Ask The Acupuncturist...

Veronica Cavella Pedersen, L.Ac.

Q.: I have read that acupuncture can be helpful in treating opiate addiction. Now that this scourge has hit close to home, I am desperate to get help for a family member. How can acupuncture help?

A.: There are many facets to the current opiate epidemic and acupuncture can help in several ways. People become addicted to these drugs for a number of reasons. Some are looking for a high and abuse painkillers prescribed for themselves or someone else thinking that they can use them "recreationally" when they choose, but unfortunately the drugs often take over and the person loses control to addiction. If the prescription can no longer be obtained, the now addict may resort to a more easily available and less expensive alternative, heroin. Both substances present the danger of accidental overdose and death. We have all seen young, talented celebrities who apparently had everything and every reason to live die all too soon. Some have seen lives ruined or lost family members or friends to the same tragic fate. To rescue someone already addicted, in-patient care at a rehab center may be required. In 1985 The National Acupuncture Detoxification Association (NADA) was established. Today, it is estimated that over 700 addiction treatment centers use acupuncture as an alternative and adjunctive therapy. Most acupuncturists are trained in the NADA protocol which has been accepted by the World Health Organization and the National Institutes for Health, and use it in their practices for patients battling addictions not only to opiates, but also alcohol, cocaine, and nicotine. Then there are those individuals who are in severe pain who seek relief from their doctors. Sometimes opiates are prescribed on a long term basis and the patient ends up becoming addicted to them "accidentally", simply following doctor's orders. The body may require higher dosages to provide pain relief, and sometimes the pain persists regardless. It is becoming more and more obvious that these drugs have been overprescribed and the Centers for Disease Control have recently issued guidelines intending to curb their use. Doctors are now realizing that 100% pain elimination is not possible in every case and have the difficult job of explaining this to their patients. For those already dependent on the drugs and their doctors it presents the problem of "putting the genie back in the bottle", no easy task. Acupuncture can help in these cases by providing pain relief eliminating the need for some

Given Up On Your New Year's Resolution?

Over half the year has passed by and before you know it, 2016 will be over and the resolutions you made in the beginning year have not been accomplished. This is a common pattern with many people. It's not too late! Hypnosis is a safe and effective tool in helping you accomplish your goals. Some frequently asked questions about hypnosis:

1. Can everyone be hypnotized? No. If you are below normal intelligence, psychotic or under the age of 4 it is hard to be hypnotized.
2. Do you lose consciousness? No. You will be even more awake during hypnosis than before. Hypnosis is not sleep.
3. Do you surrender your will? No. Under hypnosis you are capable of making decisions at all times.
4. Must you be weak minded to be hypnotized? No. Hypnosis requires concentration, the more intelligent you are, the easier it is for you to be hypnotized.
5. Do you reveal secrets? No. You are totally aware of everything while being hypnotized, including what you say.

6. Does everyone come out of hypnosis? YES! You can readily revive yourself at any time. You are in control.
7. What does hypnosis feel like? Many people feel extremely relaxed but fully aware during a hypnosis session.
8. How does hypnosis work? Hypnosis works with your subconscious. During a hypnosis session you are given positive and beneficial suggestions while in a trance state. Your subconscious hears the suggestions being given to you by the hypnotist. However, it is up to you to accept or decline these suggestions. Remember, you are always in control. You don't have to do it alone. For more information stop by Angel Day Holistic Faire at the Leesport Farmers Market on August 6 & 7th, 10-4 or call: Lori Kleinsmith, R.M., Certified Hypnotist 610-823-4160 www.pinnaclehypnosis.com located: Inner Peace & Wellness Center, 202 South Third St., Hamburg, PA 19526.

of the medication, and also by easing the discomfort of withdrawal as dosages are reduced. Some people turn to illicit drugs not for pain, but to ease their stress. They may be deeply unhappy or dissatisfied with their lives. They may suffer from anxiety or depression and self medicate in an attempt to feel better. Acupuncture offers a much safer, proven method for relief of these problems, and can be combined with other therapies.

No doubt these very strong opiate drugs are sometimes necessary, for instance after surgery, for some cancer patients, for traumatic injuries, end of life care and in other serious instances. Probably with the new guidelines they will become more difficult to obtain when not absolutely needed. Acupuncture can help whether the problem is pain, anxiety or actual addiction. Hopefully your loved one will agree to treatment and turn his life around.

Veronica Cavella Pedersen, L.Ac. practices Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine for adults and children at 154 Deysher Road, Fleetwood, PA 19522 (Rockland Township), 610-987-0489, and invites you to submit your questions for possible publication to asktheacupuncturist@yahoo.com. She is also available to speak to your group about the benefits of Acupuncture and TCM. See ad and like her on Facebook.

- 1-1/2 Tsp. Baking Powder
- 1/2 Tsp. Baking Soda
- 1/4 Tsp. Salt
- 1 C. Buttermilk (or 1 C. Plain Yogurt)
- 3/4 C. Milk
