TIPS TO ACE THE INTERVIEW AND LAND THE JOB

KNOW YOUR SKILLS AND STRENGTHS

Be able to talk about your strengths, most proud accomplishments, areas of interest, personal values, areas for development.

2

RESEARCH, RESEARCH, RESEARCH

Research the company, the position and your interviewer to be able to talk about them in-depth during the interview.

3

MASTER THE PHONE INTERVIEW

Enunciate clearly, talk slowly and go to a quiet place where you can concentrate and listen well.

PRESENT YOURSELF WELL

First impressions are formed by 7% of what you say, 38% of your eloquence and confidence, 55% how you dress, act and walk through the door.

PREPARE QUESTIONS TO ASK

Interviewing is a two-way street. What is important for you to know about the workplace, role, team? Be sure to ask those important questions.

PREPARE YOUR ANSWERS

Your answers need to prove your skills and knowledge, aptitude for success in the role, and personality "fit" in the company.

7

USE THE S.T.A.R METHOD

A good answer to behavioral questions includes stating the situation, task, actions, result.

8

ASK FOR THE JOB

Examples: Do you have any remaining concerns? What are the next steps? How do you see me fitting in with your company?

9

FOLLOW UP

Be sure to get your thank you note out in less than 24 hours. The sooner the better. If things drag out, check in periodically.

Patricia Carpenter, age 92, passed away peacefully on Oct. 12, 2024 at Niagara Hospice House. She was born Jan. 5, 1932 in Middleport to the late Harold and Theresa (McNally) Austin. Pat was a loving Mother, Sister, Grandmother and Great-Grandmother. She adored her family and thoroughly enjoyed spending time with them especially at Christmas. Seeing everyone together brought her so much joy. As a young woman, Pat went to night school to become a beautician. She opened Pat's Beauty Salon out of her home and operated that for 50+ years. She had plenty of good conversations and gossip with her regular customers. Pat took pride in working in the cafeteria for Roy-Hart Elementary School. She couldn't wait to go to work everyday so she could see and help the kids. If their lunchbox was dirty, she would clean it. If a student didn't have lunch money, she made sure they had something to eat. Her hobbies included going to craft shows, traveling with her husband and collecting salt and pepper shakers. If she wasn't baking something in the kitchen she was doing some crafting. She was also an avid Bingo player and took it very seriously, but don't they all? It's a very serious business. If you asked her if she won anything tonight, she would say no, I'm on a losing streak and going to stop going pretty soon. Although, more times than not, she won money a few days prior. Pat is forever loved by all who knew her. Her love, hugs and laughter will be missed but never forgotten. In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her husband Thomas, and brother Harold "Gene" Austin. Pat is survived by her children, Susan (Michael) Bull, Thomas Carpenter III, Deborah (Michael) Carpenter-Fraass, grandchildren, Tracy Ranallo, Jeremy (JoLynn) Bull, Thomas (Jennifer) Carpenter IV, Jason (Julie Faust) Carpenter, Lindsay (late Jim Brazzell) Bull, Austin (Rebecca) Carpenter, Casey (Kevin Reid) Pollock, Breanne (Nathan) Heine, Tyler (Tori) Fraass, 11 great grandchildren, siblings, Barbara (Donald) Shelton, Sandra (Jack) Weger as well as many nieces, nephews and cousins. Pat's family will receive friends at the Bates, Wallace & Heath Funeral Home 38 State St. Middleport, NY 14105 on Mon., Oct. 21st from 4:00-7:00pm. Her funeral service will be held the next day at the funeral home at 11:00am. Interment will be in Royalton Mountain Ridge Cemetery. In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made to Niagara Hospice 4675 Sunset Dr. Lockport, NY 14094 or the Alzheimer's Association 225 N. Michigan Ave., Fl. 17, Chicago, IL 60601. Refill with Randy

by Randy LeBaron

Good morning! Grab your favorite cup. Fill it up. And let's start this week right TOGETHER!!!

Attitude is everything! This past Sunday I began preaching a sermon series about the first part of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount, commonly referred to as The Beatitudes, and I shared that if we want to change our habits we must first change our mindset. Subsequently, if we want to change the way we think we must first change our attitude.

Think about it. Too often we simply wait to see how things go in any given situation before we know how we will feel or respond. However, if instead of simply reacting to our circumstances or allowing the actions of others to decide our mood, we have the power to predetermine how we will act based on our own values.

Chuck Swindoll has famously said, "The longer I live, the more I realize the impact of attitude on life. Attitude, to me, is more important than facts. It is more important than the past, than education, than money, than circumstances, than failures, than successes, than what other people think or say or do. It is more important than appearance, giftedness or skill. It will make or break a company... a church... a home. The remarkable thing is we have a choice every day regarding the attitude we will embrace for that day. We cannot change our past... we cannot change the fact that people will act in a certain way. We cannot change the inevitable. The only thing we can do is play on the one string we have, and that is our attitude... I am convinced that life is 10% what happens to me and 90% how I react to it. And so it is with you... we are in charge of our attitudes."

I can personally attest to the truth behind these words having learned from personal experience, often the hard way. One such time was back in 2001 when I went on my first overseas missions' trip to the Dominican Republic. To say that my first experience with culture shock did not start off well is an understatement. After having the original trip leader step down I accepted the role of co-leader with another pastor not long before the trip was supposed to take place. Neither of us had ever been on, let alone, led a trip like this before and we had a group made up of 25 people had hadn't either, talk about having the blind lead the blind. I should also note that the trip took place in November, just two short months after the terrorist attack on 9/11, so there was a certain level of anxiety associated with traveling by airplane.

Jumping ahead to our departure date, we actually took a bus to Toronto the evening prior assuming that between the border crossing and going through TSA with such a large group that it would be quite a delay. Ironically, we flew right through both which meant that we just sat around the airport all night with nothing to do and nowhere to sleep. Come morning we boarded the plane, I was seated between two strangers of course, and then proceeded to sit on the runway for nearly 2 hrs. before taking off.

After being squished all the way to Santo Domingo I was excited to exit the plane until I stepped out into the airport and found it filled with cigarette smoke and people trying to take our bags. One thing it did not have was air conditioning, which may not seem too bad since the ground was covered with snow when we left home but the problem was that it was very hot and everyone in the airport was sweaty and more than a little stinky.

By the time we had exchanged money, and found where we were supposed to wait for our ride, I was overheated, dehydrated, and had a splitting headache. After a while an old van that would fit 15-18 comfortably rolled up and we did our best to squeeze in for a long trek to where we would be staying. Did I mention that at least a half dozen men also rode with us playing a guiro, imagine a metal hair pick being dragged across what looked like a cheese grater, and singing.

By the time we arrived at our quarters it was too late to unpack so we went straight to the church where we would be participating in a worship service. By this time my headache was through the roof and I could add hunger and exhaustion to my growing list of complaints. Once again, I anticipated some relief when the van came to a stop but no sooner had I stepped out to stretch my legs when a young man motioned for me to get into his compact car and before I knew it we were off.

It happened so fast that I did not fully consider how problematic the situation was. I spoke very little Spanish and he spoke no English. I had no idea who he was, where we were going, or what we were doing. To make matters worse it was pitch black out when we finally stopped at a small village and apparently the electric had gone out there as well. The driver jumped out and I tried my best to keep up for fear of losing him and not being able to find my way back.

Thankfully, as it turned out, we were just picking up food for a meal we would be having together after the church service and we made it back just fine. The service, which we were told was supposed to start soon, began almost 2 hrs. later once the local congregation had arrived and after a lengthy time of worship we ate something on a spit, I am pretty sure it was goat, and then went back to take a very cold shower and get ready for bed.

I was not a happy camper, to say the least, and I was not alone. A man from my church was also grumbling and once we started feeding off one another we were fully ready to call it quits and head back home. And that was when we realized that our circumstances were not likely to change but our attitudes had to if we were going to be able to accomplish what we had come there for in the first place. And so we prayed.

The next morning was a new day, a fresh start, and we both approached it with a new mindset. I can honestly say that that trip turned out to be one of the greatest experiences of my life and it wasn't because everything went smoothly after that. We had days when our supplies didn't show up, times when our tools were useless because the electric went out at least a few times each day, lots of piling into, and onto, vehicles and then waiting forever in traffic because there were no signs or stop lights. I had a first-time translator when preaching on Sunday which was difficult enough but was then made even worse when a goat and pig kept wandering in and out of the half-built church. I threw my back out bending rebar and if course there was Black Wednesday, the night everyone fighting for the bathroom thanks to food poisoning.

No, it was not smooth sailing but the work that was done, the lives that were touched, the relationships formed, and the ministry that took place made it all worth it and by simply praying for a better attitude I was able to enjoy every bit of it. Friends, I pray that whatever comes your way that instead of reacting to it you will be able to adjust your attitude and act accordingly.

See you in two weeks!
Pastor Randy

IMPORTANT VILLAGE EVENT INFORMATION FOR HOLLEY

Calling all cooks—Holley's first Chili Cook-Off! At our 3rd Annual Fall "Hallow" Fest on Saturday, October 26, 2024 we will host a Chili Cook Off. Introducing something new to any one of our festivals is not always easy, but we want to get this off the ground and running annually. While we have many food vendors present for the day, no one will be serving chili. If you have a great recipe for chili that your family, friends and co-workers rave about consider entering. For this, our first time, we will even hold the contest for two entrants, but we would like more!

We will ask that you follow food safety protocol as you prepare the chili. While we cannot, this year, serve chili to those at the festival, we will have 5 judges who will taste the chili and select our winner, so making enough for those judges to taste is all you will need to bring. Next year, we hope to have that winner prepare her/his chili in a health-certified kitchen and sell it on that day. Call our Village Clerk, Rainey Losee, at 585-638-6367 to enter and she will take down your contact information.

The American Legion will hold the Veteran's Day Ceremony on November 11, 2024, at 11 AM in the American Legion. I hope you will join us to recognize all veterans of all wars. Again, remember the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

This calendar year's final village event will be the Annual Memory Bulb Tree Lighting. This year, our tree has been donated by Randy Wilcox. It will be held on Saturday, December 7, 2024 at 6:30 PM in the Village Square. At this time, we will formally announce Holley's Citizen of the Year who will light our tree. Also on hand will be the official symbol of Orleans County Bicentennial and a brief show of our county's history. In the afternoon, we will once again have horse and buggy rides along the canal pathway. Right after our tree lighting, the Volunteer Holley Firemen will host a social at the fire station. Mr. & Mrs. Santa Claus will join us for the festivities. Now...something new for this event and we are most serious about beginning it...a Lantern Parade! Our theme for the parade is the 12 Days of Christmas. Lantern parades are held in many places but, unlike the light parades held in our area, this will be a bit different. We are asking village departments, businesses, community organizations, churches, student groups, families, scouts and individuals, too, to participate. We are trying to keep this open-ended without too many restrictions except the way you light your handmade lantern is by battery-operated lights or candles and that you adhere to the theme by creating a lantern about any of the 12 Days of Christmas and any aspect of that song. You can use a purchased lantern or create one from other materials. Keep in mind that the design needs to shine through the lantern itself and be clearly visible in the dark. You have to be able to carry it or move it on your own and the group who created it should carry it in the parade which will begin at 6PM on Frisbee Terrace and go around the square, first crossing Red, White & Moo, Sam's Diner, over toward the Library and Dustin's and then back down Frisbee Terrace. For more information, please email me mayor@villageofholley.org as soon as possible.

Thank you so much! Our Fall Village of Holley Newsletter will be inside your October utility bill!

Sincerely,
Mark Bower
Mayor, Holley

REAL ESTATE

The Basics of flipping homes

In recent years, home sellers have experienced record profits as the value of real estate has risen dramatically. Bankrate indicates the median home price across the United States is around $486,000. According to WOWA, a personal finance resource in Canada, the national average price of a home in Canada was $657,145 CAD in December 2023.

Flipping homes gained popularity prior to the spike in real estate prices, but that increase has led some novices to consider flipping more closely. Though it's true the chances at turning a large profit are substantial in a market where high prices are the norm, potential flippers may benefit from a rundown of the practice before they decide if it's something they want to do.

What is flipping?

Flipping works when an investor purchases a property with the intention of selling the home (or business) for profit without actually using it. The basic premise of flipping is to find a property at a low price and sell it at a much higher price, typically after renovating the home. Investopedia says it is important to complete this transaction as quickly as possible to reap the greatest return on investment.

Don't underestimate the necessary investment of time and money

Many new flippers overestimate their skills and knowledge and lose money in the process. Common mistakes include thinking that a project will cost less or the home will be turned around quickly. It can take months to find the right property, and then there will be time needed to renovate. Costs involved include the initial sale, renovations, holding costs, and capital gains tax when the sale goes through. All of these can eat into profits.

Limited inventory makes things tougher. It can be challenging to find a good deal as everyone seemingly wants to be in real estate these days. With fierce competition in a low-inventory market, flipping can be like finding a needle in a haystack.

Know the tax benefits vs. tax risks. According to Tresa Todd, founder of the Women's Real Estate Investors Network, flipping may be less tax-efficient in the United States than getting into investment properties. Flippers will be paying short-term capital gains instead of long-term capital gains. According to NerdWallet, capital gains taxes are paid when one sells an asset for profit. The rate at which capital gains is taxed is based on whether you hold an asset for less than a year or longer than a year. Long-term capital gains tax rates are generally lower than short-term capital gains tax rates.

Abide by the "golden rule" Most home flippers follow the 70 percent rule. This says one should pay no more than 70 percent of what the house's estimated ARV (after-repair value) will be, minus the cost of the repairs necessary to renovate the home, says Rocket Mortgage. The ARV is calculated by adding the current property value plus the added value of any renovations. The formula boils down to: $ARV \times .70$ - Estimated repair costs = Maximum buying price.

Flipping may seem like a good idea, but prospective flippers should fully understand the process, including the financial commitments it requires, prior to purchasing a home.

Chicken Tortellini Soup with Kale

Ingredients

- 6 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 1 pound boneless, skinless chicken thighs
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 1/2 teaspoons kosher salt, divided
- 2 cups chopped yellow onion (from 1 large onion)
- 1 cup chopped celery (from 2 stalks)
- 5 garlic cloves, chopped (about 2 tablespoons)
- 1/4 cup fresh basil leaves,
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- 4 cups unsalted chicken stock
- 1 (28-ounce) can whole peeled tomatoes, drained
- 4 cups stemmed and thinly sliced lacinato kale
- 1 (8-ounce) package refrigerated cheese tortellini
- 2 ounces Parmesan cheese, grated (about 1/2 cup)

Directions

- 1) Heat 2 tablespoons oil in a large Dutch oven over high. Sprinkle chicken with pepper and 1 teaspoon salt, and cook until browned, 2 to 3 minutes per side. Remove chicken; let rest 5 minutes. Cut chicken into cubes and set aside.
- 2) Reduce heat to medium-high. Add onion and celery; cook, stirring occasionally, until tender, 3 to 4 minutes. Add garlic and basil, and cook, stirring often, 2 minutes. Add wine and tomato paste; bring to a boil and reduce until liquid has almost evaporated, 3 to 4 minutes. Stir in stock. Add tomatoes, using your hands to crush tomatoes over pot as you add them. Bring to a boil. Add chicken, kale, tortellini, remaining 1/4 cup oil, and remaining 1 1/2 teaspoons salt. Simmer until tortellini are al dente, about 5 minutes.

Ladle soup into bowls. Top with Parmesan and additional basil!
