Thankful to all our readers...

"When you live a life filled with gratitude, every day is Thanksgiving."
"Gratitude is the unseen ribbon that ties together loving hearts and faithful friends."

This month's Flyer has plenty of Craft Shows. Please open your heart and share with the many food drives in our area. This is our annual Thanksgiving Traditions Family Flyer. We have something for everyone! "SMALL BUSINESS SATURDAY IS NOV. 29th!"

Our Shop Locally Pages are back just in time for the Gift Giving Season. Be sure to shop your mom and pop shops first, they have their stores stocked and are ready for you! Watch for us next month in your mailbox on Thursday, December 4th.

Sincerely,
The Family Flyer Staff

Times of Restitution of All Things

The world seeks peace and restitution from evil done to them, generation after generation. Yet neither force nor laws truly bring satisfaction to any yearning heart. However, the desire of all nations will be met by God in due time. (Acts 3:21 and Haggai 2:7)

“Ransom and Restitution”, a topical Bible study, leads to an understanding of God’s Plan for His timing and requirements for peace to come to all mankind. We invite you to use the links below to this study. You can email/write to us for details on obtaining the book The Divine Plan of the Ages for this and 15 other topical studies.

Here's what's Cookin'

By Phyllis Hays, #11 with Trixie

Extra Easy Pumpkin Cookies

cooking spray
1 (14 ounce) can 100% pure pumpkin
2 large eggs
1/2 cup applesauce
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 (15.25 ounce) package spice cake mix
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Lightly grease 2 baking sheets with cooking spray. Beat pumpkin, eggs, applesauce, and vanilla together in a large bowl until well combined. Stir in cake mix, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves until well blended and creamy. Drop by spoonfuls onto the prepared baking sheets. Bake in the preheated oven until the tops are firm when lightly touched, 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Enjoy!

Veterans

God bless our veterans, they've kept our country free
 First line of our defense, they've served for you and me
 It matters not what war, they served and battles fought
 They made it possible, for goals that then were sought
 The horrors of a war, only a vet can know
 Respect our veterans, for they deserve it so
 For those that have passed on, remember them with pride
 The rest of our great Vets, proudly stand by their side
 To honor our lost vets, monuments have been built
 To view their names in stone, emotions strong are felt
 Americans say thanks, a few days of each year
 When vets go marching by, we stand aside and cheer
 But thank them every day, for that's what they deserve
 Where would our nation be, had they chose not to serve
 Thanks to our Veterans, our flag flies high and free
 By good jobs they have done, for all the world to see

Veterans Day Ceremony—

Join the City of Crown Point and American Legion Post 20 for the annual Veterans Day ceremony at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 11, on the east side steps of the historic Lake Country Courthouse.

Hammond Veteran Appreciation Day Parade: The 12th Annual Veteran Appreciation Day parade will be held on Saturday, November 1, at 10 a.m. The parade route runs from Olcott Avenue to Hessville Park. A short program will follow the parade at the Hessville Park Veterans Memorial.

Portage Veterans Day Service: American Legion Post 260 is holding a Veterans Day Service at Woodland Park on Tuesday, November 11, at 11 a.m., featuring the Portage High School MCJROTC Color Guard and guest speakers. A free chili and cake reception will follow at American Legion Post 260.

Gardening Tips

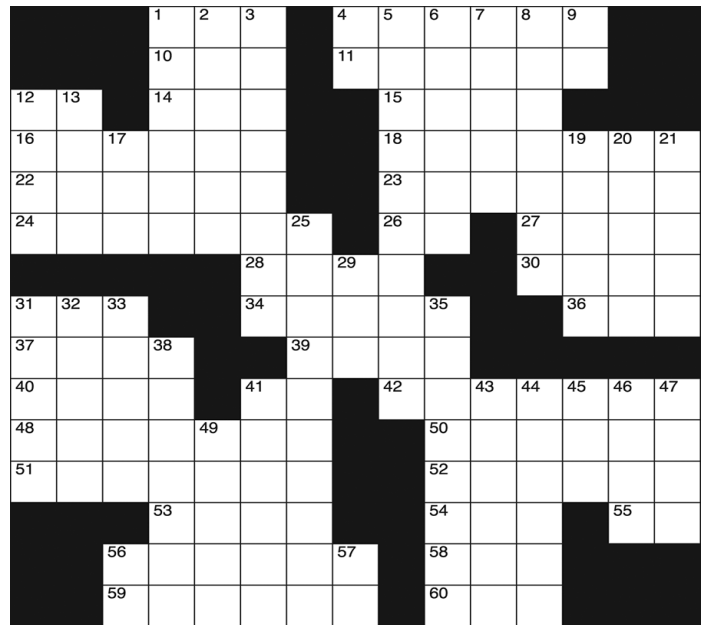

by Jackie Kubiak #12

10 Tips for October Gardening

1. In vegetable garden beds, be sure to remove old plants, as well as any foliage that has fallen on the soil.
2. Do a final weeding, and mulch the bed with straw, grass clippings, or chopped leaves. These mulch's can be turned into the soil next spring to help fertilize next year's crops.
3. Collect and store flower bulbs—such as gladiolus, freesia, calla, and canna bulbs—after their tops have frozen.
4. Mow the lawn one last time. Spread corn gluten meal if you have problems with crab grass.
5. Collect leaves to shred (with a shredder or mower) and compost.
6. Before you put away your mower, take it to the shop for any repairs and to have the blade sharpened.
7. Cut back tender roses to 10 to 12 inches, and remove all foliage so insects and diseases can't winter over.
8. Cover tender, hybrid roses with leaves or straw to protect against winter temperature changes.
9. Bring in any pots that can't take a freeze — terra-cotta, ceramic, and many plastic pots
10. Clean and oil garden tools before storing for winter

The Great Crested Flycatcher

There are more than 400 species of flycatcher birds in the world today, with most of them being found in Central and South America. But there are plenty of flycatchers in North America, too, since we have about 35 species occurring here. They are mainly insect-eaters, and all of them are more than agile enough to catch the insects "on the wing" while they are flying.

Flycatchers are not only swift and nimble, they are interesting birds, too. One such flycatcher is the beautiful Great Crested Flycatcher. This bird is slightly smaller than an American Robin, but larger than most other flycatchers. It is reddish-brown on its back, wings and tail, and has a gray throat and neck. Its belly is a bright yellow color, and it has a distinct feathered crest on top of its head that it can raise and lower depending on its mood.

As the name implies, great crested flycatchers specialize in catching flying insects to eat. They are experts at catching winged bugs like moths, butterflies, flies, dragonflies, bees and even wasps. They find a perch high in the trees to watch for flying insects, and then fly out and snatch them from mid-air. They also fly down to the ground to grab insects like beetles, ants and grasshoppers off the ground.

Great crested flycatchers usually nest in tree cavities, whether they are natural cavities or holes excavated by woodpeckers. The female fills the nest cavity with leaves, grass, small twigs, feathers and even fur plucked from animals. She usually lays 4-8 eggs and incubates them for about two weeks. In another two weeks the fledglings will be ready to leave the nest!

Crown Point Community Library Hosts Panel Discussion on Artificial Intelligence for National Media Literacy Week
CROWN POINT, IN — The Crown Point Community Library invites the public to attend a special program, "Navigating the AI Era: Challenges and Opportunities," on Thursday, October 30 at 6 p.m. This community conversation will feature a panel of local experts discussing the positive and negative aspects of Artificial Intelligence (AI) across education, the workplace, and daily life.

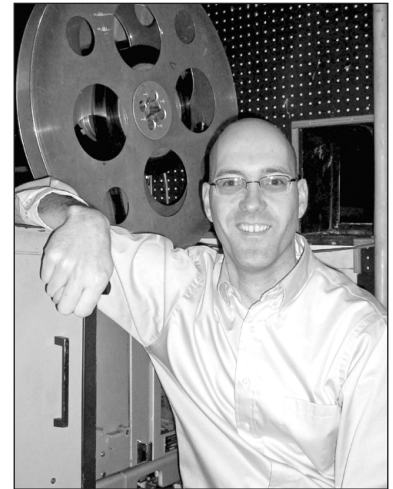

The event is presented in recognition of National Media Literacy Week, which highlights the importance of critical thinking and informed engagement with media and technology. The discussion will be moderated by Cynthia O'Dell, Professor of Psychology at Indiana University Northwest (IU Northwest) and current intern at the Crown Point Community Library. The event is free and open to the public. Registration is appreciated but not required. To register, call (219) 306-4593

"The Aisle Seat"

by Tim Fealy

Growing up, we would play games in the street and yell "Car!" when a neighbor would be passing though. My friend Tom also had a big field behind his house which was perfect for baseball and football games. It is wonderful growing up with lots of kids close in age. This is what the kids have in the new Netflix documentary, "The Perfect Neighbor." All the film footage used is from police body cams and surveillance cameras. The film opens with a 911 call from Susan, one of many calls received over 2 years, complaining the kids are playing too loud and harassing her. When the police arrive, we hear from all sides. The kids do play by Susan's home, but they have permission to use the field where they play. The parents watch the kids and are glad the kids are outdoors instead of playing video games. And Susan is beyond frustrated as she feels the kids make her life miserable. One mom tells her kids to always be respectful. If they have any issues, let the mom know and she will talk to Susan. How the story unfolds after this, though, will break your heart. This story is compelling, well told and will stick with you long after viewing it. On my scale as to what I would pay to see this film, "The Perfect Neighbor" gets $8.

My latest "go-to" before bed and to help me unwind is "The Good Place." If you missed its network run, you can find the series on Amazon Prime. Eleanor dies and discovers that she has made it to the Good Place, a place of eternal bliss where only the very best souls reside. Everything in the afterlife is made to be perfect for each individual, including finding their one intended soulmate. The only slight issue is that Eleanor was actually a terrible person and a mistake has been made. Is there still time for her to learn to be a good person? Or will the afterlife be thrown into chaos by this oversight? Starring Kristen Bell and Ted Danson. The Good Place is fun, well-written and clever and provides a good escape from everyday life. On my scale, "The Good Place" gets $7.

8 Tips to Stay Healthy and Fit this Holiday Season

With the decadent meals, holiday parties and family engagements consuming the upcoming month, it can be tough to maintain a fitness routine and healthy eating. We hope the tips below will help you navigate your busy holiday schedule and the seemingly endless platters of delicious food.

1. Have a Plan (and a Back-up Plan)

Creating a plan of your workout schedule and meals will help the next month go much smoother. Of course, you will have to work in some flexibility. If you're not going to be able to keep up with your evening gym sessions during the holidays, opt to go early in the morning before everyone else has even gotten out of bed.

2. Drink Plenty of Water

This is important for so many reasons. Our brains can often confuse thirst with hunger so before you decide to go for seconds, drink a big glass of water. You should also try to drink at least two glasses of water before each big holiday meal; you will likely feel full much sooner.

3. Moderation and Indulgences

Instead of completely restricting yourself or feeling guilty about eating dessert, choose one item to indulge in but limit yourself to one serving. Moderation is always key during the holiday season.

4. Quick Exercises

If you can't make it to the gym, try to incorporate some bodyweight exercises or high-intensity interval training (HIIT) at home. You can still get a great workout in, even if you do only 10 or 20 minutes.

5. Keep Moving

It's easy to sit around the table for hours chatting with family after a big meal. Instead, suggest taking a family walk so you can continue the conversation while still squeezing in some exercise! Your body will thank you.

6. Limit your Stress

With the shopping rush and numerous holiday parties and family gatherings, the next few months can be stressful. Do your best to limit your stress, whether it's just slowing down or even saying "no" to a few engagements. Stress heightens your cortisol levels and affects your insulin, which can make fat-burning even tougher.

7. Healthier Recipes

If you have any say in the meal preparation or are bringing some food to contribute, try incorporating some healthier holiday foods. There are plenty of trimmed-down alternative recipes to choose from!

8. Set Goals

Don't wait until December 31st to think about your fitness and health goals for the upcoming year. Setting your goals now will help you not lose focus in December.

"Fall" Into Great Savings!

As fall arrives, birds may change the foods they eat, their social arrangements, plumage, and even where they live. In the fall, birds may change to feeding on the ripening seeds and berries, partly because of the abundance, but also because insects are becoming scarce as winter approaches. Add a touch of FUN to your fall feeding setup with our adorable seed characters—made with seeds, nuts, and fruit to attract chickadees, woodpeckers, goldfinches, and more! Bring home a new seed friend and watch your backyard come alive!

Save Energy & Money this Winter with SUMMERS

WHY HAVE A TUNE-UP?

There are a few important things you can do to ensure that your heating and cooling systems run efficiently to keep utility bills down and your comfort up:

- Change your air filters at least twice a year so your family is breathing cleaner air and your HVAC system is not being overworked.
- Install a programmable thermostat.
- Have yearly system tune-ups.
