The Center of the American Experiment has visited seven cities in the last few weeks showing Minnesotans exactly how our legislature could turn its structural deficit into a surplus — with plenty left over for tax cuts. Secure your seats now for this important presentation.

Get ready to take a closer look at the inner workings of Minnesota's government. On Tuesday, July 8 and Wednesday, July 9, the Center of the American Experiment will bring its highly anticipated "Minnesota DOGE" event to the Lakes Area. The event promises a candid and thoroughly engaging review of the state's $70 billion budget—complete with opportunities for improving efficiency and cutting waste.

• In Brainerd at the North-

ern Pacific Center on Tuesday, July 8 doors will open and appetizers and cash bar will be available at 5:00 p.m., program starts at 5:30 p.m. and the event wraps up at 6:30 p.m.

• In Bemidji at the South-Shore Hotel on Wednesday, July 9 doors will open and lunch begins at 11:30 a.m., program starts at 12:00 p.m. and the event wraps up at 1:00 p.m.

Admission is just $15. You'll have the chance to hear directly from Center of the American Experiment's top policy experts as they deliver a comprehensive Department of Government Efficiency" (DOGE) style review of Minnesota's spending habits. The event will feature Bill Walsh, Marketing and Communications Director at the Center of the American Experiment, alongside John Phelan, Economist at the Center of the American Experiment. These experts bring a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table, offering their insights into where Minnesota's government can trim the fat and operate more efficiently.

With a state budget that touches everything from healthcare to education, highways to prisons, and beyond, it's no surprise that there are opportunities for improvement. But how deep does the inefficiency go?

The event will take participants on an engaging walkthrough of the state's programs that are inefficient, redundant, unnecessary, or outright fraudulent. Expect to hear some shocking revelations about where your tax dollars are going—and perhaps most interestingly, about who might walk away with the next Golden Turkey

Celebrating Freedom in Comfort!

Award for "silliest spending." A major talking point will be the possibility of a structural budget surplus, if only our legislature could make the right, realistic cuts.

To register, visit https:// www.americanexperiment. org/events/.

More cities on the tour

This isn't just a Brainerd and Bemidji exclusive. The "Minnesota DOGE" tour has been already traveling the state and is making future stops including Ottertail, Duluth, St. Cloud, Maple Grove, Marshall, Willmar, Rochester, Coon Rapids, Edina and Buffalo.

With the state's budget still out of balance, this event couldn't come at a better time. If you care about making Minnesota more efficient and ensuring a healthier fiscal future, this is your chance to learn exactly what needs to change.

Seats are limited—don't miss out on this unique opportunity to hear from the experts and take part in the conversation that could reshape Minnesota's budget. For more details or questions, email events@americanexperiment.org or call 763-316-5329.

Public input sought on reducing statewide walleye limit from six to four

Changes in lake habitat, ecology and conditions coupled with technological advances in fishing gear and methods are prompting the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources to seek public input on a possible reduction in the statewide walleye possession limit from six to four fish.

If enacted via a rulemaking process, the change would not become effective until May 2027.

"We consider this a proactive step to maintain quality walleye fishing," said Brad Parsons, DNR fisheries section manager. "This regulation has been in place since 1956, and conditions in Minnesota's lakes have, and continue to, change. Our consideration of a walleye limit reduction is a wise management response to what's happening."

July

People can view additional details and share their thoughts on the regulation being considered through Friday, Aug. 15, by visiting the DNR's walleye web page (mndnr.gov/walleye) and completing the online questionnaire.

The DNR's most-recent statewide angler survey results reported that 48% of respondents favored the change and 23% were opposed. Remaining respondents had no opinion.

Results of more than 4,000 on-the-water interviews with anglers about their catches conducted from 2021-2023 showed 67% supported the change, 18% opposed and 15% were neutral. Factors the DNR considered in its decision to suggest the reduction:

much more effective at catching fish due to technological advances in everything from fishing line to mobile ice fishing houses, and particularly because of GPS devices and incredibly sensitive fish finding electronics.

Ice fishing has exploded in popularity, as evidenced by more than 3 million hours of fishing effort in the winter of 2019 on Mille Lacs Lake and Lake of the Woods.

Social media postings alert anglers to where the fish are biting and anglers can move there quickly, potentially depleting local walleye populations.

Peer-reviewed scientific studies continue to show that system changes related to climate and invasive species may be detrimental to walleye populations and more conducive to other species in those in Minnesota. All but two (Cass and Winnibogoshish lakes) of the state's 10 largest inland lakes, which produce about 40 percent of Minnesota's annual walleye harvest, already have a lower limit. Resorts on Kabetogema, Lake of the northern temperate lakes like Woods, Leech, Pepin, Rainy and Vermilion have not reported a decline in business due to a lower walleye limit. All surrounding states and provinces — and Minnesota's border waters with them ---have walleye daily limits less than six.

MLEC lights the way with loan for energy-saving upgrades for LLCC

Logan Stall (right) presents a $29,571 loan to Long Lake Conservation Center Manager Dave McMillian.

Long Lake Conservation Center (LLCC) is taking a big step toward a greener future, thanks to a new energy-efficient lighting project supported by a community-focused loan program.

With the help of a $29,571 loan from Mille Lacs Energy Cooperative's (MLEC) Revolving Loan Fund, LLCC is retrofitting its campus buildings with LED lighting. The upgrade is expected to cut energy use, reduce maintenance costs, and provide a brighter, more efficient learning environment for the thousands of students and visitors who use the campus each year.

The MLEC Revolving Loan Fund was created through the USDA's Rural Economic Development Loan and Grant (REDLG) program, which empowers rural cooperatives to invest in their communities. Projects funded through this program are selected for their potential to create or retain jobs and provide vital services to rural areas.

"Mille Lacs Energy is proud to support Long Lake Conservation Center," said Sarah Cron, CEO of MLEC. "Revolving loan funds are a key resource that cooperatives can use to assist those in our communities."

LLCC's lighting overhaul is one of several initiatives the conservation center has embraced to increase sustainability while continuing to serve as a regional hub for environmental education.

MLEC's Revolving Loan Fund accepts applications on a rolling basis from nonprofits, public entities, and private businesses for projects that benefit Aitkin, Mille Lacs, Crow Wing counties, and nearby areas. Projects must focus on job creation, economic development, or essential community services.

For more information on how to apply, contact Logan Stall at 218-927-2191.
