and to explore upcoming webinars.

In addition to the pheasant hunting webinar, the DNR is also addressing common concerns among deer hunters. Many hunters hesitate to harvest does with fawns, fearing for the young animals' survival. However, research indicates that by the time hunting seasons begin, fawns are typically old enough to thrive independently. Most fawns, born in late spring, can be fully weaned by 10 weeks old and are capable of normal development even if orphaned.

The DNR emphasizes that harvesting does is crucial for maintaining healthy deer populations. Hunters can check antlerless harvest regulations in their specific deer permit area using the interactive DPA map on the DNR website at https://www. dnr.state.mn.us/hunting/deer/ map.html.

Full circle completed as Brekken's returns to vibrant downtown Brainerd

By ANN SCHWARTZ In 1954, Brekken's began selling menswear in downtown Brainerd. They were located at the corner of 6th St. and Laurel, where the Coco Moon coffee shop is now.

Downtown Brainerd saw many changes when at first the Old (East Mall) opened in the late 1960s, followed by the Westgate Mall, anchored by K-Mart, in the 1980s. Brekken's saw the light and moved to the mall for 40 years.

Now,, Isaac Brekken, the third generation of the family to operate the store, has returned to downtown Brainerd and opened up in an historic building, the EL Menk building in downtown Brainerd.

The iconic red building with the white trim still houses the jewelry store. But where Brekken's is open now, it was once You Trinket, and before that, the Bead Box. And for those with long memories, it is the old Scott's Five and Dime Store from the 1960s and 1970s.

"It's just a beautiful old building," said Issac, looking around at the pressed tin

One of the earlier tenants refurbished the space. He is adding historic touches, such as wood-grained doors that were yet to be installed on the dressing room.

The store is tastefully designed with men and women's name-brand clothing and shoes. Uggs footwear is a best seller.

"I lived in Vegas for 20 years, working as a news

Women of Today Pumpkin Patch fun

Autumn winds may have been blustery, but they didn't deter families from enjoying a fun-filled day at Aitkin's Women of Today Pumpkin Patch on October 13 held at the city park. Face painting was a highlight for many children, who eagerly transformed into whimsical characters as they donned vibrant designs. Ann Schwartz photos

READER RIBBETS Minnesotans deserve transparency

Friends and neighbors,

Minnesotans will see a Constitutional Amendment on their 2024 ballots which pertains to the Environment and Natural Resources Trust Fund (ENRTF). The question posed to voters will be:

"Shall the Minnesota Constitution be amended to protect drinking water sources and the water quality of lakes, rivers, and streams; conserve wildlife habitat and natural areas; improve air quality; and expand access to parks and trails by extending the transfer of proceeds from the state-operated lottery to the environment and natural resources trust fund, and to dedicate the proceeds for these purposes?"

As it currently stands, 40% of Minnesota's lottery proceeds go toward the ENRTF fund. The Legislative Citizens Commission on Minnesota Resources (LCCMR) approves those chosen projects. This amendment would reauthorize the process for 25 years - a drastic change from the usual 10 years – and increase the cap on the amount of funds that can be spent every biennium from 5.5% to 7%. While the language sounds wonderful, the implementation is very problematic for two reasons: it would remove the legislature from the decision-making process and overhaul how the funds are allocated, neither of which are explained in the ballot question language.

meets to dedicate ENRTF funds to specific projects, and the legislature

Removing legislative oversight over ENRTF funds would make it hard for your elected lawmakers to adjust or redirect funds if necessary and would remove the voice of the people from the equation. It would put all the power in the hands of unelected, unaccountable bureaucrats. Additionally, the new allocation process would exclude critical local projects aimed at improving water quality - all projects that should be funded through this program

As with many of the Legislative initiatives Minnesota has witnessed over the last two years, this is yet another extreme measure to remove the voice of the people and hand the reins over to appointed bureaucrats with their own agenda.

When this ballot measure came before the legislature, I voted no. Minnesotans deserve transparency in the project selection process, and the way this measure is written, it would only limit public input and remove oversight over taxpayer dollars. If the amendment does not pass, the Trust Fund would remain; however, the money generated from the lottery would then be directed to the general fund for the legislature to allocate.

Important Tax Reminder

As a reminder, if the June flooding or storms prevented you or your business from filing your taxes on time, you can request a penalty abatement to get more time to file. Eligible taxpayers in Itasca County who had MN tax returns or payments due from June 16-Jul 4 have until November 1, 2024 to request an abatement to avoid penalties or interest. More information on how to request a penalty abatement can he found here

Mille Lacs Indian Museum event

There will be a presentation at the Mille Lacs Indian Museum and Trading Post on Friday, October 25 at 7:00 p.m. with author Bruce White, who will share the compelling story of the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe and their steadfast resistance to challenges surrounding the Treaty of 1855. This treaty granted the band thousands of acres for their permanent home, and their journey to uphold it is one of resilience and determination. Bruce White, a seasoned historian with over 40 years of experience in researching Native history across Minnesota and North America, brings his extensive knowledge to this discussion. He has authored expert reports that have played critical roles in court cases regarding treaties and laws affecting Native communities. His latest book, They Would Not Be Moved: The Enduring Struggle of the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe to Keep Their Reservation, offers a detailed account of this ongoing struggle.

Attendees will gain valuable insights from White's extensive research and firsthand accounts.
