This Year Join Us in the Fight to Protect Gas Grills from Abuse and Neglect.

Standard gas grills only last a few years. The elements wreak havoc on them, the burners clog, and in a short time they don't look or perform like they did when they were new. You might even be guilty of giving your gas grill a swift kick to try to get a burner to work out of frustration. Eventually, it sits unused and neglected in your backyard.

An entry level gas grill will run you about $400, and the cost really mounts up over time. In 20 years, you could spend well over $2,500 on a fleet of "so so" grills.

For a fraction of the cost you can get a Primo Ceramic Grill, and it could easily be the last grill you ever buy. It gives food an organic "wood fire" flavor, and works as a grill, an oven, and a smoker, making it great value in the long run. A Primo performs as well on the 100th cook as it does on the first, not to mention looking beautiful for a lifetime.

Best-in-Category Limited Lifetime Warranty Backed by a 20-Year Guarantee.
 Primo is the only ceramic grill company that backs its Limited Lifetime Warranty with a 20-Year Guarantee. Surprisingly, a "lifetime warranty" is defined by each state, not the company offering it. It can be as little as a few years in some states. Primo guarantees that your new grill is covered for many years of enjoyment.
