Former New York Yankee Bobby Richardson to speak to DYWS teams at Life Church

Submitted
 Former New York Yankee and World Series MVP Bobby Richardson will be the keynote speaker at a special event to kick off the Dixie Youth World Series in Laurel. The event, held at and sponsored by Life Church, will be Sunday, August 7 at 12:30 p.m. A morning session at the church for the general public will be held during the 10 a.m. worship service.

Life Church is partnering with the Dixie Youth World Series for the third time to present a former athlete whose Christian testimony will provide inspiration and motivation, espouse the virtues of sportsmanship, demonstrate the benefits of team building and instill character in the young ballplayers. Previous athletes to speak to the World Series coaches and players were Dave Dravecky in 2009 and Jim "The Rookie" Morris in 2013, who drew an attendance of over 2,700.

Elvin Ulmer, Laurel Parks and Recreation director and the driving force behind the local World Series efforts, is pleased that another famous baseball player will speak to tournament participants. According to Ulmer, "Richardson has traveled down the road that these kids are on now. Only a few of these players will ever play professional baseball, but they will listen closely to every word that he says and want to emulate him. Parents, fans and players who hear him will leave here with some 'nuggets of wisdom and truth' that will impact their lives." Ulmer wants each World Series that is held in

Laurel to have its own special moments and says that "these former athletes who speak to our players and fans generate a major part of the 'wow factor' that we try to create to make someone's trip here memorable."

As committed to building character and endorsing sportsmanship as to promoting baseball, the Dixie Youth organization in the past has made attendance at the character-building event mandatory for the 540 players and coaches from eleven states who are participating in the three separate World Series tournaments. The 12:30 p.m. session will be aimed primarily at the teams, their family members and the hundreds of Dixie Youth officials who will spend a week in the Laurel area. With 1,300 seats available, other baseball fans and local coaches and teams who are not participating in the World Series are encouraged to attend either service. Reservations for groups who want to sit together, however, are strongly recommended for both services and should be made as soon as possible by calling 601-428-5433/601-428-LIFE.

Awards will be in 10-year age groups with first, second and third place awards for male and females, as well as Overall Masters and Grandmasters for male and female for the 5K and 10K. Ribbons will be given for fun run participants. Door prizes also will be available. T-shirts are guaranteed to all who register by July 15.

Richardson broke into major league baseball with the Yankees in 1955 and retired in 1966 after winning the World Series three times. In 1960 he was voted the Series MVP, becoming the only player in history to have ever won the award while playing for the losing team. The Yankees lost in game seven when Bill Maseroski hit a walk-off homer to propel the Pirates to victory. In that series Richardson had 11 hits and 12 RBIs with six RBIs being in one game. In the 1964 World Series Richardson had 13 hits. The diminutive Richardson, playing at 5'9" and 170 pounds, was a five-time all-star, a five-time Gold Glove winner and played in 30 consecutive World Series games with a career .305 batting average in the "Fall Classic." He was close friends with Tony Kubek, Roger Marris, Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle and was instrumental in Mantle becoming a Christian shortly before his death.

After his MLB career ended, Richardson was the head baseball coach of the South Carolina Gamecocks from 1970 through 1976. Leading them to their first trip to the CWS in Omaha in 1974, he is considered the "father" of South Carolina baseball. After leaving the Gamecocks, Richardson coached at Liberty University and Coastal Carolina. Richardson continues to be a national leader of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has shared his faith across the country, even preaching at the White House in 1970.

Dixie Youth Baseball, Inc., will again use Life Church as its headquarters for the entire World Series week. Ulmer is grateful for the church's willingness to help and said, "When we were looking for partners, they approached me with the idea of providing a celebrity speaker and we loved the idea." The church, pastored by David Hagan, will give its facility for the third time to the officers and officials for the numerous daily meetings and planning sessions required by national, state and tournament directors, umpires and various committees. The church will also be the venue for the "Mayor's Barbeque" that will be provided for directors, officials, dignitaries and invited guests. Ulmer said "we didn't even have to ask them . . . they offered to give their facilities to us for the entire week." They and so many other sponsors and partners help us create atmospheres and experiences that are unmatched by other cities and parks. People know about Laurel and Jones County, Miss., because of their favorable impressions at these tournaments."

With Life Church being strategically located directly across Highway 84 from the Sportsplex, Pastor Hagan considers the partnership with Ulmer, the city of Laurel and Dixie Youth Baseball Inc., to be a logical joint venture and a "win-win" for all involved. Hagan said, "Since God put us at the same intersection, as neighbors we should work together for the betterment of the community. I believe that we have the same vision . . . 'strengthen the community by building character, promoting sportsmanship and living life in accordance with the principles of God's Kingdom.' Together we can create a 'rising tide that lifts all ships' and, thereby, make our community a great place to live and a model for others to follow."

The three tournaments begin at 3:30 on Saturday, August 6 with the championship games scheduled for 5:30, 7:30 and 8:00 on Thursday night, August 11.
