Most accept the devil as a heinous creature with horns and pitchfork. Yet Satan is transformed as an angel of light, therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness (2Cor 11:13-15). Many so called church Christians believe his beguilement of changed times and laws (Dan 7:25) is Christ given, and teach Christ gave them a new covenant (Heb 13:8), liberty to the gentiles and must show Him honor with worship on Sunday, keep His birthday, resurrection day, pray in His Name (Ex 20:7, Jn 5:41-43, 10:30, Mt 15:9, 16:22-24), yet history reveals these days were originated by pagans. Satan was defeated by The Writings (Mt 4:4-10). The Writings are also for all (Jn 1:1-14, 3:16, 5:14, 8:11, 14:6, 14:15, Acts 3:23, 1Jn 3:3-10, Mt 5:17-19, 7:21-23). So Be It! Ron & Jeri

For the small segment of the emergency population whose acute behavioral disturbance does not respond to traditional sedation, ketamine appears to be effective and safe, according to a study published online in Annals of Emergency Medicine.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Briviact (brivaracetam) as an add-on treatment to other medications to treat partial onset seizures in patients age 16 years and older with epilepsy. Epilepsy is a brain disorder that causes people to have recurring seizures. A seizure is an episode, usually of relatively short duration, of abnormal brain activity. Seizures can cause a variety of symptoms, including uncontrolled movements or spasms, abnormal thinking and behavior, and abnormal sensations. Muscle spasms can be violent, and loss of consciousness can occur. Seizures occur when clusters of nerve cells (neurons) in the brain undergo uncontrolled activation. A partial onset seizure begins in a limited area of the brain. Epilepsy has many possible causes including, among others, stroke, infection, tumors, traumatic brain injury, and abnormal brain development. In many cases, the specific cause is unknown. Epilepsy is one of the most common conditions affecting the brain. Approximately 5.1 million people in the United States have a history of epilepsy and approximately 2.9 million people in the United States have active epilepsy.

New research published in the March 2016 issue of The FASEB Journal shows that a commonly prescribed class of high blood pressure drugs may have the potential to slow the growth of triple negative breast cancer tumors. These drugs, called "beta blockers" work by counteracting the pro-growth effect caused by adrenaline by affecting the beta2-adrenoceptor.
