Wash & dry apples. Remove stems & replace w/stick stuck halfway into apple. Combine corn syrup, sugar & water in deep saucepan. Stir & cook over medium heat until completely dissolved & mixture boils. Then cook without stirring to soft crack stage (280°F on a candy thermometer) or until a small amt. of the mixture separates into hard threads, but not brittle when dropped in cold water. Remove from heat; add extract & stir only enough to mix. Place pan over boiling water to keep syrup from thickening. Dip apples & wind in a circular motion till completely covered w/syrup. Place on a buttered pan w/sticks upright; then cool.
