DOGWOOD SEASON IN PALESTINE

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

Spring is perhaps the best time to view the natural beauty of Texas. Wildflowers are in bloom all over central Texas. Other parts of the state also show their colors. It's time to take a drive. Dogwood trees bloom from mid-March to early April all through the East Texas woods. Palestine has been proclaimed as the Official Dogwood Trails Capital of Texas. The city has a 254 acre park full of dogwood trees. Cassie Ham grew up near the park and learned to ride a bicycle there.

"In the early spring it's a lot like a light snow fell about midway through the canopy of the forest," she says. "The blossoms, when they are in full bloom, are almost solid white. Dogwoods are smaller trees, so when they are mixed in with the taller trees of sycamore, pine and other trees, it's quite a sight, especially when the redbud trees have a late bloom and they blend in with the dogwoods." Palestine celebrates the dogwood's spectacular spring time beauty with a festival the first weekend in April, featuring activities for every age group. It attracts about 10,000 people to the city that has a population of 20,000. "I love to drive through the historic district during the dogwood celebration because many of the historic old homes have dogwood trees in their yards. We're in the middle of the forest here, so we have blooms all over town."

It has been said that only Galveston has more historic homes than Palestine. There is a tour of homes during the celebration and some of the homes provide overnight accommodations. The city has an active preservation society.

"The homes were built in the 1840s before Palestine became a city in 1846. The original founder of the city was from Palestine, Illinois. He was a preacher by the name of Daniel Parker."

He was a member of the colonizing Parker family that built Fort Parker, the site of the Cynthia Ann Parker capture by Comanches in 1836.

The 254 acre park is called Davey Dogwood Park, located in the north part of town. "A Generous man, M. A. Davey, a local oil man, and some other business people donated lands in 1944 which was actually a few years after the dogwood celebration got started in 1939." Maps of the park show driving and hiking trails.

"If you wanted to just take a quick drive through the park you could do it in as little as ten minutes. On the other hand, you could get out of your car and walk through the park all day and never see the same thing twice." Visitors to Palestine can view sixteen murals in the downtown area painted by artists from all over the country. They earned the opportunity to do a mural in competition.

Happy trails.

BUSINESS SERVICES

The business services industry is a very broad industry encompassing many different categories of business operations; all of them provide some sort of non-financial service to other companies. These services include advertising, marketing, consultation, logistics (including travel and facilities services), waste handling, staffing services, shipping, administration, and security services to name a few. Nearly every business in operation has need for at least one of the different kinds of service offered by the industry. Marketing companies are responsible for increasing the sales of a client company by helping the company gain new customers as well as keep current ones. Legal services are needed to deal with business transactions, as well as for litigation purposes. Logistics and shipping companies are responsible for connecting businesses to other businesses or consumers by collecting, storing, transporting, and delivering products. Staffing companies match people in need of jobs, temporary or permanent, with companies in need of qualified employees. Leasing companies fill a client's need for certain items without requiring full purchase. Security companies are responsible for keeping a company's assets secure. Consulting companies are in the business of fulfilling needs for expertise that clients cannot fulfill themselves. These companies may offer professional, scientific, or technical consulting, management or strategy consulting, or human resources consulting.
