Wallace State Students John-Anthony Jimenez, Callie Allen Recognized at 2016 All-Alabama Academic Team banquet

Wallace State students John-Anthony Jimenez and Callie Allen were recognized recently at the All-Alabama Academic Team Scholars banquet held at the Marriott Renaissance Hotel in Montgomery.

The All-Alabama Academic Team program started in 1995, honoring some of the most distinguished academic scholars and leaders within the Alabama Community College System (ACCS). The All-Alabama Academic Team Foundation conducts the annual banquet in association with the ACCS and the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society.

Jimenez, a sophomore, maintains a perfect 4.0 grade point average at Wallace State. The Hanceville High grad is majoring in computer science and plans to transfer to Troy University to pursue a bachelor's degree in computer science this fall. His career goals are to work in cybersecurity. Jimenez, who moved to Hanceville from California while in high school, is currently president of Wallace State's Student Government Association (SGA) and the Sigma Kappa Delta English honor society. He's also vice president of Mu Alpha Theta, the college's math honor society.

Allen is a dual enrollment student at Wallace State, majoring in general studies. She currently holds a 3.7 GPA, and her career goal is to earn a doctorate in biology, specialize in genetics and serve as a research geneticist. Through Wallace State's dual enrollment program, Allen enrolled in the college at the age of 14. Now at 16, Allen is already a Wallace State sophomore and on her way to completing her associate's degree by December. She is vice president of Wallace State's Sigma Kappa Delta English honor society, a member of the Phi Theta Kappa, a college ambassador through the Lion Leader program and on the Advisory Committee for the Cullman County Relay for Life/American Cancer Society group.

Allen was also named one of only 50 Silver Scholars among qualified candidates across 38 states last month, standing out among more than thousands of applicants. As a Silver Scholar recipient, Allen receives a $1,250 for the fall semester and a special medallion from the Coca-Cola Scholars Foundation.

In addition to Jimenez and Allen, attending the banquet from Wallace State were Vice President Dr. Tomesa Smith; Jimmy Hodges, Dean of Applied Technologies; and LaDonna Allen, Alumni and Special Projects Coordinator. Alabama Community College System Chancellor Mark Heinrich and respective college administrators presented medallions to each student.

New research published in the Journal of Functional Foods has proven, for the first time that maternal supplementation with docosahexaenoic acid (DHA), an omega-3 essential polyunsaturated fatty acid, improves iron reserves before birth and helps prevent future postnatal deficiencies and the damage this could cause to the baby's cognitive development, in addition to helping in early brain development.

In 1,048 prostate cancer patients previously treated with docetaxel and 996 metastatic, castration-resistant patients, treatment with the androgen-lowering drug abiraterone acetate (Zytiga) led to longer overall disease control, even when a very high Gleason score indicated especially aggressive cancer. Results recently published in the Annals of Oncology show that for patients with Gleason score greater than 8, post-docetaxel treatment with abiraterone extended progression-free survival from 5.5 months to 6.4 months, and pre-chemotherapy abiraterone treatment extended progression-free survival from 8.2 months to 16.5 months.

An estimated 1 in 68 children in the United States has autism. The neurodevelopmental disorder, which impairs communication and social interaction skills, can be treated with medications and behavioral therapies, though there is no cure. A new study published in Psychopharmacology has found that a single dose of propranolol, a medication commonly used to treat high blood pressure and irregular heartbeats, can improve the conversational reciprocity skills of individuals with autism.

WSCC Alumni Association Plans December Trip To The Smokies

Even though it's not even summer yet, the Wallace State Community College Alumni Association is in the holiday spirit as it plans a December trip to North Carolina and Tennessee. The four-night Holiday Magic in the Smokies tour is planned for Dec. 5-9, with overnight stays in Asheville, N.C., and Pigeon Forge, Tenn.

The deluxe motorcoach trip will depart from the Wallace State campus on Monday, Dec. 5 and travel to Asheville, N.C., where accommodations at the Doubletree Hotel have been secured. There, visitors will enjoy a guided tour of Asheville, view the National Gingerbread House Competition entries at the Grove Park Inn and enjoy a candlelight tour of the Biltmore House, which will be decked out for the season.

After two nights in Asheville, the tour will travel to Pigeon Forge, Tenn., and stay two nights in the new Dream More Resort, built adjacent to Dolly Parton's Dollywood theme park. While in Pigeon Forge, visitors will enjoy a dinner show at Hatfield and McCoy Christmas Dinner Show, dinner at the Applewood Farmhouse Restaurant and the Smoky Mountain Opry Christmas Spectacular. There will also be time for shopping at the Five Oaks Outlet Mall, a guided tour of the Ole Smoky Moonshine Distillery, and an optional visit to Dollywood, which will be decorated with more than 4 million lights and presenting its award-winning Christmas shows.

All transportation, parking, admissions and lodging fees (excluding the optional Dollywood visit) are included in the cost of the trip, which includes eight meals: four breakfasts and four dinners. Costs range in price depending on room occupancy from single to quad and start at $650 (Alumni Association discount rate for quad occupancy) and go up to $1,099 (non-member single occupancy). Alumni Association members receive a $100 discount on trips. Alumni membership is $25 per person. Anyone may join the association at www.wsccalumni.org

Reservations for the Tour can be made online at www.wsccalumni.org/Christmas16. For questions call 256.352.8071 or ladonna.allen@wallacestate.edu.

Cierra Barrios

Scholarship Recipient Happy Path Led Her To Wallace State

Several times in her life, situations beyond her control have put Cierra Barrios on a different path than what she may have preferred. Growing up near New Orleans, she and her family survived the devastation of Hurricane Katrina, only to move away four years later when their surroundings became too dangerous. The family moved to Cleveland, Alabama, where her grandmother had lived before she passed away.

"It was hard moving to a new place, especially with no family or friends around," said Barrios, who had to leave the only school she'd ever attended. But she adapted and became active in her new school, participating in sports and clubs. She maintained a 4.0 GPA and was looking forward to going off to university.

Unfortunately, her youngest sister became seriously ill and the family was faced with medical bills that ate into their budget. "As I prepared for looking at colleges, I was very limited because I knew my family could not afford to send me off to college," Barrios said. "After trying to decide what to do or where to go, I confidently chose Wallace State, which is one of the best decisions I have ever made for my education. I told myself that if I made good grades and always stayed passionate about school that I could graduate from Wallace and hopefully colleges would see my hard work and I could go on to a university later on."

Those efforts have paid off, as Barrios was selected to receive the University of Alabama Presidential Transfer Scholarship, where she will study Hotel Tourism Management.

"I'm so happy I chose Wallace State," she said. "I met some of my best friends here and I really found myself when I came here and found what I wanted to do."

Though she knew she wanted a career that would offer her the opportunity to travel and improve her foreign language skills, she narrowed down her selection to tourism. "My success coach, Jill Strickland, she helped me a lot," Barrios said. "I love her. I still visit her a lot, even though after your first year, you don't have the success coach. I still visit her to this day."

Wallace State celebrated commencement on Friday, May 13.

Chamber Of Commerce Hires New Director Of Tourism

The Cullman Area Chamber of Commerce and Visitor Center has announced the appointment of Jesse Newsom as the Director of Tourism. Jesse comes to Cullman with more than eight years of experience in the tourism industry, having served at the Fayetteville (North Carolina) Area Convention & Visitors Bureau since 2012.

He has expertise in sports marketing, economic impact collection, ROI feasibility bidding, database collection, and management specific to tourism. Jesse received his B.S. in Recreation Administration from Middle Tennessee State University and holds certifications in numerous tourism and marketing fields.

"The Chamber Board of Directors is pleased to welcome Jesse and his family. We expect his vast experience and background will help take the visitors center in new and exciting directions," said Sammie Danford, Chamber Chair. "We are fortunate to have Jesse join our team as we continue our efforts to promote the Cullman Area," added Chamber President Leah Bolin.

Jesse and his wife, Natalie, have a four year old son Jack, and an 18-month-old daughter, Jenna Kate. Jesse will join the chamber on May 31.
