CARDS OF THANKS

The family of MARTIN "BUD" SITTLER would like to thank everyone for the love and support shown to us during the loss of our loved one. A special Thank You to the Walworth County Hospice nurses for their wonderful care and kindness. To Dr. Haidert at Aurora Cancer Center and Dr. Maloney at Froedert Medical Center and their caring staffs. To all of Bud's friends and family for the many visits no matter what time of day or night. Lockwood Funeral Home for the comfort and support you provided. Your staff made a very difficult time much easier for our family. Greenies, for the wonderful luncheon you provided after the service. Dad "Grandpa" will be missed forever but the memories we have will live in our hearts forever.
Warm Regards,
The family of
Martin "Bud" Sittler

NECK or BACK Pain

getting in your way?

Spinal Decompression therapy is a non-surgical, drug-free approach to treatment for many types of back and neck pain. Spinal decompression provides distraction and relaxation which may reduce pain, decrease severity of disc bulge/herniation, and accelerate disc healing.

Clean Sweep services are available to Walworth County household residents free-of-charge & pre-registration is not required.

What is "household hazardous waste?"
 It is the unusable portion of a household product that contains volatile chemicals. These products can be identified by looking at labels, which are generally marked CAUSTIC, ACID, DANGER, FLAMMABLE, WARNING, or POISON.

Examples of Products to bring:

Home Products: • silver polish • drain cleaner
 • fluorescent bulbs & other items containing mercury
 • rechargeable batteries • dry cleaning fluid

Automotive Products: • motor oil • antifreeze
 • old fuel • brake fluid • engine / carb cleaner
 • vehicle batteries of all sizes • transmission fluid

Pesticides / Herbicides: • 2,4-D • DDT
 • ketone • fungicides • rodent bait • Chlordane
 • insecticides • household fertilizer • 2,4,5-T

Workshop: • varnish • paint thinner / stripper
 • stains • adhesives • oil & lead-based paint
 • photographic chemicals • turpentine
 • swimming pool chemicals • gun-cleaning fluid

Clean Sweep Does Not Accept:
 ☐ alkaline batteries ☐ ammunition / explosives
 ☐ agricultural chemicals ☐ radioactive materials
 ☐ compressed gas cylinders ☐ tires
 ☐ computer items or other electronics
 ☐ household cleaning products in usable condition
 ☐ Latex paint (this is a water-based product that can be dried out and then placed in the regular trash.)

Pharmaceutical Collection Guidelines
Clean Sweep will accept outdated or unwanted prescription drugs and over-the-counter items.

- ✓ Pharmaceuticals will be collected ONLY at the locations and times shown in this ad.
- ✓ Leave medicines in their original containers. The patient's name may be crossed out.
- ✓ Place all medicines in a plastic bag(s) and keep them separate from other products brought to the program.
- ✓ Participants do not have to provide their name - just the name of the community they live in.

Volvo S40/V50: 2005-'11

HISTORY

The S40 sedan and V40 wagon were introduced in Europe for 1996 prior to arriving in North America in late 1999. Both models shared numerous components, including a Mitsubishi-built turbocharged four-cylinder engine. Also standard was a four-speed automatic transmission (upgraded to a five-speed in 2001) adapted from Volvo's larger 70-series cars. Part way into the 2004 model year, Volvo rolled out its all-new Swedish-built S40 sedan and V50 wagon that featured a 168-horsepower 2.4-liter five-cylinder and an optional 218-horsepower 2.5-liter turbo-charged five-cylinder that was upgraded to 227 horsepower for the 2008 model year. A five-speed manual transmission accompanied the 2.4, while a six-speed stick was standard with the 2.5. Both powerplants could be ordered with a five-speed automatic while all-wheel-drive was optional only with the 2.5. After seven years, Volvo's entry-level sedan/wagon duo was cancelled.

Variations

S40

Dash layout

THE GOOD STUFF

The S40 and V50 were handsome machines with that unmistakable Volvo shape. The interiors combined smart design and safety features including very comfortable whiplash-injury-reducing front seats. A thin and wispy center-stack panel left a passthrough behind it to store items out of sight. The V50 wagon was particularly stylish as well as practical. All cars arrived well appointed with standard air conditioning, cruise control and a variety of power-operated features. Both powertrains worked well, but the turbocharged five-cylinder was quite lively. All-wheel-drive models included a sport-suspension package that was optional on front-wheel-drive models.

HEADS UP!

The base non-turbocharged 168-horsepower five-cylinder provided acceptable power for most situations but lacked the punch of the turbo engine. Note also that pricier premium fuel is required on both engines. The sport suspension option was geared more for spirited driving than for comfort and was a bit jarring over rough surfaces. Front-seat comfort was a strong point, but rear seat space was a bit tight. The V50's liftgate didn't open past the roofline, which made it more difficult for taller people to access the cargo area.

OVERALL

The 40/50-series cars provided typical Volvo safety and practicality in an attractive package. However, Volvo's new China-based ownership appears determined to move the brand farther up the premium-priced ladder, thus abandoning for now the sub-$30,000 entry-premium segment. Fortunately, though, there are still plenty of pre-owned models to choose from.
