Outdoor Observations by Tom Berg

The Elusive Red-Eyed Vireo

There are many birds that are often heard but rarely seen. One of those is the elusive Red-Eyed Vireo. These birds are a dull olive-green color above with a white breast. Their head coloration helps with identification – they often have a bright red eye and a dark eye-stripe, with a distinctive white stripe above the eye. The top of their head is a grayish-brown color.

Red-eyed vireos are slightly smaller than a sparrow, and weigh less than an ounce. Their relatively long beak has a small hook at the tip which they use to tear apart large prey like oversized caterpillars and big beetles and cicadas. They also use it to help open different fruits that they eat, especially on their wintering grounds in the Amazon basin in South America.

During the spring, red-eyed vireos fly north and breed throughout much of the USA, including Indiana. In the summer they hunt for food high up in the forest canopy. Caterpillars and a variety of insects and spiders are their normal summertime prey. Small fruits like raspberries, blackberries, choke cherries, dogwood berries and others are also eaten when they are in season. During the winter in South America they eat fruit almost exclusively.

Unlike the hyper warblers that seem to be on the move constantly as they search for insects, red-eyed vireos tend to move more slowly and deliberately through the trees and tree branches. As mentioned, one of their favorite snacks is a nice, juicy caterpillar, and caterpillars are not known for their speed! Like all vireos, however, red-eyed vireos are quite agile as can be seen by the bird in this photo. This red-eyed vireo was hanging upside down while holding on to an oak leaf!

We're Celebrating

Women in BUSINESS

With a Special Section of Working Women!

(L to R) Renee Williams #4 Sales, Tina Jackson #7 Sales, Shari Foreman #10 Sales, Debbie Hodnett #9 Graphic Artist, Ginny Fleming #14 Sales and Jackie Kubiak #12 Graphic Artist

There is no doubt in our minds that the family business is both the foundation of our country and it's hope for the future. Our family business helps businesses of all sizes, from one man or one woman entrepreneurial ventures launched from home to 4th generation businesses. These family businesses all have one thing in common. The family has everything on the line. A family often starts a business that has grown companies out of a passion, someone had a dream and ventured forth with that business. Next thing they know, the family became involved, sometimes one at a time, sometimes jumping in en-masse! Then years later, they wonder where the time went.

When people love what they do and love the people they do it with, work, no matter how hard, feels like play. Our business is 24 years old now, but all of us have been together since birth. We have gone through weddings and births, deaths and graduations, everything that goes on in real families.

We have traditions. We have love and joy and sorrow. We laugh and we cry together, we band together in difficult times and celebrate each others wins. That alone makes it all worth while. We believe the family business is the foundation of this democracy.

We know all of your family businesses have ingenuity, commitment and integrity. It makes us proud to be a family business and it makes us proud to do business with other family businesses.

Gardening Tips

by Jackie Kubiak #12

Planting in September

Some fast growing fall crops like lettuce and radishes can be planted into late September,

Plant Now beets, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, carrots, cauliflower, celery, fava beans, kale, kohlrabi, leeks, both head and leaf lettuce, mustard greens, onions, parsley, peas, potatoes, radishes, rutabagas, spinach, Swiss chard, and turnips.

Dig In! Add perennials and spring-blooming (fall-planted) bulbs to your garden. Perennials planted in the fall can establish healthy roots, resulting in bigger growth and earlier blooms in the first season. Bulbs like Tulips, Daffodils, Allium, and more need the overwintering period in order to bloom in the spring.

Encourage Annuals to Self-Seed Stop deadheading in September and let the flowers go to seed. Annual Poppies, Zinnias, Sunflowers, and more will drop their seeds and, in the right conditions, can come back next year. The seeds also provide a treat to feed birds.

Clean up Plants as they Fade Cut back any perennial that is diseased and dispose of the trimmings in the trash, rather than your compost pile, to prevent the spread of the disease. Cut back yellowed foliage on perennials such as Daylilies, Iris, Peonies, Bee Balm, and more.

Divide and Conquer Perennials that Spread. Dig up and divide Daylilies, Iris, Hostas, and more in September if they have become overcrowded or outgrown the space.

Please Shop Local, see ya next month!

I will be retiring as of Thanksgiving of this year. Thankful for 50 years in the beauty business. Meeting so many wonderful people and making so many friends.

Growing up in a greenhouse, Nicole always loved flowers. She would design with flowers that fell to the ground at the family greenhouse. After getting married and having kids, she pursued a business in floristry out of the basement of her house. Nicole designed school dance flowers and weddings during her kids naptime.

After outgrowing the basement studio, Nicole with her husband Luke, took a leap of faith and turned an old automotive repair shop into a contemporary floral and gift shop.

Sweet Pea Designs specializes in contemporary floral designs for weddings, funerals, holidays, school dances and special occasions. The gift shop includes a wide selection of inventory making the perfect gift for anyone. Many gifts are from businesses local to the midwest.

Be sure to check us out for all your floral and gift needs!

Benefits of Cycling, Plus Safety Tips

Always follow traffic laws. Use caution while going through intersections and busy areas, even if you have the right of way. Invest in a quality helmet and any other protective gear you may need.

Avoid wearing any loose clothing that could get caught in your bike chains. Use bike lights and reflective gear for nighttime cycling or early morning cycling before the sun comes up. If bike-commuting a long way to work, consider bringing a change of clothes to freshen up.

Inclement weather can also be an obstacle. On days when it's not possible to cycle outside, you can ride a stationary bike or choose another activity.

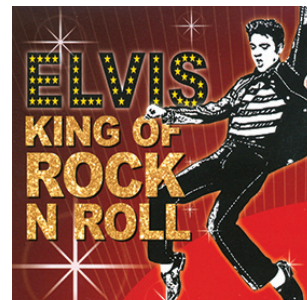

If cycling is your mode of transportation, invest in rain and cold weather gear and have a backup transportation plan for when conditions are unsafe for riding.

For extended daytime rides, use sunscreen on all exposed skin. Reapply every 2 hours, especially if you're sweating. Wear UV-protective sunglasses and a hat. Consider investing in UV-protective clothing.

Cycling is an enjoyable way to stay healthy and in touch with the world around you!

THIS FLAG OF HONOR IS DISPLAYED AT THE ROSELAWN AMERICAN LEGION, IT HAS ALL THE NAMES OF THOSE WHO PERISHED ON 9-11-01

09.11.01

This month we remember the events of September 11, 2001 as if they happened yesterday. On this day of mourning and remembrance, we pause to pay tribute to the police, firefighters and first responders who made the ultimate sacrifice to save others and to all of the September 11th victims whose lives were cut short.

Show us your Patriotism We are asking our readers to submit their favorite photo with old glory waving proudly. It can be of people, places, family, etc. We may publish it! The Only Hope For Our Troubled World

Everyone asks, "What is this world coming to?" For centuries mankind has struggled to find solutions to the world's problems. But, even with increased knowledge, situations are too complex to solve the heartaches of wars, hunger, hatred, drugs, etc. Who can fix it?

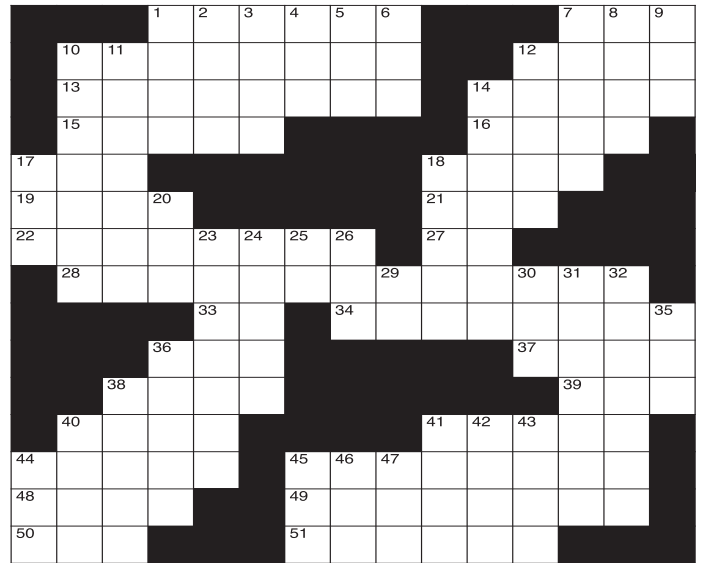

Our only hope can be in God's wisdom and power to correct ALL man's ills. He WILL fulfill His gracious restitution promises. Contact us for your free English or Spanish bilingual copy, or visit our website to read God's answer to What Is This World Coming To?
