Breastfeeding Support for New Moms

Give Your Baby a Healthy Start

Breastfeeding is good for both mom and baby.

In fact, the American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that new babies be exclusively breastfed for at least the first six months of life. At The Women & Family Center at Ottumwa Regional, our experienced and caring labor and delivery team offers support and guidance for new moms in giving their babies this healthy advantage! Breastfeeding classes are available, and our certified lactation specialists provide free education and one-on-one guidance for as long as needed, not only while you and your baby are in the hospital, but even after you've gone home! Inspired medicine, extraordinary care.

For more information or to register for breastfeeding classes, visit us online or call
