BETTER HEARING CAN BE YOURS

Advanced Hearing Technology Event

3 Steps to Better Hearing

STEP ONE

CALL

Call and schedule a free hearing evaluation at one of our convenient locations.

STEP TWO

Free Hearing Evaluation

Find out what you're hearing and what you're not. Discover whether you have hearing loss or is it ear wax?

STEP THREE

Try Before You Buy!

Take the hearing aids home and wear them out and about in your normal daily life. If after wearing your hearing aids for a period of 2 weeks and you are not completely satisfied with them, just return them.

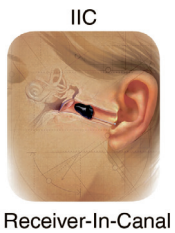

I finally took my lovely wife's advice and reluctantly looked into getting hearing aids. I am not deaf or anything, but I found I was asking folks to repeat themselves more often as I aged. I resisted hearing aids because it carried a stigma, for me anyway, that one is growing old and dependent. I contacted The Hearing Aid Center in Dickson and got tested by Cassie Tuminello who analyzed my hearing test and suggested a set that would be best for me. Cassie was a pleasure to deal with. She was professional and very knowledgeable of the products she offers. At no time did I feel pressured or pushed to decide on a product. She takes time to make sure you are well informed before making a decision. After the initial "fitting" and orientation, I was a satisfied customer. Tiffany Huskey met with me over the next month doing minor adjustments to make my auditory experience the best that it can be. Like Cassie, Tiffany was very professional and informative. She listened carefully to my feedback and questions, and made sure I am a satisfied customer. The whole experience at The Hearing Aid Center was pleasant and productive. I need to hear well in my career. The Hearing Aid Center made that happen. My lovely wife is happy too! Thank you Cassie and Tiffany!

Key Qualifications in Finding The Right Real Estate Agent

Finding the right real estate agent is almost like finding the right mate - both partnerships require a unique balance of personality traits that mesh well with yours in creating seamless relationships.

Most importantly, the decision should be a personal one. As the buyer or seller, you have to make sure you have a solid relationship with the agent. With that being said, there are certain characteristics that are imperative in the making of a solid agent. Let's look at some key qualifications to consider.

1. Experience

With experience comes knowledge. Your realtor should have comprehensive knowledge of pricing in a neighborhood. It's important for you agent to be up to date on sale prices. The right realtor will also know different neighborhoods and the quality of homes or apartments within each community, giving you (the buyer or seller) well-informed advise.

2. Progressive

You want a realtor whose mind is fluid with rapidly changing ideas. If you're a seller, you want an agent who is looking for creative ways to market your home. As a buyer, you want your agent to be able to efficiently filter through the copious properties, showing you only those with potential. Therefore look for an agent who is always one step ahead of the curve and coming out with unprecedented ideas that strive to accomplish your goals. Some examples include creative marketing strategies and cell phone applications that give users virtual tours.

3. Staging

This one is particularly important for sellers. Before each showing, your home must be made as attractive as possible. This could involve getting rid of clutter, adding greenery to your home, turning on lights or cleaning windows. Whatever your home needs to be showcased to its full potential, you want a realtor who has helpful tips on how to effectively stage.

4. Perseverance

You never want your agent to give up on you. Relentlessness is crucial. In buying, you want your realtor to actively search for the right property, updating you on the newest listings. When it comes to selling, you want to make sure your agent is tenacious about marketing regardless of how long the property has been listed. Make sure he or she does not give up simply because of a weak response.

5. Trust

Lastly, you should expect a level of trust with your realtor. You want him or her to be able to give you advice stripped from any fluff. Ultimately, that realtor is the one who will never push you into making a deal simply for commission.

Above all, find an agent you like and feel comfortable with. Buying and selling a home is already a stressful process, so why make it more stressful by teaming up with the wrong agent? Take time in selecting your realtor. You'll be glad you did.

Come hear Bill Cloud, author of "Esau Rising: Ancient Adversaries and the War for America's Soul", address the struggle for America's future. Bill will address this hostile spirit attacking Christians that stems from one of the most overlooked prophetic scriptures in the Bible and its ramifications for us today.

Bill Cloud, of Shoreshim Ministries in Cleveland, TN, has over 25 years of ministry experience and thousand of hours studying the prophetic element of Scriptures and in particular, the Hebraic perspective of the Bible. He has appeared with and written articles for notable teachers as Hal Lindsey, Tim LaHaye, Perry Stone, Jonathan Cahn, and Chuck Missler.
