Medina English teacher writes her first novel, 'Still Water'

Posted 24 October 2024 at 8:55 am to the OrleansHub.com | Press Release, Medina Central School and the protagonist having feelings for one of his friend's girlfriends.

"I do think young adults will really enjoy the story," Dickhut said. "I hope they see themselves in some of the characters. I really want this book to be a teachable moment for some of them and I want them to know that their teachers do care about what is going on in their lives."

There were a couple more hoops to jump through before she could publish her book. In "Still Water" two poems are referenced, "The Peace of Wild Things" by Wendell Berry and Robert Frost's "Going for Water."

There is also a passage from the book "A River Runs Through It and Other Stories" by Norman Maclean. "I had to get permission to use Maclean's and Berry's works, and I was so thankful to the estate and the publishing company to allow me to use them since they meant a great deal to me and to the story. The Maclean estate sent along a nice compliment and said they found the story compelling and wished me the best of luck."

She also designed the cover in Canva. With her book getting ready to launch on Amazon on Nov. 8, Dickhut said she can barely contain her excitement.

"I won't lie, I am nervous, but it just feels awesome," she said. "I have a real sense of accomplishment that I finished the book and people are going to get to read it. It would be really great if I saw students here carrying it around since they inspired it."

To learn more about the book and Beth Dickhut, you can follow her on Instagram @elizabeth_d_writes.

"Still Water" will be available in paperback and Kindle formats.

MEDINA – For many years Medina Junior-Senior High School English teacher Elizabeth Dickhut toyed with the idea of writing her own novel, "Still Water."

"Several years ago I was thinking about some students I had who had experienced losing a parent suddenly," she explained. "They were obviously going through a very hard time and I couldn't help but think what was going on in the inside. It inspired me to start writing about a group of boys who were friends and experienced that loss."

Mrs. Dickhut kept returning to her story throughout the years refining it until she felt comfortable enough to share with colleagues.

"I am so grateful to my coworkers and friends who took time out of their busy lives to read this and give me their honest feedback," she said. "It really meant so much to me."

Dickhut says "Still Water" is a story of loss and grief; but is also a story of hope, the kind that is rooted in friendship, family and forgiveness.

Another key element of the book deals with the romantic side of adolescence

How To Prepare Your Car For Fall

As it begins to creep into November, you know that colder weather is on its way. This means that it is time to prepare your car for the upcoming Fall and Winter seasons. Your car is negatively impacted by the cold temperatures in many ways.

Treat the Fall season as a time to prepare your car for the harsh chill that Winter brings. Cold weather makes it more difficult for your tires to maintain grip and makes the windshield more defenseless against cracks. What can you do to prepare your vehicle for the drop in temperatures?

Here are 10 Tips to Preparing Your Car For Fall:

1. Check the Belts and Hoses.
2. Check the Fluid Levels.
3. Check the Tires.
4. Prepare for the Cold Weather.
5. Check the Oil.
6. Check your Heat.
7. Check the Brakes.
8. Install All-Weather Floor Mats.
9. Check the Lights.
10. Check the Battery.

All vehicles have a suggested routine maintenance schedule based on the miles driven. You can find it in the manual or request it from the dealership.

Most cars require routine maintenance every 5,000 miles or six months, but some let you go even longer between services. Mechanics perform an oil change and multi-point inspections to ensure the vehicle is running correctly and that no worn items, like air filters or windshield wipers, need to be replaced. The mechanic will also check your car's fluid levels and alert you if any issues require another look.

DO YOU HAVE HEEL PAIN OR ARCH PAIN?

Heel Spur Syndrome/Plantar Fasciitis is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel and progresses to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.
- Contributing factors: Flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.
- 95% of our patients' symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.
- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques (minimal incisions and scarring; often back in a shoe in 1 week).

Health is Wealth

By Chetna Chandrakala, CFO, Oak Orchard Health

Health is wealth that you gain by caring for yourself and your physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Good health gives you quality of life – you live longer and enjoy life more. Being proactive about your health can help you prevent illness and disease.

DO I NEED HEALTH INSURANCE?

Health insurance makes healthcare affordable, it allows you to see your healthcare providers when needed, from yearly physicals to sick visits, dental exams, and vaccinations.

One way to be insured is through your employer. According to the Affordable Care Act, large employers must provide health insurance coverage to 95% of their full-time employees. Employers with fewer than 50 employees are exempt from the employer mandate.

If your employer does not offer health insurance or you are unemployed, you may have to look at alternative insurance options. Depending on income, age, employment status, and health issues, people may be eligible for government programs that help pay for medical care. These programs include Medicaid, the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), Medicare, and the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

When children turn 26 and are no longer covered under their parents' insurance, it is easy to continue without coverage and not seek preventive care. However, without health insurance, you're at a much greater risk of gathering medical bills that you may be unable to pay.

WHAT IS THE NEW YORK STATE OF HEALTH?

A The New York State of Health is the official health plan marketplace for New York State. It allows individuals, families, and small businesses to shop for, compare, and enroll in health insurance plans. The marketplace offers a variety of plans and is a place where you can get financial assistance to lower the cost of your health coverage. <https://nystateofhealth.ny.gov/>

OAK ORCHARD HELPS MAKE GETTING INSURANCE EASIER

Applying for health insurance can often be difficult. At OOH, we have representatives from health insurance companies such as Fidelis, Excellus, United Health etc. in our health centers to help with this process.

HOW ELSE CAN OAK ORCHARD HELP?

Oak Orchard Health (OOH) is a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) that is required to provide affordable care to all patients, regardless of their ability to pay. FQHCs are nonprofit organizations that serve medically underserved populations and areas. They offer a variety of services, including primary care, dental and mental health care, and substance abuse treatment.

Here are some ways FQHCs provide affordable care:

- Sliding fee scale: FQHCs use an income-based sliding fee scale for patients without insurance or for patients with high deductibles or co-pays.
- No patient turned away: FQHCs never refuse care for patients because they can't pay.
- Culturally sensitive care: FQHCs provide care that is non-discriminatory and culturally sensitive.
- Accessible care: FQHCs provide appointments when patients need them and offer after-hours care.

THE SLIDING FEE DISCOUNT PROGRAM

As an FQHC, OOH provides a sliding fee scale for services based on the federal poverty guidelines (FPG). All OOH patients will be assessed for sliding fee discount eligibility based solely on income and family size. The Sliding Fee Discount Schedule (SFDS) shall apply to patients with income levels up to and including 200% of the federal poverty income level (for an individual that amount would be $30,120). Patients with incomes at or below 100% of the federal poverty guidelines will pay a nominal charge. The nominal charge is a fixed fee for services that do not reflect the actual value of the service(s) provided and is considered nominal from the patient's perspective. SFDS applies to patients without health insurance or if they do not have enough coverage and provides a graduated discount for patients with incomes between 100% and 200% of FPG. If you have questions about this program, please call our billing office at 585-637-3905 or visit our website at <https://bit.ly/3Zp50DG>

SO WHY IS IT BETTER TO HAVE HEALTH INSURANCE COVERAGE?

Data shows that every dollar spent on vaccinations saves $5.30 on healthcare costs. If we carefully choose our insurance and pay upfront to secure our healthcare coverage, we will not only be healthier but also avoid high healthcare expenses, accumulating medical bill debt, or even bankruptcy.

Alternatives to Alcohol when Dining out

Dining out or attending social functions often affords access to various types of foods and beverages. Cocktails and other alcoholic drinks will likely be on the menu as well, tempting people to indulge. Although one alcoholic drink while out at a restaurant will not sabotage a healthy eating plan, when spending a prolonged time in social situations, individuals may be compelled to have multiple drinks, which can be unhealthy and potentially unsafe. According to the Center for Science in the Public Interest, gin, rum, tequila, vodka, or whiskey each feature between 100 and 120 calories per 1.5-ounce shot. The average beer comes in at 150 calories per serving. It's easy to see how calories can quickly pile up. Many people would rather save their calories for food than drink them away. Thankfully, individuals can choose from an array of low-calorie, non-alcoholic beverages when hitting the town.

Kombucha

Kombucha is a fermented drink made from tea, sugar, bacteria, and yeast. Since it is fizzy, kombucha can replace beer when dining out. There are various flavors of kombucha, and many replicate the flavor profile of a tangy or refreshing cocktail.

Non-alcoholic beers and ciders

You'll have to check the nutritional information regarding caloric content since options vary, but if skipping alcohol is the ultimate goal, non-alcoholic beers and ciders are good options. They offer the flavor and effervescence of their traditional counterparts without the alcohol.

Club soda with mixers

Club soda mixed with bitters, cranberry juice, lemon/lime, or other flavor combinations can create flavorful alcohol alternatives. Plus they are refreshing and will not cause dehydration, which can occur when consuming alcohol.

Kanna

Kanna is a plant used in South Africa for centuries, according to Trip, a CBD retailer. Kanna is known for creating a feeling of lightness and tranquility. It may be consumed as an alternative to alcohol to relieve anxiety. While kanna is usually sold in powder form, it can be brewed into a tea or used to make other beverages.

Ginger beer

Ginger beer is spicy and potent, making it much stronger than its cousin, ginger ale. It's made by fermenting ginger, sugar, water, and lemon juice, says Medical News Today. The result is bold ginger flavor with natural carbonation. Like other soft drinks, the calorie count in ginger beer varies depending on the brand. There are sugar-free alternatives that can help reduce the calorie load.

Matcha or other teas

Matcha is a type of green tea that is exposed to more sunlight to produce higher chlorophyll and amino acid content. Matcha, like other teas, is high in antioxidants, which is a boon for the body. Matcha is widely available at coffee shops and other establishments. Chilled versions of matcha can be substituted for alcoholic beverages when people want to relax and unwind. Additional tea alternatives include regular iced

REAL ESTATE

What to know about investing in Real Estate

Investors look for various opportunities they hope will help them grow their wealth. Some invest in the stock market directly by buying stocks and bonds, while others choose a more passive form of investing like index funds. Certain investors prefer to back enterprising entrepreneurs, and some people determine that real estate is the avenue to pursue. There are several different ways to invest in real estate, including buying a home. Investing in real estate can be lucrative, although the return on such investments can be affected by high interest rates. When interest rates fall, investors often come out of the woodwork. According to a 2022 Bankrate survey, 29 percent of Americans said that real estate was their prime pick for investing money they won't need for at least 10 years. Investors considering real estate have many options to choose from.

Become a landlord

NerdWallet says buying a property with the intention of renting it out is one of the most common ways to invest in real estate. However, this could be one of the more labor-intensive real estate investment options, as it requires property owners to field calls from renters and always be available to tackle issues that inevitably arise. Plus, if renters are not properly vetted, landlords may end up with less-than-ideal tenants. While there are management services that can offset some of the work, farming out tasks comes with expenses that can cut into profits. Still, when a successful renter-landlord dynamic is established, this option can provide significant long-term income.

Flipping properties

Buying a property and "flipping it," which means renovating and putting it up for sale shortly after, is another real estate investment venture. Flipping requires a lot of work and perhaps even some extraordinary skills. First, it involves finding up-and-coming neighborhoods and then renovating within a reasonable budget so that you can sell the home at a premium. Remodeling costs can run high, and the time involved in flipping may be longer than investors anticipated.

Buying your own home

Building equity in a home creates a nest egg that homeowners can tap into at a later time, particularly when they choose to sell. Bankrate says banks treat owner-occupied properties more favorably, giving borrowers lower mortgage rates and requiring lower down payments.

Purchase REITs

REITs are real estate investment trusts that enable investors to invest in real estate without actually touching physical real estate properties, advises NerdWallet. REITs are like the mutual funds of the real estate realm, and include companies that own commercial real estate. REITs can pay out high dividends, making them popular retirement investments. Dividends can be reinvested to grow your money further. Investing in real estate can be a worthwhile option for people who want a tried-and-true vehicle for seeing their money grow.

Norma Jane Jones, of Medina, NY, passed away peacefully on Oct. 17, 2024 at Millard Fillmore Suburban Hospital. She was born on Dec. 18, 1941 in North Tonawanda, a daughter of the late Jane (Crittenden) and Clarence Kraus. Norma grew up in Barker and graduated from Barker High School, where she met the love of her life, her husband, Gary Jones. The two spent their young life raising five boys together: Jeff (Barbb) Jones, Tim (Dawn) Jones, Dan (Sean) Philpott-Jones, Chris (Anita) Jones, and Ric (Karen) Jones. Norma is also survived by her grandchildren: Jasmine (Jason) Michalski, Cody (Taylor) Jones, Patrick (Shannon) Jones, Morgan Jones, Nich (Julie) Jones, Ryder Jones, River Jones, Nicole Montpetit and Isiah Montpetit; and great-granddaughter, Maia Michalski. Norma and Gary made their home in the West Shelby neighborhood of Medina, where the two shared an incredible 64 year adventure and love story. Together, they traveled and camped all over the United States. Recently, they traveled out West, visiting all the places they had long ago taken their young family. On that trip, Norma was especially taken with a statue in South Dakota called Dignity. Norma was known for her deep love for her family and her faith in a loving God. She believed that the Red House Campground at Allegany State Park, which she visited every year of her life since she was a small girl, was the most magical place on earth. She passed her love of music on to her children and grandchildren, some of whom made it their life's work. Norma was a talented gardener, a gifted quilter who hand-stitched all of her work, a clever wordsmith, and a prolific reader. Many in Medina knew Norma for her deep love of books from her many years of working at the Lee-Whedon Memorial Library. In retirement, she helped as a de facto ambassador of the library and member of the Friends of the Library. She regularly delivered and retrieved book loans to shut-ins and to those without transportation. Norma was also a member of the Kindness Committee at her church, St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church of Medina. At wedding receptions, Norma was proud that she and her husband so often won "dance-offs" for the couple who had been married the longest. She is predeceased by her mother and stepfather, Jane and Vern Spears; and her brothers, Dave and Ken Kraus. Family and friends are invited to attend her memorial service and Celebration of Life on Saturday, Nov. 2 at 11AM at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church, 1355 West Ave., Medina.
