Dear Class of 2025,

I want to congratulate the class of 2025 on their high school graduation. Hopefully, you made the most of your years and leave Anchor Bay High School with mixed emotions – a little sad that it is over, but excited for what lies ahead. In the two years that I have been at Anchor Bay High School, there have been two messages that I have regularly shared with you. The first is to always try to put yourself in a position where you have choices. Work hard, make smart decisions, be open to challenges and possibilities, and don't be afraid to take educated risks. The second message is how quickly high school, in particular your senior year, goes by. Now that you are on the precipice of the "real world," I will share with you that the older you get, the faster life goes. Appreciate each day and live your life with as few regrets as possible. My challenge for the class of 2025 is to drown out the noise and be your own person. Don't let anybody define you; be the person you know you are meant to be. The world has never been more divisive; choose patience, kindness, and grace, and remember that everybody has a story – be the light in the life of another, and you will live a life well spent. I wish you all the best, be safe, make smart decisions, and always know that you have a home at Anchor Bay High School.

Congratulations,
Mike Mackenzie
Principal
Anchor Bay High School

Hello families, faculty, and most importantly, the Class of 2025.

I am Lainie Wilkins, your senior class president.

Let me begin by telling you a little bit about myself. It is April 23rd, 2025, and I am writing my graduation speech. I am a senior at Anchor Bay High School. I drive my sister to school each day, I have C lunch with my friends, and I still sleep with my baby blanket.

However, the date is no longer April 23rd—and only one of those things is still true.

So much of who we are and what defines us is about to change. Change can be scary, as I'm sure many of you know. But how lucky are we to have this fear? How lucky are we to have a future awaiting us with no bounds? How lucky are we to have a past we don't want to leave behind?

There is one memory I keep going back to from this past year. While I'm sure it's stuck with no one else, I can't seem to get it out of my head. All of my friends were in the car. We were on our way to Meijer—because, in all honesty, what else is there to do here in the middle of winter? We joined in unison to belt out a song from Frozen. Oddly enough, that song brought on a wave of sadness when a thought entered my head: I won't be able to do this next year.

That is why I encourage you to take nothing for granted and look back on these past years with gratitude. Be grateful for the memories of football games, getting ready for dances with your friends, and the laughs shared in class. Be grateful for the teachers who challenged you, yet supported you just as much. Be grateful for movie nights with your mom and cooking with your dad.

And as the future draws nearer, be grateful for the unknown—and the endless possibilities that lie ahead. Then, as you face challenges, be grateful for the setbacks that remind you just how good life is without them. For it is failure that opens our eyes to how much we truly have. Without failure, there is no achievement.

And while it may be hard when life puts not a stone, but a boulder in the middle of your path—break through it with enthusiasm and gratitude. Finally, I ask that you be grateful for everyone in your life who does so much for you and has made your journey so special. And when that moment comes—as I'm sure it will—when we're petrified to leave behind this chapter of our lives that we've come to know and love, remember this quote from Winnie the Pooh:

"How lucky am I to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard."

Thank you, loved ones and Class of 2025, for all the memories—and for making saying goodbye so hard.

Letter From the Superintendent Dear Class of 2025,

As you approach commencement and prepare to step into the so-called “real world,” it’s natural to feel a mix of excitement and uncertainty. If you’ve been paying attention to the news, the world might seem overwhelming — unpredictable, even chaotic. But take heart: every graduating class has faced its own version of “unprecedented times.” This moment, with all its challenges and opportunities, is yours.

Life and society are constantly moving — busy, loud, and full of distractions. In the daily noise of it all, it’s easy to lose your bearings and feel overwhelmed. My advice to you is this: never be afraid to take a step back and look at the bigger picture. All those countless decisions that may feel intimidating? They are actually opportunities. Opportunities to grow, to discover your passion, to find your calling — or even to be reminded of the grace that surrounds you.

In difficult moments, remember this: the world is still full of promise. Embrace the word “if.” Within that small word lives the power of possibility. When you welcome what might be, you move past fear and begin to see something even more powerful — hope.

Our world needs visionaries — those who see not just what is, but what might be. Think of the innovations that define your daily life: smartphones, electric cars, food delivery at the tap of a screen. These were once just ideas — impossible, even laughable to some. Yet someone believed, and they made them real.

As you step into the next chapter of your life, remember this: the world is wide, fast-moving, and full of opportunity. Meet it with courage. Meet it with curiosity. Welcome the uncertainty, and know that you have the strength and imagination to shape what comes next.

Go forward with confidence, and embrace the ifs in your life.
Congratulations, Anchor Bay Class of 2025!
