. (Calm down Spellcheck! - that's how the owner, who's FROM Spain, chose to spell it!)

The menu is vast, and we munched our way through a variety of tasty tapas. My wife speaks fluent Spanish, and chatted at length with our server, who was from Cuba. Then the owner stopped to chat - in Spanish - with my wife, a conversation he concluded with a gallant kiss of her hand.

After that, we were served free samples of the owner's specially-made port wine. I tried thanking him in broken Spanish, but I biffed and called the beverage "porta." He grimaced and corrected me: "Portolo." Then he spoke more Spanish to my wife. And kissed her hand AGAIN.

What'd he say? He suggested she dump me and run away with him. Oh, and that he was revoking my claim to Hoosierdom.

P.S. - We found the brick! And the Cubs won!

Siriano indicated that having “new everything” inside the historic structure is right in line with what the new owners have planned.

“Their intention is to make a luxury hotel even grander than it was in the beginning.”

Siriano said he was not at liberty to publicly disclose the buyer’s identity. He would say the buyer has looked at properties in the area previously and come close to purchasing.

“They discovered the area by finding out about the Silver Beach Hotel. They wanted to buy (the hotel) back when it was available for a reasonable price after they had water freezing and pipes busting. They put an offer in and somehow, they didn’t get the hotel. That’s when they started looking hard into this area and they absolutely loved the (Mary’s Hotel) structure.”

As curator of the House of David Museum in St. Joseph, Siriano is closely connected to the House of David history.

“They invited me to kind of be an overseer of things moving forward once they get it off the ground and maybe even a chance to put the House of David Museum in the building at some point. But it’s exciting for me because I’ve been in the dang thing for ten plus years, with lots of vision but not the financial wherewithal. Hopefully we can really, really make it spectacular.”

Siriano anticipates action to get underway after the formal closing, which he expects within the next two months. When the time is appropriate, he said community members will be invited to bring their ideas forward for what to put in the main floor.

“They’re going to invite the community in to put retail establishments on the main floor just like they had originally. So, anybody that wants to get in on the ground floor dream work, just contact me and I can get them in touch with (the buyer), because they definitely want to get it filled up quickly.”

The aim is for the new owners to secure the required approvals and start work shortly after the closing date. Siriano said that work could be evident in the community later this year.

“They’ll start renovating, they’ll start their abatements, they’re going to work with the city of Benton Harbor to do some facade restoration and just long-term planning. So there’s a lot that’s going to go on. They have a big team of contractors that work for them that are going to move from Maryville, Indiana, to Benton Harbor to make this happen.”

the fundraising goal. Any contribution at this point is appreciated.

"Our overall goal, our max goal, is $1.25 million and we are currently at 89% of the way there," Adams said. "So, we're very close. We're working on a few things at the moment and hope to have some exciting news to share coming up."

The current playground at the beach is more than 30 years old. The new playground will be more accessible.

Adams says the county secured an $800,000 grant to get most of the needed funds, and the community has come out in support of the effort to get it near its goal.

"We have over a hundred people or organizations that have donated in one way or another. We've applied for a few grants, and we were blessed to receive some of those and we've had individual donors as well."

Plans are already in the works to get construction started as Adams says the county makes the material purchases and lines up contractors. They're expecting to break ground around October 1. Adams says if the fundraising goal isn't reached by the time construction begins, then some aspects of the project could be slightly scaled back. However, as new donations come in, they're adding more features to the project list.

Anyone can contribute through the Berrien Community Foundation.

Dave Says On One Condition...

Dear Dave,
How do you feel about people taking money out of savings to pay off credit cards? I have an emergency fund in place, like you recommend, and a savings account. I also have about $5,000 in credit card debt. What's your take on this?

Kellye
Dear Kellye,
Honestly, I'd rather see you pick up a side job nights or weekends. That's not a ton of debt, and you could have it paid off in just two or three months with a decent part-time job. Plus, it'd keep your savings intact.

But if you're determined to do it your way, I'll give you a couple of guidelines. Number one, don't wipe out your savings to make this happen. The second? Cut up the credit cards, close the accounts and never go into debt again.

Now, whatever you do, here's something I want you to understand. And I need you to really hear me when I say this, ok? The credit cards aren't the problem. The debt you've racked up on the credit cards isn't really the problem, either. Both of those are just symptoms of buying things you don't need, with money you don't have, in order to make yourself feel better momentarily, or impress other people.

Kellye, you won't find the real problem until you take a good, long, honest look in the mirror. It's you. You're the problem. Whether it's because of overspending, a lack of income or just simply being disorganized, you (and your behavior with money) are the problem.

I'm not trying to be mean, but do you get what I'm saying? Being successful with your finances is 80% behavior, and only 20% knowledge. Your everyday habits and mindset go a long, long way in determining whether you'll live from paycheck-to-paycheck—and in debt—or gain control of your money and become a financial success.

Being broke and weighed down by debt is normal in today's culture. If you're not already doing this, and it sounds like you're not, I want you to start living on a written, monthly budget. I've got a feeling you don't know where your money's going right now. Doing this, and giving every dollar of your income a job to do before the month begins, is the best way I know of to get control of your money.

Because if you don't, a lack of money and planning will control you!

— Dave

Tim Brown's life completely changed on Sept. 11, 2001. Not only did he survive being at Ground Zero when the World Trade Center Twin Towers were struck and collapsed, he would begin his personal journey of grief and loss with the death of 93 friends.

A retired, decorated 20-year New York City Fire Department firefighter, Tim was Supervisor of Field Operations for the New York Office of Emergency Management on 9/11. He was at Ground Zero assisting in the emergency response as the devastation unfolded around him.

During his presentation, "Truth in History, Patience in Grief," Tim shares his powerful story of survival and loss and the heroes and horrors of that day.

Take Courage

[Jesus] saw the disciples straining at the oars, because the wind was against them. Shortly before dawn he went out to them, walking on the lake. He was about to pass by them, but when they saw him walking on the lake, they thought he was a ghost. They cried out, because they all saw him and were terrified. Immediately he spoke to them and said, "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid." ~ Mark 6:48-50

Life is exhausting. We spend so many hours working to provide for our families or trying to pay off debt. We race around to all the various activities and commitments the family has during the week. We stress about everything from money to time and our health. We try so hard to do our best, but inevitably, we find ourselves overstretched and worn out. We feel alone and isolated. We feel like we are rowing against the storm and not making any headway.

What impact does this all have on our thinking? When life piles on and we are overwhelmed, we don't think clearly. We make false assumptions. We believe wrong things about God: we believe he is distant, that he isn't there at all, that he is someone or something different than he actually is. In their moment of stress and isolation, the disciples mistakenly assumed that Jesus was a ghost. Rather than looking to him as someone to trust and reach out to, in their exhaustion, they mistook him to be someone they should fear.

In moments like this, Jesus comes to us just as he did to them. He says: "Take courage! It is I. Do not be afraid." Take heart, for the One who walks on water and controls the storms. is the same One who is in control of your life. This One is none other than our Savior, Jesus, who lived and died and rose again for us to conquer sin, death, and hell. In doing this important work, Jesus forgives our sins and gives us heaven. He makes us God's children through faith. He has ascended into heaven and is ruling all things for our good. He is in control. The Lord is with us whether we think so or not.

Prayer: Dear Lord Jesus, be with me always. Protect me and save me. Amen.
