Dr. Doug Phillips

Host of "Discovering Alabama," To Speak At WSCC On Earth Day

Dr. Doug Phillips will serve as Wallace State's guest speaker for Earth Day on Thursday, April 21 at 11:30 a.m., in room 219 of the School of Nursing and Center for Science. The program is open to the public

Dr. Phillips is widely known for his travels in Alabama's wildlands as host of the Emmy-honored program, an educational documentary series on APT featuring the natural history and wonders of our state. He has also pioneered many other important Alabama initiatives for education and conservation and the nationally-recognized model for wildland conservation, the Alabama Forever Wild Program. He currently serves as the Coordinator for Environmental Information and Education with the Alabama Museum of Natural History at the University of Alabama.

Wallace State recognizes Earth Day each year, whether it's planting trees on campus or the college hosting a variety of speakers to commemorate the event. The Earth Day activities are sponsored by the Wallace State Green Team.

Right now, in any American hospital, about half of the patients have a prescription for an acid-reducing drug to reduce heartburn or prevent bleeding in their stomach and gut. But that will-intentioned drug may actually boost their risk of dying during their hospital stay, a new study finds-by opening them up to infections that pose more risk than bleeding would. In fact, according to a computer simulation based on real-world risk and benefit data, around 90 percent of hospital inpatients who were first prescribed these drugs in the hospital have a higher risk of dying when they're taking them compared with their risk if they hadn't gotten the prescription. And for around 80 percent of patients who were already on these common drugs, called proton-pump inhibitors or PPIs, when they arrived at the hospital, staying on them also may lead to a small increase in the risk of dying. The extra risk of death comes from the fact that reducing acid in the stomach can increase the risk of infections-especially pneumonia and Clostridium difficile, both of which pose a serious risk to hospitalized patients who develop them. The study, which uses a computer model to achieve a result that otherwise would require an impractically large clinical trial, is published in the Journal of General Internal Medicine.

Using antibiotics alone to treat children with uncomplicated acute appendicitis is a reasonable alternative to surgery when chosen by the family. A study published in JAMA Surgery found that three out of four children with uncomplicated appendicitis have been successfully treated with antibiotics alone at one-year follow-up. Compared to urgent appendectomy, non-operative management was associated with less recovery time, lower health costs and no difference in the rate of complications at one year.

William Tyndale could read The Holy Scrip and knowing some priests were not teaching it as it was written, he translated The Scrip into English so man could read the Truth! On Oct 6th 1536, he was strangled and his body was burned at the stake for printing the Truth! The Bible proves the words of many so called Christian preachers are not the Words of The Messiah (Mt 15:9), nor do they teach to hear Him (Acts 3:23), but do teach Jesus knows man cannot turn from sin and by praying in His Name, you are forgiven, which encourages sin! Satan and his ministers beguile mankind to wallow in sin (Gen 3:1-5, 1Jn 3:8-9) and make it appear as righteousness (2Cor 11:13-15)! Christ said sin no more (Jn 5:14, 8:11)! So Be It!

Saving You MONEY

BLUE TAG SPECIALS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
