Among young children with histories of recurrent severe lower respiratory tract illness (LRTI), the use of azithromycin early during an apparent RTI compared with placebo significantly reduced the risk of experiencing progression to severe LRTI, according to a study in the November 17 issue of JAMA. Acute episodes of severe LRTI are common among preschoolers, and up to 14 percent to 26 percent of preschoolers present with recurrent wheezing during the first 6 years of life. These severe episodes are often associated with substantial illness, and may result in visits to urgent care and emergency departments. Although viral infections are often present, bacteria may also contribute to illness development. Identification of treatment approaches that lessen the severity of these recurrent episodes would provide substantial benefit to preschool children with recurrent severe LRTI, according to background information in the article.

In a study published by the journal Pediatrics, researchers found children given medications for attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) take significantly longer to fall asleep, have poorer quality sleep, and sleep for shorter periods. About 1 in 14 children and adolescents in the U.S. are diagnosed with ADHD, a chronic condition that includes attention difficulty, hyperactivity and impulsiveness. In the most common form of ADHD treatment, about 3.5 million are prescribed stimulant medications such as Ritalin and Adderall. Many research articles have been written in the past 30 years on whether ADHD medications harm the ability to sleep. Some researchers have found that the drugs do interfere with sleep, particularly if taken later in the day. Others maintain the medications improve patients with ADHD's ability to sleep, by relieving symptoms and reducing resistance to bedtime. Indeed, some suggest that sleep problems are caused by the medication wearing off near bedtime, creating withdrawal symptoms.

Christ was manifested to destroy the devil's work (1Jn 3:8-9), yet most of the so called Christian clergy or protestant preachers will not preach what He taught (Mt 7:24-26)! Most teach by supporting their church, you will go to heaven for Christ will accept you! Denying what The Holy Bible gives (Mt 25:30-46, Acts 3:23, Rom 2:6, 2Cor 5:10), yet they claim to believe The Holy Bible! They contort The Messiah's prophecies made to His disciples as promises to those who take man's commandments for their doctrines (Mt 15:9), yet call themselves Christians same as The disciples who were first called Christians at Antioch (Acts 11:26) who were given Holy Power to heal, raise the dead, etc! The only way to The Holy Father is by Christ (Jn 14:6), not false teachers (2Cor 11:13-15)! So Be It! Ron & Jeri

BLUE TAG SPECIALS:
 We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
 Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.

Jimmy Wayne Judkins

January 1, 1947 ~ March 30, 2016

The family of Jimmie Judkins would like to express our sincere thanks for your outpouring of love and kindness during the loss of our precious husband, daddy, and pawpaw.

To all of our friends and church families who brought food, prayed with us, cried with us and hugged us though this unexpected tragedy, we can never thank you enough. We consider you all a great blessing in our lives.

A special "Thank You" to our Temple Baptist Church and Bethlehem West Baptist Church families. A huge "Thank You" to Mike Pepple and all the staff at Moss Funeral Home for your love, support and outpouring of blessings. The service was as perfect as it could be.

Jimmie was a larger than life person and lived life to the fullest. Known by some but not all, Jimmie was blessed with the talent, passion and love for playing drums beginning with the West Point High School FFA Band and continuing for 50+ years, considered one of the best by many, as did we. Jimmie did not read music but rather played by ear.

Jimmie was the best husband, father and pawpaw to all of us, which proves God only takes the best too soon. Continue to pray for our family. God bless.

WAREHOUSE DISCOUNT GROCERIES

Saving You MONEY

BLUE TAG SPECIALS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
