

JCJC graduates encouraged to make right choices for history

By Kelly Atwood
 Jones County Junior College history instructor Wyatt Moulds encouraged graduates to stay on the right side of history and move Mississippi forward during the spring commencement ceremonies held May 13 in the A.B. Howard/Bobcat Gymnasium. His speech, "The Importance of Being on the Right Side of History," shared stories of people who made unpopular choices that eventually proved to be the right choices.
 "As we speak, there are historical forces at work, and most of the time those forces will move civilization forward, and if it involves moving civilization forward, JCJC graduates need to be in the middle of it," he said. "It's not always going to be easy or popular."
 Since 2006, Moulds has been working with Hollywood director Gary Ross on the movie

JCJC keynote speaker and history instructor, Wyatt Moulds encouraged the 632 graduates to do the research and be on the right side of history because the nation is depending on them, despite the unpopularity of the right decisions.

"Free State of Jones," a Civil War movie based on farmer Newt Knight, starring Matthew McConaughey and set to be released June 24. Moulds explained to the audience how Knight was on the right side of history. A Jones/Jasper County Mississippian, Knight was opposed to the institution of slavery, the secession of the South and the war that followed. In 1864, he and his men overthrew the local Confederate government and established the Free State of Jones. After the war, Newt became an activist during Reconstruction. He distributed food to destitute people, he rescued children from slavery, and he fought to protect the civil rights of slaves.

"A lot of people considered (Newt Knight) to be the Robin Hood of the Piney Woods," said Moulds. "Come June 24... America is going to see first-hand that there once was a man from Mississippi, whose descendants I might add are now attending Jones County Junior College, who was fighting for truth, justice and the American way. JCJC graduates, we need more people like Newt."

Moulds shared a personal story of growing up in the South and watching his father, a county superintendent of education, have the responsibility to integrate the public schools in 1966.

"Some people did not think that was a good idea," he said. "Some were so displeased they thought they needed to burn a cross in our front yard one night. I witnessed that when I was 12 years old. But I also saw my father's resolve strengthen. He became ever more determined, and he was successful. And events would prove he was on the right side of history.”

Moulds told the graduates that much has been accomplished since the 1960s, “but as the events of the last few months show, we still have a ways to go,” he said. “We don’t need hate in our state.”

Moulds pointed out that there are many good things about Mississippi, such as people joining together during natural disasters or in times of crisis. Another thing that has been great for the state is education, which he calls a great equalizer because it put the poor and the rich on the same level.

“As President Bill Clinton said on this very spot in 2008, ‘There is nothing wrong with America that cannot be fixed with what is right with America.’ JCJC graduates, you are what is right with America. ... Your choices are to stand still and go backward, or go forward. JCJC students, make the right choice. Take your state forward.”

Brayden Hodge, a sophomore participating in the graduation ceremonies, had a special connection to the part of Moulds’ speech about Knight, as Hodge portrayed both a Union and Confederate soldier in the upcoming movie.

“The part that stood out to me the most was him telling us about the history of Newt Knight and how we as graduates could be like Newt and stand up for what is right,” said Hodge. “We can be the generation on the right side of history.”

Luke Tucker, another participant in the day’s ceremonies, was able to relate to the message of doing the right thing although it may be difficult or unpopular. When he graduated high school he wanted to go straight to a university, but his parents, both Jones graduates, insisted he attend their alma mater. He said he was unhappy about the idea, but once he got to Jones his perspective changed.

“I discovered a whole new world of opportunities that I never even thought about in high school,” said Tucker about joining several clubs and activities. “But the biggest thing that happened is that I discovered my major and future career here. Because of Tim Ishee’s teaching and influence, I am majoring in agriculture-business and truly loving it. Coming to Jones was not in my original plan, but it was definitely the best and right decision for me.”

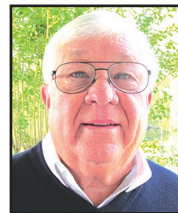

Jones had a combined total of 623 candidates walking in the two spring commencement ceremonies held May 13. Students received an Associate in Arts degree, Associate in Applied Science degree or a Vocational Certificate.

Classes for summer begin May 31.

Sideline View: Taylorsville QB in national news?

By Dale McKee

Taylorsville’s Jason Campbell made the news this week, or did he? The former Taylorsville and Auburn quarterback’s Twitter account said early this week he was ready to play again. But then a day or two later it was said that he did not post that twitter and was still retired. Someone had hacked Jason’s twitter, or so it seems. Anyway, Campbell with a dozen NFL seasons of experience could still earn a generous paycheck even as a backup in the National Football League. Last year, the Colts wanted Jason after Andrew Luck lacerated his kidney, but Jason told the Colts he was “chilling” right now. He was also contacted by a couple of other teams but declined both. Campbell last saw action for the Bengals in 2014 with four starts and made eight starts for the Browns in 2013. He was a first round draft choice of the Redskins in 2005 and has also played for the Bears and the Raiders.

Jason will host his fifth annual FCA Football Camp at JCJC on June 4. Youngsters aged seven to 17 are invited to the annual FCA morning camp where area coaches teach and reinforce the fundamentals of football. Admission is free. All campers will receive a t-shirt, lunch and much more. Two-time Super Bowl running back Brandon Jacobs will also be in attendance, along with several other former NFL players. All campers must have a signed release form.

Fast Billy

How fast is Taylorsville’s Billy Hamilton? We have the information, and the Cincinnati Reds centerfielder is fast. He recently ran from first to home in 8.2 seconds on a single to left field. His speed was clocked at 21.8 mph on the trot.

Big-time baseball in The Magnolia State

College baseball in Mississippi is pretty darn good. Mississippi State and Ole Miss are in the upper echelon of the SEC. Both go into the final weekend with hopes of taking the SEC West crown, along with Texas A&M and LSU. Both the Bulldogs and the Rebels will host regionals because of their outstanding seasons. Ole Miss will travel to Texas A&M in a big time series that begins Thursday. The Aggies and MSU are tied at 18-9 in the SEC standings with both Ole Miss and LSU at 17-10. State will host Arkansas, while LSU hosts No. 1 Florida (18-8). I am sure there will be a lot of scoreboard watching this final regular season weekend of conference games. Then on to Hoover.

USM is leading Rice by a half game entering the final week of C-USA action. If USM or Rice wins the C-USA championship, one of those teams will most likely host one of the 16 NCAA regionals around the country in June. Delta State will enter NCAA Division II regional play in Tampa this week. DSU (38-15) won their 13th Gulf South Conference title last week. William Carey (37-19) is off to Santa Barbara, California for NAIA regional play. Jackson State and Alcorn, the second and third East seeds, will take part in the SWAC tournament this week in New Orleans.

East Central (37-15) beat JCJC (45-7) twice in Ellisville to win the state JUCO title last weekend. Those two teams, along with LSU-Eunice (50-4), will join Northwest Community College (29-19) in Decatur for the Region 23 tournament that begins Thursday. All four teams are vying for the national tournament.

Lady Bobcats heading to National Tournament

The JCJC Lady Bobcats (45-6) will travel to Traceway Park in Clinton this week for the NJCAA division II National Tournament. The Lady Cats won their first-ever Region 23 title last week to earn the right.

Laurel Main Street named quarterfinalist for "America's Main Streets" contest

Submitted

The national small business movement, Independent We Stand, announces the quarterfinalists, including Laurel Main Street, for the 2016 Independent We Stand "America's Main Streets" contest. As the lifeblood of our cities and towns, Main Streets play an important role in the long-term success of communities and help build a sense of place. Independent We Stand invites the public to vote for their favorite quarterfinalist and move a deserving Main Street one step closer to the grand prize of $25,000.

Judi Holifield, director of Laurel Main Street, said, "What began as a community effort to revitalize a small central business district in what, to outsiders could be any small town in America, grew over time into an organization that not only builds up the culture of the local community, but has a direct, lasting impact on the individuals and businesses who are working to achieve change and growth within that community. By being a champion for local creatives, supporting new business owners, helping local residents regain pride in our town's history through storytelling, and building strong relationships with other local organizations and change-makers, Laurel Main Street has achieved so much in a very short amount of time."

She continued by saying, "Now, our beautiful small town is looking toward a very bright future with an upcoming national TV series, overwhelming love for the beauty and history of our town and a renewed interest and sense of personal connection to the future success of everyone who calls her home. The people of Laurel

Main Street are tireless, devoted champions for our home town and should be recognized for all they do to make her deserving of the name."

"The goal of this inaugural Independent We Stand 'America's Main Streets' contest is to promote the importance and strong economic benefits of Main Streets and the small businesses that help them thrive," says Independent We Stand co-founder Bill Brunelle. "We are so pleased to see how passionate people are about their Main Streets. It's evident by the broad range of nominations we saw representing 44 states in the first round. Now, it's time to rally and vote again for these terrific quarterfinalists."

More than 150,000 votes were cast for 253 nominees during the nominations phase. Semifinalist voting began May 2 at MainStreetContest.com and runs through May 29.

Holifield, closed by saying, "We encourage those throughout Mississippi to visit the MainStreetContest.com website and vote for Laurel Main Street. Your vote can help us receive the votes needed to receive the $25,000 grand prize." The winner of the 2016 "America's Main Streets" contest will be announced June 3.

Online registration coming to Jones County schools

Submitted

PowerSchool teams up again with Mississippi's Jones County School District to expand its online platform by customizing an intuitive student registration solution. Implementing the solution resolves the growing concern from families who invested significant time annually filling out 25-30 sheets of paper per student. PowerSchool Registration provides the 8,500-student district with an innovative method to collect and manage student data, enabling access to vital information by the first day of school.

"In the technological age we live in, parents kept asking why they were required to fill out so much paperwork every year," said Priscilla Sumrall, software specialist at Jones County School District. "It's a very labor-intensive process for both our families and school staff. We love PowerSchool and have achieved great success with the student information system. Launching the online registration solution made sense, as the features and functionality only complement what we're already used to experiencing as a PowerSchool user."

The electronic format allows families who have more than one child in the district to 'snap' data from one student to another. SmartForm™ technology, an intuitive tool built into the solution, collects relevant data based on previously entered information or choices (grade, activities, medical history, etc.). The data submitted by families is reviewed, polished, and formatted to meet district policies and then delivered into the student information system, resulting in up-to-date records on the first day of school. Priscilla Sumrall has a unique perspective of the student registration process as the parent of a student attending Jones County School District.

"I see it from both sides—filling out a substantial amount of paperwork, and then interpreting that data to enter into our SIS. What's extremely valuable about placing this process online is capturing accurate and imperative data, such as medical information, so that appropriate staff members have immediate access to it," notes Sumrall.

PowerSchool Registration will be available in English and Spanish to meet the needs of this diverse population. The ability to polish student data so that it's formatted consistently across the entire district is important for administrative staff members who compile data for state reporting. The solution will improve efficiency and create a more uniformed process. Online student registration was available April 7-8 to families of incoming kindergarten students. The solution will roll out to the rest of the school community in July. All parents will be notified about the new solution before the end of the school year.

Jones County School District's director of technology, Patrick Robinson, adds, "Our parents have been asking for this. As we consider what gets included in the school budget, it's hard to request spending of funds on an initiative that does not directly impact the classroom, which is always our focus. Our school board, under the leadership of Superintendent, Tommy Parker, has been very supportive of technology and also mindful of the needs of our parents. This investment accommodates parents' request to move things online and be more functional, but also saves us resources, which in turn saves the district money."

Three JCJC students receive prestigious Lyceum Scholarship

By Teresa McCreery

Jones County Junior College sophomores Ethan Davis of Laurel, Natalie Beth Seales of Hattiesburg and Cady Smith of Raleigh each received a prestigious Lyceum scholarship to the University of Mississippi. They were three of only 15 community college students to receive the full tuition Lyceum Scholarship.

“We are extremely excited these three talented students and campus leaders chose the University of Mississippi to continue their education. This is the largest and most prestigious full tuition scholarship offered by the university. All three JCJC students are also invited to participate in the Chancellor’s Leadership Class,” said Associate Director of Admissions at UM Jody Lowe.”

Lyceum Scholarship recipients must have a 3.0 GPA, 48 transferable community college hours (at the time of transfer) and an exemplary record of academic achievement, leadership and service to be considered for the Lyceum scholarship.

Davis plans to double major in English and philosophy and has served as the Phi Theta Kappa international academic honor society president and the opinions editor for the JCJC newspaper, The Radianian. Seales is majoring in English and law and was recognized as one of 20 students on the All-USA Community College Academic Team. She is the recipient of the Guistwhite Scholarship and is a New Century Scholar, as well as PTK VP of Service and Student Government Association senator for the Humanities division. Smith served as the SGA president and is majoring in forensic accounting and minoring in Spanish.

“I’m really excited about this opportunity. It has opened new doors for me and has totally changed my educational future,” said Smith.

The Lyceum Scholarship was created to recognize some of the most outstanding community college transfer students across Mississippi. These students will receive full-time tuition for two years which is an estimated value of more than $15,000.

Kalyn Bales receives academic excellence award to MSU

Submitted

Kalyn Bales has been selected to be the recipient of the Freshman Academic Excellence Award, a scholarship of $20,000 over four years to use toward the cost of attendance of Shackouls Honors College at Mississippi State University, where she will pursue a career in dermatology.

She is graduating 8th in her class as a Mississippi Scholar and Eminent Scholar with Highest Honors. She earned advanced scores on every subject area test and tested second-highest in her class on the American College Test. Kalyn has been an active member of the Beta Club, the Red Cross Club, Mu Alpha Theta, the Spanish Club, Math Team, and 5-time championship winning Maroon Pride Band throughout high school. She has served the band for the past three years as section captain and received the band’s Happy Camper award; she is also the first-chair player of her section.

Kalyn has volunteered with the local Stringer Alpaca Festival as well as with the Jasper General Nursing Home; she has been recognized by the Mississippi Homemaker Volunteers for Outstanding Volunteer Service. Kalyn participated in the prestigious Rural Medical Scholars program through Mississippi State University her junior year and has received multiple merit-based scholarships. She also is an active member of Fair Ridge Baptist Church and founder of ALLY Student Ministries. Kalyn Bales is the daughter of Keith and Wendy Bales.

Swampy Hollow bringing loads of ATV trails to the Wayne County area

By Zac Chamblee

If you live in or around the Wayne County area and are an avid ATV rider, Swampy Hollow ATV trails might just be the place for you. Swampy Hollow, which just had its grand opening a few days ago, offers riders nearly 250 acres of trails. That comes out to almost seven miles of newfound exploration. Rusty Ryals, along with Stewart Smith and Martha Cole, worked tirelessly to make this idea happen. And only a few years later, that work has payed off.

“We’ve been running it through our minds for a couple of years. Just hunting a place to do it and make it work,” Ryals said. “If you’ve got the support of the community behind you, it’s a win-win. We want to help everybody.”

Ryals and company took that initiative once they saw how popular ATV riding had become in their community, especially with the younger generations. So it really came down to simple economics. Supply and demand and whatnot.

“It’s just a growing trend right now,” Ryals said of ATV riding. “We looked at the market very hard and decided this is the avenue we needed to go down to create things.”

Other than the trails, Swampy Hollow will also offer camping in connection with Maynor Creek Water Park. Ryals thinks that connection between Swampy Hollow and Mayner Creek is a vital part of their venture.

“Together, it would draw people to the parks, so they could camp and bring in camping. And we have a few that come in with their boat also,” Ryals explained. “It helps create a lot more activity here in one setting.”

Even though they’re just in the beginning stages, they think they could be onto something special, something that could grow exponentially in the next couple of years. That’s the goal at least.

“We’re trying to get to the point where we’re the premier place to go,” Ryals said. “We’ve got more activities than someone could do in one weekend than anywhere else.”

But beyond that goal, the ultimate one is to serve the community and this group seems to be on their way in accomplishing that. “My main goal is to help this community,” Ryals said. “Someone asked me the other day, ‘how’d you come about owning this?’ And I said that I don’t own any of it. God owns all of it, and I’m just a shepherd over it.”

For ATV riders, Swampy Hollow charges $20 per ATV and $5 per person. They will also host races on the first Saturday of each month. On the camping side of things, RV parking is $29 a night, while primitive camping is $15.

Swampy Hollow is located at 118 Lee’s Chapel Road in Waynesboro. For more information, you can contact Rusty Ryals at (228) 860-0247 or check them out on Facebook.

Pine Grove introduces their inaugural 2016 Care Walk in honor of May’s Mental Health Month

Submitted

Pine Grove Behavioral Health & Addiction Services, one of the nation’s most comprehensive treatment campuses, is recognizing May’s Mental Health Month with the organization’s first ever Care Walk, scheduled for May 21. Registration begins at 9 a.m. and the program and walk starts at 10 a.m. The purpose of the two mile walk is to raise awareness about mental health conditions and support Pine Grove’s Giving Back initiative. For this event, Pine Grove is also partnering with NAMI, the National Alliance on Mental Illness’s Pine Belt affiliate, to educate the community about important mental health issues. According to NAMI, one in five Americans will be affected by a mental health condition in their lifetime.

The walk takes place on Pine Grove’s walking trail, located on the organization’s main campus at 2255 Broadway Drive in Hattiesburg. The event also includes a fun activity for children. The cost to register is $20 and this fee includes the walk’s T-shirt, which may be picked up during the event. Participants are encouraged to register by visiting www.pinegrovetreatment.com/carewalk.

Supporters are asked to arrive at the organization’s outdoor pavilion, located on the main campus, to sign in, pick up their T-shirt, and enjoy the activities. Debbie Sanford, Forrest General Hospital’s Chief Officer of Behavioral Health & Addiction Services said, “We are excited about our inaugural Care Walk and believe this event provides an important community service, enables the public an opportunity to experience Pine Grove’s beautiful campus, and learn more about the mental health care we provide for children, adolescents and adults from the Pine Belt and across the country.”

All proceeds from the registration fee benefit Pine Grove “Giving Back,” a charitable initiative dedicated to supporting the campuses’ Spiritual Grounds. Pine Grove plans to further develop their Spiritual Grounds with the addition of a meditative labyrinth, chapel, and other features designed to improve the mental health and advance the recovery of Pine Grove’s patients, alumni, and their family members. All contributions to Pine Grove Giving Back are stewarded through the Forrest General Healthcare Foundation, a 501(c) 3 tax-exempt organization.

Pine Grove Behavioral Health & Addiction Services is an extension of Forrest General Hospital, located in Hattiesburg, Mississippi. Pine Grove’s world renowned programs treat gender specific chemical addiction including a specialized track for co-occurring eating disorders. Additionally, Pine Grove offers a substance abuse healing program for adults age 55 and over. Other Pine Grove specialty programs include a dedicated professional’s treatment curriculum and a comprehensive evaluation center. Pine Grove also features a gender focused program for patients with sexual addiction. Inpatient Services including an Adult Psychiatric Unit, along with a Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Unit, and Outpatient Services are other components. Pine Grove was established in 1984 and has provided nationally and internationally recognized health care for over 30 years.

Buying a boat is a major decision

By James L. Cummins

Thinking of buying a boat now that the temperature is rising? There are some things you should consider before diving in. First, you should determine what you want out of the boat: Do you want to go fishing? Or perhaps you want a fishing boat that you can occasionally ski behind? Are you only interested in recreational water sports or do you have kids that want to do a little bit of everything with the boat? The answers to questions such as these will help you determine what type of boat and engine you will need. You will also need to consider the size of the body of water you want to boat on. Larger, wide-open bodies of water require bigger boats outfitted with V-drives or inboard/outboard engines. Smaller, direct-drive boats are better for smaller lakes that have a smoother flow of water.

Now that you've determined the purpose of the boat and the size of the body of water you will mostly boat on, you should figure out how much you can afford to invest in a boat. Be sure that you don't undercut the pleasure of owning a boat by bypassing quality. Saving money up front can end up costing you in the long-term. Remember the costs that occur beyond the actual price of the boat such as: insurance, registration fees, fuel, taxes, docking fees and storage costs. There are also fees associated with the required equipment needed to operate the boat such as fire extinguishers, life vests, flares, anchors, docking lines, a marine radio and a trailer if you will be transporting your boat to and from the lake. Also, depending on the type of water sports you enjoy, you will incur additional costs for water skis, wake boards, tow ropes, wet suits and gloves to name a few.

An often overlooked cost of a boat is maintenance and repair. This can be a discouraging factor as the annual costs average about $50 per foot of boat length. This amount varies depending on whether you are able to do some of the work yourself. This is not an area of ownership that you want to skimp on. Good maintenance habits can add years to the life of your boat and save you money in the long run. Familiarize yourself with the different warranties available in order to find the best fit and value. If you are purchasing a new boat, find a boat manufacturer that stands firmly behind their product and will take care of it should anything ever go wrong.

Now you have considered all the pros and cons of buying a boat and you are ready to make your purchase. The last, extremely important thing to do is find a dealer. This is not something to be taken lightly. A knowledgeable dealer can be very instrumental in making this experience enjoyable for you. They should be able to answer any questions you have concerning your new purchase and should offer you the best service. So, shop around for the best fit for you. For more tips and guidelines on buying a boat there are many web sites available.
