Prayer to St. Jude
Most holy Apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use, I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen.

- On June 3, 1940, determined to wreck France's economy and military, the German air force bombs Paris, killing 254 people. Most of the victims were civilians, including schoolchildren.
- On June 2, 1953, Queen Elizabeth II, age 27, is formally crowned monarch of the United Kingdom at London's Westminster Abbey in a ceremony steeped in traditions that date back a millennium.
- On June 1, 1967, the Beatles release "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band," regarded by many as the greatest album in the history of rock 'n' roll. Upon hearing the album for the first time, Bob Dylan told Beatle Paul McCartney: "Oh, I get it, you don't want to be cute anymore."
- On June 4, 1972, Angela Davis, a black militant, is acquitted on charges of conspiracy, murder and kidnapping by an all-white jury in California. She was accused of supplying weapons used in a courtroom takeover and shoot-out that killed a superior court judge and three others.

News Of Nutrition

Clearing Up The Confusion About Nutritional Supplements

(NAPSA)—Americans have heard a lot of mixed messages about vitamins and may be wondering if they are safe and effective. As with most health questions, it's smart to look at multiple information sources to get the true picture on nutritional supplementation.

"The total body of scientific evidence overall supports the benefits of nutritional supplementation," reports certified clinical nutritionist Neil E. Levin, nutrition education manager at NOW Foods in Bloomingdale, Ill. "Surveys show that most people trust vitamins, relying on them as a form of nutritional insurance, and most doctors surveyed recommend them to their patients."

The Lewin Group has published evidence-based research reporting that the proper use of certain dietary supplements can save billions of dollars in health care costs while improving the quality of life and preserving the independence of seniors.

The occasional negative report, however sensational, should be regarded skeptically when contrasted with a solid body of evidence. According to the FDA's Consumer Update, it's a smart idea to "think twice about chasing the latest headline. Sound health advice is generally based on research over time, not a single study touted by the media."

Standard study designs for drug research shouldn't be used for nutrient research because drugs are novel substances not normally present in the food supply or the human body, while nutrients are commonly found in both places. This makes screening out variables much more difficult in nutrient studies, sometimes overwhelming competent pharmaceutical researchers who are inexperienced in the study of vitamins and other supplements.

Several articles in prestigious scientific journals such as The New England Journal of Medicine and The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition suggest that well-designed observational studies provide more accurate ways to evaluate nutritional effects in people than the "gold standard" methods utilized in drug research.

Jeffrey Blumberg, Ph.D., of Tufts University points out that you can't have a control group with zero exposure to nutrients because everybody eats. Additionally, most nutrients are interactive, with beneficial effects on multiple body systems, yet randomized controlled studies are designed to investigate only single outcomes. He agrees that observational studies are a more accurate way to see how nutrients affect health because they are more likely to include the broad population and bear a closer relationship to real-world use of foods and supplements.

A number of nutritional supplements have shown clear health benefits supported by good scientific research, including:

- Vitamin D: This has been shown to benefit bones and teeth, strengthen the immune system and support cardiovascular health.

Americans are often found to be deficient in the "sunshine vitamin" because so many of us avoid direct sun exposure. Seasonal flu occurs far more frequently from autumn through early spring, and intervention studies have shown a direct relationship between low serum vitamin D levels and the number of respiratory infections reported.

- Multiple Vitamins: The American Medical Association has recommended that most people take a daily multivitamin to supplement a healthy diet for optimum nutrition. It helps fill in nutrient gaps when dietary levels may be insufficient.

- Omega-3 Fatty Acids: In addition to helping protect heart, brain and nerve health, omega-3s have been shown to have wide-ranging health benefits for inflammatory issues, such as joint problems.

- Vitamin E: A well-publicized report warning against vitamin E supplementation has been seriously undermined by subsequent reports. A vast body of evidence actually shows major health benefits from supplementing this essential vitamin. Long-term studies looking at vitamin E intake from both food and supplements, confirmed by measures of blood levels, support the idea that this antioxidant nutrient prolongs life and health in the general public.

Tips On Keeping Your Cool

(NAPSA)—Hot under the collar? Here are six simple steps to help reduce your electric bills and keep your home cool during the summer.

1. Lights off. Lightbulbs give off heat when lit. Don't leave them on when you're out.
2. Shut the door. Even a small crack can make a big difference in comfort.

PERFORMANCE POWER-WASHING: Specializing in residential homes, Mobile Homes, sheds, patios, drive-ways, etc. Free estimates. Reliable service. Contact Dennis, 585-2024.

PROFESSIONAL LAWN: Fertilizer Programs, Weed Management, Water Conservation. Free consulting. Call Ben at 447-4931.

HANDYMAN: Painting, Carpentry. Laminate floors, tiling. Remodeling. Registered and insured. 749-3763.

There are spots all over the house where you can take steps to keep things cool in hot weather.

3. Draw your drapes. Closing lined drapes helps shield the sun and keep the air-conditioning in.
4. Check your weather-proofing. Caulking window sills and weather stripping around doors can seal the leaks and help your home remain cool.
5. Close the garage door. This can keep a massive amount of heat out of your home.
6. Get your air-conditioning unit serviced. Regular checkups help your unit operate efficiently, and a home warranty from American Home Shield will help protect your budget when a covered part or component breaks down.

Cocktail Dress

Q. I have a cocktail dress from about 1980 that was designed by Oscar De La Renta. It is floor-length with a white bodice and diagonal rows of beads and rhinestones. The skirt is black silk with a front bow. Is it worth taking up room in my closet? — Sarah, San Francisco

A. Most designer clothes have increased in value in recent years. The 1980s are suddenly very hot, so my answer is yes. I checked with several vintage clothing dealers, and they seem to agree that in good condition, your cocktail dress might sell in the $500-$750 range.

Q. A number of weeks ago, I sent you a three-page list of antiques and collectibles I asked you to appraise. I even enclosed a SASE for your convenience. I have not received an answer. What's up? — Bill, Sun City, Arizona

A. I don't appraise items for either garage or estate sales. Even though I was in the antique business for more than 30 years, I am not an appraiser nor do I pretend to be. When I publish a value in this column, I attribute it either to a price guide or expert. I also limit myself to answering one question per reader.

If you send me an inventory of your house even with a SASE it is a waste of both your time and money. With a computer you can check current values on eBay. I find that extremely helpful when determining current values.

Put another way, there are no free lunches or 5 cent cigars. If you feel you have something valuable, hire the services of a good professional appraiser. For general information, which I hope is helpful, I am your man.

Q. I have a Coca-Cola tray from the 1920s featuring a couple playing golf. Do I have a valuable item? — Dorothy, Ladue, Missouri

A. Yes, if it is authentic. Coca-Cola collectors must be aware that many of the old beverage trays have been reproduced, and some even aged to look much older than they actually are. If your tray is the real deal, it was issued in 1926 and is valued in the $500-$750 range, depending on condition.

Write to Larry Cox in care of KFWS, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803, or send e-mail to questionsforcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox cannot personally answer all reader questions, nor does he do appraisals. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

Your Home

Uncovering The Latest Trends Underfoot

(NAPS)—From setting the right mood to creating a strong style statement, there's no question that the floor is the single most important visual element in a home.

To help you find a way to put your floor to work for you, here's a brief look at some of the latest trends in flooring.

Hardwood Trends

Hardwood continues to be the fastest-growing segment in flooring due to its long-lasting durability and rich look. According to current home sale reports, an investment in hardwood floors pays off when it comes to the overall value of your home.

Lighter colors, longer and wider planks, and enhanced finishes are just a few of the style elements trending this year. Highly detailed wood grain surfaces are also in fashion as people seek to bring more natural, unfinished looks into their home.

Distressed, weathered, wire-brushed, soft-scrape, even "demolition-style" surface treatments are popular these days. Sun-bleached blondes, driftwood-inspired gray-browns and other matte finishes in white oak, walnut and maple varieties are gaining ground by making imperfection a design element.

Eco-friendly reclaimed wood sourced from historic buildings, factories, truck decks, mills, farms, food crates and other materials is another great option offering loads of character and unique, organically created surface textures that also easily mask scratches and wear.

Technology is also playing a large role in the category, offering machine-created finishes that are scratch, stain, moisture and humidity resistant. One new surface treatment even helps clean the air. Activated by light, titanium dioxide on the surface of the floor works like a living tree in your home. This natural purifier breaks down pollutants such as formaldehydes, which can be present throughout a home, and converts the toxins into harmless molecules.

Hardwood plank sizes are also changing in width and length. Wider planks are contemporary looking and give smaller rooms the illusion of a larger space. Longer boards, sourced from older trees, are increasingly popular for their pleasing look and structural integrity.

Coinciding with the durability trend, bamboo continues to grow in popularity for its diamond-hard surface and ability to perform in wet environments. As it is a reed that grows in water, bamboo is the only naturally sourced hard flooring that is moisture resistant. That makes it a great choice for kitchens and wet rooms.

Carpet Trends

Carpets today have come a long way from basic natural fibers such as wool and cotton. Synthetic alternatives offer some of the softest, most luxurious, easiest-to-care-for and affordable flooring surfaces in history.

between the carpet and the padding underneath, extending life span and enhancing appearance.

Completely eco-friendly carpets have also made an appearance. One manufacturer launched a carpet line made from 100 percent recycled plastic. The new synthetic fiber is affordable, durable, and soft to the touch.

Along with ever-popular shades of beige, sales of gray carpets are surging. To add some spice and avoid monotony, some manufacturers are presenting carpets with peppered bits of color against a neutral background. The new presentations help to hide flaws while adding dimension to rooms. Patterned carpets are also gaining ground, offering floral, diamond and winding vine looks.

Area Rug Trends

Area rugs are all about color, pattern and texture, and this season everything is coming up soft, warm and cozy. As with the hardwood category, a growing trend in soft surfaces is nature-inspired looks such as tree bark and stratified rock. You can even get a rug with a rippled surface that looks like a pond that a stone has been thrown into. Another eye-catcher is a shimmering rug that achieves a metallic look with finely woven nylon fibers that sparkle when struck by light.

You might not think sustainability when you think of area rugs, but think again. The ultimate in eco-friendly fibers—recycled paper—has made its way onto the floor in the form of a soft, cozy shag rug.

For those who want to customize the look of a room, one company offers interchangeable solid and multicolored square rug panels that can be interconnected through a Velcro backing. Consumers can buy the affordably priced 16x16-inch squares at their local flooring store and assemble them on their own.

This appears to be part of another emerging trend—low cost. Many are bypassing expensive heirloom pieces in place of more affordable rugs that make bold fashion statements and can be replaced in a season or two.

Tile Trends

From ancient Greece to current day, tile is as practical as it is glamorous. Tile trends today include aluminum, porcelain

Hints For The Home

Bring Sunlight To Any Room
(NAPSA)—Tubular skylights are a sleek new way to easily transfer the beauty of natural sunlight into your home. These innovative light sources can brighten spaces that lack natural sunlight, beautifully illuminating closets, hallways, bathrooms and laundry rooms.

The natural light transferred through tubular skylights can reduce eyestrain and may even act as a mood elevator. What's more, they may help with energy costs because they may reduce the number of fixtures needed in a room. Maximizing daylight means you could go the whole day without turning on a light.

How It Works

A tubular skylight system captures and sends natural light down through highly reflective tubing. The diffuser, which is ceiling mounted, then spreads the light evenly through the room.

Now, the ODL ENERGY STAR-qualified Tubular Skylight system includes a Solar Powered Dimmer, which allows you to control the amount of natural light by simply installing it into a new or existing 10-inch ODL Tubular Skylight. A three-button remote control operates the dimmer's shade from inside the house. At the touch of a button, you can regulate the amount of natural light, making this a particularly good choice for a media room, nursery, bedroom or any place where light restrictions are sometimes desired. In addition, the dimmer is the first of its kind that requires no hard wiring. Instead, it uses solar energy, which makes it easier and less expensive to install.

As a bonus, the design integrates two LED lights, giving you the option for a soft glow into an otherwise dark room or hallway during the hours of darkness—handy for families with small children who wake up in the middle of the night.

The ODL Tubular Skylight and Solar Powered Dimmer are available separately or as a package at major home retailers.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Car Care Corner

Money-Saving Tips For Car Owners

(NAPSA)—There's good news for car owners. Extending the life of their vehicle and avoiding expensive repairs may be easier than they realize. The key is to be faithful when it comes to basic maintenance.

To help, here are some money-saving tips that will help to keep you on the road to savings and limit the time your car spends in the shop.

•Keep it clean—Keeping your car clean is not just about appearances. A dirty car can affect the value and life of your car, as well as your health. Normal dirt buildup and seasonal issues—such as road salt in the winter—can result in corrosion on body panels, including doors, fenders, the hood and tailgate.

Excessive rust can lessen the resale value and integrity of the car. It's also important to keep the interior of your car clean. Dirty seats, carpets and mats that are not cleaned on a regular basis can allow mold to grow and spread, leading to a variety of potential health issues.

•Check the oil—The motor oil in your car is the lifeblood of the engine because it's responsible for lubricating the moving parts that keep the car running.

That's why it's important to check your oil and have it changed at regular intervals. Consider upgrading to one of today's premium synthetic motor oils, such as Royal Purple, which can improve your car's fuel economy and engine life. Plus, using high-performance synthetic motor oil, as opposed to conventional oils, allows for more miles between oil changes, and reduces the amount of oil disposed of in the environment.

If you're unsure about the quality of the gas you've been using in your car, try adding a fuel system cleaner and stabilizer.

•Use a quality gasoline—Being a regular customer at a gas station you can trust can be important. Don't be afraid to ask if the gas is filtered at the pump and, if so, how often the filters are changed. Some gas stations don't have pump filters, and that can leave your car vulnerable to dirty gasoline. Sediment in your gas can clog fuel filters and fuel injectors, which can result in poor performance and lead to costly repairs.

Replacing a bad fuel system can cost anywhere from $400 to $600, depending on the make and model of your car and where you have the service done. So if you're unsure about the quality of the gas you've been using, try using a fuel system cleaner and stabilizer such as Royal Purple's Max-Clean. You work hard for your money, and a car is one of the biggest investments you'll make. It can pay to spend a little more on quality products to avoid spending more in repairs down the road. To learn more, visit the website at www.royalpurple.com.

St. Jude's Novena

May the sacred heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved, throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the helpless, pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day and by the 8th day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude for answering my prayers.

C.C.

Random Acts of Kindness...

Every Friday morning I enjoy coffee with my elderly Veteran buddies at the Dunkin' Donuts on Hopkins Hill Road. Friday, May 20, we were approached by a young gentleman who after learning that my friends were all Veterans, shared that his father was also a Veteran. This young man purchased a $50 Dunkin' Donuts Gift Card for future morning coffees. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to this young man for his kindness and respect of our Veterans.

With gratitude,
R. David

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

On May 30, 1911, Ray Harroun drives his single-seater Marmon Wasp to victory in the inaugural Indianapolis 500 auto race. Harroun completed the 500-mile race in 6 hours and 42 minutes, averaging almost 75 mph.

On May 31, 1929, after two years of friendly negotiations, Ford Motor Company signs a landmark agreement to produce cars in the Soviet Union, which in 1928 had only 20,000 cars and a single truck factory.

On June 5, 1933, the United States goes off the gold standard, a monetary system in which currency is backed by gold. All persons owning gold coin, bullion or certificates were required to deliver it to the Federal Reserve for the set price of $20.67 per ounce. Americans could not legally own gold again until 1974.

On June 3, 1940, determined to wreck France's economy and military, the German air force bombs Paris, killing 254 people. Most of the victims were civilians, including schoolchildren.

On June 2, 1953, Queen Elizabeth II, age 27, is formally crowned monarch of the United Kingdom at London's Westminster Abbey in a ceremony steeped in traditions that date back a millennium.

On June 1, 1967, the Beatles release "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band," regarded by many as the greatest album in the history of rock 'n' roll. Upon hearing the album for the first time, Bob Dylan told Beatle Paul McCartney: "Oh, I get it, you don't want to be cute anymore."

On June 4, 1972, Angela Davis, a black militant, is acquitted on charges of conspiracy, murder and kidnapping by an all-white jury in California. She was accused of supplying weapons used in a courtroom takeover and shoot-out that killed a superior court judge and three others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Although you would prefer to move forward at a steady pace, it might be a good idea to stop and reassess your plans. You could find a good reason to make a change at this time.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Just when you thought you had everything planned to the smallest detail, you get some news that could unsettle things. But a timely explanation helps put it all back on track.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Home and work continue to compete for your attention. But you handle it well by giving each its proper due. Someone you trust offers valuable advice. Listen to it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Unsettling news creates a difficult but not impossible situation. Continue to follow your planned routine, but keep your mind open to a possible change down the line.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Lick your wounded pride if you like, but it's a better idea to find out why your suggestions were rejected. What you learn could help you deal with an upcoming situation.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Feeling a bit listless? No wonder. You might be pushing too hard to finish everything on your to-do list. Cutting it down could help get your energy levels up.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Taking time out of your busy schedule might be the best way to handle that sensitive private matter. It will help reassure everyone involved about your priorities.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Insist on full disclosure by all parties before agreeing to be part of a "great deal." What you learn should help you decide whether to go with it or not.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your decision to protect the secret that was entrusted to you might irk some people. But it also wins you the admiration of those who value trust and loyalty.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Creative activities take on a practical approach as you realize you might be able to market your work. Ask for advice from someone experienced in this area.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) If you're suddenly a bit unsure about your decision, ask trusted colleagues and/or friends or family members for suggestions that could help resolve your doubts.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A workplace situation could get stormy. But stay on course until there's a solution that meets with everyone's approval, and things finally can calm down.

BORN THIS WEEK: You keep an open mind on most matters, making you the confidante of choice for people who need your honest counsel.
