HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Insulated Siding Looks, Feels Good

For a comfortable house to live in and a comfortable profit when selling it, many homeowners are adding insulated vinyl siding.

(NAPSA) — A beautiful, healthy home is not only a more pleasant place in which to live, but also a better real estate investment.

To help, many remodeling and real estate professionals recommend homeowners renovate the exterior of their homes with insulated siding.

Insulated siding is vinyl siding backed with rigid foam insulation — essentially a beautiful blanket for the house. Research suggests some 40 percent of heating and cooling energy loss occurs through a home's sides. Adding foam-backed cladding to the exterior is one of the best ways to curb this loss.

A good choice for homeowners seeking green home projects is CertainTeed's line of CedarBoards Insulated Siding because it improves the overall R-value of a wood-framed wall by up to 30 percent and can help meet the performance guidelines of an Energy Star-qualified new home.

Beyond thermal performance, insulated siding gives homeowners a bigger bang for their buck because the foam insulation also helps block sound infiltration and provides added strength and rigidity for impact resistance. In terms of curb appeal, CedarBoards Insulated Siding features the flat face and sharp projection of wide-board wood siding and its surface texture is molded from real cedar boards for a truly authentic wood look. Because its exterior is actually vinyl siding, however, it's a low-maintenance product that never needs painting.

For more information on insulated vinyl siding, visit www.certainteed.com.

Cowboy Penknife

Q. My dad gave me a Hopalong Cassidy black and white pen-knife. Dad is now 85 years old and thinks he originally received it when he was about 10 or 12 years old. Does it have any value? — Matthew, Bloomingdale, Illinois

A. There were several Hopalong Cassidy knives issued, and I am not certain which one you have. According to "Hopalong Cassidy Collectibles" by Joe Caro, the black single-blade knife would sell in the $150-$225 range if in excellent condition.

Q. I have been searching for several years for a catalog about Shirley Temple dolls. I have even contacted the Bradford Exchange where some of my dolls were purchased. I did not get any help. I have several dolls from the 1980s and '90s that I want to find values. — Evelyn, Coventry, Rhode Island

A. I find it interesting that the Bradford Exchange would not help you since some of your dolls were purchased there. There are at least a dozen excellent price guides for Shirley Temple items. Two I especially recommend are "Shirley Temple Dolls and Price Guide" by Suzanne Kraus-Mancuso (Holly House Books) and "The Complete Guide to Shirley Temple Dolls and Collectibles" by Tonya Bervaldi-Camaratta (Collector Books). Both are available at www.amazon.com.

Q. I have crystal, glassware and vases from the 1940s, some earlier. I also have some embroidered handkerchiefs that were my grandmothers, a blue-flowered vegetable bowl and necklaces from the 1890s. Other items include stoneware, a teapot and gold-rimmed fruit bowls dating back 150 years. Where can I sell these items? — Virginia, Albuquerque, New Mexico

A. You are fortunate that you live in a larger city that has dozens of excellent antique and collectible dealers. This is where you should start. I always recommend to my readers that they buy and sell locally when possible. If that idea doesn't work or appeal to you, there is eBay.

Q. In 1938, I bought a Packard Bell tabletop radio. It is Model 46D in a wooden case. I love the radio, and it still plays. — Steve, Jackson, Mississippi

A. Most radios of this type retail for about $100.

Birding BITS BY Cindy Brook

Blue Skies
Eastern bluebirds love an open habitat. Bring them into your yard by painting bluebird houses blue, providing meal worms in smooth plastic bowls and giving them something tall to perch on, since they like to look for food from high places. Don't forget fresh water, too.

Prayer to St. Jude
 Most holy Apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use, I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen.

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

Do You Need Financial Protection? Here's A Checklist

(NAPSA)—Answering a few questions can help you determine if you need life insurance for financial protection:

Do you need to protect your family? For many, the primary reason for having life insurance is to protect the family's financial future and keep it safe and secure. The death benefit on a life insurance policy can be used by beneficiaries to fund a child's education, take care of final expenses and help ensure that the daily future financial needs of your loved ones are met.

Do you need to protect your home? You've saved diligently to afford a home where you can raise a family and create memories to last a lifetime. Many experts recommend that you consider using life insurance to help safeguard this asset—for many families, their greatest asset and their biggest expense. The policy proceeds can be used by beneficiaries as a way to continue mortgage payments in the unfortunate event of the loss of the provider.

Do you need to protect your future earnings? Your human capital is the total value of your potential future earnings, which, in the unfortunate event of your death, would no longer be available to your loved ones. The death benefit can be used as a necessary source of income for your family to fund educations and a secure future.

Protecting your human capital is even more important when you are in your 30s and 40s, when your human capital is highest and your accumulated financial wealth is typically lowest. For example, if you are 30 years old, earn $40,000 a year and expect to retire at age 65, that is $1.4 million of potential future earnings. Life insurance can guard against the potential loss of human capital in the event of premature death. Without life insurance, that future income is unprotected and lost forever.

A good life insurance policy can protect your family and your finances in more ways than you may realize.

Do you need to be more disciplined with your savings? A whole life policy may offer what you need. Paying premiums monthly, quarterly or annually to build cash value is a way to ensure that you are making regular contributions to an important part of your overall savings plan. You can even borrow from your policy's accumulated cash value by taking a loan at competitive interest rates and use this money in any way you wish (policy loans reduce cash value and death benefit). Having the funds available for future needs, including paying off a mortgage, funding a college education, putting a down payment on a home for your child or paying for a child's wedding, is an important "living benefit" of whole life insurance.

Do you have an increased desire for a sound financial strategy? If you're like most Americans, the answer is yes. A recent survey conducted by Ipsos Public Affairs and sponsored by New York Life noted that 83 percent of Americans age 30 and older agree that the economic crisis has increased their desire to provide financial protection for their family. A life insurance policy can be the foundation of a prudent financial plan.

When you purchase a life insurance product, you want to work with a company that will be around for decades to come. As a result, it is important to consider a trustworthy provider that has a long, steady track record and a high degree of financial strength and stability. A knowledgeable advisor will help you determine the amount of insurance needed to protect your family. You can contact a New York Life agent toll-free at (800) 710-7945. Paw's Corner
by Sam Mazzotta

Can Renter be Forced to Give Up His Pet?

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I'm in a dilemma. I've had my dog for about five years. "Shera" stays with me in my apartment, one of six in a triple-decker house, and there have been no problems until now. Now, a new owner has bought the house and told me I cannot have a pet: I must either get rid of Shera or move out. What can I do? — Desperate in Worcester, Massachusetts

DEAR DESPERATE: I feel for you, and I hope I can give you some useful advice in this limited space. My first tip is to act fast, and the sooner the better. I recommend immediately contacting your state's legal services or aid resource, if there is one, to discuss the problem. You also could find free or low-cost legal advice through the state's bar association or perhaps at a local university.

Your local library can be a great resource, too — you can get online for free, and the librarians can be very helpful.

Renters have fairly extensive rights in most states. A new landlord usually cannot simply walk in and demand you get rid of your pet. The existing lease typically cannot be changed suddenly, either. And even if you don't have a signed lease (some apartments are still "handshake" agreements) the landlord typically must still give reasonable notice of a change in the terms.

You also might try offering your landlord a non-refundable pet deposit. These are sometimes required in rentals that accept pets.

There's much more information out there than I have room to write about here. But basically, you have more rights than you think. Stay calm, but immediately start contacting organizations that can help.

Send your questions or pet care tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Social media is changing the way younger generations are viewing television and movies, and traditional media is fighting back. Its weapons against pirate downloading and binge-watching on small screens are making films bigger and in 3D. Upcoming is the epic King Kong film "Skull Island," due March 10, and Warners already is prepping "Godzilla 2" for March 2019, and "Godzilla vs. Kong," coming May 2020.

Sony Pictures Entertainment
George Clooney

Television is transforming and diversifying itself as well. Just as reality shows changed the landscape of TV, so will some of the upcoming new series. Producer Ryan Murphy, already responsible for changing the landscape of TV with "Glee," "Nip/Tuck," "American Horror Story," "The Normal Heart," "Scream Queens" and "American Crime Story," is launching a new anthology series, "Feud," featuring famous Hollywood feuds between legendary actresses.

The first to unfold will be the infamous feud between Bette Davis and Joan Crawford during their 1962 classic black-and-white film, "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" Oscar-winner Susan Sarandon will take on Bette Davis, while two-time Oscar-winner Jessica Lange will play Joan Crawford. "Baby Jane" was remade in color in 1991, with Lynn Redgrave in the Bette Davis role (as Baby Jane Hudson) and Vanessa Redgrave in the Joan Crawford role (as Blanche Hudson).

On other networks, SYFY is producing a prequel that takes us back to "Krypton" to meet Superman's grandfather. Fox has "The Exorcist," starring Oscar-winner Geena Davis, and a series based on the Mel Gibson/Danny Glover franchise "Lethal Weapon," with Damon Wayans Sr., Jordana Brewster and Kevin Rahm (late of "Madam Secretary").

After 13 seasons and 306 episodes, Michael Weatherly has quit "NCIS," saying, "I felt I'd stayed at the party too long. I realized I had other things I should be doing. I directed a documentary. I have a production company, and I wanted to spend more time with my family." Weatherly remarried in 2009 and has a daughter and a son.

Speaking of quitting, George Clooney's last acting job may be "Money Monster." Clooney, who turned 55 on May 6, said, "I think nobody wants to see anybody really age (on camera). It's a very unforgiving thing; aging becomes something you try to do less and less on screen. You can't stay in front of the cameras your whole life!"

James Stewart made his last film, "The Magic of Lassie," when he was 70. Morgan Freeman is still going strong at 78, and Harrison Ford at 73 is the top-grossing actor of all time. Hey, George ... whatever happened to "you're not getting older, you're just getting better," or is it because your wife is only 38 years old and you can't keep up with her?

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpian temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your ruling planet, Mercury, endows you with a gift for writing. Have you considered penning the world's greatest novel?

The Americans are a funny lot. They drink whiskey to keep them warm, then they put ice in it to make it cool; then they put sugar in it to make it sweet, and then they put a slice of lemon in it to make it sour. Then they say, "Here's to you" and drink it themselves.

Novena to the BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never known to fail). O Most Beautiful Flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the sea, help me and show me here in, you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times.) Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days. You must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful Thanks.
