Harbor Shores earns "biggest honor" a golf facility can earn

The Golf Club at Harbor Shores has added another honor to a long list of recognition during its 12 years of life. The Michigan Golf Course Association has named Harbor Shores its 'Golf Course of the Year' for 2024. The group is made up of the top courses around the state and annually honors one of its members for outstanding achievement.

According to the association, the award honors a member course that meets four criteria: Unique characteristics of the course; exceptional quality of ownership and management; outstanding contribution to its community; and significant contribution to the game.

Josh Doxtator is the General Manager of The Golf Course at Harbor Shores:

"I think this is one of the biggest honors a golf facility can receive in the state of Michigan," said Josh Doxtator, PGA General Manager at the resort. "Harbor Shores has been the catalyst for the community and honors like this continue to prove that point and tell our story."

Harbor Shores has gained recognition on several fronts over the last decade. As a Jack Nicklaus Signature design, it is automatically in the discussion for 'Best of' lists of various criteria among courses across the country.

As a public course (vs. a private country club) it stands apart from many courses that it may otherwise be compared to. If an everyday golfer is willing to reserve a tee time and pay the greens fee, he or she can play Harbor Shores, unlike many of the top-rated courses to which it is compared, because most of the others are private, members-only.

A Battle of Wills

*Submit yourselves, then, to God.
James 4:7*

The parent-child relationship in this broken world is a fairly easy one to summarize—it's a battle of wills. A parent wants one thing; the child wants something else. And so it is that from a very early age, toddlers begin to utilize and perfect one of their favorite words: "No!" Mommy or Daddy has directed them to do this or that, but their little ones have a completely different idea, a different will, and they resist. And the battle ensues.

Good parenting involves training a child to submit to your will willingly. It's a valuable lesson to learn. But for children to be willing to do that, they must learn from experience that their parents' will is good for them. They need to appreciate that Mom and Dad love them and have their children's best interests in mind. As children begin to recognize this, they'll be more willing to surrender their will because they see how it results in their blessing.

It's no different for the children of God. By nature, we don't trust our heavenly Father. We're convinced that our way of doing things is better than his. We're forever tempted to engage him in a battle of wills.

But how could that ever turn out well for us? Consider the many advantages our heavenly Father has over us, not the least of which is his ability to know the future and control it for our good. More than that, when we consider what he wants for us and all people—that he "wants all people to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth" (1 Timothy 2:4)—why would we ever think that his will for us could somehow turn out badly? And when we consider his overwhelming love for us—that he "did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all" (Romans 8:32)—how could we ever imagine that our will is superior to his? God's will is always accomplished, and his will for us is good.

Simply put, this is one battle of the will we should want to lose because it results in our eternal blessing.

Prayer: Dear Jesus, help me daily to submit to your good and gracious will for me. Amen.

Carpet roll-ends offer maximum value –WITH the right carpet pad.

Leading carpet manufacturers offer a way to get you a top-quality carpet at a reasonable price. It's called a roll-end. When a manufacturer nears the end of a production run (with about 40 to 50 feet of carpet left), they create a carpet roll-end. Typically, it will carpet two to three rooms.

Often a roll-end is the final yards of a high demand carpet with the next run set to go immediately. Sometimes it's a lack of a specific yarn for a pattern; so, when it's back in stock the pattern is back on the looms. Roll-ends make production more efficient. Manufacturers sell them to reserve valuable storage space for larger finished rolls.

"Our roll-ends come from Shaw Carpets," said Jennifer Smith, owner of FloorArt. "They make miles of carpet each day and easily accommodate our specific roll-end orders. Normally, we order 25% color carpet and 75% neutrals – beige, gray, mushroom, greige. We specify low-pattern loops which are twice as strong as non-looped carpets; cushy plush carpet; tight weaves for high traffic and in tones to fit our dune and forest region. It's higher quality carpet at a more attractive price."

An eight-ounce pad is just right.

The industry calls the best, cleanest pads "white pad". It's assembled from new material in the same fabrication run. Any bumps are popcorn kernel size, soft and separated so you can't feel them under a good carpet.

"We stock eight- to eight-and-one-half pound density pads," Jennifer said. "Denser pad resists energy loss and reduces traffic noise for a quieter home. All our pads are hypoallergenic and ozone friendly. (No CFCs)." A low-cost, light pad can be re-bonded of recycled materials from various sources, some not even recycled carpet pad. They have lumps creating an uneven surface you feel as you walk across the carpet.

"Our in-stock pads are of memory foam to bounce back from traffic. Each is Spillgard coated to protect your carpet. The worst pads don't have Spillgard – and who never spills anything?"

Spillgard gives you days before a spill penetrates the pad, enough time to clean the carpet. Cheapest pads often have no barrier at all and won't stop wine, soda, pet problems, etc. so there's too little time to make a save.

For atop concrete basements a Visco elastic memory foam pad is important. It has a breathable Spillgard coating to let the concrete breathe and avoid a stinky basement!

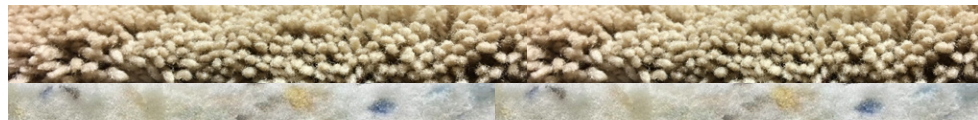

Proper pad may be 50- to 60-cents more but the added comfort and protection makes it a smart investment.

"To be proud of your floor, insist on an eight-ounce density pad for your high-quality carpet roll-end and create YOUR room," Jennifer said.

Be proud of your floor.

Dave Says

You've Already Paid for It

Dear Dave,

We've been following your plan for a while. We're debt-free, except for our home, and we have six months of expenses set aside in our emergency fund. Recently, I lost my job. I'm luckier than some, because I received a generous severance package from my previous employer, plus my wife still has a good job. My parents always raised me to take care of things myself and not rely on others. I suppose it's because of this I feel a little guilty about filing for unemployment compensation. Do you think there's anything morally wrong with accepting unemployment benefits?

Brandt

Dear Brandt,

I really appreciate your self-sufficient attitude. I don't know what happened at your last job, but I've got a feeling you're a hard worker and a decent guy. I'm sorry you and your wife are having to deal with this kind of situation.

The Social Security system in this country is a mathematical failure. But that doesn't mean I'm not going to take my money when I deserve it. The government took it from me in the first place, so I don't have a problem with accepting something I've already paid into.

Now, I'll throw out a warning here. Sometimes when people start receiving unemployment benefits, it causes them to take their foot off the gas. The idea that "free" money is coming in can help them rationalize sitting at home on the couch, instead of working hard to find another job and being extra careful with their finances. I'm not hearing that kind of mentality from you, though. And it's obvious you and your wife have been pretty smart with your finances.

One more thing I'd suggest is making sure you look at your severance package as survival money only. Make a strict budget and stick to it. Cut out all excess spending. That means no eating out, vacations or anything like that until you're working again and everything's back on solid ground. Right now, focus on covering your Four Walls. By that, I mean food, utilities, shelter and transportation. Feed your family, keep the electricity on, pay the mortgage and put enough gas in the car to get where you need to go.

Everyone hits a rough stretch of road in life from time to time, Brandt. But you two are in a position to handle it better than most. Just remember what got you to such a good place with your finances in the first place. The discipline muscle is already there, and it's strong. Just flex it, and it'll help get you through this and back on your feet again!

— Dave

Then, there is Harbor Shores unusual status as a 'non-profit'. After operating expenses, Harbor Shores reinvests in the course or the overall Harbor Shores project or invests in the Benton Harbor community through support of organizations like First Tee, Lake Michigan College, or scholarship programs for deserving students.

The course has been recognized nationally as the home, until recently, of the PGA Tour Champions 'KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship'. While the tournament will not return for 2026 and beyond, it helped put The Golf Course at Harbor Shores and Michigan's Great Southwest 'on the map' nationally and helped drive the residential development surrounding the golf course.

According to Travel and Tour World, the honors for Harbor Shores have been many and well deserved:

"The course has received numerous accolades, including several "Best New Course" awards in 2010. It was recognized by the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America for its environmental stewardship and, in 2023, earned a spot on Golf Digest's prestigious biennial list of America's 100 Greatest Public Courses."

Fall golf at Harbor Shores in October is available at a basic fee of $125, down from $225 in mid-Summer. For information, contact the Pro Shop at 269-927-4653

PICKLEBALL COURT EXPANSION

Pickleball enthusiasts in Southwest Michigan have a chance to play all year round now as the South Shore Health and Racquet Club has opened its new indoor courts.

The new 30,000 square foot addition took about a year to complete and gives players a unique experience, says owner Sarah Lancaster.

"We're very excited," Lancaster said. "We're just starting some of our fall leagues and play and classes. So it's fun to see returning faces of people that have been playing outdoors all summer, and then new faces for people that are checking out the new facility as well."

The $2 million project includes eight pickleball courts in addition to a lounge area and bar.

In addition to open-play sessions, tournaments, private lessons and private rentals, Lancaster says with these courts dedicated strictly to pickleball, it gives more options to community members.

"Playing on a court that maybe share court lines or a basketball court and a volleyball court and all those others, it's fine, it works but having the experience of playing on a pickleball court with the court surface that we offer and a permanent pickleball net, it really just gives you that full experience of the game of pickleball."

For more information about pickleball court rentals, contact the South Shore Health and Racquet Club at 269-429-2101.

COMMUNITY BENEFIT DINNER

Granor Farm's "Community Benefit Dinner" is a unique evening dinner experience in support of Spring Creek Horses Help Foundation. This farm-to-table experience will be held on Sunday evening, October 13, at Granor Farm's Greenhouse, located at 3520 Warren Woods Road in Three Oaks, Michigan.

As a philanthropic partner, Granor Farm connects diners with organizations devoted to improving the common good. Established in 2019, Spring Creek Horses Help Foundation brings the world of horses to local under-resourced children and adults through a comprehensive equine-assisted educational program.

While learning about horses - their behavior, how to care for them, and how to ride - participants build critical life skills like confidence, responsibility, teamwork, and empathy for animals.

The evening will begin with a discussion about the Foundation and how it connects to the region, followed by a multi-course meal. Every meal is unique to that moment in time, featuring vegetables and grains grown by Granor and other ingredients from the region's farming neighbors.

For tickets, go to granorfarm.com/tickets. If you have questions, contact Alison at algrosse@yahoo.com or text her at 269-756-3894.

CASA of Southwest Michigan Moves to New Benton Harbor Location

Providing a voice to our youngest community members, Court Appointed Special Advocates of Southwest Michigan (CASA), is proud to announce the opening of their new office located at 53 W. Wall St., Benton Harbor. A special ribbon cutting ceremony will be held Wednesday, October 16th at 3:00 p.m. with the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber.

Founded in June 2016, CASA of Southwest Michigan is part of a national network of over 950 CASA programs across the United States. Their mission is to provide highly trained community volunteers to advocate for the best interests of abused and neglected children in foster care. Since inception, they have trained over 120 volunteers and served more than 325 children across Berrien and St. Joseph Counties. However, there is still much work to be done, as every year approximately 200 children enter foster care in Berrien County due to extreme abuse and neglect.

"CASA of Southwest Michigan plays an indispensable role in our community by ensuring that vulnerable children have a dedicated advocate in their corner during some of the most challenging times of their lives," says Arthur Havlicek, Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber President & CEO. "Their commitment to service and justice not only impacts the children they serve, but also strengthens the entire child welfare system."

Relocating to a nearby space, allows the CASA team to be near the Berrien County Courthouse and the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) office, allowing their team to better serve the community and meet the needs of abused and neglected children in the foster care system.

"This milestone reflects the collective impact of our donors' enduring generosity, our supporters' passion, and our Board of Directors' strategic guidance. Their combined efforts form the bedrock of our progress," said Kate Rendell, Executive Director of CASA of Southwest Michigan.

According to the Annie E. Casey Foundation, in 2023 there were over 591 confirmed cases of child abuse and neglect in Berrien and St. Joseph Counties, and 310 children were placed in foster care. As CASA expands their efforts to serve the region, they need community support in several ways including volunteering, donations, or simply spreading awareness, every contribution makes a lasting impact on the lives of local children.

Under the CASA model, every child assigned to their program is supported by a two-person team: a dedicated CASA volunteer and a CASA volunteer coordinator. Volunteers undergo over 30 hours of pre-service training before being appointed to a child's case by a Family Court Judge. Each volunteer visits their assigned child every 7-10 days or monthly if the child is placed outside the county, ensuring that these vulnerable youth have a consistent, caring advocate who can help them navigate the complex foster care system.

Research consistently shows that children with a CASA volunteer spend less time in foster care and are more likely to find permanent homes compared to those without a CASA. Judges who work with CASA volunteers overwhelmingly agree that CASA volunteers positively influence court decisions and improve outcomes for children and families. In fact, nearly 99% of judges surveyed nationwide believe that CASA volunteers enhance their ability to make the best possible decisions regarding a child's future.

Locally speaking, CASA of Southwest Michigan's program volunteers dedicated nearly 3,000 hours to youth in foster care last year alone, providing services at an approximate cost of $1,800 per child. As an organization, their goal is to ensure that every child in need is matched with a CASA volunteer and ultimately finds a safe and permanent home.

"This relocation breathes fresh energy into our mission of equipping our dedicated volunteers, whose tireless advocacy transforms the lives of youth we're privileged to serve," Rendell added.

We hope that you'll be able to join us as we celebrate with CASA on October 16th! Remember, great things are happening in Southwest Michigan! Interested in learning more? Things That Make Me Squirrely

As you read this, I'm not sure where I am. That might sound cryptic, but it's mostly meant to emphasize that you can't read any of your complaints about this re-run of a column!

My house is smack beside a woody area, not the size of Pooh's Hundred Acre Wood, mind you, but big enough to sustain populations of creatures that you commonly think of as tree dwellers, such as chickadees, wrens, Greenpeace protestors, and of course, squirrels.

It's common for big gray squirrels to saunter around our yard, sometimes behaving like responsible citizens, but more often trying to figure new ways to irritate me by raiding my bird feeders. No. 5 son (age 15) considers one squirrel in particular to be the largest and funniest animal that has ever set foot on our property, if you don't count the guy who fixed our air conditioner last week.

No. 4 son (age 19) says I should stop the bird feeder raiding by catching the squirrels, which is a terrible idea because they can turn one into a werewolf – this happened in a movie I saw when I was 7 years old; actor Oliver Reed kisses a bloody squirrel he kills while hunting. Next thing you know, he's as hairy and scary looking as the air conditioner repairman!

Here are a few other squirrely moments I recall:

• Several years ago, when we lived in Michigan, No. 4 son and I joined my No. 2 big brother at a Purdue football game in West Lafayette, Indiana.

During the coin toss, we noticed people looking and pointing toward one of the end zones. Striding confidently across the goal line and onto the field was... a squirrel.

It casually hopped the entire length of the field, pausing only to ogle the cheerleaders. When it reached the opposite end zone, the crowd erupted in a huge cheer. No. 4, who was 7 years old at the time, laughed his head off.

Just before the opening kickoff, the squirrel – high on the crowd's adulation – started back down the field, reaching the end zone again to raucous cheers. After a brief rest with the band, where it kept time to "Hail Purdue!" on a snare drum, it made one more run to paydirt. It was finally shooed out of the stadium, making the day's final score Purdue 59, Ball State 7, Squirrel 18 (it missed all three extra-point attempts).

• Over the years that we lived in south-west Michigan, there were growing numbers of black squirrels making their way into the region. I assume there are more and more now? But... why would squirrels sport black coats? Wouldn't it make them sitting ducks (if I may mix species) in the winter for predators? Maybe. But scientists say black squirrels stay warmer in cold weather, because, as everyone knows, they have a "nonshivering thermogenesis capacity 11% higher than gray squirrels." (There's a career for your kids to aspire to: Researching the shivering habits of small mammals.)

• Once, at work, a vendor to my company gave everyone in my department an animal-shaped cookie cutter, filled with delectable milk chocolate. My colleagues got cutters shaped like stallions, bulls, eagles and such. Mine was a squirrel. I kept it for a while. Until I caught it stealing from my bird feeders.
