Berrien County Veterans Services Director wins state honor

Maureen Adams, Berrien County Veterans Services Director, has been named the Michigan Veteran Service Provider of the Year by the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency.

The honor recognizes those who have made a difference connecting veterans with healthcare, education, and other services. Adams was celebrated for expanding support for local veterans and their families throughout 2025.

Berrien County Administrator Brian Dissette tells us the award is well deserved.

"She brings an incredible level of energy and spirit," Dissette said. "She is a treasure and just an absolute rock star of a county employee."

Dissette says Maureen's efforts include coordinating the county's annual Stand Down event, launching Dine and Discover programs to help veterans learn about the benefits available to them, and hosting a 50th-anniversary Vietnam War commemoration. That's not all.

"She has opened an office in Niles to provide better accessibility to services for veterans living in the South County. She recently traveled to the State Capitol to pay tribute to Vern Evans, a local veteran who was bestowed the Michigan Vietnam Veteran Award."

Dissette said Adams has also launched the VIBE network to connect veterans with services and increased outreach at community events like the Berrien County Youth Fair.

Adams says the mission of her office is to ensure veterans have access to necessities including food and clothing, legal assistance, medical and mental health resources, and companionship. She received the honor at the 2025 Michigan Military and Veterans Gala in Detroit this month.

SWM Community Action Agency thankful for successful Stuff a Truck event

The 2025 Stuff a Truck Food Drive for the Southwest Michigan Community Action Agency is being called a resounding success.

The Mid-West Family Marketing and Media teams from 99.9 Y Country and WSJM camped out each day last week at Roger's Foodland to collect food and monetary donations to help keep the Action Agency's pantry stocked as demand keeps rising. As of Saturday, the final day of the drive, the team was able to fill about ten trucks with food and collect about $40,000.

The Holidays Have Arrived in St. Joe!

It seems like just last week we were shaking the sand out of our beach towels. But overnight, the air has turned crisp, the days have grown shorter, and our focus has shifted to the excitement of winter in SW Michigan. In St. Joe, this isn't just a change in weather; it is a transformation into something magical. There is so much happening, and we are thrilled to invite everyone to join us downtown.

Our community comes alive this time of year. While summer is full of beach fun, the holiday season offers a warmth centered on tradition. We have curated a full calendar of events designed to bring neighbors together, creating moments of joy while celebrating everything that makes our town special.

We kick things off with Small Business Saturday on November 29th. It is a fantastic opportunity to find thoughtful, unique gifts for everyone on your list. Our downtown is walkable, welcoming, and full of distinct shops offering everything from home decor and books to winter apparel and one-of-a-kind food items. Coming downtown offers the chance to see products firsthand and chat with the owners who curated them. When you shop here, you are supporting local businesses that rely on a strong holiday season to carry them through the winter months. I encourage you to save some of your holiday shopping for our local merchants—it makes a real difference to the vitality of our community.

Following Thanksgiving weekend, we have our Merry and Bright Weekend, December 5th through 7th.

The anticipation builds leading up to Friday, December 5th, when the city hosts its annual Light Up the Bluff. For many residents, this is one of the most incredible nights of the year. There is a collective sense of wonder when the switch is flipped, and the bluff is instantly flooded with the glow of a million lights against the backdrop of Lake Michigan. It is an incredible display that lasts all winter long. I recommend coming downtown early to beat the rush. Grab a hot chocolate or festive beverage from one of our Social District partners to enjoy while you find your spot. The program starts at 6:00 p.m., and the ceremonial tree lighting will take place at 6:30 p.m.

The fun continues Saturday, December 6th, with the Reindog Parade. This wonderful tradition proves that the holiday spirit extends to our four-legged friends as well. It is a crowd favorite, featuring dogs of all sizes dressed in their holiday best. Barring unforeseen circumstances, we also anticipate the arrival of a special holiday guest in Downtown St. Joseph. If you'd like to join the fun, you can register your dog online or stop by the Welcome Center to register in person.

Saturday also marks the kickoff of our Santa Series. Beginning December 6th, Santa Claus will be downtown in St. Joe, in front of the St. Joe Today Welcome Center, throughout the month. It is a cherished tradition for kids to share their wish lists and get that perfect photo. These visits are free and open to the public.

To cap off the Merry and Bright Weekend, on Sunday, December 7th, we will host the annual Holiday Artisan Market at Union + Social from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. If you are looking for something one-of-a-kind, this is the place. We have vendors selling jewelry, local art, sweet treats, and handcrafted goods. It is the perfect atmosphere to slow down, enjoy a Sunday afternoon indoors, and find those final touches for your holiday gifting.

Finally, as you enjoy these events, don't forget to save your receipts. St. Joe Today's Countdown to New Year is back. Every $25 spent at a St. Joe Today member business enters you into a drawing for a $50 gift card. Drawings start on December 15th, so be sure to turn your receipts in early to maximize your chances.

We look forward to seeing you downtown St. Joe this winter. You can register and find more info for all our events at Stjoetoday.com.

From all of us at St. Joe Today, we wish you a Merry and Bright holiday season.

Best-Selling Guitarist Bryan Lubeck Presents
'Welcome Winter with Bryan Lubeck & Friends'
An Intimate Acoustic Holiday Concert at the Box Factory on Dec. 13

The Box Factory for the Arts welcomes the season with "Welcome Winter with Bryan Lubeck & Friends," an intimate, all-acoustic holiday concert led by best-selling guitarist Bryan Lubeck. Drawing from his Top 10 ranked holiday favorite "We Three Strings" and his best-selling release "Welcome Winter," Lubeck blends Spanish-guitar warmth, elegant arrangements, and festive spirit into an event made for the holidays.

This special evening wraps timeless melodies in rich, global colors, featuring flamenco guitarist Carlo Basile, oud virtuoso Ronnie Malley and violinist Lews Stahl, with bassist Jon Paul and drummer Nate Lacny rounding out the ensemble.

The concert takes place Saturday, December 13, 7-9pm, at the Box Factory, 1101 Broad St. in St. Joseph. Reserve your tickets now: $30 for cabaret seating and $20 general admission at ticketstripe.com/bryanlubeck-christmas. Tickets at the door are $25. Festive cocktails and refreshments will be available at the cash bar.

"Holiday music is about light, warmth, and connection," says Lubeck. "With Spanish guitar, oud, flamenco and violin, we're painting winter in new colors – snow-soft one moment, sparkling the next – while revisiting favorites in a way that feels intimate and alive."

Recognized by Billboard Magazine as a Critics' Choice artist who "weaves a tapestry of Spanish guitar and cool urban grooves," Lubeck has earned millions of streams, multiples charting singles, and recognition among Chartmetric's Top 100 Guitarists Worldwide. His music has been featured across global radio and streaming and selected by Microsoft for a major product launch. He has performed for more than a million music lovers and shared stages with Michael McDonald, Richard Elliot, Rick Braun, Mindi Abair and other high-profile artists. Lubeck was also honored as an Up and Coming Artist at the American Smooth Jazz Awards. Check out his music at www.bryanlubeck.com.

Whether it's a date night, an evening with friends, or a treat for yourself, this concert is designed to lift spirits and start traditions. Come raise a glass at the Box Factory on December 13 and let the music welcome winter!

The Hidden Dangers of a Clogged Furnace Filter: What You Need To Know

Your home's furnace is the unsung hero of winter comfort, quietly circulating warm air to keep you cozy. At the heart of this system lies a simple yet crucial component: the furnace filter. Designed to trap dust, pollen, pet dander, and other airborne particles, it ensures cleaner indoor air and protects the furnace's internal mechanics. But what happens when this filter becomes clogged? The consequences can range from minor inconveniences to serious health and financial issues. In this article, we'll explore the ripple effects of a neglected furnace filter and why regular maintenance is essential.

First, let's understand how a furnace filter works. Air is drawn into the furnace through the return vents, passing through the filter before being heated and redistributed. A clean filter allows for smooth airflow, but over time, it accumulates debris. Filters should typically be checked monthly and replaced every 1-3 months, depending on factors like household size, pets, and location. When ignored, the filter clogs, restricting airflow and forcing the system to work harder.

One immediate effect of a clogged filter is reduced efficiency. The furnace blower motor strains to push air through the blockage, consuming more energy. This can spike your utility bills by 5-15%, as the system runs longer to achieve the desired temperature. In extreme cases, uneven heating occurs—some rooms feel drafty while others over-heat—leading to discomfort and thermostat wars in your household.

Beyond efficiency, air quality suffers dramatically. A clogged filter fails to capture new particles, allowing dust, allergens, and even mold spores to circulate freely. This can exacerbate respiratory issues, especially for those with asthma, allergies, or weakened immune systems. Children and the elderly are particularly vulnerable. Studies from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) highlight that poor indoor air quality contributes to headaches, fatigue, and long-term health problems like chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). In homes with pets or in dusty environments, the buildup can create a hazy atmosphere, noticeable as increased dust on furniture and surfaces.

The strain on the furnace itself is another major concern. Restricted airflow causes the heat exchanger to overheat, potentially leading to cracks or failures. This not only shortens the furnace's lifespan—typically 15-20 years—but can also pose safety risks. Overheated components might trigger the system's safety switches, causing frequent shutdowns or "short cycling." In worst-case scenarios, it could lead to carbon monoxide leaks if the heat exchanger cracks, a silent danger that requires immediate professional intervention.

Financially, the fallout adds up quickly. Repair costs for a damaged blower motor or heat exchanger can range from $200 to $2,000, not including emergency service fees. If the entire furnace needs replacement, you're looking at $4,000 to $7,000. Preventative measures, however, are straightforward and cost-effective. Start by choosing the right filter: pleated options with a MERV rating of 8-13 offer good filtration without overly restricting airflow. Vacuum vents regularly, and consider air duct cleaning every few years. For smart homes, invest in a filter monitor that alerts you via app when it's time for a change.

In conclusion, a clogged furnace filter is more than a minor oversight—it's a gateway to inefficiency, health hazards, and costly repairs. By staying vigilant with routine checks and replacements, you safeguard your home's comfort, air quality, and your wallet. As winter approaches, take a moment to inspect your filter; it might just be the simplest way to ensure a warm, healthy season ahead.

For over 25 years, MailMax has shown up in your mailbox every single week—free of charge—with a purpose: to bring you good news and good deals...shining a light on local businesses and non-profits that make Southwest Michigan a better place to live.

We do it because we believe our community deserves a newspaper that lifts people up—a paper that highlights kindness, celebrates success, and keeps dollars circulating right here at home.

And many of you have helped make that possible. In the past, hundreds of you have quietly stepped forward with voluntary contributions that keep MailMax going and allow us to continue supporting more than 30 local non-profit organizations with advertising and publicity.

A Heartfelt Request to Help MailMax Help Others

This year, we are humbly asking again for your support.

Why Your Support Matters

The cost of producing and mailing a community newspaper has risen sharply—paper, ink, postage, fuel, everything. We work hard not to pass those increases on to our advertisers, who are facing their own rising costs. It's especially challenging for the small, family-run businesses who struggle to keep their doors open.

Your voluntary gifts bridge that gap.

They help keep MailMax free.

They help us continue saying “yes” to the charities, veterans’ groups, churches, youth programs, and community organizations we help promote every week. We also continue to promote suicide prevention on a regular basis, offering hope and resources to those who may be silently struggling.

A Community Effort

Your generous contributions in years past have helped us deliver the good news to tens of thousands of households each week and have provided a platform for dozens of non-profits to reach the people they serve. When you give, you aren't just supporting a local family-owned newspaper—you're partnering with us to uplift Southwest Michigan.

How You Can Help This Year

We no longer include pre-addressed envelopes (they simply became too expensive to print), but giving is still quick and easy.

You can support MailMax by contributing through:

www.paypal.me/MailMax or by using this QR code.

You can also send checks to: MailMax, PO Box 860, St. Joseph, MI 49085.

SCAN ME

Whether it's $10, $20, $50, or any amount that fits your heart and budget, you are directly strengthening our community and the non-profit network we support.

Thank You

Whether or not you choose to participate this year, MailMax will continue to show up faithfully, week after week. We are grateful for you, for this community, and for the opportunity to share the good news.

What are some things you don't understand? I don't understand quantum computing. I don't understand how lasers work. I don't understand how to calculate how many stars are in a galaxy. There are so many things in this universe that we don't understand. Experts could attempt to explain them, but it may still go over my head.

At times, I don't understand God's plans and purposes. For God to explain them to me would be like a parent trying to explain to a screaming 2-year-old child why he is taking the sharp knife away. Any explanation could be met with, "But I want it!" "Mine!" "You hate me!"

Like the patient parent, God can take my tantrums and respond with his grace.

Part of his grace is allowing us the space to cry out to him in prayer. As my mom recently wrote in a message, “God actually does not mind if we beat him in the chest as he holds us in the dark places. He knows what it is like in the dark.”

Jesus experienced both the good and the bad from God's hand. Jesus is blessed with eternal community with God in the three-in-one relationship with the Father and the Spirit. Jesus was also torn from the merciful presence of God when he was condemned on the cross for our sins.

Jesus experienced the condemning darkness of hell so that you would never know darkness that deep. No matter what you have done or what has happened to you, you are at peace with God because of Jesus.

And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 4:7)

The peace of God is something that goes beyond comprehension. I don't understand everything Jesus endured on the cross for my sake. I will never experience hell, so I can never understand that. I don't understand what it would truly be like to be rejected by God. God never rejects you because Jesus is for you. This is a peace that is hard to wrap my mind around.

It is not the explanation of that peace or the full comprehension of that peace, but the peace itself that will guard your heart and mind. You don't have to understand it for it to be true. Its truth is what will guard you and keep you sane. The truth will give you peace.

What are you experiencing that needs more peace? How does Jesus give that to you?

Prayer: Father, you have given me your peace whether I fully understand it or not. Thank you for protecting my heart with that peace. Keep my mind as well, dwelling on that peace so I can always find rest in you. Amen.

We've gobbled, wobbled, shopped, napped, spent time with friends & family and officially entered the most wonderful time of the year (I know you sang that to yourself like I did)! The next few weekends will be spent with community celebrations and plenty of opportunities for you to thaw any Grinch hearts.

Starting off with St. Joseph Today's Merry & Bright weekend, December 5th & 6th, featuring Light up the Bluff, the Reindog Parade, and the Holiday Artisan Market. You can get all the details of each event by heading to their website at stjoetoday.com.

Christmas in the Village in downtown Stevensville - this annual holiday tradition takes place Saturday, December 6th from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. The day will boast free photos with Santa (note: 1 per family), sleigh rides, food trucks, reindeer games for all ages, s'mores, and so much more! You'll find all the fun happening down St. Joseph Avenue in the heart of the Village. Additional details can be found on the Village's Facebook page:
facebook.com/VillageOfStevensville

That same day, you'll find me in downtown Bridgman for Holiday Village from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m. The event, which is organized and orchestrated by the Greater Bridgman Area Chamber & Growth Alliance, has been a holiday staple for residents and visitors to the community for years.

Returning favorites include Holiday Pop-Up market inside Immanuel Lutheran Church and School; a holiday movie at the Bridgman Public Library; Christmas cookie decorating at The Sandpiper & Hoof-to-Hanger; Paws to Wash's Pet Parade through downtown; free pet photos at Transient Artisan Ales; a Live Nativity at Immanuel Lutheran; caroling; and the arrival of Santa and Mrs. Claus, and so much more!

Attendees will have the opportunity to once again vote on their favorite decorated Christmas Tree at the “tree walk”. Located next to Transient

Dave Says Make Sure the Degree is Practical and Marketable

Dear Dave,

My husband wants to leave his job next year. He wants to go back to school full-time and finish his degree. It wouldn't take him long to complete his studies, and we've both agreed it's the best thing to do for our family. The only drawback is once he begins school, our yearly income will fall from $100,000 to about $50,000. The good news is we'll have his veteran's stipend and tuition assistance from my job to help pay for things. During all this, once we complete Baby Step 3, should we move on the Baby Step 4, or keep saving?

Courtney

Dear Courtney,

As long as you two are completely in agreement about this plan, and you're willing to save like crazy for the next year and beyond, I think it makes sense. But listen carefully to this next part. You're going to have some unexpected things pop up along the way. That's just how life works. I'm not trying to discourage you, but I want you to understand that even with your husband's stipend, and help from your employer, you'll have to stick to a budget and be smart with your money now more than ever before.

Later, once you complete Baby Step 3—which is having three to six months of expenses set aside as an emergency fund—Baby Step 4 is usually starting to invest 15 percent of your income for retirement. In your case, however, you're not investing directly for retirement at that point. But you will be investing in your husband and your future together as a family. And it's a great investment if he's studying something that has practical marketplace application. Because that means you're setting the stage to make back the money you put into his degree and have a bigger income for years into the future.

Again, as long as he's not off taking stupid courses like left-handed puppetry or pursuing a Ph.D. in the history of German polka, you two are making a great investment for the future. Do everything you can to save and pile up money—that includes him doing something to bring in a little cash on weekends when he's not in class—so you two can pay the bills, he can get through school and together, you can make this dream come true!

— Dave

Drive & Shine opens in Stevensville at Exit 23

The long awaited Drive & Shine car wash has opened at Exit 23 in Stevensville. The South Bend based car wash and oil change chain had been planning the Stevensville location for several years, with construction underway for more than a year.

Drive & Shine is bigger in size than most competing car wash operations and offers a variety of custom processes for care care that customers seem to rave about in reviews. The chain has multiple locations in Northwest Indiana, Fort Wayne and Kalamazoo.

Drive & Shine is open Monday-Saturday 7:30 am to 8 pm, Sunday 8:30 am to 7 pm. It's located at 5000 Red Arrow Highway, Stevensville.

For about 50 years, the high traffic site at Exit 23 of I-94 was home to Win Schuler's Restaurant and later the Five O'Clock Sports Bar.

Bridgman's Holiday Village Returns December 6th

On Saturday, December 6, downtown Bridgman will be transformed into the ultimate Christmas destination with the return of the beloved Holiday Village. This event is organized and orchestrated by the Greater Bridgman Area Chamber & Growth Alliance (Bridgman CGA), an affiliate of the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber. It has been a favorite holiday celebration staple for residents and visitors to the community for many years.

The day will feature an entire afternoon of activities for area residents of all ages, including an opportunity to bring your four-legged family members to enjoy the holiday festivities.

Open: Wednesday - Sunday 5pm-Close

"Holiday Village's popularity is really a testament to our local community and business partners and their willingness to come together to make sure everyone feels welcome to come to Bridgman to celebrate the most joyous time of the year," says Bridgman CGA Director, Nancy Kiernan.

Returning favorites include Holiday Pop-Up market inside Immanuel Lutheran Church and School; a holiday movie at the Bridgman Public Library; Christmas cookie decorating at The Sandpiper & Hoof-to-Hanger; Paws to Wash's Pet Parade through downtown; free pet photos at Transient Artisan Ales; a Live Nativity at Immanuel Lutheran; caroling; and the arrival of Santa and Mrs. Claus, and so much more!

Attendees will also have the opportunity to once again vote on their favorite decorated Christmas Tree at the "tree walk". Located next to Transient Artisan Ales, the "tree walk" will feature different trees decorated by businesses in the Bridgman and Lake Township communities. Each tree will feature its own theme that is custom created by the sponsoring business with the winner announced immediately following the community Christmas Tree lighting at 6:00 p.m.. Hosted by Bridgman Mayor Jan Trapani, and Lake Charter Township Supervisor Zach Carson, the community tree lighting will include caroling with the Miss Bridgman Court and Immanuel Lutheran Church.

An additional special feature for 2025 will include firedancer Nick May doing two (2) special performances at the Bridgman Courtyard, one before and one after the Christmas Tree lighting ceremony.

"We hope Bridgman, Lake Charter Township, and surrounding communities will join us in making lasting memories with your family and friends during Holiday Village," adds Kiernan.

Michigan Maritime Museum holding 'Holidays at the Heritage Center'

The Michigan Maritime Museum is kicking off the holiday season with the return of its Holidays at the Heritage Center celebration, running now through January 4.

The museum has once again been transformed into a winter wonderland, offering festive decor, family activities, and a full lineup of events. Highlights include a Holiday Twilight Concert on Wednesday, December 17 and featuring the Kal-Haven Strings. Admission is free with a $5 donation or a non-perishable food item.

On Saturday, December 20, families can stop by for free Selfies with Santa from 11 to 3, followed by Cookies and Cocoa with Captain Bob, with story readings at noon and 1.

The celebration will wrap up with free admission on Sunday, January 4.

Maritime Museum Director Bailey Sisoy-Moore says the season is a chance to celebrate community and thank supporters after a year of growth.

Wrestling the Pilgrim, and Other
Thanksgiving Knowledge

We always roast a turkey on Thanksgiving. No one has ever suggested anything different, and frankly, THEY BETTER NOT, EVER! (I figure if I'm really emphatic about this then nobody will ever bring over one of those gobbler-shaped wads of soy known as – really – “tofurkey.”)

Our Thanksgiving traditions also include several huge, steaming portions of football. Some of our party guests (meaning me and all the other menfolk) cherish Turkey Day football to the point where we (meaning my wife and all the women-folk) must ask for help cleaning up in THE SAME EMPHATIC MANNER that I use to reject tofurkey.

Once again this Thanksgiving, I won't be consuming vast amounts of food and football with anyone related to a Mayflower passenger. Someday I hope to find myself jostling with a Mayflower descendant for the last slice of pumpkin pie; I'd hardly know what to ask first! Probably something like “Wow! You're from a Mayflower family! Tell me, you gonna finish that drumstick?”

Historians who know a lot about history say the Mayflower carried 102 passengers. However, none of them were Pilgrims. That is, they didn't call themselves “Pilgrims.” Pilgrim became shorthand for the Mayflowerians 200 years after their voyage. They preferred to call themselves “The Rat Pack.”

There were no Stuarts aboard the Mayflower. It was, after all, 1620, and they were much too busy ruling England. There were, however, people named Giles, which is my mother's maiden name. Unfortunately, they were guys with the first name of Giles.

One of them was the ship's surgeon, a fellow with the wonderfully fitting name of – really – Giles Heale.

Heale surely helped deliver the two babies born on the boat. He sailed back to England on the Mayflower in May of 1621, never to return. This enabled the parents of those babies to blame Heale for giving them the, ahem, distinctive names that the kids always hated: Oceanus and Peregrine.

But they weren't the only Pilgrims with unusual names. There were Peregrine's sister Resolved; Remember Allerton; Desire Minter, and the Brewster boys, Love and – once again, really – Wrestling.

Now it's entirely possible that you owe your existence to Love or Desire. That is, you may be related to them. A page on the Wikipedia website says, “Many Americans can trace their ancestry back to one or more” of the Mayflower passengers.

Perhaps, though, the words “or more” are just a smokescreen. That is, maybe all Mayflower families were started by one guy – John Howland. He was described by the colony's governor as “a lusty young man,” and he proved it, by fathering ten children. That we know of.

Howland's sizable bloodline traces all the way to former President George W. Bush. In fact, Dubya's roots also connect to another Mayflower passenger, a guy named Francis Cooke.

All this Pilgrim influence probably explains some of the, ahem, distinctive – and truly actual – names in George's family bush...make that, tree: Experience Mitchell, Silence Kingsley, Comfort Horton.

And then there's the Prez' own middle name: the “W” stands for (as Dubya pronounces it) “Wrasslin.”
