New water tower rising in Aitkin set to be completed in the fall of 2026

By ANN SCHWARTZ
A longtime icon on the Aitkin skyline, the water tower built in 1958, will soon be retired. The old tower, located at the Jaques Art Center (Carnegie library) east of the courthouse will be dismantled and taken out of commission.
The new water tower is under construction in northwest Aitkin near the Northwoods Church. It will hold 300,000 gallons of water and serve the 850 water customers on the Aitkin system, according to Dave Cluff, manager of Aitkin

Public Utilities.
The $4.8 million dollar tower is constructed of 100 percent steel. It will be painted with a white stem and black bowl, with the Aitkin city logo in color emblazoned on it.
The federal Environmental Protection Agency paid $2.4 million toward the tower with a grant and the rest is borrowed through a loan.
“The general contractor is Rice Lake Construction of Deerwood,” said Cluff. “It is set to be completed in the fall of 2026 although we are ahead of schedule now. We will need to get it online and decommission the old tower.”

Photographer and sculptor featured In ‘Reclaimed/Reframed’ exhibit

Perhaps you’re familiar with the old adage, “One man’s trash is another man’s treasure.” Sculptor John Bauer and photographer Rachel Cain have taken that maxim to heart bringing new life to discarded, deteriorating objects through their art. Their show, “Reclaimed/Reframed,” at Ripple River Gallery is open through September 28. An artist reception coincides with the gallery’s fall open house and benefit for Wild and Free wildlife rehabilitation organization on Saturday, Sept. 27.

John Bauer, recently retired Morning Show co-host for National Public Radio affiliate KAXE in Grand Rapids, has found a new voice through his art. Working with found objects, he channels his creativity into whimsical sculptures. Each of Bauer’s creations tells a story, blending imagination with textures of the past and evoking a sense of wonder and connection. Bauer’s journey into sculpture is deeply personal. After losing his daughter, Megan, to suicide, he turned to art as a way to process his grief and honor her memory. He marks each piece with “988”—the number for the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.

“I hope to inspire others to see beauty in the overlooked and to engage in vital conversations about mental well-being.” Based in White Bear Lake, photographer Rachel Cain has had a long career as a mental health professional, both as a therapist and in administrative roles. “I find photography a meditative pursuit,” she said, noting that she encourages clients to ‘slow down’ in various ways in their lives. “The lens is a metaphor for reframing life views.” While her subject matter is varied, Cain strives to show the “essence” of the subject, eliminating distractions and finding order within chaos. “I am captivated by the hidden beauty in overlooked places and intrigued by the abstract compositions of shape, color, and texture that can be found in close-ups of walls, buildings, autos, reflections,” she said, adding, “I am fascinated with things old and abandoned, and show that even in these there is resonance and beauty.” Ripple River Gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday; and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sundays. The gallery is located five miles south of Deerwood on Highway 6, then 3 miles east of Ruttger’s Bay Lake Lodge on County Road 14 to Partridge Avenue; or south of Aitkin on Highway 169 to Bennettville, then 3.2 miles west on County Road 11 to Partridge Avenue. For more information call 218-678-2575 or e-mail ripplervergallery@gmail.com.

Mille Lacs Lake walleye limit increases

The walleye limit on Mille Lacs Lake has increased from two to three through Sunday, Nov. 30. The size limit — which allows anglers to harvest fish 17 inches or longer but only one longer than 20 inches — remains in place. As of July 31, state-licensed anglers have harvested 23.5% of the state’s allocation of 113,600 pounds of walleye. The state and the Ojibwe Tribes who retain harvest rights in the 1837 Treaty Area jointly establish a sustainable harvest level each year, and that total harvest amount is then allocated between state-licensed anglers and Tribal anglers. The slow walleye bite on Mille Lacs Lake in 2025 is due to abundant forage in the lake from strong yellow perch and cisco hatches the previous year that provide an alternative to anglers’ baits.

With slower fishing, fewer anglers have fished the lake than in a typical year. “Although abundant forage has slowed angler catch rates, that’s a good, healthy sign for Mille Lacs Lake,” Parsons said. “Anglers are reporting they are catching plump walleye, and we expect the lake’s walleye population to grow well this season.”

Bridges of Hope reopens The Bridge on 7th for homeless in Brainerd

Bridges of Hope announced the reopening of The Bridge on 7th for its fifth season of service to the Brainerd Lakes Area’s homeless community. The shelter will welcome guests beginning on Monday, Sept. 1, offering a safe, warm, and dignified place to sleep during the coldest months of the year.

Since opening its doors in 2021, The Bridge on 7th has been a vital lifeline for individuals experiencing homelessness, providing over 13,486 nights of shelter and supporting 533 individuals. This milestone represents not just a number, but a growing network of compassionate donors, volunteers, and community partners who are dedicated to making a difference. “The Bridge on 7th is more than just a shelter,” said Jana Shogren, Executive Director of Bridges of Hope. “It’s a place where guests are seen, heard, and supported. Our goal is to meet each person where they’re at, offering not just a bed for the night, but a connection to something more.”

Operating nightly from 7 p.m. to 8 a.m., The Bridge on 7th serves guests throughout the colder months—from September to May. In addition to offering a safe place to sleep, the shelter provides personal necessities donated by the community and support from trained staff who help connect individuals to essential resources. The shelter is available for individuals aged 18 and older. The community’s support is essential to their mission, especially local businesses, churches, service groups, and individual donors that allow them to continue their vital work year after year. For those looking to get involved, there are many ways to contribute. Whether donating essential items, volunteering time, or offering financial support, every act of kindness helps ensure the doors of The Bridge on 7th stay open to those who need it most. “We’re building a community where everyone has a safe place to sleep, and we’re so grateful for everyone who has supported this mission,” added Shogren. For more information about The Bridge on 7th, or to learn how you can volunteer or donate, visit bridgesofhopemn.org/overnight-shelter.

St. John’s Lutheran Church of Cedarbrook

As the crispness of fall settles in, St. John’s Lutheran Church of Cedarbrook is ready to welcome the community back with a host of meaningful services and events that celebrate both faith and the joys of the season.

The church will begin its new schedule on Sunday, Sept. 7, with worship at 9:00 a.m. followed by Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. for children. This marks the return of their regular fall schedule, and it’s an exciting opportunity for families to gather together in worship and spiritual growth.

But that’s not all—Sept. 7 will also feature a Blessing of the Backpacks during worship. A special moment for students, teachers, and school staff, this blessing is a tradition to send off all those heading back to school with prayers of protection, guidance, and success for the year ahead. Whether you’re in kindergarten or college, everyone is encouraged to bring their backpacks as part of this heartwarming service.

The excitement continues with a fan-favorite event: the Blessing of the Animals Worship on Sunday, Sept. 21, at 9:00 a.m. This annual service is a celebration of the special bond between people and their pets, where all animals are welcome to receive a blessing—except for snakes.

It’s a joyful time for the community to come together, share in the love of their animals, and receive a prayer for the health and happiness of their furry, scaly, or feathered companions.

All events will take place at St. John’s Lutheran Church of Cedarbrook, located at 27452 St. John’s Church Rd, Aitkin, and the church warmly invites everyone to join them for these special occasions. Whether you’re a regular attendee or a first-time visitor, all are welcome to be part of the vibrant, welcoming community.
