Adults with asthma who were treated with one-dose dexamethasone in the emergency department had only slightly higher relapse than patients who were treated with a 5-day course of prednisone. "Enhanced compliance and convenience may support the use of dexamethasone" is the conclusion of a study that was published in Annals of emergency Medicine.

Children of mothers with vitamin D deficiency during early pregnancy appeared to be at greater risk for multiple sclerosis (MS) in adulthood, according to an article published online by JAMA Neurology.

A new report by a task force of the American Society for Bone and Mineral Research provides guidance on the use of bisphosphonates, which are the most commonly used medication for osteoporosis. The task force suggests that after 5 years of oral bisphosphonates or 3 years of intravenous bisphosphonates, clinicians should reassess the drugs' potential benefits and risks. The former includes continued reduction in the risk of vertebral fractures, and the later, rarely, osteoporosis (localized bone death) of the jaw and unusual fractures of the femur (thigh bone). For older women, those with high fracture risk, those with previous major osteoporotic fractures, or who fracture on therapy, continuation of treatment for up to 10 years (oral) or 6 years (intravenous), with periodic evaluation, should be considered. For women not at high fracture risk after 3 to 5 years of treatment, a drug holiday of 2 to 3 years, with monitoring, can be considered.

Saving Forgotten Warriors

Saving Forgotten Warriors was born from the needs of veterans in the Cullman area.

In January, 2016, Jeremy Hogan was informed of a veteran who needed a ramp so he could get outside and check his mail. Hogan was under the impression that the veteran ONLY needed a ramp and thought he would rally a few friends, get some material, and get the job done.

When he arrived at the residence, he found a much greater need. Ten months prior, the veteran had lost his left leg to diabetes, and now his right foot was infected and he was on the verge of losing it. Hogan was able to get the veteran to the VA Hospital where they were able to save his leg and restore his health.

From this effort came Saving Forgotten Warriors, a 501c3 organization with six board members, which operates on a shoe string budget but with God's intervention has produced some amazing results. They are now looking for other individuals and organizations with like-minded goals to join them to provide much more help.

They feel there is a huge need for an organization with a boots-on-the-ground mentality to help with everything from buying groceries to redoing homes, to mowing yards, to transporting to the VA in Birmingham, and much more.

If you would like to be a part of this amazing effort to show our veterans that they haven't been forgotten, please call the Saving Forgotten Warriors office at 256-747-5006 to see how you can help.

BLUE TAG SPECIALS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
