There is some good news for people with eye complications from diabetes. A network of researchers has found that the drug Lucentis (ranibizumab) can be highly effective for treating proliferative diabetic retinopathy, an eye disease that can occur as a complication of diabetes. The researchers say this is the first major advance in therapy in 40 years. Diabetic retinopathy is the leading cause of vision loss and blindness among working-age Americans. An advanced stage, called proliferative diabetic retinopathy, occurs when abnormal blood vessels grow near the retina, the light-sensitive tissue at the back of the eye. These new vessels can leak blood, which can obscure vision and damage the retina. Lucentis is one of several drugs called VEGF inhibitors that can block this process.

Antibiotics may be linked to a serious disruption in brain function, called delirium, and other brain problems, more than previously thought, according to a "Views and Reviews" article published in Neurology, a medical journal of the American Academy of Neurology. Delirium causes mental confusion that may be accompanied by hallucinations and agitation. Medications are often the cause of delirium, but antibiotics are not necessarily the first medications doctors may suspect.

New research published in the journal Diabetes Research and Clinical Practice shows for the first time that there is an association of verapamil, which is widely used to treat high blood pressure, irregular heartbeat and migraine headaches, with lower fasting glucose levels in humans with diabetes.

would like to express our appreciation to all of you that showered us with love and kindness during the illness and loss of our beloved Jeremy. To all our friends, neighbors and church families that provided food and fellowship, our heartfelt thanks! To all of you that prayed for Jeremy, visited him in the hospital, called or texted, "thank you". Thank you to the ambulance staff, to the doctors and nurses at UAB, and the employees of Cullman County Home Healthcare and Oxford Healthcare. Gratitude to the staff of Cullman Funeral Home and to the pallbearers. Special thanks to Bro. Darrell Mosley and Brandon Harbison for their words of comfort and to Leah Sapp who sang like an angel. To each person who tried to ease our pain or show their compassion to us at the worst point in our lives, our sincere "thank you"!

Fundraiser for Claire Byars Saturday, May 14th

Gibbs Garden Center will be hosting a fundraiser for Claire Byars on Saturday, May the 14th. We would like to invite all of our loyal customers and the great people of this community to come out and join our efforts to raise funds for this precious baby. Last September Claire was diagnosed with a very rare tumor, so rare in fact it had no protocol for treatment. After 6 months of treatments with only marginal success, Heather and Jeff, frantically searching for answers for their only child, sought out a second opinion only to have her diagnosed with a germ cell tumor, yes cancer. As you are reading this, Claire is at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia to have surgery to remove both tumors. As for now we know that Claire will remain at Children's in Philadelphia for at least 2 weeks or maybe longer. There are still several unknowns ahead of her including follow up treatments and possibly more chemotherapy. Please come out and join our efforts to try and ease some of the financial burdens involved with Claire's medical and travel expenses. We will be donating a portion of all sales from both of our locations and 100% of all donations will go directly to the Byars family. If you can't make it by Saturday, May the 14th there is a donation account set up at Traditions Bank and donations can be made at any Traditions Bank location. Our primary request is that you remember Claire in your thoughts and prayers. Growing up and living in Cullman county my whole life, I know the generosity and compassion of the people in this community and want to thank you in advance for joining our efforts to help one of our own.

Discover The Difference - 256-734-0734

According to Jn 3:16 whosoever beliveth in Him (Son) should not perish, but have ever lasting life. It is obvious Satan knows Christ and knows He is The Holy Son of The Holy Father, yet it is absurd to believe that Satan will be blessed (Rev 20:10), for he does not keep The Commandments of The Holy Father nor obey The Holy Son (Jn 1:14,14:15,24). So if Satan cannot call on The Name of Jesus and be saved, what about the man that does not keep The Commandments (Rev 22:14-15) and calls it a new covenant (Dan 7:25) of grace without law and claims all willful sins are covered (Heb 10:26-31), yet does not turn from sin (Jn 5:14, 8:11, 1Jn 3:4-9)? So Be It! Ron & Jeri
