Pri Mar Petroleum to sell C-stores & oil company to two Michigan buyers

Pri Mar Petroleum in St. Joseph will pass into the business legacy of Southwest Michigan later this month, as the Marzke family sells the third-generation business to two Michigan companies with similar long track records of growth, service and family ownership, all centered historically on a traditional local oil company.

MoodyOnTheMarket.com spoke with Pri Mar President/CEO Kurt Marzke for an overview of the sale and how the company has grown and prospered for almost a century.

"97 years ago, Harry & Verna Priebe started in the oil and fuel business in the Twin Cities of Southwest Michigan. In 1972 Harry turned over leadership to his son-in-law, Richard Marzke, and Priebe Brothers Oil Company became PriMar Petroleum. Pri Mar was a pioneer, opening the first convenience store in SW Michigan in Stevensville, when competitors were still operating full-service filling stations.

Over the years Pri Mar grew to be the largest enterprise of its kind in Berrien County. Now under its third generation of family leadership Pri Mar operates 13 'Pri Marts' strategically located throughout Berrien, Cass & VanBuren counties."

Later this month the Marzke family will sell Pri Mar Petroleum in two separate transactions to two Michigan buyers—one focusing on convenience stores and one on bulk fuels and lubricants for industrial, farm and residential customers.

The Pri Mart group of 13 convenience stores and gas stations will become part of the EZ Mart chain of nearly 200 stores, headquartered in Bear Lake, north of Manistee. Like Pri-Mart, EZ Marts operate under several gasoline brands and will continue to operate the Pri Mart stores under the current Amoco, BP & Citgo brands. EZ Marts offer expanded options of food, beverages and convenience items for busy commuters and consumers have been the host cities since the parade's inception in 1923. The Grand Floral Parade features over 120 units including bands, floats, clowns, costumed characters, antique cars and tractors, unicycle teams, equestrian units and the famed Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Motorcycle Drill Team. Come join Miss and Mr. Blossomtime 2025 and their courts of honor, and the lovely community queens as they preside over the Grand Floral Parade.

EZ Marts are owned by Blarney Castle Oil Co. of Bear Lake, controlled by the McCarthy family, another multi-generational operator with history going back to 1933, the depths of the Depression, and growing ever since across Northern Michigan. EZ Mart stores will now stretch from Berrien County all the way to Munising in the Upper Peninsula and East to the Lansing Area.

Mother's Day would not be complete without plants and flowers. Get Mom the gift that keeps on giving and support your local farmer too. Stop by River St. Joe on Saturday, May 10 from 12:00-4:00 p.m. and shop from Flatwater Farm's selection of heirloom and organic starter plants, including flowers, herbs and vegetables. While you're there you can also check out the farm's CSA booth, which is in the beer garden every Saturday, May-October from 10:30 a.m.-2:00 p.m., selling the best and the freshest organic fruits, vegetables, herbs and flowers grown right here in Southwest Michigan.

Make your reservations now for Mother's Day brunch. Planks Tavern, Thistledown & Row, Round Barn Public House, Lakehouse Restaurant, Journeyman Distillery, Tabor Hill Restaurant, Silver Harbor Brewery, Vineyard 2121 and Mason Jar Cafe are all having Mother's Day specials. Indulge your mom in an array of delectable treats and she is sure to feel loved.

After brunch let Lazy Ballerina Winery treat you to some wine. All moms get a free $12 wine tasting all day on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 11 from 12:00-5:00 p.m., which includes any 5 samples of wine or hard cider, a chocolate truffle, and a logo wine glass to take home. Forever Linked Permanent Jewelry will be on site from 12:00-3:00 p.m. Celebrate mom with something as timeless as your bond, permanent jewelry. Choose your own chains, charms and connectors to create your own bracelet, anklet or necklace. Bring your mom, your besties or treat yourself. It's the perfect way to add a little sparkle to your day.

The Michiana Annual Art Competition—or MAAC for short—showcases works by over 120 of the finest artists in the region. The popular, multimedia exhibit, "MAAC in the Box," is held at the Box Factory for the Arts. Artists and the general public are invited to the MAAC Opening Reception on Friday, May 16, from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. Refreshments and a cash bar will be available. The MAAC is a juried, fine art exhibition designed to recognize and reward the excellence of artists in south-western Michigan and northern Indiana. Visitors will have a chance to vote for their favorite piece of art. .

The Morton House Museum opens its 2025 season on Saturday, May 17 from 11:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. Come check out the new and enhanced exhibits at "The Home of Benton Harbor History," including an exhibit on the Little Italy neighborhood of Benton Harbor. Enjoy a variety of Italian meatballs, take a tour of the 1849 Morton House, the oldest house in Benton Harbor and play Bocce ball.

DIY vs. Hiring a Pro: When to Call in Experts

Home maintenance can be a rewarding way to save money and personalize your space, but not every task is suited for a DIY approach. Knowing when to tackle a project yourself and when to hire a professional—like a plumber, electrician, or HVAC technician—can prevent costly mistakes and ensure your home stays safe and functional. Here’s a guide to help you decide.

DIY-Friendly Tasks
Simple, low-risk tasks are ideal for DIY enthusiasts. Painting walls, for example, requires minimal skill and affordable supplies, making it a great weekend project. Basic landscaping, like mulching or planting flowers, is another safe bet, as long as you avoid heavy machinery. Minor repairs, such as replacing a showerhead, patching small drywall holes, or unclogging a drain with a plunger, are manageable with online tutorials and basic tools. Even changing an HVAC filter is a straightforward task that boosts system efficiency without needing specialized knowledge. These projects save money and build confidence, provided you follow safety guidelines and local codes.

When to Hire a Professional
Complex or hazardous tasks demand a professional’s expertise. Electrical work, like rewiring or installing new circuits, carries risks of shock or fire if done incorrectly, so hire a licensed electrician. Plumbing beyond basic fixes—think replacing water heaters or repairing sewer lines—requires a plumber to prevent leaks or water damage. Structural work, such as removing load-bearing walls or reinforcing foundations, needs a contractor with engineering knowledge to avoid catastrophic failures. HVAC repairs, like fixing a malfunctioning furnace or recharging refrigerant, also call for a technician, as improper handling can damage the system or void warranties. These projects involve safety risks, specialized tools, or permits, making professionals the smarter choice.

Consider Time and Tools
Evaluate your time and resources before diving into DIY. A task like refinishing hardwood floors might seem doable, but renting sanders, mastering techniques, and dedicating days to the process can overwhelm beginners. Professionals, with their experience and equipment, often complete such jobs faster and with better results. If a project requires expensive tools you’ll rarely reuse, hiring a pro may be more cost-effective. For instance, diagnosing an HVAC issue might need diagnostic gauges only a technician owns, saving you from unnecessary purchases.

Weigh Costs and Risks
DIY can cut labor costs, but mistakes can be pricey. Botching a tile installation or misaligning a garage door can lead to repairs that exceed a professional’s fee. Safety is another factor—working on roofs or handling gas lines without training risks injury or property damage. Professionals carry insurance, protecting you from liability if accidents occur. If a task feels beyond your skill level, the peace of mind from hiring a pro outweighs the initial savings of DIY.

Making the Call
Assess your skills, the project’s complexity, and potential risks. DIY simple, low-stakes tasks to save money and learn new skills, but call professionals for jobs involving safety, permits, or specialized expertise. By choosing wisely, you’ll maintain your home efficiently and avoid headaches down the road.

Emoji Imitation Out!

This is a very travelicious year for me, (with even more to come!) and I'm gratified none of you have asked the Daily News to stop running my Oh! The Places I Go! columns. You haven't, right?

The latest destination was Californy. My wife had business out thar, and I tagged along. Why? Because following her meetings, we tacked on our first-ever visit to Yosemite National Park!

I have long daydreamed about visiting Yosemite, with all its majestic sights and geological wonders. Visiting in April was pretty good timing and pretty unfortunate timing at the same timing – uh, time. The good: The park wasn't claustrophobically crowded. The unfortunate: Some large swaths of Yosemite were not accessible due to seasonal road closures; winter conditions block some roads from November until mid-May. Does this mean we'll go back someday to explore those areas? Maaaaaybe. If we feel we can cope with the claustrophobically crowded conditions that we hear predominate summer.

However, I'm ahead of myself, because chronologically, while my wife did her business pre-Yosemite, I explored around Oakland, where her company's headquartered. I Firstly, 'll tell ya, where I went, Oakland is indeed a land of many oaks.

It's also a land with lots of claustrophobically crowded commerce – to get to some of the places I wanted to get to, I skirted areas along

San Francisco Bay that are chock-a-block-block-block-block-block with trucks, freighters, boxcars, shipping containers, you name it. The ports are a hallmark of the city; the walls of our hotel room even sported colorful graphics featuring huge dock cranes.

I had to – well, wanted to, didn't HAVE to --traverse these areas to get where I wanted to get – several bayside parks and nature preserves.

You might be thinking "Oh fergoshsakes! He's gonna regale us with some 'thrilling' birding experience (insert your frowny-eye-rolling emoji imitation)."

Hah! Wrong-o! I am about to regale you with someone else's thrilling birding experience!

While ambling around a marshy area called the Martin Luther King, Jr. Regional Shoreline, I crossed paths with a guy toting binoculars and a spotting scope. I felt obligated to chat with him, because I too, toted binoculars, so we were obviously both doing something similar, if not the same. Plus, I was at the end of a boardwalk, with only one way out – past him.

Anyway, as we chatted about what we were doing, where we were from and whatnot, he shared, in a low voice, that he was "scouting" the preserve for an upcoming birding "competition." For several years running, he teams up with other birders to participate in a "Big Day" – with-in some designated area, groups of birders compete to see how many species they can observe in a single day. So, this dude was seeking advance intel about what tally his team might rack up at MLK Regional Shoreline. Which is probably one of the main reasons he wondered where I was from – in case I was on an opposing team.

That's the extent of my thrilling birding experience story. Except that when I told all this to my wife, I made the huge mistake of saying that a "Big Day" might be kind of fun. She muttered "Oh fergoshsakes!" While simultaneously performing a perfect imitation of a frowny-eye-rolling emoji.

Dave Says

All of Your Brain Means Both of You

Dear Dave,

My husband and I live in India. I'm from the States, and he was born here. When it comes to our finances, I manage our American investments, and he manages our Indian investments. Every month, we sit down with spreadsheets and go over our finances. I trust him completely, but I'd like to better understand our investments here and how they work. Should I just defer to his judgment, or should I learn to understand things a little better?

Anna

Dear Anna,

I always tell folks to make sure they completely understand their investments and how they work. So, there's absolutely nothing wrong with learning more about the side of your investments he manages.

I learned a long time ago that when you're married and it comes to making decisions, you should use all of your brain. That means both of you. Two heads are better than one, right? Back when I made all my mistakes with money and we went broke, I didn't listen to anyone about anything. I thought I knew it all. We had investments and owned pieces of property my wife never knew about or laid eyes on.

When it came to our finances, she always trusted me and told me to do what I thought was best. Well, it turns out, I was an idiot. If I'd had an ounce of sense or humility back then, I'd have gone to her with my all my bright ideas. Knowing her thoughts or hearing her say, "I don't know about that, honey. I've got a bad feeling about it" might've saved us a lot of pain and heartache – if I'd listened. But now, I understand like never before the meaning of Proverbs 31:10-12. "Who can find a virtuous wife? For her worth is above rubies. The heart of her husband safely trusts her; so he will have no lack of gain" (NKJV).

I'm sure your husband is lot smarter about things than I was. And he's obviously open to talking with you about all this and showing you things. That's a really good sign.

But if I were him, and something were to happen, I'd want you to understand everything. I'd want you to know exactly what you have going on and how it all works.

Great question, Anna!

Comfort My People

I, John, your brother and companion in the suffering and kingdom and patient endurance that are ours in Jesus, was on the island of Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. On the Lord's Day I was in the Spirit, and I heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet, which said: "Write on a scroll what you see and send it to the seven churches: to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea."
Revelation 1:9-11

Imagine you're on a Mediterranean island with limestone cliffs and deep sapphire waters. The mountainous interior is blanketed with ancient olive trees. But this is no getaway. You are alone and in exile. The days are long. The nights, lonely. And hope seems like some distant mainland shore.

Then, one day, you find a message in a bottle with a map and a promise: rescue is on the way. Suddenly, everything changes. Even though you're still on the island, you now have hope.

John, the apostle, was alone on a rocky island. He was suffering exile for his testimony about Jesus. Life was hard. But then, Jesus showed up and showed John—and shows us—that even in the hardest times, we have something to share with others.

John's vision of the risen Christ reminded him—and reminds us—that we are part of his plan. We can comfort someone else who is going through hard times. We can be there for that person just as God was there for us. We can assure them that because Jesus lives, he has conquered death and reigns overall. His victory over sin, death, and the grave guarantees a glorious future.

Do you see the significance? Your struggles aren't meaningless. Your job, family, and conversations are part of God's mission to share. Jesus is with you, comforting, guiding, and strengthening through his Word.

So, take heart. Your life isn't random or aimless. Because Jesus lives, every day is an opportunity to live out his mission and shine his light in a world that desperately needs it.

Prayer: Risen Savior, you live and reign at God's right hand. Give me courage to comfort those who suffer with the comfort I have received in your resurrection. Amen.

The Pri Mar Petroleum fuel oil and lubricant business will be sold to Merle Boes, Inc. of Holland. Merle Boes started business in Holland in 1929, a year after Priebe began here. The Merle Boes firm is also a multi-generational family-owned business. They have focused on the fuel and lubricant segment, growing to be a major supplier across a wide swath of Michigan, from Holland all the way to Detroit. Merle Boes also operates a Holland-based convenience store chain known as 'MB Markets'.

Pri Mar Petroleum currently operates three fuel & lubricant 'bulk plants', in St. Joseph, Niles and Bangor. The St. Joseph location at 1207 Broad Street is amid a neighborhood that is transitioning from industrial to residential and recreational use (The Box Factory and Lofts are next door). Marzke told us the future of the Broad Street property will be up to the new owners, the Marzke family will not retain ownership of the site:

"Merle Boes will be acquiring the property through the sale and will operate it as a bulk plant facility just as Pri Mar has done for many years. Merle Boes will re-evaluate all acquired properties over time and make changes based on their operations."

Marzke said the sale is not expected to be disruptive to most employees of Pri Mar:

"...happy to report that all employees with the exception of a few are being hired by the buyers with our retail employees going to Blarney Castle (EZ Mart) and our fuel and lubricant employees going to Merle Boes."

Marzke declined to put a dollar figure on the value of the deals.

Both Pri Mar transactions are expected to close before May 31.

Women's Business Center at Cornerstone Alliance Named 2024 Michigan WBC of Excellence

The Women's Business Center (WBC) at Cornerstone Alliance has been recognized by the U.S. Small Business Administration as the 2024 Michigan Women's Business Center of Excellence. The award, presented during a recent visit from SBA leadership, honors the WBC's exceptional service to entrepreneurs and its impact across Southwest Michigan.

The recognition comes as National Small Business Week kicks off and coincides with the release of the WBC's 2024 Impact Report, which details a year of measurable growth and progress for small businesses in the region. Over the past year, the WBC assisted more than 450 entrepreneurs through business training programs and provided individualized counseling to dozens of clients. That support contributed to the launch of 14 new businesses, the securing of nearly $850,000 in capital for 15 entrepreneurs, and the support of 328 jobs in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties.

“The work we do at the Women’s Business Center is rooted in trust, empowerment, and collaboration,” said Brandy Jaquez, Managing Director of the WBC at Cornerstone Alliance. “This award reflects the entrepreneurs we serve every day—those who are committed to building something meaningful for themselves, their families, and their communities. We’re honored by the SBA’s recognition and proud of the momentum we’re helping to build across Southwest Michigan.”

The Women’s Business Center at Cornerstone Alliance exists to empower women entrepreneurs with opportunities to achieve financial independence. With a mission grounded in values of inclusivity, creative solutions, and accountability, the WBC continues to expand its reach and deepen its impact as a leading entrepreneurial resource in the region.

“The Women’s Business Center at Cornerstone Alliance stands out for its client-centered approach and impressive outcomes,” said Laketa Henderson, District Director of the US Small Business Administration of Michigan. “Their commitment to strengthening the local economy through support of women-owned businesses exemplifies the mission of the SBA and the power of our WBC network.”

Rotarians from across west Michigan descended on South Haven this past weekend as the Rotary Club of South Haven hosted the latest District Conference at the Michigan Maritime Museum.

The Rotary says more than 200 guests came into town for the event held on Friday and Saturday.

A highlight of the weekend was the placement of a Peace Pole in Johnston Park. The Peace Pole, which is placed at locations worldwide, is seen as a monument to peace, unity, and understanding, and South Haven is just the fourth location for a Rotary Peace Pole. It reads in English and Spanish, “May peace prevail on earth.”

South Haven Mayor Annie Brown was on hand for the Rotary gathering and issued a proclamation recognizing the South Haven Rotary for 70 years of service to the community.

South Haven Rotarian Mark Odland serves as district governor.

Swinging into Action – 38th Annual Softball Fundraiser to Support the Center for Growth and Independence

For nearly four decades, businesses and individuals have gathered for a day of fun, silliness, and a lot of softball with proceeds benefiting The Center for Growth and Independence. I first participated in this event when The Center was known as Gateway Services and can say until that day, I never thought I'd play softball wearing a tutu, scuba gear, or attempt to hit a softball with a tennis racquet. But that's exactly what my coworkers at the time and I did that day, and honestly, it was worth each and every laugh, paid strike out, and potentially embarrassing moment.

The Center for Growth and Independence is proud to announce they have kicked off their 38th Annual Softball Fundraiser, taking place July 25th and 26th at Plangger's Park in Benton Harbor. This event, sponsored by Dominion Chevrolet, brings the community together for a weekend of friendly competition, team building, and a positive impact for the community's most vulnerable populations.

This community event takes one of America's favorite games, baseball, and adds a creative twist: bribe the ump to put the other team at a disadvantage! Bribes can range from swapping out the player's bat for a pool noodle, to a silly costume they must wear on the field, or even "running" the bases on a pogo stick. Each bribe helps bring The Center closer to alleviating the barriers in the community for the clients served.

The Center's Annual Softball Fundraiser raised $20,000 in 2024 to provide safe transportation for those in The Center's programs. This year, The Center is focusing on increasing client access into the community through membership purchases.

"We anticipate a mutually beneficial outcome," Tami Gould, Executive Director of The Center says, "our clients will gain access to valuable opportunities, enhancing their quality of life, while local business will experience increased memberships and revenue growth." The Center invites everyone to participate in this year's event. There are many ways to get involved! Whether it be sponsoring the event, registering a team, a one-time donation, or cheering on the teams on game day! To learn more about how to get involved with this event, visit www.thecentergi.org/softball.

I'm fortunate enough to have witnessed first-hand the impact that The Center provides their clients, empowering each person to discover a level of independence that many of us take for granted daily. My brother Scott, who recently passed away, worked there worked there for nearly 10 years when he was out of high school. It was through this experience that brought the realization that he could live on his own and not with my parents for the remainder of his life. With proper caretakers he was able to experience a life that was more than just one confined to his wheelchair, but out in the world. Stories like his are unfortunately the exception in many cases, and not the rule - but what The Center is doing to change that is truly remarkable.

If you're looking for an excuse to have some competitive fun - and I do mean fun - for a great cause, love the game of softball or baseball, and want to give back to an organization that is doing good in our community, I encourage you to check out The Center's Softball Fundraiser!

The Center for Growth and Independence is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization incorporated in 1972 located in Benton Harbor, Michigan. The Center for Growth and Independence (The Center) has served thousands of individuals with disabilities and other barriers. We believe in promoting inclusion and independence so everyone can live their best life.
