One in three Americans have prediabetes, making them 5 to 15 times more likely to develop type 2 diabetes. If you are 45 or older, are overweight, have a family history of type 2 diabetes, and/or are physically active fewer than three times per week, you are more likely to have prediabetes. Learn how to prevent type 2 diabetes at the local Prevent2 program starting in September. Sessions are weekly for the first six months, then monthly for the next six months. Register today!

ADVICE from the PHARMACIST

Improve your digestion with fiber found in edible plants, such as fruits, vegetables and whole grains. High fiber diets may help you with weight loss making you feel fuller longer. It will help lower your cholesterol and reduce your risk for heart related problems. Fiber may also help protect you from type 2 diabetes by slowing the absorption of sugar, which helps prevent blood sugar spiking.
