Caster,... It's the alignment angle that returns your steering wheel to center after making a turn. Caster also helps hold your steering wheel centered when driving straight ahead. Picture it this way, we have all been in an old house where a door frame is crooked and the door wants to swing to full open or full close. This is because the door hinges are not all in a straight, vertical plane. A carpenter can put shims behind the hinges to remedy this condition. We can do the same thing with caster on a motor vehicle.
